The Edson Leader

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Thursday, January 6, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 1

THE FIRST BABY OF 1966, born in St. John's Hospital, James Edward Tenson, is admired by his mother, Mrs. Norman Tenson of Carrot Creek. The lucky little boy was born at 4:05 a.m. on Monday, January 3rd. He weighed nine pounds, six ounces at birth. James Edward and his parents, will be recipients of the many welcoming gifts that have been donated by generous Edson merchants. A list of gifts and donors was carried in the Christmas issue of The Leader. Mr. and Mrs. Tenson have five other children, 2 boys and 2 girls, who range in age from 11 years to 14 months. They are all eagerly awaiting the arrival home of their mother and the new baby so they can get busy and spoil their new little prize winner.

1965 quite a year when seen in perspective

In recording the life of our community during the year just past, the sorrows, the happy moments, the triumphs and the promises filled and partly fulfilled, we have borne in on us once again that Edson district is a pretty good place to live.

Probably greatest longterm element in the realm of material progress was the construction and completion of the gas plant just west of town. This tangible evidence of our entry into the productive end of the petroleum industry will have a long term stimulating effect on our business growth. A side dividend has been the moving into town of a number of fine families who will become a part of our community.

'65 was also a year of elections. The tragic death of our long time member the Hon. Norman Willmore saw his place taken by a native son, Bill Switzer, to have us represented in Edmonton by a Liberal. In the federal election Dr. Hugh Horner held the confidence of the riding for the Conservatives. On Town Council two new men ed the polls: Councillors Ray Binette and Bart Kuefler. Here are the details:

JANUARY

Dalyce Cullen Horne born to Mr. and Mrs. Russel Horne became the New Year's baby by coming into the world Monday, January 4 at 2:36 a.m., two Edson men Charles Pipe and Robert Bertram died tragically when overcome by gas north of Edson; building permits for the year soared up over the half million mark in town; funeral service held for Mr. Screw Zubic; the middle of January in the district last year saw temperatures of 50 to 60 above our readers may have forgotten what with much below zero temperatures prevail at the moment. Edson Band talent show a hit one; council discourages two housing application; memorial service held inspecting the Winston Churchill.

FEBRUARY

Wayne E. Glenn, president of Hudson's Bay Gas & Oil Company told Edsonites of the import that the gas plant west of town would have on the community; a stunned district learned of the untimely death of their MLA the Honorable Norman Willmore in a tragic highway accident. Council reviews early closing bylaw; Edson loses its arena when the dressing and waiting section burns out; Mr Halvor Erickson dies; Canada's new flag went up around town on public buildings February 15; Calgary Power announces looping of line from Brazeau Dam. Sandra Smith, Robin Stanton, Betty Lou Caston and Janice Raw candidates for Kinsmen ad '65

MARCH

Mr. George Hewitt, 58, a gain threw the first ball for Edson's annual banquet; Mayor W. R. Reinelle reviews an active 1964 and prophesies an even busier 1965 at annual town meeting; Kinsmen's ice rink dedicated; arena fire edi

Council lets arena project contracts at last meeting

Contract prices for construction of Edson recreational arena complex were approved by Council at their last meeting of the year on Tuesday, December 21. Firm contracts were presented for a total of $268,812.00 including the foyer which is to be a Centennial project contributed to by both town and country.

Authorized by plebiscite to proceed with the arena in November, Council called invitational tenders which they rejected and then negotiated individually. With winter works grants, Centennial grants from the Local Improvement District, Edson Centennial grant the net price to Edson ratepayers then be well under the authorized borrowing conferred by the plebiscite.

In answer to a request from Jaycee it was moved that two floodlights be loaned to the Junior Silver Blades Club for the Jasper Jay Show January 30th on the basis of the Club paying shipping expense and returning units within week of event.

Results on soil tests taken in the NE 8-53-17-W5 pressent waste disposal site were given. It was moved that a further study of conditions in the NE 8-53-17-W5 be carried forward including preparation of a profile of the area and drainage plan as well as an estimate of cost of road construction and to the site.

Mr. John Haddison was appointed Plumbing Inspector for the Town of Edson.

It was moved that the balance of the Library Requisition for 1965, in sum $300.00, be remitted to the Edson Public Library Board.

It was moved that the John Howard Society and the Alberta Heart Foundation be advised that the Town is not able to make grants to these worthy organizations and that Council would favorably recommend a canvass being conducted.

A letter from the Minister of Highways dealing with a general request for road grants and indicating a study being carried forward with respect to a road grid in the province was placed before Council.

It was moved that the Minister of Highways and Mr. W. H. Switzer, M.L.A. be approached with respect to the proposal that a west ring road be constructed to carry pulp trucks from the North Road around north and west of Edson.

It was moved by Council to not provide temporary ice for skating season 1965-66 due to the high costs.

It was moved that yield sign on 9th Avenue at 48th Street not be changed to a Stop Sign.

A report on investigation and recommendation of the chairman of by-laws Committee for reserved parking loading zone on 8th Avenue, requested by Edson Motor Co. Limited, was referred to Council meeting of January 4, 1966.

Applications for position of Town Works and Utility Superintendent were placed before Council. The applications were referred to the Works Committee and the Committee be given power to act.

A bacteriological water report from the Health Inspector, indicating satisfactory conditions, was placed before Council.

Council approved the installation of Dial Telephone System in Town Police Patrol Car.

It was moved that Council offer $500 to Mr. P. G. Towns, for Lots 19 and 20, Block 109, Plan 661 A.J. toward cancellation of the grid plan of the area.

A VERY PROUD LITTLE BOY, Douglas Weeppal was presented with a cheque for $100.00 on December 21st by Evergreen School Principal C. E. Yeomans. The prize was for a Christmas picture contest sponsored by the Edmonton Journal for Alberta elementary grade students in the area north of Red Deer. Dougie's teacher, Mr. Mike Povich, at right, equally proud of his young student. The Edmonton Journal used the drawing as a full front page on the Dec. 24 issue. The presentation was made at an assembly of students just before the Elks Christmas party at Evergreen. Following showing of a film treats were to be handed out by Santa Claus to all students assembled. The same program has to take place Wednesday and Thursday in the A. H. Dakin and Heatherwood Schools. This is the first time the Elks Lodge has taken a film to the schools. For many years the younger students were marched downtown to a free show and treats in the two theatres, then last year it was confined to treats taken to the many school rooms. Judging by the young fry applause that greeted the opening of the film on Tuesday, this years project will be most successful.

Toastmistress speaking

The New Year is a good time for all club members to take stock of their value to the clubs to which they belong. The following speech, given by Toastmistress, Hazel Rybanson at our "On Duty : The Member" meeting, will serve to remind us of our duties to our clubs and clubs' duties to us.

Mrs. Rybanson's address follows:

Many of the world's greatest possessions have been given us by a small country on the Italian Peninsula. We have a wealth of classical mythology in Grecian literature. The whole world watches and enjoys the Olympic games. The first Olympic games were held in Greece 26 centuries ago. Some of the most famous ruins of ancient times are located in Athens and are preserved for us to see.

Greece gave us yet another thing, something of far greater value than all those combined. Greece gave us an idea, also gave the world the idea of democracy.

Where and how democracy originated is not news to any of us, but it bears repeating because we are so apt to take it for granted and because you and I have the most to gain or lose depending on how we use it.

Democracy begins and it counts most in the small meeting house at the local level. It is ours to enjoy and protect. We can enjoy it by insisting on rights accorded us and protect it by carrying out our obligations.

Did you know that it is your right before joining any group to ask to read their bylaws. You should know what it's objects and policies are before you sign your name.

Some more rights are as follows. To receive notice of meetings. To attend all meetings. To present motions. To enter into discussion. To nominate for office. To run for office. To resign (if all obligations have been fulfilled). To have a hearing before expulsion. To inspect official records of the organization. To insist on enforcement of the organization and parliamentary law. To exercise any right given members by the constitution, bylaws or other rules of the group.

Some duties are: attend meetings regularly, showing loyalty and faith. Participate in proceedings, thus acquiring familiarity with rules. Accept and abide by decision of majority without animosity. Pay dues on time. Bring in, or recommend new members. Help in every way possible to achieve the objectives and principles for which the organization was formed.

Voting is not only your duty as a member, but your greatest privilege and you should use it wisely. Before you vote be sure you know what you are voting for and what will be the results. Always vote your own convictions and not just to go along with the others. You may stand alone at the moment, but you will be recognized later.

All members have the right to exempt courteous, fair and impartial treatment from others members. It is an obligation to guard against any adverse gossip about your organization or its members and an obligation of every member to present himself favorably at all times because your actions reflect on your club.

It is not only a responsibility but also decorous to be good audience at any gathering. Be attentive, receptive and cooperative. If the speaker is humorous in the speech, accept it. Applaud if the speaker makes a point that you particularly approve of.

There are the only two interruptions that are permissible, laughter and applause and they are as welcome to the ears of a speaker today as they were to Socrates when he addressed the Greek senate so many years ago.

New Lieut. Governor popular Alberta man

The man who will become Alberta's Lieutenant Governor at the first of the year has been one of the province's most prominent residents for years.

Grant MacEwan has been leader of the Liberal opposition in the Alberta legislature, Mayor of Calgary, a leading agricultural authority and a widely read historian and columnist.

The appointment by Prime Minister Pearson of a new Royal representative really came as no surprise. And it long seemed unlikely that Dr. J. Percy Page would remain into the new year since his appointment was twice extended after he was named in 1958.

Premier Manning is known to have a high regard for Mr. MacEwan and they are on a friendly a basis as anyone can expect of two men who faced one another as political rivals over the years.

Which brings up an interesting possibility. Could the government now decide to provide an official residence for the Queen's representative who now gets a generous allowance but must do his own home hunting?

It seems the government will go along with Alberta's school boards after all. Many boards had announced deferral of important school construction projects to qualify for increased grants that were to go into effect April 1st.

They made it known that they needed the extra facilities, but they needed the additional money in order to build them and thus some schools might not be ready for September opening.

Last week the government announced it would boost the grants January 1st so there's no reason why building should not go ahead as planned.

Lots of inquiries re NES mobility program

A steady increase is noted in inquiries being received at National Employment Offices regarding the new manpower mobility program according to Clarence Johnson, manager of the National Employment Service in the Edson area.

"Meanwhile, the NES is gearing itself to put the program into effect as of the 28th of December", said Mr. Johnson, "and I feel that things will be in full stride by that time".

The NES official stressed that the role of the National Employment Service is "to organize the labor market for the best use of available manpower" and that the manpower mobility movement provides the opportunity for fulfillment of this role.

Basic purpose of the program is to assist workers and their families, through loans and other measures from areas of realtively high unemployment where they are unable to secure jobs, to areas where employment is plentiful and where serious manpower shortage exists in some cases.

"At the same time, some misunderstandings are cropping up in inquiries being received at the NES offices", Mr. Johnson said. "In this connection I want to stress that workers must first qualify to receive a loan or grant. A worker will be eligible for a loan or grant under the program when:

(1) there is little or no chance of his securing a suitable job in his home area or in an area closer to his home than the area to which he is moving;

(2) there is suitable employment in the new area for which he will be hired and a shortage of workers available for such employment; and

(3) there is a good chance of the new job resulting in his permanent re-establishment in the new location," the NES director stated.

He added that, in other words, the program will not move workers further than is necessary to secure suitable employment.

Mr. Johnson noted that A worker who is either unemployed or under notice that he will be laid off permanently within 30 days of his application is eligible for a loan. Workers in the following categories are eligible for grants:

(1) unemployed for at least four of the six months preceding date of application;

(2) those who have completed a provincially approved training course or a program of vocational rehabilitation and re-establishment within three months of their date of application;

(3) former automobile or auto parts workers eligible for transitional assistance benefit in respect of their layoff, whether or not they are receiving such benefits;

(4) key skilled workers needed by employers who have received development grants under the Area Development Incentive Act. The regional NES director defined a "key skilled worker" as one whose employment will result in creating job openings for additional workers or will prevent the layoff of workers. ohtt

Health Unit Board meeting held in Edson

A meeting of the Board of the Edson Health Unit was held at Edson on Monday, December 13th, 1965.

Present were: Mr. P. Wells, Edson, chairman; Mr. J. Wynne, Edson, vice chairman; Dr. H. Shimbashi, Drayton Valley; Mr. W. Nowrie, Hinton; Mr. G. Dompnier, Evansburg; Mr. D. McElroy, Secretary Treasurer and Dr. J. W. Brown.

The minutes of the previous meeting held on September 21, 1965, were adopted as read.

Mr. McElroy reported on correspondence which had been received from the special committee on recommendations regarding Public Health Services in Alberta. It was ordered that the correspondence be received and filed.

The chairman welcomed a delegate who presented details regarding the possibility of building premises in Edson suitable for the Health Unit. All financial details together with a sketch plan were given to the members.

Following a complete discussion, the members of the Board unanimously agreed that they were most interested in the proposition and as information of the delegate in order that he might make all necessary financial investigations. The exact details of the interior of the premises were not discussed at any length but the Board reserved the right to request any interior changes as might be considered desirable. At this point the delegate left the meeting.

The members of the Board ratified the appointment of Miss C. Marriott, R.N. who joined the staff on December 1st.

The secretary reported that the Dental Surplus which had accrued during 1964-65, was being returned to all contributing authorities and that he was in communication with the Department regarding the total amount of money which had to be returned.

The financial report was presented by Mr. McElroy and adopted.

The medical report, for the period of July-September 1965 was presented and following discussion of various aspects of work accomplished, the report was adopted.

Purchase of a new Chevrolet car, which was carried out by the executive, was ratified by the members of the Board.

The chairman raised the question of an article which had appeared in the Drayton Valley press relating to the possible extension of the Edson Health Unit Boundary to include the Drayton Valley trading area. It was brought out during the discussion that this matter had received the consideration of the members of the Board on a number of occasions although the matter had not been reported in the minutes.

It was generally agreed that considerable difficulties were involved in matters of this nature but general sympathy was expressed for the area in question. Dr. Brown was authorized to contact representatives of the various Health Units concerned in an attempt to ascertain if a workable agreement could be reached.

The chairman reported on the Conference held in Edmonton for the Board members, Medical Officers of Health, and secretary treasurers which took place December 8th, 9th and 10th. The Medical Officer reported on the highlights of the sessions which were held for Medical Officers of Health.

Dr. Brown reported on the accommodations and furnishings at the Drayton Valley and Hinton offices.

Mr. Nowrie and Dr. Brown both reported on a very successful Dental Seminar which was held December 2nd in Hinton. It is hoped that a similar Dental Seminar be held in Drayton Valley in the near future.

Dr. Brown took the opportunity of expressing his thanks both on behalf of himself and the members of the staff for the co-operation, enthusiasm and encouragement given at all times by the chairman and by the members of the Board. Such co-operation made the work so much easier of accomplishment.

Date of next meeting is March 7th, 1966. ohh

Now regulations re holiday pay

Approximately thirty thousand workers in the construction industry in Alberta no longer require vacation pay stamp books effective January 1, 1966, by order of the Board of Industrial Relations.

Under the provisions of the new order, vacation pay credits become payable in cash or negotiable currency at the time the employee takes his annual vacation or at termination of employment.

The new order also provides that an employee becomes entitled to vacation pay credits immediately upon commencement of employment, instead of the previous 30 day employment qualification period.

All Provincial Treasury Branches throughout the Province of Alberta will redeem unused vacation with pay stamps and books. In 1964 the Treasury Branches redeemed $1,961,400 and in 1965 $2,138,000 in vacation pay stamps.

Copies of regulations are available from the offices of the Board of Industrial Relations, Terrace Building, Edmonton. ohtt

REV. JACK PURDIE supervises one of the hilarious games that guests and visitors at Parkland Lodge enjoyed during Christmas festivities. Local residents are reminded that visitors are welcomed year round by guests at the lodge, whether they come singly or as groups. Why not drop in and enjoy a game of cards or checkers and make new friends among the senior citizens who make their home there.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

I should like to take this opportunity through the media of your column to inquire upon those persons or persons who are possessing their neighbors pets, that full measure of retaliation can be had by continuance of such an act.

This atrocity perpetrated by people who in their own abhorrent ignorance look upon themselves as righteous and good upstanding citizens of this community and then being so conceited and wrapped up in themselves have no respect whatsoever for the property rights or opinions of their neighbors or for that matter the human race in general.

During this cold weather a down town cafe was frequented by several cats and dogs, this proprietor had the decency and the consideration to notify the proper authorities. This proprietor has had many obstacles to overcome in an attempt to conform and abide with the rules and regulations which govern our society surely when these people willingly go to any length and overcome insurmountable difficulties that they might bring themselves to abide by the proper requirements. This is why not the self righteous as well.

The thought of enticing a neighbors dog with a delectable portion of meat doctored with poison (and in these subzero temperatures it has to be carried out quite rapidly) this has to be the workings of a quite perverted mind.

The people involved may well be reminded that there are civil servants duly qualified to take action when notified about the annoyance of a neighbors pet. These people (if they read this and the shoe fits wear it) are so self righteous and ignorant that they do not need to take the time or consideration to inform proper authorities and they feel justified in taking the law into their own hands.

You may do well to remember the old adage an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. I too may not find the time or consideration to notify the local police, the doctor, perhaps even the undertaker.

Jim Smith

P.S. This also pertains to maltreatment of my neighbors pets as well.

Around Parkland Lodge

By THE LODGE SCRIBE

The Christmas season has come and gone, but the happy memories of Christmas festivities still linger in our minds. The residents, matron and staff of the Lodge wish to express their sincere thanks to all who contributed in the entertainment of this past Christmas season. May we at this time say a big "THANK YOU" and come again the COZY for their lively singing and motion choruses. These were much enjoyed.

Gifts made by the Brownies and the young folks of the Christian Reformed Church displayed a real Christmas spirit.

The Jubilee Junior 'High Chorus directed by Mr. Lautenbach brought Christmas cards once again to our ears, though old they are ever new each time we hear them.

The Cubs, though not very big in stature, sang a few numbers for us.

The United Church Community Club sent treats of candy and fruit which soon disappeared.

A time long to be remembered is the Christmas tree and dinner party sponsored by the hilarious givers — the Lions Club. Everyone went in best happy and feeling younger after sitting down to a sumptuous dinner, during which Christmas carols were sung and musical numbers were played. Then a party a host the tree everyone receiving just the gift they wanted for Christmas.

On Christmas Eve and Christmas Day some more happy events took place. The Lodge guests gathered about the tree once again and exchanged gifts. Master of ceremonies, Jack Purdie, assisted by Elston Graham, distributed the gifts. Later, games were played causing many a laugh, as you see in the picture.

Christmas Day the staff and guests sat down to a turkey dinner, enjoying the dinner together. Our hearts were sorrowful whenever we would pause to remember our dear old Jane Herring and others who were present with us last year.

As we enter into this New Year of 1966 we look forward but often look back on happy times long to be remembered that we enjoyed in 1965 with each and everyone of you folks mentioned heretofore.

Kindergarten classes start again

The kindergarten classes in Edson have completed their fall term with the end of the year. New classes get underway on January 6th in spite of the cold weather.

There are three classes being held. One is in the morning from 9 to 11 a.m. Two classes are held in the afternoon between 1 and 3 p.m. Classes are held each week, Tuesday through Friday.

There are still a few vacancies left in the winter classes. You will be used terms for new comers to Edson who would like to enroll their pre-school kiddies. For more information those interested are asked to phone Mrs. J. Purdie at 2-2441 re the morning class. Mrs. R. Wedey at 3-4016 or Mrs. R. Roome at 2-3030 re the afternoon classes.

Cold weather for holidays a repeat of last season

To the dismay of present planning trips home to other places for Christmas, the weather dropped rapidly on December 24 to a frigid 15 degrees below zero. This cold was accompanied by light snow and a sharp wind that made many hesitate as to whether to go or stay.

The weather continued to deteriorate, reaching an official 37 below on December 27. Unofficially, in lower lying areas in Edson and district thermometers registered in the low 40's and a large percentage of residents re-discovered how much fun a family Christmas and holidays can be.

1966 arrived at 38 degrees below, which cut down crowds a lot at public celebrations, and made for more housepartins as neighbors gathered to welcome the shivering newcomer.

The 1965 holiday season was similar, having a low of 34 below Christmas Eve, but settling up to 11 above during the day. New Years 1965 had a low and high of 17 and 12 below zero and this cold one continued until January 11th.

Highs and lows from December 24th to January 3rd of the below zero, are as follows:

	High	Low

Dec. 25	12	22

Itching Ears

BY PASTOR SHOWALTER

Amongst the prevalent philosophical spectrum of religious thought there is something to please everyone.

These days the smooth talk of "union" and "tolerance" is buzzing everywhere. Some few voices are still insisting, however, on the Bible as the only source of real truth; that it is to be believed — miracles the hard to understandables and all!

When confronted by one's own failures there are a number of things to be done. You may rationalize, thereby making an excuse for yourself. You may try placing the blame upon something or someone else to free yourself. This is the scapegoat technique.

Another way to be happy in failure is to simply ignore the facts. Put your mind in neutral and be careful not to be disturbed by what you might see if you should open your eyes!

Probably the best idea for the satisfaction it brings, is to find someone who talks your language; who teaches your ideas like you to hear them.

It seems there are a lot of hearers in this last category and I am wondering if the time is not being fulfilled which was forecast in the Scriptures, "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned to fables." II Tim 4:3,4

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bowness and family of Edmonton spent part of the holiday with Mrs. Bowness parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bielkiewicz.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sarault and family of Jasper were out on the 27th for a brief visit with Mrs. Sarault's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston.

Dave Krienke and Janice of Grave River spent the 25 and 27 with the B. Henderson and Krienke families.

Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom and family of Winnipeg were guests of Mrs. Longbottom's mother, Mrs. Tilmans and

Around Town

Overheard after Christmas: If all of Santa's helpers were laid out in a straight line it is hard to say how far they would reach, but it would be a good idea to try and see.

Where's Kenny? This festive season the question asked many times is where is Kenny Cockrane? He is well known around town and his friends have been wondering. Well recognized for his capabilities as a Cat operator, rumors said he has been lost while working south west of Edson. Ken's disappearance was reported to the RCMP on Dec. 19 and a search was organized out in a straight line it is hard to say how far they would reach, but it would be a good idea to try and see.

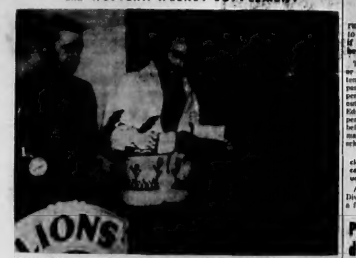
and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT



"YOU MUST BE KIDDING ME" was the way Paul Bodnar responded to Alex Goring's phone call that he had won the Lions Club Las Vegas draw. But Alex picked him up at home and here he is looking at his winning ticket with Carol Ahlf, who made the draw, on behalf of Las Vegas draw chairman Alex Goring and Al Margaret (at right and left above). Paul decided to take the money instead of the trip and was $480 richer for having purchased his ticket. The Lions Club benefitted by $413 which really made Lion members beam with joy.

Government grants cover new vocational wing

Vocational education will play a very important part in the total school program in the new Edson Academic Vocational High School, now in the architectural planning stage.

Of particular interest to the taxpayers of the area is that the total cost of the vocational wing will be met by Federal and Provincial grants.

These grants cover capital cost of building as well as the equipment needed for the vocational wing. Students in the vocational program will be using the very latest and up-to-date equipment available on the market today.

The vocational wing will consist of the following areas: a science activity physics classroom, a science storage and preparation room, a business machines room, a merchandising room, two classrooms, one bookkeeping room, two typing rooms, one of which will be a manual typing room and the other electric and one service kitchen.

In addition to these areas that are strictly vocational, there are other areas in the school that are used jointly by the academic as well as vocational students and for which government grants are available. The areas include four large ancillary rooms, a library, a gymnasium with stage and other smaller storage areas.

The gymnasium section of the school is of considerable size as well and comes under the approved cost of the Provincial Government Foundation Program. The academic wing will include 12 classrooms, 2 science experience rooms, one language laboratory, two home economics rooms and one two station industrial arts room.

Senior governments are investing considerable money in vocational education today because of the need to educate boys and girls to their fullest potential. Since the majority of high school students will not be going to university, alternative programs to the strictly academic must be provided whenever the size of the student population warrants construction.

The formula used by the Federal Government to establish the need for vocational services is based upon student population in the area. Fortunately, the high school population in the Edson area was large enough to obtain Federal grants.

Edson Division busses run despite intense cold

School enrollments in Edson Division schools was cut to 60 to 70 per cent during the fright first week of school after the holidays.

Busses continued to operate with the exception of one day when one or two busses were unable to make their regular trips.

It was felt that it was a necessity that all busses run if possible because of bus students often having to walk to catch the bus then having to return home if no vehicle appeared. This, in possibly 40 degree below zero weather could very easily be disastrous.

The decision as to whether or not bus students should attend school was left up to the parents. Very often the temperature was much colder in outlying points than it was in Edson. At Cadomin the temperature reached a low of 46 below and students did not make an attempt to attend school.

One room at Robb was closed for about a week because of a mechanical failure in the heating system.

A number of schools in the Division were without heat for a few hours when the intense cold caused fuel lines to freeze or a furnace mechanism work ing at top capacity is give out temporarily. The repair crews were on standby notice at all times and inconvenien ces were kept at a minimum.

Fulham School was closed for a few days because students did not appear.

Actually the cold weather did not affect school attendance as seriously as many other parts of Alberta. In many areas schools were closed for a few days and busses did not run.

Cold weather fire destroys district barn

Fire completely destroyed the barn of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Galpow of the Peers district on January 4th. This was the coldest night of the year to date.

Fortunately they were able to save most of the stock with the exception of three pigs. However, they had over 300 bales of hay as well as part of their milking machines.

The Peers FUA Local are sponsoring a benefit dance for the Galpow's in the Peers Rainbow Hall this Friday, January 14. Let's have a big turnout and help our neighbors in distress.

Post Office door broken

The staff of the post office arrived at work Saturday morning to find a gaping hole in the north front door. The door was soon removed and replaced by a sheet of plywood until the new glass is available.

There was no indication of how the quarter inch plate glass had been broken. One merchant said that he had had a heavy door glass broken in his store when a small child bumped it with his head. He felt that just such a simple thing could have happened with the post office door.

If that is the case there must be someone around town with a terrific egg on his or her head.

Fire Dept. called for cold weather blaze

The fire engine was called out twice last Wednesday in 30 below weather when fire broke out in Kentzil's Barber Shop and Beauty Salon.

The fire apparently started from the gas heater and began to smoulder in the shingling insulation in the ceiling. The roof and gables were burned through and water poured in and it was thought that all sparks had been doused. However, a few hours later the alarm went again and the crew turned out for the second time.

Most of the damage to the business premises was caused by water and smoke.

Volunteer Les Halliwell escaped serious injury when he slipped while attempting to board the fire truck. He fell to the ground and the outside dual wheel passed over his arm. It was thought at first that his arm had been broken, but examination at hospital proved it to be badly bruised.

Town and country residents are reminded at this time that it is to give stoves, heaters and space heaters a periodic check to keep them clear of lint and dust. The lint and fuzz that tends to gather around air vents is highly combustible and can easily be the cause of fire.

Edson Commodore Aces win 3rd straight of season

The Edson Commodore Hotet Aces was their third basketball game of the season by posting a 85-44 victory over the Hinton Senior Men last Tuesday, January 4th. The Aces have yet to taste defeat having posted two previous triumphs over the Edson High School boys by scores of 73-54 and 85-47.

In last Tuesday's encounter with Hinton, played at the spacious Jubilee Junior High School Auditorium the Aces were never behind through out the encounter as they led 13-8 at the end of the first quarter, 27-21 at the half and 56-38 at three quarter time. The game was Hinton's first of the season and they showed steady improvement as the contest progressed.

A return engagement between these same two teams has been billed for Hinton on Tuesday, January 11th. It is hoped that representatives from Jasper's two senior men's teams will be in attendance in order that a North Western Alberta Senior Mens League may be formed.

Forward Bob Reil, top scorer for the Aces, paced Edson to their win over Hinton netting 17 points and was the top rebounder in the game. Bob last year was a first stringer for the Edson High School team and is fitting in nicely with the local senior squad.

Mels Seltye and Dennis Hill also scored 10 points each. Hill, who moved a record 46 points in one game while playing for the Edson High School back in the 100 -50 season, led for his 10 points in the final quarter and is fast approaching his potential form after a lengthy absence from the basketball scene.

Hinton's Joe Nemet was the top scorer for the evening as he struck for 14 points in the last half for a total of 20 points in the game. Ron Whyte also contributed 14 points in a losing cause.

Referee Randy Evans of Edson kept the game under good control whistling down 22 infractions with the Aces being charged with 10 fouls.

SCORE SUMMARY

Edson Commodore Aces—Bob Reil (17); Mel Seltye (10); Dennis Hill (10); Barry Gotz (7); Al Lagore (6); Barry Smith (2); John Bean (2); Dale Kearns (1).Total - 55.

Hinton—J. Nemet (20); R. Whyte (14); S. Lax (4); K. Armstrong (2); M. Irwin (2); L. Kielarski (2); Total - 44.

Jasper, Hinton rebroadcast stations would complete television chain

Television rebroadcast stations at Jasper and Hinton sought by the CBC, would complete a chain from High Prairie to the mountains.

Approval has already been granted by the Board of Broadcast Governors for rebroadcast stations at Whitecourt, Athabasca and High Prairie.

Construction is underway at High Prairie with completion scheduled for April or May, 1966.

Ralph Horley, manager, CBC Edmonton, said the rebroadcasters at Whitecourt and Athabasca should be completed in July and September.

If the BBG approves the Hinton and Jasper applications, the rebroadcasters there should be in operation by mid 1967.

Mr. Horley explained that neither of the stations will be designed to cover much more than the towns of Hinton and Jasper.

"In some directions, the terrain would permit the signal to spread out, but if the power of the transmitter was increased all you would do is bring television to a lot of trees."

CURLERS COLUMN

OPTI-MIRS BONSPIEL

A combination of the young Op-teen members and the older experienced curlers competed in the annual Opti-Mirs curling bonspiel last weekend. The sprinkling of youth a mong the rinks added a new and undoubtedly beneficial flavor to the Sunday spiel.

Ann Iwanciwski of the Opti-Mirs club presented the A Event trophy to Bob Ralston's rink of Syb Kunyk, Madaline Marchand and Bonnie Layton.

Reg Lee's rink of Edith Jay, Ed. Senyk, and Paul Dubois received second prize while Art Polzin's crew of Kay Waywitka, Bob Pilluge and Mary Wilson won third prize. Jim Lawrence's foursome of Phyllis Pilluge, Ralph Worley and Walter Strasbourg took home the fourth prize.

Fred Cheyl skipped his rink of Scott McCrae, Fred Iwanciwski and Kay Becker to victory in the B Event. Second place went to the Red Straub rink of John McGuire, Helen Cheyl and Harry Enns while third prize jewelry went to Ricky Stekich's foursome of Russ Campbell, Art Leonard and Beverly Craven. Fourth prize was garnered by the Bill Kunyk crew of Rick Murphy, Shirley Roth and Margaret Frith.

The final game in the B Event between Cheyl and Straub proved to be a thrilling final to a successful bonspiel. Cheyl built up a 7-1 lead and was still leading by a reasonably comfortable margin of 8-5 heading into the tenth and last end.

Cheyl's rink began the end in good fashion and were laying three before skip Straub went down to shoot his first rock. Red wicked in one of his own rocks within an inch or two of the button. Fred Cheyl attempted a takeout of the shot rock but unfortunately his rock drew too much and raised in one of his opponent's rocks. Straub then calmly drew a third counter at least to the button to tie the score at 8-8.

In the extra end two well executed takeout and raid shots behind guards by Straub went to no avail as Cheyl drew to the four foot for the winning counter.

Ladies Zone 7 Playoffs

Zone 2 ladies consol's playoffs were run off, in Edson on Saturday. Only two towns, Edson and Jasper were represented this year.

Hazel Rybanen's rink from Edson won the playoff and will now go to Edmonton to represent Zone 8 in the Northern Alberta ladies playoffs. Curling for Hazel were Leona Schultz (third), Josie Gering (second) and Pat Bodnar (lead). We wish the Zone 8 winner's the very best of curling when they play in Edmonton.

The other Edson rink entered in the playoffs was skipped by Helen McEvoy, and had Syb Kunyk, Vera Walsh, and Lil Onysko supporting her. Hannon represented Jasper in the playoffs.

Results of the games (undided double knockout): Hannon def McEvoy; Rybanen received the bye; Rybanen def Hannon; Hannon def. McEvoy; Rybanen def. Hannon (final).

MEN'S LEAGUE

Norm Miller's quartette increased their lead in the men's league even though they had a loss chalked up against them by virtue of a defaulted game against the Bush Dinner rink.

The Department of Highways foursome chalked up their first win by defeating the Fred Cheyl rink in a desperate come-from-behind victory. The highwaymen chalked up six points in the last two ends to take the victory.

Bush League Trophy Challenge Games

Two rinks skipped by Bert Hansen and Al Moberly of Hinton took home the Bush Trophy by virtue of a two-game round robin series of 10-15 over two rinks skipped by Ted Yeomans and Dick Fontaine.

The Ted Yeomans foursome of Bill Lohner, Garry Mahon and Bob Margni defeated the Bert Hansen rink of Ken Reed, 16-6, but Dick Fontaine's rink fell, 13-5 to the Al Moberly quartette.

The cup was not presented to the Hinton rinks because it was not available at the time. If anyone knows the whereabouts of the trophy please inform the Edson Curling Club.

Jasper Legion host to Zone curling playoffs

The Jasper Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion played host last weekend to three visiting rinks for the Zone curling playdowns. Only four rinks were entered in the playdowns this year.

The hosting Jasper team were winners of the playoffs, defeating Hinton in the final game for the honor of representing the Zone in the District eliminations. The district playoffs will be played at St. Albert.

Rinks taking part in the playoffs included: Jasper, comprised of I. Worion, J. Stewart, L. Giesselman and K. Bell; Hinton, comprised of E. Post holiday activities resume at Jubilee School

Classes and activities resumed quickly at the Jubilee School in spite of the cold weather which accompanied the return to school on January 3rd.

As an example of the differences in attitude, or perhaps one should call it self-discipline, one grade 7 student who has to walk a considerable distance and wait for the bus did not miss a single day during the cold weather, while another husky grade nine boy was kept home because it was "too cold" to walk four blocks.

The audio-visual club has elected Jerry Bodnar as president to replace Russell Potter. Russell had found his official duties too numerous and submitted his resignation.

The club has scheduled several films which will provide entertainment and provide an opportunity for members to practise using the projector under the close supervision of their advisor, Mr. Wengard. The club will also be sponsoring a photo contest for which details and entry regulations will be announced soon.

Basketball teams are being organized and our first school game will be against Wildwood at Wildwood on Friday night, January 14th.

House leagues will also be formed as soon as the school teams are definitely established.

Students have been advised that each player must have the permission of his teachers before he can play. This permission may be repealed at any time if it becomes evident that participation in athletics is harmful to the student's study habits and academic achievement.

Students and staff were sad to hear that Mrs. Jardine will no longer be on the Jubilee staff. We wish her the very best in the future.

Around Town

The residents of Edson who are interested in Country and Western music will be pleased to hear the popular hit recordings of Hank Smith and the Rodgers Bros. are on sale at Murray's Drugs. This album may have more appeal to folks around here as two of the numbers on it have been written by a local composer, Mrs. Anne Cush.

Other recordings on sale by local musicians include record releases by the Romanesk family.

Edson has other potential recording stars in the persons of Lynn and Wayne Kendryk. These young stars will be performing at the Junior Jubilee High School auditorium on February 8th in a show sponsored by the Optimist Club of Edson.

Other musicians in the news is former Edson Bandmaster Rudy Kendall, who last week had the misfortune to have a fire in his barbershop. Mr. Kendall is back in operation again, 'you can't keep a good man down. He welcomes his customers back again.

For a number of years Rudy guided the Elks bugle and drum band giving many young stars their first opportunity to play in a band.

Shuffleboard project successful

Don L'Hirondelle, chairman of the Lions Club drive for funds to purchase a shuffleboard for Parkland Lodge, advises that the fund really received a boost from the Peers Oldtimers Assoc. The Peers group have donated $100 which will be officially presented at the Lions regular supper meeting.

Don advises that as soon as a shuffleboard has been chosen a complete list of donors will appear in the Leader.

Local merchants do community service

The next time you walk past one of the Lions Club trash cans take special note of the advertisement on the side. The advertisement is placed there by a local merchant who performs a two-fold purpose by doing so.

1. It helps to maintain a service that is of considerable importance to a clean and tidy Main Street. One has only to lift the lid of the trash can to see how much refuse they collect.

2. The advertisements help the local Lions Club, who maintain the trash cans, in a great many of their community activities.

This is another reason for all of us to "Shop at Home." Your shopping dollars do so much to help build our community.

Any coward can fight a battle when he is sure of winning; but give me the man who has the pluck to fight when he is sure of losing. There are many victories worse than defeat. — George Elliot.

N.E.S. booklet says varsity graduates on increase

Approximately 43,000 students will graduate from Canadian universities in 1966, a boost 13 per cent more than the graduating class of 1965, W. C. Stewart of Winnipeg, prairie regional director of the National Employment Service, stated today.

The NES official said this information was contained in the new issue of "Supply and Demand, University Graduates", produced by the NES with the aid of experts in the field of education, business and industry. The booklet, available through any National Employment Office or NES placement office on the university campus, is of particular interest to employers and to graduate and undergraduate students, said Mr. Stewart.

Another publication produced by the NES, a "Supply and Demand" booklet relating to graduating technologist students, will be available shortly.

"Approximately 18,000 university and technological inststute students registered on the campus with NES student placement offices across our prairie region during the 1964-65 academic year, an increase of twelve per cent over the previous year", Mr. Stewart stated. "Slightly under one half of the graduating student of the past academic year and those in graduate studies during the same period were placed in continuing gainful employment through NES Student Placement Offices in the prairie region", said the NES director.

Summer employment was found for about 35 per cent of the students in undergraduate categories through student placement offices.

"The trend toward higher enrolment continues", Mr. Stewart stated, "and according to our new 'Supply and Demand' booklet, Canada will graduate about 850,000 persons with first degrees during the period from 1965-66 to 1976-77".

No Roof

By Pastor Shewaker

The Scottish labourer had quit his farm job The farmer's neighbor stopped him to ask, Was the work too hard?"

"Torr: was nothing to complain of on that issue"

What then" Were the wages too low"

"No."

Then why did you leave?"

There was no roof on he house," the Scotsman answered

In Scotland, that expression means that there is no daily prayer offered in that house and hence there can be no peace, safety or comfort

Not all the "roofless" homes are in Scotland. Prayer we do not expect to find in godless homes, But, can it be possible that homes that call themselves Christian, whose members can be seen on the way to church each week are without a roof of prayer during the day to preside over the decisions and actions of daily life?

Marlboro News

The two teachers and children put on a very nice operetta in the Community Hall on December 21. The costumes were very clever.

The teachers and Community Association gave gifts and treats to all the children at the community Santa Claus fund with the distribution. The turkey donated by Bill Sawyer of Hinton and the candies donated by the people on Marlboro, were won by Eugene Mayer and Mrs. Miller. Proceeds were used for the children. The bread companies donated for the children too.

A robbery in the Marlboro school on Saturday December 18, netted the thieves a radio and a projector. Entry was gained through breaking a window. The people who stole these things are real low as their own children or relatives enjoyed the use of these items in the school.

The teachers and Kaufmans put on a party in the Community Hall on December 24 for the older children. Films were shown and enjoyed by all. They were going to carol around town, but this was cancelled because of the severe, cold weather.

Mr and Mrs. Scartzendruber and Crystal flew to Iowa to spend Christmas and New Years with Mrs Scartzendruber's folks.

The Lovells spent Christmas day with the Jack Lamberts at Hornbeck. Judy was home for the holidays from Edmonton.

Mrs. Charles Franklin got a TV at Christmas and reports a good reception.

Marie and Billy Lotnick spent Christmas with Eddie and family in Edson.

Lauterbachs and Mintz spent a few days in Edmonton. Nearly every family who need ed it received a Xmas hamper from Edson at Christmas. All but one needy family was remembered and they were inadvertantly missed. The hampers were even more appreciated this year than in the past due to the severe weather causing a shut down of work in the woods.

Shirley and Jim Angus and children, with Beatrice Savard of Westlock and Gary Plante, all spent Christmas at home with Tommy Plante.

Mrs. Gauthier and girls put on the New Years dance in the hall. In spite of the terribly cold night quite a few attended. Mike Paquette and Audrey Johnson played some old time music which was enjoyed by all.

Dale and Anna Lovell spent a few days and New Years day in Edmonton visiting Anna's mother who is recovering from a major operation.

Mr and Mrs. Harvey Kenedy of Entrance and Mr and Mrs Jack Lambert of Hornbeck spent New Years day at Lovells.

Indian families living in new housing concept

Twelve Indian and Metis families affected by the 1088 flooding conditions at Rivet Lake are occupying new houses, provided under an emergency program financed by the Alberta Commercial Corporation, Department of Industry and Development. The program was instituted following appeals for assistance by the Kwopemsu Housing Cooperative Ltd at Rivet Lake. All 12 of the transportable housing units have been located temporarily on a five acre site outside the town limits.

Under the program, tenants rent the units from the cooperative, which is responsible for management of the modern, low rental accommodations.

Each unit contains two or four bedrooms with a central living and dining area, providing a total living space of about 600 square feet. The homes are equipped with a combination oil cooking and heating stove. In addition, since many of the families are large, double bunk beds have been placed in the children's bedrooms. Gendall Building Supplies Ltd., Edmonton, constructed the units at a cost of $33,225 or about $1,500 each.

Total cost of the project was approximately $58,000. This included purchase of the site, the units, construction of an access road, clearing and fencing.

The temporary location was provided by the Commercial Corporation under a one year license granted by the Department of Municipal Affairs. At the expiry of the permit the houses are to be moved. Occupants have the opportunity of purchasing the units by the existing rental purchase agreement between the housing cooperative and the Corporation, provided the homes are moved to a permanent site. otherwise, the corporation has the option of disposing of the units or transferring them to other areas.

LIKE SPIDERS ON A WEB, workmen at Duncan dam-site prepare cribbing for the concrete work on the intake structure of one of two 1,000 foot long diversion tunnels now nearing completion. Water from the Duncan River will be delivered through the 30 foot diameter tunnels early next spring. Spider web effect spreading from the center of the structure will disappear from tunnel opening when the concrete has set and the cribbing removed. Duncan Dam, 36 miles north of Kaslo, is scheduled for completion in 1968.

Minimum work week now in effect in Alberta

Effective January 1, 1966 a maximum 44 hour week in industry becomes uniform throughout Alberta. Effective July 1, 1966 a maximum 44 hour work week and a $1 an hour minimum wage in industry become standard throughout the province. The changes are by order of the Board of Industrial Relations.

Maximum hours of work in areas of 5000 population and less, are reduced from a 9 hour day and a 48 hour week to a maximum 9 hour day and 44 hour week, effective January 1, 1966. In 1932 the 44 hour week first became effective in Alberta when the Board ordered a 44 hour week in the cities of Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. In 1961 a 44 hour week was extended to all cities, towns and villages having a population over 5000. The new order makes a maximum 44 hour work week mandatory in Alberta.

Maximum hours of work for those employed in the following industries are reduced from 208 to 191 hours in a month effective January 1st, 1966: geophysical exploration, land surveying, oil well servicing, highway construction (maximum 10 hour day), saw mills from November 1 to March 31 (maximum 9 hour day) and day labor camps (maximum 10 hour day).

The minimum hourly wage for workers in industry in areas of population of 5000 and under is increased from $1.00 to $1.25 effective January 1, 1966 and to $1.40 effective July 1, 1966. A maximum 44 hour week and a $1.60 an hour minimum wage in industry become standard throughout the province. The changes are by order of the Board of Industrial Relations.

Copies of all regulations are available from the offices of the Board of Industrial Relations, Department of Labor, in Edmonton, Calgary, Drumheller, Medicine Hat, Grande Prairie and Red Deer.

CAPITOL REPORT

New Governor house hunting

BY JOHN WARREN

Well, winter finally got a foothold in the capital. And the week of -30 below weather seemed to have almost the same effect on political activity as it did on vehicles, both were nearly impossible to start.

Only one oppposition spokesman made himself heard at all and he really need not have bothered. It seems that tells Scott a formal residence for the Lieutenant Governor got Bill Dickie thinking, a little. The Calgary Liberal suggested that he built in Calgary. After all, he said, the southern city is the centre of business and finance for the province. Since the government hasn't done anything about it Mr. Dickie was sure people in Calgary would be willing to do it for him.

He pointed out, incorrectly, that the Lieutenant Governor is only really needed in the capital during the six or eight weeks of the session. The new royal representative has, in fact dozens of formal tasks in the capital year round including the weekly signing of order-in-council passed by the cabinet.

Incidentally Grant MacEwan moved into his new office on January 8. We may hear more about his domestic arrangements later.

If Albertans aren't going to get a chance to build the Lieutenant Governor a house, at least they'll be able to invest in the province's industry.

Last week the cabinet announced that Alberta Investment Fund certificates will go on sale February 15th. They will be sold in denominations of 100 dollars and multiples of 100 and will be redeemable anytime at face value.

The government has limited the initial issue to $10 000 000 and will use the money to assist new or faltering industry in the province. A minimum dividend of three per cent is built in and Treasury and mad Angus say that the government is aiming at a total of seven per cent annually will be paid in mid February and mid August.

The president of the Farmers Union of Alberta, Paul Babey, is planning to lead a group of FUA members on a tour of India later this winter. Last week he took time out to explain what he hopes the tour will achieve.

Apparently one of the big problems facing Indian agriculture is that of getting farmers to use modern techniques. Mr Babey, a wealthy Indian sees gap between the resources and the Indian farmers.

Alberta farmers can help bridge the gap, being with the Indian people and discussing the problems of improved methods. And they can return to Canada with first hand knowledge of problems and suggestions on how Canadians can help overcome them.

In the final analysis says Mr Babey, a wealthy Indian citizenry will provide a better market for Canadian products.

The provincial government has announced it will give a helping hand to Indians closer to home.

Pointing out that lack of work is one of the most severe problems facing the natives of northern Alberta, the government says it will do its every effort to employ them in construction of the new resources railway.

Up to 1,000 workers will be needed almost immediately to start clearing and building to for the road running north from Hinton Two Creek parking officials will help recruit labor to the area.

The announcement was a timely to that it corresponded with a meeting of northern leaders and members of the Alberta Indian Education Association in Edmonton.

Most delegates, with first hand knowledge of the situation, say the Indians lot is improving, but not very fast. Public assistance with self help programs planned and coordinated by the Indians themselves seems the best method of improving their lot.

Funeral for long time Edson resident

A long time resident of Edson Mr William Dardzinski passed away on December 29 at the age of 81 years.

He is survived by his loving wife Valerie, three daughters Mrs Vanda Ellis of Edmonton Mrs George (Sophia) Beaton and Mrs Joe (Mary) Kirsch of Vancouver, five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr and Mrs. Dardzinski were among Edson's earliest residents, having come here about 1910 by an team from Wolf Creek where Wolf Creek was still end of steel for the Grand Trunk. He worked with construction crews who built the old roundhouse, turn down a few years ago, and other CNR buildings. Later he worked in the shop for a number of years before transferring to the B&B division. He retired in 1950 as a B&B foreman.

Shortly after his retirement they visited in the United States with relations, but felt there was no place like Edson and were soon back to stay.

The funeral service was held at 11:00 a.m. Friday, December 31 in the Sacred Heart Church Rev. G. Gunnip C.SS.R. was celebrant at requiem mass. Interment followed in the family plot in Glenwood Cemetery.

Pall bearers were recruited from Mrs. Semenuk, Mrs Kunka and Family, Mr and Mrs. F. Mix. They were Paul Gurnette Bobbie Regan, John and Anne Kupas, John Keglevich. Mr and Mrs Steve Semenuk, Hugh and Noel Girard, Jean and Ted Semenuk.

Edson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

HOSPITALITY UNLIMITED

The Alberta Coal Branch Club made up of former coal mining Branch residents held their annual get together last week in the MacDonald Hotel in Edmonton.

Anyone familiar with the life on the Coal Branch during its heydays will understand the meaning of the word hospitality.

This has become an annual event with members coming back from all over Canada and the USA to once again meet old friends.

Edson had several members attending to help carry on the famous Branch tradition.

CHECK
Your Chimney
Extreme cold plus high humidity can cause an ice cap to form on chimneys, restricting the proper exhaust of products of combustion. Make a visual inspection - see that overhanging or accumulated snow and ice is not blocking your chimney. Your chimney should be clean at all times for safe, efficient operation of your gas heating system.

MURRAY'S SUPER DRUG

The fat was in the fire

The fire department was called out for almost, but not quite, a false alarm on Tuesday afternoon

The weather was warm enough that many people, on hearing the alarm, hurried out of their homes or business places to see which way the fire engines went. It headed down Main Street and West to Spike Island with siren

It seems a lady on Spike Island had used a piece of tinfoil to line her oven with while cooking a roast She hadn't taken the tinfoil out before lighting the oven again and a bit of grease in it caught fire

Not taking chances she turned in the alarm and became the centre of attention of the whole town

ATP plan snow stomp this Saturday

The Anglican Young People have come up with something that sounds like fun. They are planning a snow stomp for this Saturday evening to take place at the Lions Park For those who haven't heard of a snow stomp it is a dance around a bonfire

The stomp will also be a boon to local residents who have disrobed their Christmas trees, but not got around to doing away with them yet. The young people will haul them away for you to provide heat and light for their outdoor dance.

Anyone wishing to have their old Christmas tree hauled away should phone 723-3153 or 723-3157 as soon as possible.

More information about the stomp will be on loud speaker around town this Friday and Saturday.

Tourism important to all speaker tells meeting

Mr E. S. Bryant, Director of the Alberta Travel Bureau and guest speaker at the last Chamber of Commerce meeting had a message for the members regarding the extensive programing carried out by the Bureau to help promote tourist industry for Albertans

Surveys recently completed shows the tourist business as the second biggest in Canada today.

Mr. Bryant stressed the importance of organization by local groups of business people to take advantage of the money set aside by the Provincial government which would be matched with funds raised by the local Chambers in their planned area.

Mr Bryant spoke of the work being carried out by the Los Angeles office and the new office that's being opened in Quebec The films sent out to various parts of the U.S. and abroad are having a good effect on the promotion of the scenic of our seasonal Parks

Considerable discussion was held on the importance of a distinctive business for this area that could be circulated to various point of Canada and USA to help encourage the tourist traffic along Highway 16

Mr. Bryant indicated the assistance that can also be realized through the district ARDA office in Edson and suggested the Chamber send a representative to the convention being held in Red Deer.

The problem of sleeping and eating accommodations were discussed in the Banff and Jasper areas and Mr. Bryant urged the Chamber to send out their own public relations representatives to visit the campsites in Jasper and along the way, spreading good will and informing the people of the fine facilities in the Edson area

The problem of campsites for trailer caravans was discussed pointing out how they were being handled in the larger cities

The revenue left by these travellers was pointed out but to also set aside suitable areas for them was taken into consideration as well, with the answer being left for the Chamber to decide

Mr. Bryant spoke on the centennial program of the Alberta Travel Bureau and how it fitted in with their promotion in being the foreign dollar into Canada

Mr. M D Meade thanked the speaker, President Jack Jack Hook assured the members that a representative from the Chamber would attend the Convention at Red Deer and that the full support of Edson Chamber could be counted on for the promotion of tourist trade for this district

Nine year old Douglas Warppel, one of the youngest guests ever honored by the Edson Chamber of Commerce received a warm congratulations at the banquet

The group honored Douglas for winning first prize in the coloring contest sponsored by the Edmonton Journal prior to Christmas.

THE ALTA. HIGHWAYS CREW was busy bright and early Saturday morning clearing the snow from Highway 16 through town. By that time the snow had been pushed back to the sidewalks many times and the highway was beginning to narrow in a bit. Watching the snow removal crew of the town or Highways Dept. the reasons for "no parking during certain hours" signs are readily seen. The snow removal crews cannot clear the curbs where vehicles are parked and the evidence of illegal parking is there for all to see.

Entwistle Lodge wins 11th annual Elks bonspiel

Members of Edmo Elks Lodge were hosts to Brother Elks from Jasper in Drayton Valley for the 11th Annual District 13 Bonspiel, in Edson on January 15 and 16.

All seven Lodges were represented by at least one rink each, Drayton Valley with five bringing the largest number of rinks from an outside Lodge. A total of 30 rinks participated in the two day event, renewing the ties of brotherhood within the District in traditional Elk fashion.

The District 13 Bonspiel, initialed in 1955 under the auspices of the then District Deputy Bro. Harvey Switzer, is hosted by a different Lodge each year and has become a perennial favorite with District curlers

Bro. Switzer, though unable to attend in person was present in spirit, through his personation to the District of a fine new trophy for the Bonspiel, replacing the original which he donated in 1955 and through his greetings and best wishes telegraphed from Ontario.

The bonspiel dinner on Saturday evening was catered to by the Anglicad ladies. They got a fine appeal of turkey heartily enjoyed by all. Between games, members visited the Elks Lodge Room where snacks and other refreshments were provided, taking good advantage of the opportunity to visit with acquaintances old and new and replay that last end to better advantage

Winners were as follows: A Event: First, Lorens (East Edson). Second, Swyers (Gainford). Third, Wall (Drayton Valley) and Fourth Kreffel (Edson).

B Event. First, Hannan (Entwistle), Second, Nielsen (Edson), Third, Reap (Edson) Fourth, Travis (Gainford).

C Event: First, Wells (Edson), 2nd Walsenbak (Gainford). Third, Lange (Hinton), Fourth, Waywitka (Edson)

Following presentation of the trophies in the Lodge Room, the visiting Brothers made their way toward home, tired but obviously satisfied with a weekend well spent with

Local residents enjoy net fishing at Fickle Lake

Fickle Lake was opened last week, January 10th and 11th by the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Department of Lands and Forests, for commercial fishing.

As in the past Seasons a great deal of local interest was shown with approximately 85 commercial fishing licenses being sold. Most of these, about 65, were sold to Edson residents A 25 license entitled the holder to fish for whitefish.

The weatherman was quite co-operative and though the weather was a bit nippy on Monday when nets were being set, Tuesday turned warmer and allowed the pulling of nets to be done more comfortably.

Snow was rather deep, a least 18 inches, on the ice surface itself, causing difficulty for quite a few fishermen who attempted to traverse the surface in their cars. The road from the Coal Branch Highway had been plowed out only a day or two before and consequently access to the lake was no problem.

The harvest was not as a bonanza as it has been some years, but it was good enough that most who participated were well satisfied.

The catch totalled 6,440 lbs. amounting to 1,160 whitefish. The average weight per fish, as the poundage would indicate, was four pounds. The average yield per net was 12, with very rare extremes ranging from net fish, of all to as many as 25

The quality of the fish taken was excellent as usual it has become well known that Fickle Lake fish taken during the commercial fishing each winter are particularly delicious. Possibly this is one reason why there is always a goodly number of persons seeking licenses.

Around Town

By Bill Owen

Slim Martin, well known Edson town constable and authority on the care of animals has been telling some friends of the high calibre of horses that are now coming into the Edson district

He was very impressed with the Morgan class of horses that the Buckie family have brought in from the Dakotas. These are registered animals and will certainly add to the quality of horses for the shows rings and parades in the Edson area.

Concern has been shown at found a supposedly abandoned pony at the Wolf Creek cabin but we are pleased to report it is being cared for.

The Edson merchants are out to prove that all shopping should be carried out in January if you are going some where. Whether it is a car, clothes or appliances, the prices being listed in Edson are comparable to those any where

The New Year came in in a cloud of snow and below zero temperatures that kept us shivering in our boots. But what is winter without a few storms, frost bitten noses and stalled vehicles. Sissy stuff that's what

How could we boast about our stamina and endurance otherwise? It takes a smattering of bad to make us appreciate the good.

Our condolences to all who have suffered the loss of a loved one; get well wishes to those in poor health; congratulations and best wishes to parents and newly arrived babies; and a prosperous 1966 to everybody.

Our very best to Laurie MacKenzie and Sabina Morris who recently announced their engagement.

News is "burning out" all over-we presume-but we have not been braving the weather to collect it. So once again Happy New Year everybody, see you next week.

Girl Guide News

The Girl Guide company of Edson held their regular meeting on the 10th day of 1966.

The meeting was opened with collection of dues and inspection.

The Tenderfoot girls who where not yet enrolled passed some of their tests and some of the second class passed Kim's game. Miss Chris Marriots gave a talk on first aid.

There was then campfire and the meeting was closed with taps.

3 Listing the farm debts and farm accounts receivable.

Copies of "Prairie Provinces" Farm Account Book, which covers all phases of farm business accounting for the year may be secured at the Agricultural offices in Evansburg and Edson for the price of $1.00 each. We recommend it to aid in keeping your farm records.

Don't forget the television short course "This Business of Farming" starting January 10, 1966, on C.B.C. and affiliated T.V. stations from 10:30 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. each ay Monday thru Friday.

Monday's program will feature farmstead lay-out and offer suggestions for expanding enterprises; with conveniences, protection and appearance high lighting the presentation

Tuesday will be devoted to the consideration of "Winter and the Beef Herd" "This feature may interest many in this area as it describes methods of producing feed for winter use, as well as showing ways of storage. The program also deals with economical ways of feeding, bedding and handling beef animals.

Wednesday is given to "Small Farm Improvement" and deals with many problems of the small farmer. As it is said that about half the farms in the three prairie provinces fall into this category - this part of the course will have a startling & indies auxiliary in wide appeal

On Thursday's program emphasis is placed on selecting enterprises offering the greatest increase stability. Students of Farm Business study will want to view and note this presentation.

Friday will deal with "Farm Business Organization" and application of agreements; father and son partnership, leases, estate planning and wills, also investment returns and life insurance. This particular program will also contain a summary of the week's short course.

Many of the principles of each program are illustrated by pictures taken on farms throughout the three prairie provinces. We do think that you will enjoy the course at this time and gain from the experience.

Good prospects for hog producers

Hog producers can look forward to exceptionally strong prices for the next 6 months to a year with a possible period of 18 months before they return to the $25 to $30 range.

Earlier this month carcass prices reached an all time high of $40.00 per hundredweight. This means with the Grade A premium, a 200 lb live hog dressing out at 77 per cent returned $64.68. The previous high price was $30.75, set in June of 1951.

The market price for hogs went above $30 in the middle of last June and has continued to edge upward since that time. This was not the case in 1951 when hog carcasses were back to between 30 and 32 within three months of the June peak. By the end of the year they were in the 25 to 26 range.

A. Reddon, Supervisor of Livestock with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that there is every indication that present prices will hold because the supply of hogs is down. Projected spring farrowings in both Canada and the United States suggest only a moderate increase in the number of pigs born.

This increase will only be enough to offset the cutback in marketings occured in 1965 and 1964, says Mr. Reddon. The first appreciable upward swing in pig numbers is not expected to occur until late 1966 or early 1967.

Ind'an and Metis Co-ops obtain loans from Alberta Commercial Corporation

Homes for six Indian and Metis families from northern Alberta have been completed under co-operative housing loans made by the Alberta Commercial Corporation, a division of the Department of Industry and Development. Four of the houses were erected at Fort MacMurray for Nistawoyaw Housing Cooperative. The other two are at Slave Lake, constructed for the Kapuskasing Housing Co-operative. Two more are under construction at Slave Lake and approval has been given to a total of 11 more in the two communities.

Discussions of the Alberta Commercial Corporation worked closely with, the Co-operatives and the Community Development Branch of the Department of Industrial and Department of industrial and the plan. The program provides funds for native people who, for various reasons, would not qualify for other government or private housing loans. The plan also offers co-operative members an opportunity to learn the rules of business by being in valved to a degree where they bear full responsibility for managing their own affairs

Under the plan an individual makes application to the co-operative. The co-operative approves or rejects the application and then negotiates with the Commercial Corporation for a loan The Commercial Corporation approves the proposal to determine costs and to be assured that the methods being used will produce the best results for the benefit of the co-operatives. Once approved, loans are made to the co-operative in five stages ears following a progress inspection at the job site. The loan may cover up to 100% of the proposed furnishing utility installations purchase of land, insurance, surveys, access roads landscaping and legal fees.

Responsibilities of the co-operative involve everything from the initial purchase of land to managing the properties under their control Commercial Corporation officials are prepared to assist the co-operative with any management problems which may arise. this is done in an advisory capacity and on an invitational basis only Liaison is maintained with the Community Development Branch, whose services are also available to the co-op

Houses built under the plan are sold on a rental purchase basis through arrangements between the buyer and the co operative in the event a house is vacated, the co-operative may make short-term rental arrangements

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ernest (Ernie) Westgarth of Cherhill, Alta., who passed away on January 19, 1959

We miss you more than ever,
At this time of year;
But we know that you are watching
Over the ones you loved so dear.
It's such a helpless feeling,
When there is nothing we can do;
To bring back all the yesterdays,
That were so filled with you.
You left us so suddenly,
Your last thoughts unknown;
But you left us a memory,
That we are proud to own.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Jean, Son-in-law Jake; Grandchildren, Terry, Marilyn, Shirley, Sheila and Dianna Kohler of Edson.

Letter to Editor

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter with regards to the skating rink facilities in this town.

Being a newcomer here, I realize that your old arena burned last year — hence no indoor skating — but for the life of me I can't see why the outdoor rink wasn't in use this winter.

I have a 13 year old son and 10 year daughter and I'm sure they would gladly have spent some of their free time using the outdoor rink had it been put to use. As it is, how many of those youngsters do you see up around the Star Cafe and going to a show two and three times a week?

I feel that a good many would be skating rather than hanging around uptown had the rink been fixed for them. People wonder why those children are uptown all the time like may be one of the reasons.

Why not fix the outdoor rink for them. Did all of us as children have a lovely indoor arena all the time — we were the old stand bys such as ponds and rivers good enough for many of us?

We hear the old saying that our children get too much as it is nowadays. Well what can their expect?

When the adults don't fix up the outdoor rink it's as much as saying that the inside arena is the only thing good enough for them!

I realize we've had some cold weather when they would not have been out, but then again there have been a few nice days also and I'm sure a caretaker wouldn't cost the taxpayers that much — considering the fun the kiddies might have had.

Hope you print this, as it's just a viewpoint of one mother trying to keep her children off the streets and give them something to do.

Sincerely: Mother who hopes continually

Edson High School hoopsters drop two to Hinton

By Smattie

The Edson Marlettes (Girls' Basketball team) lost their first game of season Friday night Jan. 24th against their Hinton counterparts, for they lacked the practice. Hinton had. They were defeated by a score of 38-12

Edson point getters were Joanne Marcotte, high scorer with 5 points, Shirley Calvert and Gloria Pynar each netted 4 pts.

A Merry-Gone was Hinton's big gun with 12 points. Other scorers were J Nelson, J Nelson, J Temple and A. Nystrom. Twelve fouls were called on the Hinton girls and ten on the Marlettes.

The Edson Marlettes fought a strenuous battle against the Hinton Hawks to be defeated by only 3 points with a score of 38-34 With 30 seconds of playing time left Edson's head of 34-33 was overtaken when three star players were dismissed for having 5 fouls

Randy Evans came out on top as the high scorer with 15 points Don Earle of Edson also netted himself 9 points

Witwicki and Eric Hansen gave Hintons top men with 11 points. One major factor in Hintons victory was their first string height average of 6 ft. 2 inch

Referees Mel Soltys and B. Smith called down 25 fouls on Edson and 23 on Hinton

Meteor Admiration Society

Mountain S-33 2-door hardtop.

Meteor's rich look of luxury is one big reason

Meteor's elegant comfort is another reason

One of the first things people notice in a new Meteor is the beautiful interior luxury. Once you've seen Meteor's comfortable, deep, foam-padded seats, there's no stopping you from sitting in them and surrounding yourself in Meteor elegance. Fabrics are rich, lavish. Soft, supple crinkle grain vinyl has the look and feel of fine leather. A number of people joined the Meteor Admiration Society the moment they discovered and experienced all this elegance and prestige in a popular price car.

Meteor's beautiful style is another reason

Your eyes just naturally snap to attention at the first sight of a new Meteor. You simply cannot resist Meteor's distinctive beauty . . . clean, crisp, sculptured lines and tasteful use of trim accents. Meteor's sweeping roofline and gently tapered rear deck draw admiring looks wherever they're seen. An optional vinyl roof adds town car fashion to the ultra-glamorous look of Meteor 2 and 4-door hardtops. In fact, many people join the Meteor Admiration Society for Meteor's good looks alone.

Credit Union annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Edson and District Credit Union will be held in the Edson Motor Hotel next Wednesday, January 29. The meeting will open with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Mr. Broderick from Cuna Mutual Society of Edmonton.

Everyone is welcome to attend

Word from the North frontier

Word has been sent by a second party that Miss Marlene Gustafson, formerly with the telephone staff in Edson and Jerry Robinson, a well known local son, were disappointed at not seeing their name in The Leader.

Both Jerry and Marlene returned to fourth after spending the festive season in their old stamping grounds.

How we could have forgotten Jerry was in town we don't know as he stood us a cup in a local watering place and we did see Marlene on the street during the holiday period.

Miss Vi Davies honored by Craft friends

Craft Centre members gathered at the Craft Centre on Friday evening Jan. 16 to honor Miss Vi Davies at a coffee party

The evening was spent visiting and reminiscing. During the evening Mrs. S. Lorch presented Vi with an honorary membership card and asked her to choose a piece of pottery from the sale table. This pottery was a token in appreciation for the support Vi has given the Craft Centre over the years.

Mr. G. Gourlay also presented Vi with a beautiful lapidary pendant.

The evening was brought to a close with best wishes being extended to Vi by the Craft members.

Card of Thanks

Sincere thanks are extended to Dr. Crawford, Matron and staff of St. John's Hospital, and Pioneer district neighbors for their thoughtfulness and care of Mr Tony Dupis during his illness, and for kind acts, tributes and messages of sympathy received since his death.

Outstanding Jazz Trio to appear in Concert series

"The Mitchell-Ruff Jazz Trio is one of the freshest, newest sounds in music today."

That quote wasn't written by a press agent. It was acclaimed by world famous Duke Ellington, after hearing the Mitchell-Ruff group perform at New York's Beaconfield Hall.

Hinton, Edson and Jasper residents will have the opportunity of hearing this refreshing trio shortly. The well known jazz trio will appear in Hinton's High School auditorium on Thursday, January 27 at 8 p.m.

MITCHELL-RUFF TRIO

Together they formed the Mitchell Ruff Duo, and for seven years toured extensively in that combination. Notable among their successes as a duo was their break through in the Soviet Union, where they were the first Americans to play Jazz. They performed all places at the Tschaikov sky Conservatory, and Mr. Ruff delivered a lecture on the history of Jazz in Russian (It's one of the six languages he speaks.)

In Western Europe the duo enjoyed the distinction of being the only Jazz group to play and lecture for "Jeunesse Musicale" the national music foundation operating in France Italy, Germany and Switzerland.

Most recent addition to the group, introduced to the public at the Hickory House on engagement in Herbie Mann, of Rio de Janiero Mr Millin is recognized as Brazil's foremost concert percussionist, and one of the forerunners of the popular Brazilian Bossa Nova. He brings to the trio a new instrument of his own invention, called the Tamba.

The Mitchell Ruff builds a program based on a firm foundation of the classics, a long with the exhuberant high spirits of Jazz. Mitchell and Ruff have embraced strong African Indian rhythmic concepts, brought from Brazil by Sivlelo Melito Together they produce Chamber works of inventive, modern wit, motivating forces that encompass the free flowing ideas of classicism, romanticism and infectious rhythm

Critics on both sides of the Atlantic have landed on the table 'Chamber Jazz" for the ever delightful product of the Mitchell Ruff Trio All in all, they turn a concert program into an entertaining, informative and "swinging" affair.

conventional concert series sounds like a novelty, their program has been especially prepared for audiences which have never before heard Jazz in concert.

An important element of the Trio's presentation is entitled "The Elements of Jazz" During the course of the program they discuss and give actual illustrations, of Jazz elements, such as rhythm, improvisation, Jazz harmonies and different styles through the ages.

Mitchell and Ruff (two separate people - Willie Ruff and Dwike Mitchell) met while serving in a U.S. Air Force Band

Dare I poke my head out to say Hello as I stand at the gate of 1966? Oh, yes, 1965 was a good year, but let us all do our best to make 1966 a better one We won't get any where grumbling about the weather There is only one thing to do about that, its to keep ourselves as comfortable and content as we can if we have to stay indoors.

Seat Belts lifesaver of the automobile age

Arguments given for non-use of seat belts stem from misunderstanding of the true facts In the hope that the truth may be known, below are listed a number of fallacies commonly expressed and the scientific, proven facts

Fallacy: 'I don't use the belt because I never get out of town"

Fact: Majority of accidents, injuries an deaths happen in urban areas at speeds under 35 miles per hour and within 20 miles of home

Fallacy: "A seat belt might trap me Suppose the car went into water or caught fire".

Fact: Less than one crash per 100 involves fire or submersion Without a belt the riders probably would be knocked unconscious With a belt they probably remain conscious and can get out.

Fallacy: "The buckle might jam and trap me in the car"

Fact: Standards Association approves buckles to open easily after very severe stress

Fallacy: "In an accident the belt may injure me"

Fact: A belt is made to absorb shock but the dashboard, windshield and the road out side are not! In a bad accident you could receive bruises from the belt But what is the alternative? Sure death or very serious injury.

Fallacy: "My car is too old for seat belts".

Fact: Old cars begin to wear and the chance of mechanical failures is greater. Also, probably you car won't cause the accident it's often the other fellow

Every steady proven lives are saved daily by use of seat belts. What aeroplane pasenger would refuse to use a belt on take-off, landing, or in turbulent air? Don't be superstitious Buckle your seat belt and live!

Now that cold weather driving is here, be sure to have the exhaust checked, next time your car is greased. A small amount of carbon monoxide can kill a child or dull your senses sufficiently to cause an accident.

THIS LITTLE GROUP of buildings is the source of the satellite TV reception we have and hope to gain soon. They are located at the top of Whitecourt Mountain. On the left is the building which housed the original 5 watt CFRN-TV booster, centre is the new CFRN-TV equipment which has been in operation for some time now, and on the right is the latest addition, CBC-TV's satellite, the building for which is now complete and ready for equipment. Unfortunately it is not expected that all the equipment will be here before about May, as suppliers are working at full capacity on other similar projects as well as new color equipment. CARROT CREEK NEWS

By JESSIE SHANTZ

I was watering my African violets this morning when a cloud of strange birds whirled out of the sky and landed on the maple trees, lilac bushes and caragana hedges There they sat, a most beautiful sight to see so early in the morning They had lovely deep grey colored breasts, their backs were brownish in hue, but it was their heads that really took my eyes They were a brilliant red

They sat there ignoring the other joys the Canada jays and chickadees that were busy at the feeding station After a few minutes rest they whirled away as they came a small band passing by These birds are complete strangers to me I have never seen them here in my time

AMA to operate motorist Courtesy Patrol Service

The Alberta Motor Association plans to operate a "Courtesy Patrol Service" on the recently opened portion of Highway 2, between Leduc and Pembina.

A spokesman for the 229 thousand member organization points out the 50-mile section of 4-lane divided highway is without service stations or other emergency facilities, and says "there appears to be a definite need for a patrol service of this nature at this time of year."

The "Courtesy Patrol Service" will begin Friday, Jan. 14th and will be offered daily from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight "when a breakdown could have more serious consequences."

The service will use a van, operated by a skilled mechanic and equipped with extra gasoline, booster cables, jacks, first aid and other emergency equipment. The van has been provided by Volkswagen Northern Ltd. of Edmonton.

The van will also be equipped with a radio-telephone, courtesy of the Alberta Department of Highways, to enable the operator to maintain constant contact with the A.M.A. offices in Edmonton and Red Deer as well as the R.C.M.P.

Motorists who require emergency assistance on the highway may also reach the patrol services by phoning direct to Mobile Operator V23482. This service will be provided to all motorists, regardless of whether or not they are A. M. A. members.

A.M.A. officials say the "Courtesy Patrol Service" will be offered on an "experimental basis for an indefinite period of time to determine the need and effectiveness of such a service.

Let's see a couple of them by fatherson in the U Yvette and Bob Neale homes. Congratulations to Bruce Johnstonsmith and Bill Cronin at their recent engagement. Mike Turka has been home from work since New Years He spent a few days in Edson hospital last week.

Gordon Norton has just finished clearing on Glenn Johnson's farm also on Fred Johnston.

The milder weather is a welcome change but such heavy snowfall has been hard on the roads.

Apprenticeship program now running into 20th anniversary

More than 1700 apprentices from Alberta's industrial work force went back to school this week. Apprenticeship courses of three to 12 weeks each run all year throughout the year at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology in Edmonton, the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology in Calgary, the Lethbridge Junior and Vocational School and Fairview Agricultural and Vocational College.

Training in 28 apprenticeable trades is available at these technical schools. Students must be registered apprentices under the training program of the Apprentice ship Board, Alberta Department of Labor. Each apprentice undertakes on the job experience at his place of employment, as well as classroom and shop training at a technical school for an average eight week period each year during a three of four-year program

Costs of tuition, transportation and subsistence allowances to apprentices are financed under the provisions of the Federal Provincial Apprenticeship Agreement A single person living at home is given a subsistence allowance of $1 a week and a single person away from home $18 a week. A married person maintaining a home is given $34 a week and a married person away from home $36 a week.

Student loans up to $400 a year are available upon proof of need under the Students' Assistance Act of the Alberta Department of Education. Loans are interest free until the completion of apprenticeship when interest at 5½% becomes chargeable.

In the 20 year development of the apprenticeship program in Alberta over 11,000 apprentices have achieved journeyman status and received the Completion of Apprenticeship Certificate from the Apprenticeship Board. In 1965 more than 4800 apprentices attended courses prescribed by the Alberta Apprenticeship Board

Inquiries about apprenticeship training should be directed to local offices of the Apprenticeship Board in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Red Deer and Grande Prairie

DIARY OF A VAGABOND
BY DOROTHY BARKER

The Silent Ones

For those of us who have been blessed with all our faculties it is hard to comprehend that a little child may never talk. Not because it hasn't a voice, but because it has never heard the sound of human speech. In Moscow, Novosibirsk last year, a little girl made a sound that wasn't like a real laughter or a cry, but a small boy b[ ] a plastic whistle and for the first time in his life heard a sound he had created.

These two are among a group of deaf youngsters who are being taught by a program designed to help them grow up in a hearing world.

In that city which was long ago dubbed a railroad town a group of members from Hibbett Lodge 96 Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, set themselves the responsibility of visiting these children in their homes. Kindergarten children and when his special education. The value of average 100 miles a day. Four trains on these all duty hour, running three fast passenger and working on class 1 on National trains between Moncton and Campbellton

Not only do they give up many only of their spare time [illegible] also presented by C. A. Irvine, president of the Moncton and District Housing Manufactured Association, with a gift cost to cover the rest of [illegible] the children to Halifax where the extent of these learning handicaps can be determined

Miss Geraldine Hopkins, the nurse's counselor, told members, brakemen and their wives during the presentation of film matter, "we do not want the children to depend on their hearing as a means of communication We do want them to be able to grow up in a world that hears . . . a world where thousands take their ability to hear as a matter of course."

15 in Car Pool

The car pool was organized by John Gayton, who takes an active part in local service clubs and when not working on CN's fast freight 441, he also helping to run the Lions sponsored Senior Citizens Club. It was through this work that he learned of the need for transportation for deaf children.

John Gayne likes to inform interested persons that the school was organized by a Moncton veterinarian who has a deaf child. A few other parents helped and soon a teacher equipment and a location for the school were found "This was a wonderful undertaking, but they still needed volunteers to get the children to school and home again" he said

His fellow trainmen were contacted and soon there were 15 cars in the volunteer pool. One type of job makes it possible to provide this kind of service during our off duty hours. I found they were only too happy to provide the use of their cars and their spare time toward helping these kind children toward a new life"

This Gave Saved a Life

Early last year a two year old boy fell from his mother's arms as they boarded the Canadian National coastal ship at Haven at Pushthrough in Newfoundland Gerald Dunn of St John's, an oiler on the vessel, dived into the water and saved the child from drowning Canadian National's President, Donald Gordon, sent Mr Dunn an engraved watch and a letter of com-

As each year passes, and here are now seven which have exceeded my travels and alarming experiences, I become more and more aware of the contribution this group of Canadians is making, not only in their line of duty, but in the field of human relations ships

Peers family lose belongings in fire

The home of Mrs. Lou Radcliffe at Peers, and had been a resident there since 1956, was completely destroyed by fire at about 2:30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 15.

Mrs. Radcliffe was alone in the house at the time, and was busily engaged in preparing supper when she noticed smoke coming from the ceiling in the living room. She immediately phoned her husband, who was working in the bush about a half mile south of Peers, and had left a sandwich for his lunch. He returned home at once, but by the time he arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save anything.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Radcliffe and their three children were visiting in Peers at the time. Mrs. Radcliffe's father, Mr. Ed Sweezey, was asleep and was awakened by the sound of crackling wood to find the whole living room ceiling a mass of flames.

He ran, barefooted, about a quarter of a mile to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sheehan, where by this time Mrs. Radcliffe's parents and other neighbors could gather the house and belongings were beyond saving. Mrs. Ray Radcliffe drove into Peers to break the news to Dale and Sarah and take them back out to what had been their home.

Household articles, bedding and clothing are needed for the family. Anyone who has articles they would like to donate may phone the J. K. Wilson residence at 723-3480 in Edson, any night after 7:00 p.m. in Peers, articles are being accepted at Chris & Pearls Store.

The kiddies in the family are two boys, 2 and 4 years old, and a little girl, three years old. Mrs. Radcliffe wears size 12 clothing.

MR. AND MRS. GERALD L. JOHNSON

A wedding of wide interest took place Saturday, Dec. 4, in the Sacred Heart Church at 4 p.m., when Elizabeth Rose Brand became the bride of Gerald Leslie Johnson. The Rev. Father Cassidy conducted the marriage ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brand of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson of Stettler, Alberta.

For the happy occasion the church was decorated with bouquets of bronze and white mums.

Mrs. George Maclean played the wedding music. Soloist was George Brand, brother of the bride.

The radiant bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a floor length gown of nylon chiffon with scalloped tiers of Spanish lace forming the front of the bouffant skirt. The simply styled bodice had a rounded neckline and long sleeves. A chiffon train, trimmed with Spanish lace fell from the back waist line scalloped shoulder length veil was gathered to a fabric rose head piece. Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Linda Brand and bridesmaid, Miss Marie Brown, were identical floor length gowns of satin finished gold peau de sole. The gowns featured a gold beaded floral design on the bodice and trains gathered to the waist back. Their head pieces were peau de sole roses nestled in layers of net. Bouquets of bronze and white mums, shoulder length white gloves and white shoes completed their ensembles.

Best man was Ronald Schwartzenberger of Stettler. Groomsman was Paul Brand of Edson. Ushers were George Brand and Dan Lee of Edson.

A reception for 130 guests was later held in the Edson Motor Hotel. Receiving with the wedding party, the bride's mother wore a two piece powder blue ensemble with blue feathered hat and white feathered carnation corsage. The mother of the groom wore a chocolate brown suit with matching pillbox hat and corsage of white feathered carnations.

Master of ceremonies was Mr. Don Lee. Miss Yvonne Brand was in charge of the guest book. The toast to the bride was proposed by the best man and responded to by the groom. Telegrams of congratulations were received from the bride's aunt and uncle in Germany, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stuart of Montreal; Larry Kemple of Brandon, Manitoba.

Leaving the next day for a honeymoon trip to Brandon, the bride wore a three piece suit in turquoise shade with corsage of white feathered carnations.

The young couple are making their home in Edmonton.

THERE WAS LOTS OF INTEREST last Tuesday when the nets were pulled on Pickle Lake during the brief commercial fishing season. Although a few nets were empty most fishermen were satisfied with their catches of delicious whitefish and jackfish and are already talking about what they are going to do next year.

Hospital Auxiliary hears interesting talk on ARDA

By Auxiliary Reporter
Mrs. Armand Lod

Cold weather did not interfere with the attendance at our very active members at the regular meeting of the hospital Auxiliary held Jan 6 [illegible] members were present in the Rec. Hall. Miss Pryce Ashmead, Mrs. E. Kilbirnie, Mrs. [illegible] greeter, all very ambitious to help.

The usual business was attended to. It was decided to hold a whist party at the Parkland Lodge on Friday, Feb 18. Do come and help us entertain our senior citizens. A good time is in store for all.

The main event of the evening was a very informative talk by Mrs. Pat Sheehan, Rural Development Home Economist. She explained how ARDA will try to help our communities.

A lot of study is being done by some of our citizens. The next step is the willingness to show interest and participation by the local citizens to put forth some of ARDA projects. Without this not to much can be accomplished. None of the ideas will be forced on the individual, the decision are left up to them.

The best way to help is to assist with information, as Mrs. Pat Sheehan did. She is a unique roll in that she has handle monies, then too their concern for the children in giving them a better chance.

In this modern [illegible] have to change [illegible] tion up to five times [illegible] jobs will disappear. The [illegible] for home industry is to make these changes easier. This concerns the local union too.

Mrs. Sheehan's information was well received by the members. More was mentioned but these things have been of more interest to the ladies.

Now let's put it to good use in our individual family circle and improve our own little community in the hope of our ability. Maybe we can let our neighbours in on it. All this makes daily living much more [illegible] food for thought. Thank you Mrs. Sheehan for improving our line of thinking.

Bristle Up!

by Pastor Shoemaker

When a boy, we lived along a highway near a creek On the other side the road was a herd of cattle led by a cross bull whose owner lived deep in the wood.

Many a time we would find the bull bellowing under a tree where a fisherman had taken refuge He was the picture of fury with his head shaking and dirt pawing.

But we had learned to him else has it took only the daring of two mile-born boys with a couple of clubs Like indians on the war path, we rushed toward him with our clubs swinging and our fraidie loitering it would look like disaster for two boys until the very last two feet, when Mr. bull would turn tail and take for the woods as fast and far as to satisfy boyish hearts

From the security of the wood the fellows would continue while the fisherman left his perch and horridly expressing his thanks and promising great rewards two never did get anything I was off towards town

The power and fury of the devil is not in he under restrained However his evil power are those who will not bristle up.

The promise of God is Resist the Devil and He will flee from you

CAPITOL REPORT

MID WINTER POLITICAL BREW

BY JOHN WARREN

The reporting business, no matter what the newsmen try to tell you, is just like any other. It's either a feast or a famine. Every scribe who ever covered the provincial legislature can tell you about those long days in the summer when the entire cabinet seems to be on vacation, the party leaders are touring some other part of the world and the deputy ministers are attending to pressing business on the golf course.

And then there are the weeks in mid-winter when every minister is announcing a major new program, every party is preparing for a convention and every leader claims to have come up with the answers to Alberta's problems, whatever they may be.

Last week was one of those. For instance:

The Liberals met in Calgary to elect a new leader and devise the policy they hope will eventually dispose of Premier Manning. Their convention program was good. Their deliberations were serious and enlightening. Their speakers were inspired. And their pro-convention newspaper provided everything from a list of hotel room rates to a map showing the shortest route to the downtown liquor store.

The climax came late Saturday with the choice of Alderman Adrian Berry of Calgary as the man to lead Alberta back into a position of power.

Only days earlier Neil Reimer was able to detract slightly from the Liberal leadership contest by suggesting the entire party line up behind Dave Hancock. Mr. Reimer said then they had left their leader in a leaderless state and that the Liberal organization was disintegrating.

The Liberal's termed his proposal "effrontery" and said the NDP was out of tune with the mood of Alberta.

Meanwhile Peter Lougheed was preparing his Progressive Conservatives for a convention and an attack on the government. The real outcome was so much kicking among the three opposition groups that Social Credit and Mr. Manning almost forgotten.

Back at the ranch, so to speak, Mr. Manning's people were going about their business in the normal way.

Harry Strom, the minister of agriculture, met his federal counterpart, A. J. (Joe) Greene. The upshot was that promised farm assistance for the Peace River and west central areas was cut in half. Mr. Strom said the federal minister agreed to give the scheme further thought but refused to participate on a 50-50 basis at this moment.

The provincial department also announced that it is considering helping farmers establish mobile seed processing units in outlying areas. They say the 57 plants now in Alberta can clean all the grain needed for seeding but observers from farms to the plant suggest a need for the mobile units.

Highways Minister R. Campbell Fluker told a business luncheon that Alberta's provincial road building may be in for some major changes. Until now it has concentrated on completing major highways.

"We have come to a new era", Mr. Taylor explained. "We can start looking at other problems." The biggest "other problem" at the moment is upgrading of the secondary road system. The minister said plans for a complete grid of roads throughout Alberta should be completed by the end of the year.

The Union of Alberta Municipalities met with the cabinet last week and presented a record number of resolutions for consideration — 74. They ranged from election procedures to fluoridation. Fluoridation is a suggestion that the local age for drinking be lowered from 21 to 18.

CLIFF ARRIGO CHISTE
New Supt. of Schools

Making the acquaintance of persons throughout the Edson School Division is Mr. Arrigo Chiste, on a temporary appointment by the Department of Education as Superintendent of the school division.

Mr. Chiste is relieving Supt. A. D. Jardine, who has been transferred to Edmonton.

Coming to Edson from Lethbridge via Edmonton, Mr. Chiste had been principal of an elementary, Junior-Senior high school at Lethbridge for eight years. From the first of September, 1965, he served as superintendent at large for the Department of Education with headquarters in Edmonton. His appointment to the Edson Division was effective the first of this year.

Mr. Chiste, in an interview with this newspaper, said he realizes the problems in the area are deep seated and he doesn't come to the division with no pretentions that he can solve all problems.

However, he has said he will do what is humanly possible and is looking forward to cooperation from everyone in the division—taxpayers included. He sends out a plea for unity in the division for the good of the children.

Mr. Chiste is married with a family of four girls. Because of the present temporary nature of his appointment, Mrs. Chiste will continue to live in the city for the time being.

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Thursday, January 27, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 4
and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

Masons gather Saturday to honor 60 year member

Nearly ninety Masons from Jasper, Hinton, Edmonton and other parts gathered in Edson Masonic Lodge on Saturday afternoon to do honor to their Right Worshipful Brother, John Thomson, who attained his sixteeth year in Free Masonry this month Mr Thomson, who will be 80 years of age later this year, was made a Mason in his native Dundee, Scotland, in his 19th year to qualify for this rare honor among the fraternity.

"John Thomson Night" was organized under the direction of this year's master of Edson Lodge, Campbell Sweeny, in appreciation of Mr. Thomson's devotion to the craft in the years since he was a charter member on the institution of the Edson Lodge in 1911.

The large d group of members came by bus from the Jasper Lodge headed by Mr. George Fowlie and included son, Bert Thomson, who is now a member of the Jasper Lodge where he follows his father's avocation of railroading with the CNR. Step-son John Morie, who made the trip from Chilliwack, B.C., is also a railroader. Both men, of course, grew up and went to school in Edson. A daughter, Mrs R. E. (Janet) Key also lives at Jasper

Among the messages read at the special meeting, and the banquet which followed in the Commodore Hotel, was one from the master of Mr. Thomson's mother lodge, Lodge Albert (Perfarshire) No 648 in the Grand Registration of Scotland where he was initiated on January 3rd, 1908.

Messages also received from the grand master and grand secretary of the Alberta Grand Lodge. Past Deputy District Grand Master W. Hollands representing the grand lodge from out of town along with another former grand lodge officer and long time friend, Mr. John South of Edmonton. Past D.D.G.M. Charles Young of Hinton was also among the distinguished visitors.

Past D D G M R C Gregg of Edson gave Mr Thomson's history both masonic and civil. Pointing out that during his career with the railway in Edson Mr. Thomson found time to serve many years on the school board

Following his retirement from railway service he also served as police magistrate for the district after having previously been a justice of the peace for many years

Mr. Thomson has served as master of the Edson lodge grand steward, grand grand registrar and district deputy grand master in the Grand Lodge of Alberta.

Special guests at the banquet, at the request of Mr Thomson, were Chief Constable John MacDonald of Edson and Mr. Joseph Wyma of the Department of Municipal Affairs in Edson

During the course of an evening of reminiscing with long and shorter time friends Mr. Thomson received the wishes of all for years of good health to enjoy the honor bestowed upon him by his fellow masons.

"JOHN THOMSON NIGHT" was observed in the Edson Masonic Lodge on Saturday afternoon to observe the sixty years of Masonry practised by Edson's sole resident charter member of the local lodge. Mr. John Thomson, left, receives his sixty year jewel from his fellow Mason George Fowlie of Jasper, right centre, while long time friend John South of Edmonton looks on with Mr. Thomson's step-son, John Morie of Chilliwack, in the right background. Son Bert Thomson of Jasper witnessed the unique ceremony from the body of the Lodge.

Divisional school short of books in libraries

BY BILL OWEN

"Neither wise men or fools can work without tools", quoted Niton Trustee J. H. Lawton during a discussion of the lack of library facilities in schools throughout the Edson School Division.

The meeting last Wednesday discussed the problem following a report by Supt. of Schools Arrigo Chiste that at least $10,000 should be set aside to help spike up the library situation within the Division.

Present were chairman George Monsma. Peers, A W Leonard, Edson, F Faunak, Evansburg, H Lawton, Niton and D Headon, Wildwood were the representing trustees with school division representatives including. Superintendent A Chiste, Supervisor of Secondary Education F Burrhak. Supervisor of Elementary Education Paul Marshall. Secretary Treasurer, D S Blundell and Superintendent of Works Paul O'Hara

Although it was a day long meeting our report will dwell on the afternoon session commencing with the report of Works Superintendent Paul O'Hara

Discussion followed on the heating problem in the Evansburg School during the intense cold weather but was set aside to be dealt with when a more positive position had been set on future building plans in the eastern end of the division.

As Mr. Lawton had been approached by a delegation of students of the Niton School on the possibility of having showers installed, this was referred to Mr. O'Hara to determine the cost and feasibility.

Mr. O'Hara's reports drew the board's attention to the vandalism at the Robb School. He was advised to notify the R'CMP should any further destruction occur

Cold weather also created water pipe freezing at the Hirsle School and Mr Marshall informed the group the matter had been well taken care of

Mr. Monsma explained how the Peers Union of Peers had offered $100 towards the purchase of a building stage for their ambulance but the company that built them was no longer in business.

It was left to Mr O'Hara to check into the building of a stage providing it did not interfere with the other activities being held in the auditorium.

Chairman Monsma reported on the new procedure set out for the checking of the financial statement where the chairman is required to inspect all secretary treasurer statements with the auditors

Mr A. Chiste, the newly appointed Superintendent, gave his report as of the first of the year and received high praise from Mr. Marshall for

The Sabin oral poliomyelitis vaccine program which was commenced in 1963 and continued in 1964 and 1965, will again be promoted by your Health Unit in 1966.

Most people will recall the Salk injection poliomyelitis campaign which began in 1954 and which has done much to prevent the sorrows and disabilities caused by poliomyelitis.

Now, this further protection namely Sabin oral poliomyelitis vaccine is available. Salk vaccine used alone given good protection. Sabin oral vaccine together with the salk injection vaccine will give a greater protection.

Sabin vaccine is taken by mouth. It is a pleasant tasting syrup. A small amount is placed on a lump of sugar or on a spoon. When the vaccine is digested, it helps the body build powerful defences against paralytic poliomyelitis. A minimum period of six weeks is required between feedings.

There are NO plans for booster or reinforcement feedings of Sabine vaccine at present. A maximum of two feedings per person is the present aim irrespective of the year or years in which the two feedings have been obtained.

The 1966 program therefore is for persons who have not had any Sabine vaccine or who have had only one feeding of Vaccine. The Salk injection protection must be adequate before any Sabin oral vaccine will be given.

Sabin Oral Vaccine will be available at all regular infant, Child and Adult Health Clinics held throughout the area during the whole of 1966. It will now be available to children under five who have had three doses of Salk injection vaccine NOT four as formerly. It will also be given in school children in school as [illegible]

This Sabin oral poliomyelitis vaccine has been given to millions of people in many countries Please see that as many people as possible are given the opportunity of this protection

If in doubt about your Salk injection protection, please contact the nearest Health Unit Offices for information. Should your Salk injection protection not be adequate, take the first opportunity of having this done. Salk injection vaccine is available for all ages at all regular infant, Child, and Adult Health Clinics.

Hawaii at home — if it is any consolation to anyone during the cold weather, the famous Hawaii Teh plant grows in Edson as well Hawaii. Naturally this is in a natural gas heated home but Sonja Craddock's Teh plant is in full blossom and stretching up to the height of six feet

The interesting part of this story is the leaves. Everyone has heard of grass skirts, well apparently this plant is the main supplier of this vital national costume.

Mrs. Craddock claims the plant is not fully grown but maybe the Canadian girls would like to wear their grass skirts a little shorter.

Hobbies play a big part in some people's lives and violin making has filled in many hours for Mr. Sid Jackson, CW agent here in Edson. Mr Jackson who formerly played violin and saxophone in bands throughout Saskatchewan, has turned his hand to building the instruments

The business of tourism has once again been put before the merchants of Edson by Mr Bryant of the Alberta Travel Bureau. While in Edson he mentioned Walt Disney's Disneyland is the greatest tourist attraction in the U.S.A. In other words build a better mouse trap and the people will flock to your door.

Last year a suggestion was offered to Edson businessmen under the heading of 'King dom of Edsonia' Will this idea die a natural death or will some other community capitalize on it.

Business has been good in Edson but one merchant stated he is pleased he is not counting on the sale of hockey sticks to pay his light bill this year.

Divisional principals discuss problems

A meeting of the Board of the Edson School Division No 12 and the school principals of the Division was held at the Edson Jubilee Junior High School on Monday, January 17th, 1966

Topics of discussion centred around the roles played by various people such as; the trustees, the Superintendent, the assistant superintendents, the principals and the secretary treasurer.

Problems of mutual concern were also discussed. The meeting was followed by a luncheon at the Commodore Hotel.

There is mutual agreement among most of the people present that the rank cards on the table" type of discussion was most worthwhile Plans call for a meeting of this type once or twice a year.

MEETING WITH THE CABINET

It is always a pleasant duty every year to join in with the executive members of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association to present a brief to the Alberta Cabinet

We always find the Premier and his Ministers very well disposed to receive us, listen to our brief and any other subject which might be brought up by the delegation or introduced by the ministers themselves, seeking out general information for policy making.

The weekly newspapers, recognizing the strong trend to socialism, commended the Premier on his stand against compulsory instruction in the private lives of its citizens and its attitude to resist creeping socialism

Of course, we reason that much of this socialism is being brought about by people themselves who are demanding more and more help from the governments, failing to realize that every time they receive handouts, their liberty is being compromised by the necessary controls which have to follow.

The Weekly Newspapers, although they did not take an official stand on daylight saving time, one way or the other, felt that in view of the stimulation and pressure of this issue being forced by other organizations, the time has come when a plebiscite should be taken to get an answer to the problem. Mr. Manning indicated that steps are being taken to bring this up to the people soon.

On liquor advertising the papers were pleased that Mr. Manning had lifted some of the restrictions. Not so much for the revenues this may bring, but for the freedom of the press and choice. Several of the editors present, who had supported this brief on liquor as a whole with the association, pointed out that they had refused liquor advertising as a matter of policy as their conscience dictated.

Apart from the official brief, civil rights were introduced into the discussion and an interesting half hour on the subject proved very interesting.

It led to the introduction of the practibility of an Ombudsman which has been tried out in several countries of the world. Mr. Hooke speaking on the matter from experience at a meeting in New Zealand where this type of an appeal court for the public was discussed, said that he would not recommend it in this country When this was instituted in New Zealand, there were over 110,000 complaints listed with the grievance board. After these had been carefully sifted only 10 per cent were judged acceptable for further review and these boiled down to about one per cent eligible.

It was just too much of an economical burden to administer. To reduce the number of crank complaints, a deposit now has to be paid with application

The cabinet impressed us with its sincerity on civil rights and its desire to give every person in Alberta the opportunity to get fair treatment in the courts and all phase of administration where rules and regulations have to be imposed.

"That was some drive! Not many people can reach that water hole."

Holds the elusive 29 hand

The cold weather of the past few weeks has made home a pleasant spot in the evenings with card and other games and reading a good way to pass the time.

For Arthur Akif, playing cribbage Sunday evening with his sister Mrs. Lennox Field, this pleasant past time also gave him reason to brag for he held the elusive "29" hand for the first time in his life.

He was dealt the three fives and a jack of hearts then had the five of hearts cut. He set trying to figure out the total for a few seconds then let out a whoop when he realized he was looking at the once-in-a-lifetime hand.

The big hand brought him from behind and helped him win the game by 7 points.

CAPITOL REPORT

FUA had lots to say

BY JOHN WARREN

Alberta's farmers, at least those who belong to the FUA, had their annual audience with the cabinet last week. And they had lots to say.

The FUA brief asked the provincial government to set up commissions to investigate taxation and car insurance. On the former subject the FUA said: "Agriculture is bearing a somewhat larger share of property taxes than other segments of our society, particularly when we recall the farmers disparity in income".

The brief repeated the oft-heard lament about the road-price squeeze but added that it could bring depression conditions by 1972. It suggested a food price increase to boost farm income.

The comments on car insurance seem to fall into line with growing agitation for a provincial car insurance scheme, or at least, a thorough investigation of its possibilities. And the brief asked that an investigating commission determine "whether all the present costs are justified".

It is one of the few points that Alberta farm spokesmen agreed with the people of Quebec, the FUA submission asked that the government take a look at the eastern province's anti-poverty campaign. It said Quebec was attacking poverty "with courage and imagination."

If the farmers themselves painted a pretty bleak picture of conditions — the statistics backed them up in full.

Their figures show that Alberta farmers last year benefitted from a boost in livestock marketing and prices to realize their greatest gross cash income in seven years

The total was $632,000,000.

For those who don't have livestock a Brooks horticulturist, Dr. I. L. Nonneckz, suggested growing of vegetables and other specialty crops. He added that western farming is no longer a way of life, it's a business — and time the people concerned realized this

Alberta's doctors, dentists and druggists all hit the news last week

The druggists took a proposal for a prepaid insurance plan covering prescription drugs before the cabinet And spokesmen for the pharmaceutical association say the "pharmacare" plan got a good hearing No commitments were made.

The dentists announced an increase of up to 25 per cent in their fee schedule But Dr. Gordon Gabbert, a dentist, MLA and university teacher, was quick to point out that all dentists do not adhere to the schedule which is merely a guideline Some of them have been charging the higher rates all along, he explained.

As for the doctors — a committee from Quebec gave them a large part of the credit for Alberta's medical care scheme. The study-group said it was impressed by the medical care made available by doctors on a voluntary basis through Medical Services incorporated before the government scheme was set up.

The Alberta plan, of course, provides assistance to low-income families for medical insurance premiums

Two other programs that aid Alberta's less fortunate residents also got attention. Public Works Minister Fred Colborne said his department hopes to extend it's community development program into new areas. He said the two-year trial with Indians and metis in the Hay Lakes area proved remarkably successful. And it has put people to work, not just provide them with hand outs, he said.

Welfare department officials noted a huge jump in adoptions last year, particularly of children of mixed race They say an advertising campaign apparently paid off. We can look for more of the same next year. Meanwhile a new hassle appears to be brewing on the subject of religion in adoptions. More of that will likely come out during the session

WESTERN-BORN BECOMES LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR . . .

The appointment of Grant MacEwan to be Lieutenant Governor of Alberta has met with widespread approval. He is the best qualified for the position of any man we can think of.

Grant MacEwan is the first western born man to fill that position. Manitoba in his native province and the year of 1908 his birth.

He has had a distinguished career as an educationalist, farming expert, historian and politician. He was professor of animal husbandry at the University of Saskatchewan, dean of agriculture at the University of Manitoba, a top-notch judge of farm animals, and an historian of the west whose many books and articles relate the storied history of the region.

When we refer to Grant MacEwan as a politician it is with the true meaning of the name in mind — "one versed in the science of government". In that political life, and had long experience therein. His first venture was a failure. He ran as a Liberal candidate as a Manitoba constituency in a federal by-election. The St. Laurent Liberal government was then in power in Ottawa, and it was anticipated that Mr MacEwan would succeed James G Gardiner as minister of agriculture, should he win. But he didn't.

That was a lucky loss for Grant MacEwan, for it resulted in his moving to Alberta with his wife and daughter, a province that appreciates able men. Here he was elected to the Legislative Assembly as a Liberal. Later he was elected alderman of the city of Calgary, and also served two terms as mayor of the city.

And all the while he was writing, writing, writing. He authored some thirteen books, innumerable articles and talks over the radio. He resurrected dramatic stories of western history and western men, and put them between the covers of books. He is the west's most prolific historian

And, in all his undertakings, he "nothing commands old, nor wants". He was always a gentleman whom it was a pleasure to meet.

And he is 6 feet, 2 inches tall!

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY . . .

Finance Minister Sharp stated last week that Canadians do not have equal opportunity in Canada. Under further questioning, it developed that he was speaking of opportunity to reach the top of the ladder in industry and to become rich (or affluent).

Mr Sharp comes from a low-income family, who like thousands more families of their day, were actually suffering some of the pangs of poverty. He credits his own ability to succeed, and those of his friends who also succeeded in making their way to the top in their vocations, to the fact that "there was always intelligent conversation at our family" — to more or less quote his words What he means, of course, is that there was the desire to go ahead and to gain more education to fit himself for a profession.

In these days of a strong trend toward individual subservience to the state, and state paternalism which destroys individual desire to achieve the top, it is well to continue to point out the fact that it is the intelligent people who do achieve the top financially and vocationally. This intelligence is not something the individual is born with, but requires a continual search for knowledge.

The day is now more quickly approaching where Mr. Sharp's statement that "Canadians (people) do not have an equal opportunity" will become true. Continuing education for all to the major tool required to close the gap of unequal opportunity in this country of ours.

ZONE REPRESENTATIVES in the Northern Alberta Curling playoffs last weekend in Edmonton, the Rod Stanek rink were honored by their fellow classmates last week at a high school assembly. The boys didn't win the playoffs. . . that honor went to a rink from Vegreville, but they gained experience and had a lot of fun in the process. Left to right is the boys coach and teacher, Mr. Bill Lohner, Skip Stanek, Scott McCrae, Rick Murphy and Reg Lee.

Several local folk have decided to postpone a holiday to Vancouver to witness freaky weather in the form of a snow storm.

Come to think of it it would be a sort of summer's holiday wouldn't it.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Chas Irwin, John Metcalf and Leonard Smith, all of whom have been in hospital recently.

Several local folk have been on the sick list but most of them appear to be improving. Doc is a chief of hot lemonade and aspirin with an occasional mustard plaster thrown in for good measure.

The Explorers

This story was written by George Aschenmaier, Grade 4 A. H. Dakin School, as an assignment in Creative Writing. George's teacher is Mrs. L. S. Sheard.

Katy John Tucker was living in an old town full of houses and many interesting old places Every house was older than the others It was about four hours drive if it was a human being stories high and on the back was a small old room sticking up from the top.

Katy had always wanted to go and explore, but there was always too much to do at home They had just come back from a trip to California and they had a great deal of cleaning up to do A week and a day passed before Katy could go and play with Ben.

Katy insisted that they visit the old house for no one lived in it It was so old no one could remember when anyone had lived or even been in it That was great news for Katy and Ben; they would begin their search at that moment. But when they stepped right in the middle of the street and turned back for something They went in the house and came out with a really big flashlight! I wonder if they'll use it!

They are hurrying across the street. They are just going in the door Scooch! "Where will we start, Ben?" asked Katy. They decided to start in the basement and go up.

It was dark and scary down there The only thing they found was a mysterious clunking sound which was empty They looked around but could not see anything interesting, so they decided to go upstairs and see what they could find

When they had climbed the squeaky stairs they saw noth ing but a plain kitchen and dining room. They thought they would go to the little room at the top of the house. Katy wanted more then ever to explore it now.

They hurried up the creaky stairs After a long climb they sat down to rest. Suddenly they heard a noise at the bottom of the stairs They looked, but couldn't see anything So they didn't want to stay, but Kathy said they must have just been hearing things.

Just as they were going on up, they heard the same noise but this time half way up They froze in their tracks. A few minutes later they were nursing at Bill and Bob

Bill and Bob laughed Katy and Ben blushed and laughed. After they had talked for a few minutes they decided to explore it together. Bob and Bill went first Just as they got in Bob sneezed. "Hello there" "What a dirty place! I wonder how deep it is in that shelf over there" He stuck in his hand and pulled out a bone "Look what I've found" he shouted

The girls pushed Bill out of the way and went dashing in to see what he had found "A bone" Katy exclaimed, snatching it from him. "what's so good about that"

By this time Bill had picked himself up and came over to see it When he saw it he stood and looked and thought "I think it's a bone my self" Katy dropped it.

They stood and stared at the bone lying in the dirt that it really belonged to a person once Had some body really walked on that leg What should they do with it

All of a sudden Katy perked up the bone and said "Why not take it to the museum They'll surely have there of the person stolen fifty years ago"

Then he gave Bill, Bob and Ben a reward of three hundred dollars each for their share in the recovery He asked them in line up for their pictures for the Petersburg News.

The children were delighted, but even on the way home Katy was busy thinking of other places to explore

Jasper Combines split in weekend hockey

By MEL SOLTYS

With the almost certain possibility of a Hinton-Edson Jasper senior hockey league being formed late this year once Wetaskiwin's spanking new arena is completed, local hockey fans will be interested to know that the Jasper Combines should be the team to beat once the new proposed league gets underway.

The Combines are a young, fast skating club who have played four series exhibition games to date, many against good intermediate "A" teams in the province. They have easily handled Hinton in previous outings but have yet to play the Edson Commodores who are only playing exhibition games out of Edson due to the lack of ice.

The Jasper Combines roster includes five players who formerly played for the Edson Commodores and who now reside or work at Jasper. One of them is forward Dave Bernhardsen who is presently tied for third place in the individual club scoring race.

Bernhardsen leads the Combines in goals with ten and has nine assists for nineteen points. The other former Edson player, rearguard Glenn Dirk and forward's Calvin Rowan, Bertan Rowan and Mich Marcotte.

The Combines played host to the Killarney Ashdowns, a Calgary team, in a two game set with the visitors over the weekend. They dropped a close 7-6 decision on Saturday evening but rebounded for a 9-2 win on Sunday in an afternoon encounter. Both games were rough affairs with 34 penalties being called in the first contest and 19 infractions whistled down on Sunday.

WEEKEND ACTION

In Saturday's game, Jasper took an early 2-0 lead but the hard checking Calgarians fought back to close the gap to 4-3 at the end of the first period. The score was tied 5-5 at the end of the second stanza with the visitors notching two goals to Jasper's one in the last period to post a 7-6 win.

Only the fine goal tending of Calgary's John McArthur, selected as the first star of the game, prevented the hosts from easily winning the encounter.

In the third period, he stopped 18 shots, four of them on breakaways, as the Combines screwed to find their skating legs and hold the majority of play.

Goal scorers for Calgary were Paul Nanuchuk with a pair and Pat Tallis. Harvey Hogarth, Bob Hogarth, Jim Gathercole and Ed Carnegie with singletons. Both Harvey and Bob Hogarth were former players with the Olds Elks of the Central Alberta Hockey League.

Bertan Rowan scored two goals for the losers while Dave Bernhardsen, John Tarman, Al Northey and Alden Bradley notched the other Jasper goals. Captain Glenn Dirk had three assists for the Combines who assisted Calgary 33-31 in the game.

A WIN ON SUNDAY

Sunday's game was a complete reversal of form as Jasper outskated and outhustled the visitors from the opening faceoff. They rammed in four goals per period goals and then coasted to an easy 6-2 win.

Dave Bernhardsen and Alden Bradley scored two goals apiece for the Combines while John Tarman and Al Northey posted singles. John Rusch and Gary Cosgrove replied for 23-31 but most of their drives the losers who outshot Jasper were from well out and presented little difficulty to Combine goalie Ed Hamm.

The man came home from work and boasted to his wife, "I've just been made Vice-President of our firm." Annoyed at his lack of humility she snorted, "So what? Vice-Presidents are a dime a dozen. The supermarket where I shop has as may vice-presidents it even has one in charge of prunes."

The remark bothered him so later on, when his wife was in the kitchen, he called the manager and asked for the vice-president in charge of prunes. The voice at the other end of the line inquired politely "Packaged or bulk?"

Minister of Education to hear Hinton Brief

HINTON—

On Monday, January 24th the Town of Hinton will formally requesting the Minister of Education to establish a separate administrative organization — a town School District — for the schools of Hinton.

Several questions immediately arise in the minds of Hinton citizens, concerning this proposed separation from the Edson School Division:

- ★ What are the advantages to be gained?
- ★ What will be the cost to Hinton citizens?
- ★ What will be the effect on the rest of the Division?

"Town School District", is the name of the independent school administration which, within the regulations of the School Act, will permit the resident of Hinton, through their own school board and school superintendent to more readily achieve the educational goals they desire for their children.

Under the Town School District organization the Hinton School Board would hire a superintendent of schools who would be solely responsible to it duly elected board. Chiefs of Hinton would then have all of the advantages of the educational advantages offered in this area, as well as attempting to overcome the many educational problems.

For example, co-operation with North Western Pulp and Power Ltd. in part time vocational training programs designed to combat the high school drop-out problem would be a definite possibility under an independent school system.

A local school superintendent would contribute a great deal to increased public understanding and awareness of education's aims. Resulting from this would be better public relations and a better image of our school system. A Hinton School Board would provide a proper avenue through which community opinion and desires could be effectively expressed.

The local school board and superintendent would have the necessary time to deal with planning for the present and the future adequate classroom facilities, sufficient numbers of teachers, expansion of vocational programs and investigation of new educational techniques.

It should be clearly understood that, if Hinton people want something better for their children, an increase in standard approaching that offered in city schools, then the cost of education will go up in Hinton. The present annual school requisition which Hinton taxpayers are already paying, when added to the monies provided by the provincial Foundation Program grants, would be sufficient, it is estimated, to run our present schools and also pay the added cost of the services of our own school superintendent.

Because the Edson School Division realized the Town's request for necessary road requirements, the Hinton Education Committee has been unable to prepare definite information pertaining to anticipated expenses for a local Town School District.

If we want better library facilities, more courses offered in our schools, a full time guidance counsellor, a smaller student teacher ratio and other improvements we must be prepared to bear the added cost. Having a local autonomous school system will allow us to decide these things for ourselves.

Education costs throughout Alberta are definitely going to increase, according to the best information authorities in the province. Therefore, it will be very difficult, should an independent town district be established in Hinton to say to what degree costs increased due to this change in school administration.

Should Hinton receive permission from the Minister of Education to form a Town District, it is felt that the remainder of the Edson School Division would benefit in many ways. Hinton is almost at the extreme end of this very long Division

If the Division were made smaller by the deletion of Hinton, the increased administrative efficiency resulting in the decreased geographical size could help to solve some of the problems in the rest of the Division

The Provincial Foundation Program provides the assurance that the needs of the remainder of the Edson School Division could be met without financial distress

This entire matter is an extremely important one to every person in Hinton, whether he has children in school or not. Everyone owes it to himself to be fully informed on all the aspects of the question The Education Committee, appointed by the Hinton Town Council, has completed its report after many hours of work

Much valuable information has been collected The fact has been separated from the fantasy. There is no need to accept rumors, hearsay evidence, or to be otherwise misinformed The pages of The Herald offers the means by which inquiries pertinent to the request for separation from the Edson School Division may be answered and these inquiries are welcomed

A man told me the other day that in all his life he could remember of meeting only one Christian a man back in Saskatchewan.

He seemed honest in his evaluation He didn't appear to be the kind of person who delighted in bad company Are there no Christians around or are they hiding

God's call is for a separation from evil and a standing for the truth Are we not condemned for our lack of spiritual verve today?

Who likes bake-warm tea? What good cook will care to serve stale mashed potatoes? God says of Christian experience gone cold that it is a nauseating situation to Him (Revelations 3 16)

One basic denial of man is to be noticed by his fellows How about turning this desire to work for the glory of God? 'Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good work, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matthew 5 16

Looking back over the first year of ARDA

In the beginning of 1966, perhaps we should take a few minutes to look back to 1965 and review the progress made in Rural Development in C.D. 14. It's a little over a year ago that Census Division 14 was designated as the first Rural Development Area in Alberta under A.R.D.A.

Research began in August of 1964 under Vic Jonsson, Supervisor of A.R.D.A. Research with the Department of Agriculture's Farm Economics Branch. The purpose of the research was to es tablish an inventory of the natural and physical resources which now exist in the area and back ground information about the people in the area. This research has now been completed and the re port will be available in about one month.

Frank Belyea, Regional Resource Co-ordinator opened the Rural Development office in Edson in the spring Along with many years of experience, he brought to his work a philosophy that the people in the area are best able to identify their problems and consider possible alternatives. However, they must have facts from which to work and, in many cases, they will require technical assistance in analyzing the facts.

The role of the Rural De elopment staff is to see that the people receive all the ne cessary information and they receive help in planning and obtaining technical assistance, if they so desire

From the outset it was clear that a program involved with developing the total resources of the area would deal with a variety of problems requiring technical assistance from many departments of Government.

The first step was the formation of a Technical Panel with representatives from all departments of Fed eral, Provincial and Municipal Governments within the area. These people will be avail able to give technical assistance to individuals or groups re questing help.

The next step was to divide the area into Development Zones using "Trade-Area" as the criteria to divide the area into committee or zones. The zones are: Zone 1 West, Hinton; Zone 2 Central, Ed mon; Zone 3 East, Evansburg and Wildwood; Zone 4 Mayer thorne; Zone 5 North, Wilson court.

A Regional Development Advisory Council was estab lished by drawing about ten community decision makers, recognized by the people in an educational program, Seminar No.

Meetings were held every two weeks to discuss such to ics as what is economic growth what are the imbalances in our rural areas and the reasons these imbalances now exist, what is social action and why projects that succeed do so be cause they are planned and carried out step-by step. What changes have taken place in C.D 14 and why; some chan ges that have been projected in population shifts and em ployment patterns.

The course increased un derstanding of the process of social and economic deve lopment and the role of the people in C.D. 14 in it. It also emphasized the inter-dependency of people within the area and the need for everyone to work for the greater good of the entire area rather than concen trating only his own community.

At the final Seminar Six working representative from each zone was appointed to the Regional Development Ad visory Committee Members from each zone will form the nucleus of the Development Committees in each zone.

A conference was held in October for the clerks in C.D 14 The purpose of the con ference was to develop an un derstanding of the social and economic situation in C.D 14 and the meaning of change to the Church

As a result of the Seminar Six program, a number of re quests from the area have been received The Haddock urea requested a meeting on Rural Development. At this meeting the group listed a number of problems in agri culture and agreed on the three most pressing problems The people appointed a Com mittee to plan for a series of meetings.

The Rural Development Of fice assisted with the planning and when the committee de cided the first meeting should consider the new land classifi cation, the Department of Lands and Forests was asked to provide resource personnel.

People in the area were informed of the changes in land classification by the resource people involved in reclassification. Further meetings will be planned by the committee.

Agriculture is an industry under constant pressure to change in technology The Regional Development Advisory Coun cil requested that a program to assist farm families be im plemented.

As a result a linear and Farming Business study group has been organized in Evans burg with well known local farm units participating Or ganization was undertaken by the Farm Credit Corporation. the Field Supervisor and the District Agriculturist and the direction is provided by the Department of Agriculture

This group, meeting every two weeks through the win ter, is most enthusiastic and requests are numerous for similar groups in other areas to start in the fall of 1966.

People are the most import ant asset in any community and emphasis will be placed on the youth in C.D. 14 Ex tension projects are being en couraged and three new 4-H clubs will be formed in Ed son and two in Peers

The staff has enlisted a ma jor role in sponsoring these clubs and are to be commend ed for their interest in young people in the community Local leadership too, deserves the highest praise as these groups depend on local lead ers for guidance

Requests for information and assistance have been received from several Chambers of Commer ce These groups are parti cularly interested and active in the field of tourism and recreation potential in the area

Town Councils and School Boards too, have requested meetings to have Ed Smiga and projections resulti ng from the resource invento ry. This is an area of great concern and this, inform ation is extremely important to these groups for their future planning.

There have been many in terviews with individuals and groups seeking information and assistance Perhaps the most difficult for the people in this group is that Rural Develop ment in C.D. 14 is a process It can move only as quickly as the people in the area are prepared to move

The success or failure de pends on careful planning studying the situation, analy

Find gas bills double in Vancouver

For Albertans, shivering in the pre- at deep freeze and wistfully thinking of warmer climates, there is some consol ation We may burn more gas to keep warm here, but it costs less than half of what it does in Vancouver

The Vancouver Province for December 29, carries an ita lized editorial story of the back which George Winfield late of Penoka, received when he went to pay his gas bill to the government operated B.C Hydro It was more than double what he had paid in Penoka for approximately the same amount of gas

The story carried reproduc tions of the Winfields' gas bill in Penoka and the one for their residence in North Van cey, B.C Here they were charged $6.02 for 107 thermal units in B.C. they were char

Comments the Vancouver Province

"The rate charged by the government owned and sup posedly non profit B.C Hydro is more than double that of Northwestern Utilities Lim ited of Alberta

"It is true that Hydro gas can travel further to reach its main block of consumers than does Northwestern's gas but Hydro on the other hand enjoys major tax concessions and pays no dividends to shareholders

"In Seattle a private com pany (Washington Natural G s) sells gas from Canada at a rate 4.5 per cent lower than B.C Hydro's rate in Greater Vancouver and the gas tra vels 180 miles further than Vancouver's through the same pipelines" ies accomplishments in the short period of time that he has been with the division.

Mr. Childs's report dealt with the present vacancies at the present time and the steps that had been taken to relieve this situation.

The hiring of teachers for the coming fall season was explained in regard to the advertising in various media and the public relations being carried on for our community to entice the qualified type of teacher to our division.

An incentive plan was also suggested to the group for the purpose of encouraging the present staff to remain. This was considered a very favorable idea and Mr. Childs explained how it is being carried out in some areas and also some ideas were suggested.

Chairman Mr. Mossens called for any comments from the trustees and drew to the attension of the press the importance of the responsibility of the trustees. He referred to Mr. Leonard as the "conscience" of the board as Art always has the taxpayers interest at heart each time some money has to be spent.

Graduation exercises have been running considerable concern over the past few years and after some vital points were brought to the attention of the board by Mr. Burchak, it was decided to deal with the situation to the fullest extent at the February meeting.

His report included new training courses for possible dropouts which he would like to have discussed at one of the principal meetings.

The present telephone system was also discussed and a new arrangement will try to be worked out along with the inclusion of a new employee for the office staff.

The parking space for vehicles at the division was left in the hands of Mr Leonard who felt he could come to some understanding with the United Church

Haddock Happenings

By MRS. P. C. JOHNSTON

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson on the birth of a son in Mayerthorpe hospital on January 17th.

Mr and Mrs. C. E. R. White had the pleasure of a weekend visit by their daughter Hazel White of Edson, son Harry White of Sprucy Grove and future daughter in law Miss Sandra Pelkie of Edson.

Harold Haddock is the proud new owner of a 1965 Ford truck delivered to him on Jan. 13th.

Mrs. Lou Radcliffe of Peers lost her house and all household furnishings by fire on Sunday the 16th. Mrs. Radcliffe was in Saskatchewan and her son Dale and family were living in the house.

Mrs. Milner and Bill were business visitors to Edson last Tuesday with the Schnellbacks.

The community was saddened to hear of the death of one of our grand old pioneers on Jan 17th Mr H Tomlinson was a long time resident of the McLeod Valley district well liked and respected.

Mrs. Glen Johnston had bad luck last week. She had her wallet taken from her purse which she had left in the doctors waiting room. S he lost drivers licence etc. as well as a considerable sum of money.

The dance Saturday night at Pelkans Hall must surely have swelled the coffers of the governors. First by the pot roos buying the staff at ornament vendors then by the fines paid for being in possession of it.

A lovely shower was held in the home of Mrs. H. Haddock on the evening of Jan. 18th for Sandra Pelkie of Edson and her fiance Harry White of this district.

Around 30 guests were present and Sandra received many lovely gifts. She was assisted by Harry and Hazel White in opening them. Harry was given the task of wishing the fiance good fortune and some banter Wishes were made to everyone's amusement.

Mrs. H. Haddock assisted by Mrs. W. Gordon, Mrs. O. Priebe and Miss Ian Lambie served coffee and a delicious lunch.

We are back in the Arctic Zone again this week 45 to 60 degrees below zero these nights

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Thursday, February 3, 1966 Vol. 12, No. 5

Water diversion to affect west central Alberta rivers

Our area woud likely be affected by the proposed development program to level Alberta river flows. The plan, which would be implemented over a 20 year period was announced by Alberta's agricultural min ister Hon. Harry Strom last week.

Of most interest to our area would be the proposal to dam the McLeod south of Whitecourt at sandstone canyon and the proposal to divert part of the McLeod's flow where the Embarras joins it to the Pembina River near Entwistle.

The Athabasca River is being studied as well bearing in mind the possibility of a pulp mill being constructed at Whitecourt Most affected in the water project would be south central Alberta areas, but residents in our area will be watching with interest any move thvt might affect us.

Work has been underway for some time on good control measures for the Pembina River. Attention is now being directed at the possibility of storage sites on the Pembina and Paddle River.

A proposed dam on the Pembina River at Entwistle would become part of a plan to divert waters from the McLeod River to the North Saskatchewan system. In addition to aiding in flood control on the Pembina, these waters would be used to increase flows in Lake Isle, Lac St Anne and through the Sturgeon River.

The possibility of diverting water out of this system at Lake Isle into Lake Wabamun, is also being considered and would help make the Wabamun Lake area a potentially desirable industrial development region.

The Athabasca River and its tributaries are being studied to evaluate the potential storage sites which would effectively provide stream flow regulation benefits. Pollution control following construction of the proposed pulp mill at Whitecourt is a main concern

In addition to these relatively short-range plans, the government is looking at long range possibilities which may be called on when demand on the rivers already mentioned becomes too great

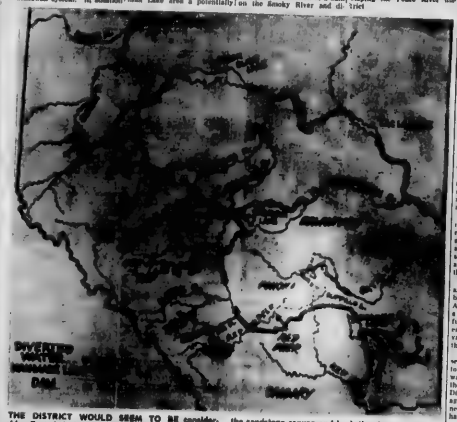
These include diversion of waters from the North Saskatchewan into more southern parts of the province, and diversion of waters from the Athabasca and Peace Rivers into the North Saskatchewan to augment its supplies.

One part of this overall plan suggests construction of a dam on the Smoky River and diversion of this water northeast through the Sturgeon Lake and Valleyview areas in to the Little Smoky River

This water would then be further diverted north and east into Iroquois Lake, down the South Heart River into Lesser Slave Lake, down the Lesser Slave River into the Athabasca River, diverted in to Lac La Biche, then through Beaver Lake and along the Beaver River with a diversion into Moose Lake, upstream to Chickenhill Lake into Kehiwin Lake and down the Atimoswo Creek into the North Saskatchewan River near Elk Point

The engineers are also looking ahead to the day when this will be insufficient. At that time a further possibility of diverting water out of the Peace River at Peace River moving it up the Smoky River to join the diversion of water from the Little Smoky into Lesser Slave Lake would be considered

These latter projects are not included in the 20 year program. They are simply possibilities the government is keeping in mind when developing the Peace River district



THE DISTRICT WOULD SEEM TO BE considerably affected if plans put forward in a recent release through the daily press were to come about. Apparently the McLeod River would be diverted near where the Embarras joins it to go straight across to the Pembina near Entwistle. Just south of Whitecourt the proposal would put a dam across the McLeod at the sandstone canyon and back the river up to make a long lake. How many farms along the McLeod would be affected is not clear from the news release, but one estimate by ARDA officials at Whitecourt last fall mentioned only three families would have to be moved.

Barber shop owner marks 30 years at same stand

Rudy Kendall of Kendall's Beauty Salon and Barber Shop celebrated on Sat. Jan. 29th the 30th anniversary of Mr. Kendall's coming to Edson and starting his present business.

Rudy left Edmonton on the 28th day of January 1936 with "Johnnie Maiston" the coffee and donut man 9 a.m it took them all day, as Johnny stopped in quite a few places, selling coffee, doughnuts and bread

It was a very cold day of 30 below zero and about two feet of snow on the highway They met only one car and two trucks on the way to Edson. They arrived in Edson at 9 o'clock at night They took a room at the Leggie Rooms operated at that time by Mr and Mrs. John Herbst

When they arose in the morning they had to go down stairs to wash, as the water in the jug and bason was frozen solid in their room.

That same day, through the medium of Mr George Nakonechy, Rudy bought his present shop from Mrs. Eshisky Soon Mrs. Hashimshorty afterwards he opened a beauty salon in the back of the barber shop.

Rudy has quite a colorful and very active past He was born and raised on Vienna Austria where his father was a railroad inspector After finishing grade eleven and eight years of music conservatory he was drafted into the Austrian army

Following training, he was sent with the machine guns to the Italian front where he was wounded in the "Battle of the Pave River at San Dona Di Pava." He was wounded again when a piece of shrapnel hit his steel helmet so hard that it pushed the helmet over his ears and a piece of iron went down in his scalp almost killing him

At the end of the war Rudy and his brother went to Austria and joined the Ukranian Independence army under General Kerensky and Petlura, an officers of a Cossack squadron

While fighting hand to hand Rudy was hit on the forehead and left for dead on the ground Hours later some Ukranian Kozaks came and took him to a hospital After fighting for six months the Reds pushed them over to Poland, where Rudy and his brother joined the Polish army

At that time a 75 piece Polish military band

Rudy found the Polish and Ukranian people very brave and kind hearted people

In 1920 Rudy left Poland and came to Canada His brother stayed in Warsaw and lost his life in 1942 in the second world war fighting against Germany

Rudy worked the first year in Canada on his Aunt's farm at Morden, Manitoba Later he worked in a brewery running empty bottles He was next employed as manager of the Foreign Dept Dominion Trade Schools Universe, this school closed up on account of the depression

He then took a barber course prior to coming to Edson Rudy has taken quite an active part in community affairs He formed an orchestra and played at all events dances He played at John

Incidental wedding at Muskeg River Alberta

Grande Cache P Q

There is an old time trapper, a bachelor (not by arts) living here at Muskeg River in a cabin, which the lady natives call him La Been allas Johnnick-n-dog, was scared like wite clear out of his head; when suddenly a volly of shooting was going on close at midnight on saturday night Jan. 15th, 1966.

Having just come from the wilderness trap line and was a little on the off side of his rocker, and thought some sort of rifle shooting war was going on.

The shooting carried on for some time and finally he dropped down to the floor of his cabin thinking that he would evade being hit by the bullets that may come through the cabin wall. He layed on the floor for several hours after cease fire. Finally, he got up from the floor and went to bed, but he did not sleep much through the night.

However, in the morning the old trapper got out of bed, still scared from the previous night volley shots and after having breakfast he took his jacket and turned it inside out, which is scarlet red, put it on and the red cap on too, then went out side by looking over areas to make sure there was no more shooting going on.

He went to the nearest neighbour by asking what was the shooting going on last night. He was told that the shooting was for the celebration wedding party was on of Mr. Malcolm Moberely and miss Victoria McDonald; got married at 11 o'clock p.m. saturday night Jan. 15th, 1966 by Father Landry at Muskeg River R.C. Church.

No one new the wedding was coming off as it just happened sudden like.

The celebration wedding party turned out to be one of the best at Muskeg River settlement of the natives.

Almost all the natives came to the wedding celebration and dancing going on infull. Our school teacher of the Muskeg River school attended the wedding party too. She played the piano.

The bride dressed up in the best attire date of white lady cloth. The groom put on the best tuxedo dress up.

No pictures have been taken of this wedding as the wedding came too sudden

I couldn't help notice the full page ad that your paper carried for the Entertainment Night to be sponsored by the Optimist Club.

The point that impressed me was the co-operation shown by the many business firms in Edson.

Having recently moved to Edson it is pleasing that so local businessmen pull together on community projects. I am sure this will be a successful evening.

Best of luck.

CURLERS COLUMN

High School Boys Northern Alberta Playdowns

The Edson High School boys curling rink won one game and lost two contests in their unsuccessful bid to represent Northern Alberta. Although Rod Strash, Scott McVay, Rick Murphy and Reg Lee were unsuccessful, it is still quite an accomplishment to be one representatives.

Men's Club Cornish Playdowns

Norm Miller with support from Lou Masse, Garry Mitchell and Ken Young won the right to represent the Edson Curling Club at the zone 28 playdowns in Stony Plain next weekend. The rink won both of its games against the Ted Yeomans rink of Rusk Dixon, Harvey Leach, and Lloyd Bascort.

The first game was in doubt until the final rock when Norm Miller, whose rink trail by two points, executed a perfect take and double take out to tie three counters and win by one point.

The second game was never in doubt as the Miller rink had an early lead and never relinquished it.

Lions Club Mixed Bonspiel

Rusk Dixon's quartette of Helen McEvoy, Alex Goring, Mary Grier crashed a late four-ender and went on to defeat the Ken Hallen rink of Anita Parenteau, Wilf Behl and Audrey Holloway in the finals of the Championship Flight event.

Don L'Hirondelle skipped his rink of Eva Dixon, Clarence Johnson and Helen Bakstad to victory in the B event over a boisterous Paul Gauthier foursome of Simone Gauthier, Bill Ashmead and Barb Mergaert

Although the latter rink had, Paul wicked his last rock in from practically outer space on to the button to lay shot on the final end. We will let Paul explain in all and say whether it was good shooting or just dumb luck.

Rear away Paul!

B e d e a n S c h e d l Division

Teacher's Bonspiel

Gordie Griffiths of Hinton skipped his rink, made up of Edmonton Mary Osborne, Ray Horne, and Ann Rollinger to victory in the annual Edson Schedl Division teachers' bonspiel. The Griffith rink eliminated the Bob Mergaert rink skipped of the John Pryor foursome to enter the finals of the A event.

The score in the final game of the A event was tied after the eight ends of regulation play and an extra end was required to decide the issue. The curlers on the second place finishers were Bill Lobsor, Lil Beale, Sharon Cutler, and Ann Scott.

Garry Mahon's rink defeated the Bob Mergaert rink in the finals of the B event Mahon had Betty Chapman, Mary Soedtker, and Carol Koeffer Mahon while Nowicki was supported by Dick Pontifex, Fred Parenteau, and Beatrice Bell. The Betty Gotta Women and Percy Wells foursome lost out in the semi-finals of the B event.

Bert Vik of Hinton skipped his rink of Edmonton John Kirkbyrich, Adele Vesenaas, and Molly Stabel to victory over the Wojciechowski crew to win the C consolation event. The Ted Yeomans rink of Jessie Stevenson, Blanche Jessen, and Sylvia Pynyln edged the Gordon Welch foursome to win the D event.

Ted Yeomans, president of the Edson A.T.A. sub-local which was host for this year's bonspiel, would like to extend special thanks to the draw committee composed of Garry Mahon and Gordon Welch, to the lunch committee members Nan Horne and Shirley Mahon to Mike Pywich who handled the bar duties with help from Bob Margot, to Elsie Pyzar and her musical accordion, and to Stedman's Store for donating half the prizes.

Knights of Columbus and Masonic Spiel

Eight Knights of Columbus and eight Masonic Lodge rinks vied for top honors at the spiel held at the local curling rink this past Sunday.

The Masonic Lodge rink, skipped by Ed Lyons won out by virtue of a well-executed draw shot through a small port. Dick Pontifex, who skipped the Knights of Columbus foursome, tried to duplicate the feat but he felt just inches short of having shot rock in the counter on the last end broke the deadlock even and resulted in a victory for the Masons.

Curling for the Lyons rink were Bill Campbell, Dennis Willis and Frank Lasch and for the Pontifex rink, Eddie May, Bill Taylor and Frank Campbell.

The Knights of Columbus rink, skipped by Gordon McIntyre and the rest over the Masonic Lodge quartette skipped by Morley Johnson. Other members of the victorious rink were Bob Maguet, Paul Sednaw and Mel Matheson while Johnson and Hank Ryhanen, Art Lambeth, and Matt Manchur.

News of the weekend curling bonspiels or other curling games should be submitted to Ted Yeomans or the Leader newspaper office by Monday noon of each week.

ICE CHIPS

The Norm Miller rink of Lou Masse, Garry Mitchell and Ken Young represented Edson in the zone playoffs at Stony Plain this past weekend. The rink did not win the final playoffs but did win one or two games. The club representatives defeated the Ted Yeomans rink of Rusk Dixon, Harvey Leach and Lloyd Bascort in a playoff last week.

Men's Curling League

The second rotish schedule of the men's curling league is drawing to a close and the final play-off positions are still in doubt. The Miller rink, which represented Edson in the zone round playdowns, still holds a comfortable lead and should have a playoff spot clinched.

MARGARET COOK — mechanic first grade.

Adventuresome local girl taking automotive course

It is quite possible that at some future day Edson will be able to boast of having one of the few feminine automotive mechanics in the service station business. That is if something like Cupid doesn't come along and change the plans of adventuresome Margaret Cook.

Margaret is the 17 year old daughter of Mrs. Nora Cook of Edson Taking her high school in Edmonton Margaret decided to follow up an interest in automotives and take the four year course at St. Joseph's High School she is now well into her first year and finds the course very interesting.

It's not that Margaret could ever be called an feminine She is an attractive, well built girl with, sparkling brown eyes and long dark hair. She is slightly reminiscent of Charlie Chaplin when she climbs into a pair of the school shop overalls with the sleeves rolled up and the crotch hanging down to her knees But she's having fun.

The only girl taking the course, Margaret says lots of girls would like to take automotives, but are afraid to be "different" Not so with this lovely lass. At the moment this adventuresome young lady is planning to have a Dixie at driving racing cars before settling down to life as a mechanic.

Comments from Margaret's teachers and fellow students as recorded in the school paper this week seem to indicate that they take this girl in their class in stride.

One boy said, "I almost flipped when I walked in and saw a girl setting in one of the shop desks." Another said "It's surprising how fast she learns, though occasionally she has to have help Another proud of his mechanical ability can be seen in the great job she did on one car, converting self adjusting brakes to manual adjusting." Another "In my mind having a girl in the class inspires the boys to work harder in order to prevent themselves being disgraced and outwitted by her"

Her friends will be watching the future activities of this enterprising young lady with interest.

Local family have Christmas family reunion

A family reunion this year made the Christmas celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weisser even merrier than usual.

The whole family, sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughter-in-law and grandchildren were together for the first time in 16 years. Since that time there have been quite a number of increases in the family as can be seen from the young fry in this family photo.

Mr. and Mrs. Weisser's family grew up in the Rosevear district where they got their schooling. Since that time the family has scattered some through Alberta and B.C.

A Christmas dinner was enjoyed in the Elks Hall and following this many old friends called in to share the happy occasion.

Jubilee Junior High library books returned

One of Edson's more conscientious citizens brought a whole armload of books back to the Jubilee library last week. The books had been borrowed from the library by the previous tenants in an apartment, and been left behind when they departed from Edson. It is likely this has happened in many instances about town, and all who return caches of overdue books taken out by former students or teachers at Jubilee are assured of a most appreciative welcome.

The Jubilee boys' basketball team defeated Peers by a score of 21 to 7 last Friday evening. Although much individual talent was shown, both teams demonstrated the need for more teamwork and more practice.

Education Week March 7 to 11, is soon upon us and Jubilee staff and students are making plans to celebrate the week with appropriate exercises and initiative.

The operetta, "Ringmaster's Skin," will be produced on March 24, 25, and 26 if no serious delays are encountered.

Jubilee teachers encourage students to show traits and assignments to their parents. Please don't hesitate to ask your child to show you what he has done and is doing in school. Parental interest, encouragement, and sometimes even discipline is essential to assure that each student gets the most from his educational experiences.

Travelling Art Exhibit displayed in local schools

A travelling exhibition of children's art, ages 10 through 16 years was on display at the A. H. Dahin School Library from January 3 to January 16. This exhibition of 53 choice works was loaned from The Edmonton Art Gallery. The works were by children who studied under a variety of teachers during the past season.

A variety of works were presented in the media used included crayons, tempers, water colors, cloth, and wax. Students at the Dahin enjoyed viewing and discussing these works.

They were particularly impressed with three collages which proved a delightful surprise in the collection. A unique work entitled "At the Fair" was fascinating. "Life on Mars", by a 10 year old girl, brought forth many remarks.

A great deal more can be said about these works. The variety included in the exhibition made it an interest ing collection for viewing.

The collection was later on display at the Jubilee Junior High School.

The Henry Hood

BY PASTOR SIGMALTER

Recently a specialist warned that if people didn't quit fussing with their hair and stop doping it with all sorts of preparations the human race stood a good chance of being bald in the very near future!

However, it is yet common to see individuals with their hair in old age and the natural color sometimes snow-white. This is delightful to behold.

There is only one thing that can spoil the glory of a heary head. If it is owned by a person whose life has not become correspondingly clean and pure through making in righteousness before God it becomes a shame.

When such is the case, it represents a long life of opportunities for moonlight living neglected. God has shown His faithfulness in sparing and providing, but the individual's response is nothing. Such a heary head becomes a symbol of condemnation.

Solomon wrote in the proverbs, "The heary head is a crown of glory if it be found in the way of righteousness."

Meeting at Niton discusses vocational school at Edson

Editor's Note: The following report sent in by a regular contributor in The Leader, Mrs. Jessie Bloom, gives a brief report on the questions residents of the Niton area are asking about the proposed vocational school at Edson. We, hope in future issues to explore other points of view on this important question of such vital concern to our whole area. Mrs. Bloom's report:

This report was handed to me the other day, by a member of a committee who was present at a meeting at Niton Junction just recently. These sentences are numbered as I will type them in that order.

1. We do want the towns of Hinton and Edson to have the necessary classrooms and schools.

2. There are a lot of extra frills asked for that are quite unnecessary.

3. They have stated in the Vocational Brief sent to Ottawa by the School Board that two of the high schools on the main highway can easily have pupils bussed to Edson and the town of Edson could provide boarding facilities for others.

4. The Federal and Provincial grants cannot pay for everything. The School Division will have to pay back one million plus six per cent interest over a period of twenty years.

5. The upkeep operations costs, bus services, specialized teachers, are going to cost the taxpayer more money every year.

6. You are asked to think of the children in isolated districts, who still have to board-in Edson. Who is going to pay for their board ???

7. All property owners are urged to go out and vote on the money by-law and watch your paper for the voting date.

"Of course, one of the drawbacks of this job is that you work weekends."

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE — Pontiac Parisienne Sport Coupe

...then you don't have far to go!
It's as near as your Pontiac dealer's!

Pontiac's beauty wins a lot of friends. You can tell that just by looking at it. But should you switch to find out what Pontiac's new brand of performance can do for you, you really have to drive the car. Before you do, let us tell you one thing: Once you've pulled away from the curb in a new Pontiac, be prepared to smile. You're pointed toward excitement. Acceleration is quick . . . very quick. Freeway cruising is smooth and quiet. And on the roughest, twistiest roads you can find, you'll be surprised that a car with so luxurious a big-car ride can be so agile. Before we forget the practical side of Pontiac, let's remember that each one of its 54 handsome models is a full-sized family car priced just right for the performance-lover with a budget to keep. Sound like we consider Pontiac the perfect car for you? We do. Visit your Pontiac dealer today and discover why. His name is listed below. The Success Car has done it again.

Edson Band forms two sections

With the hopes of giving youngsters a better opportunity of learning to play an instrument, the Edson Band are forming a Junior and Senior Band.

This was decided at a meeting held in the Evergreen School last Tuesday evening when a large group of teens people gathered with the future of the band at heart.

The first formation practice will be held at the Evergreen School on Wednesday, Feb 2, commencing at 7:30 p.m. This early evening session is designed to assist the younger musicians and those wishing to begin.

The senior members will meet at 8 p.m. the same evening.

There are a number of the largest instruments available for use at no cost but it has been suggested for the parents or parent to accompany their child to the first rehearsal and later on continue to see their attendance is continuous.

Around Town

BY BILL GWEN

"No bug can't bother me," maybe the thoughts running through the minds of many people but when the time comes there's no ducking for cover. So while encouraging my daughter hunted for pussy willows and was promptly attacked by the infuriated Fish who is back in early Sunday afternoon.

For many years now George Edward Fields has found time, small work in and around and on the streets and on the roads of a few kind words.

A few years ago there was a tragic accident in Edson where the father was killed and a number of children were bereaved. At the time I had the experience of accompanying Mr. Collin to their home at this despairing time.

His years of laughter [illegible] with people have well qualified George Edward to [illegible] everyone in a better mood.

Edson's new town police superintendent, Frank Klein has had 28.5 inches of snow to contend with since the first of January. This may not be a record but it is still a lot of snow.

Skiing has become big business around the world but listening to some hometown happenings in the years gone by about skiing from Judy Pattinson and Tommy Fowler is many interesting.

Mr H Stevenson, Tommy Fowler's grandfather, a former tailor of Edson located in the Collin Grocery Building, was a great outdoor sportsman and guided many a young ski fan along the proper trails.

After walking the shoreline of the McLeod River from the Big Eddy to the Cutarell Bridge his choice of location for his homestead was the beautiful Willmore Park.

MR. AND MRS. JIM WOOD — Their familiar faces bring back memories of when they were residents of Edson.

Former Edson residents wed 50 years and more

Mr and Mrs. A. J (Jim) Wood, former residents of Edson from 1930 until 1942, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary [illegible] at their home in Ladysmith, B.C.

The news reached The Leader office recently, sent by friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wood, who felt it would be of wide interest to their many old friends.

On their anniversary they were surprised by a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Ruth Shaw and family of Edmonton. Their other daughter, Mrs. Laurie Hunter and her husband live in Ladysmith and also had a part in the happy occasion.

Mrs. Wood came to Canada from Ireland and Mr. Wood from England their marriage vows were exchanged in Calgary in November 1915. Following service with the Canadian Army in the first world war, Mr. Wood, or Jim as he was known to his many friends in Edson, loved in many parts of Canada following his trade as a butcher.

The Woods and their two daughters came to Edson in May 1930 from Chilliwack, B.C. Here Jim operated Sterling Meat Market in what is now the north east corner of the Workingmen's Clothing Store. They moved back to B.C. in June 1942, leaving behind them a host of friends, made in their business, their church, the Legion and their many other activities.

He organized the Edson cadets drum and bugle band in 1946, which won first the Spaced and first husband when they arrived in Edson. He was with the stakes for four years and was registered with the [illegible] as a Civilian Guard in charge.

He [illegible] the Elks Home and taught band in 1952 until July 1961 He is an active member of the Elk's Lodge and took part in many important projects undertaken by the Elks.

Rudy can speak, read and write Polish, German, Ukrainian and English. Rudy is now 60 years in Canada He has been a British Subject and Canadian citizen for 30 years. He never went back to Europe as he doesn't care for it anymore. He thinks Canada is a wonderful country.

The people are very nice and friendly. He used to boast big game with his friend Johnny Wyshewski. He loves the mountains, bush and streams.

Rudy wants to say a big Thank You to all his friends and customers for their faithful support during these years.

Dairy Energy and Vitamins for Cattle

Feedstuff cattle has not been so difficult this winter as last because of increased forage supplies and less wind. Mr. J. C. Gordon, Livestock Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture, points out that temperatures of 30 to 20 degrees below will increase energy requirements for maintenance by 15 to 20 per cent. Thus, if a 1000 pound cow requires 18 to 20 pounds of hay for maintenance under moderate temperatures, she will need 22 to 24 pounds during these colder periods. A supplement of grain could give more energy with the roughage forage during these stress periods. Plenty of dry bedding and shelter from winds will minimize the heat loss and reduce the intake.

January is a good time to start giving vitamins to all your cattle, but more particularly to the cow herd. Pregnant cows require about 20 to 40,000 IU's of Vitamin A per day. Much of this hay and forage in this area the past season because of adverse wet conditions, shows a low level of carotene...(A").

Carotene (Vitamin "A").

Hence, it may prove good practice for cattlemen to supply hay Vitamin "A" and "D". This may be accomplished by using a dry synthetic mix with grain, or added to the water supply, or by injection. Careful management of your row herd from now until calving time will do much to ensure a good healthy calf crop in the spring. Sufficient vitamins and minerals should be continually supplied until your cattle are back on green feed.

Responsibilities heavy for Ind'an Advisory Board

With the considerable interest being directed toward the Indian and Metis population of Canada at the present time it is felt that the following will be of interest to the many readers of this newspaper. They are the opening remarks of Mr E A. Cote, to the National Indian Advisory board in Ottawa

The address follows

I am happy to be among the first to greet you as members of the National Indian Advisory board Your duties are very great Your responsibilities heavy. In my capacity as Deputy to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, Mr. Laing, I am conscious of the responsibilities to the Indian people that are now both his and mine I assure you of my interest and my desire to work with you and the Indian people for their social and economic betterment

As you know, the Government of Canada has decided that its duties towards Indians should continue to be discharged by the Indian Affairs Branch but that this Branch should be made the responsibility of a Minister who has the duty of developing Northern people and the resources of the Northern part of Canada.

This will mean that Parliament will be asked to create a new Department under such a Minister. Parliament has decided to do so, the Indian Affairs Branch will be under the authority of the Minister.

One of the main jobs of the present Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources will be to make an examine, in the Mackenzie District as a result of an arrangement reached with the Indian Affairs Branch This Department has undertaken for several years the responsibility of extending schooling to Indian children

In short the Indian Affairs Branch and Northern Affairs are not joining together as strangers but as old friends who have worked together closely in the past This association has given to both Indian and Northern Affairs an understanding of the problems in both areas and of the progress which have been carried out

It will be possible in continue and develop these programs under the new Department as vigorously as the Indians and the Northern people want Even and with our interruption or delays

During the past ten days Mr Battle has been telling the Minister and me of the work aims and objectives of the Indian Affairs Branch I am impressed with recent developments, and the plans for the future I believe that these objectives can be reached more readily by joining our forces and the knowledge and experience of the many able administrators in the Indian Affairs Branch and the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

Ratepayers see plans for district high school

"I wish I had 15 more years in the teaching profession", said Edson High School Principal M. D Meade when asked at the annual ratepayers meeting of Edson sub-division if he thought there would be a challenge to greater learning in the plans presented for the Edson high and business vocational school on Tuesday night.

With the aid of a visual projection machine the general plan of the high school was explained to the meeting by Superintendent of Schools Arrigo Chiste spelled out by Edson Trustee A. W. Leonard. The school is expected to accommodate district students for about five years barring unprecedented expansion in pupil population.

The immediate district will have the minimum 500 students required to obtain Federal Government grants for the vocational school by the time construction is completed. Admiration was expressed at the meeting for the original concepts incorporated by the architects in anticipating the needs of the district

Challenge to community neighborliness

Help is urgently needed for a young immigrant family who have not been in this country long enough to be helped through official channels.

The young husband speaks no English and has no trade, but is anxious to work. The mother is in a weakened condition from doing without and the two babies of two years and the youngest of two months need food and clothing.

Quiet help has been given by the local merchants, professional men and the husband is being lined up with a job.

In the meantime food and clothing, especially for the children, could be put to good use as the family is really behind the eight ball.

Phone The Leader 3 3301 and we will get any donations packed up or they can be brought in and we will see they are delivered.

'LOOKING BACK, IT DOESN'T SEEM ANY TIME AT ALL" said Edson postmaster Elmer (Duke) Longlet as his 25 year service pin was fastened to his lapel by post office field officer Jim Brown. Duke marked 25 years of postal work on February 1st, starting in the Edmonton mail branch. Next he moved to the South Edmonton branch, then to Grande Prairie, Ft. St. John, back to Edmonton and then to Edson.

Young Canadian artist Featured in Edson concert

Richard Gresko, the young Montreal pianist who will be performing in Edson on February 18, was featured in a picture-story in the January 22nd edition of the Canadian. The story told of Mr. Gresko's debut in Carnegie Hall in New York following which he received very commendable

The article was of particular interest to members of the Hinton and Edson Overture Concert Associations, many of whom had had the opportunity of hearing Mr Gresko when he appeared in Hinton in March 1964 His concert there was the first live performance by an outstanding pianist for many of the concert goers.

Mr. Gresko at 24 is one of the bright stars on Canada's musical horizon. When he was two, his parents (father, violinist; mother pianist) noticed he was able to call out the notes in the sound of diesel and train whistles; at six, he was playing Mozart sonatas; at sixteen, he had performed with orchestra the Mozart Coronation Concerto, Saint-Saens G minor Concerto and the Tchaikowsky first.

Gresko, like many in the vanguard of new artists, was trained entirely in North America. At five he began studying with Montreal's Marie Therese Plouin, thence to the Quebec Provincial Conservatory and under the direction of Lukas Edzon, emerged with first prize with 'great distinction' in 1956 Gresko then studied with the famed musician and teacher, Rosina Lhevinne, at New York's renowned Juilliard School of Music.

RICHARD GRESKO

The Edson Overture Concert Association are proudly presenting Mr. Gresko as the second concert in their 1965-66 series. The concert will take place in the High School auditorium, Saturday, February 13, starting at 8:15 p.m.

The public is once more reminded that this series of outstanding concerts is available a membership only, no persons can become a member at the door. A membership from a friend is not possible as only a ticket As usual, there will be a reception for the artist following the concert.

A reception for Mr. Gresko will be held following the concert. There is a small fee for this. Anyone wishing to attend should phone Mrs. R. H. Gardener at 723-3041 after 6 p.m. so that final arrangements can be made. The reception attendance will be limited so that those wishing to attend and meet this promising young star are urged to contact Mrs. Gardener as soon as possible

Jim Griffiths to head Edson Rodeo

Mr Jim Griffiths, previous 1962-63 Edson Rodeo Chairman has again been approached to chair the organization for the coming year.

The position became vacant when Donald C Rutherford accepted the vital position as secretary.

Mr Griffiths will be taking over the chairmanship held by Mr Jack Hook for the past two years. Mr Hook is this year's President of the Edson Chamber of Commerce.

The rodeo dates for this year fall on July 30 & 31st with many plans well under way.

The Tri-Service Rodeo Association is made up of 12 directors representing the three service clubs with an appointed chairman, secretary and treasurer

These positions are held by Chairman, Jim Griffiths, Secretary, Don Rutherford, Treasurer, Fred Swierenga. Lions Club Directors are Lloyd Bonnet, Paul Gascoyle, Murray Grey and Allen Marr

CARROT CREEK NEWS

BY JESSIE SHANTZ

A lady in our local store about to buy a Edson Leader, asked the store keeper. "Is there any Carrot Creek News in it,? because if not i don't want it." The store keeper shook his head and they both turned and stared at me. said, "Oh. I couldn't find any thing to say, Ouch! did I get it. Now I ask you is it any fault when i cannot find any news? There is plenty of the kind i dare not write

Mr. and Mrs R. Robinson and Jerry were Carrot Creek visitors recently. We hope Bob is retiring from work, we shall miss that ready personality around the store.

Mrs. S. Robinson and Mrs. H. Pigeon were visitors at the Parkland Lodge. Miss Bonnie borrowed dad's car to drive the ladies to Edson. Susan also visited her old friends at Niton Central School.

Mr. Eli Wild was home for a few days from Valemount, B.C.

Mr. ad Mrs. F. Perrin family were visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs. Albert Purrin.

See the Alberta Telephones man in the district making a survey of all those who want the telephones We are looking forward to it very much Just think you will be able to pick up the phone and tell me off, but carefully, i can always hang up.

Rev Mr. Bruce Beesley and he was saying it was so cold down on the homestead as they moved back to the cabin on the George Hall farm

Birthday greetings are extended to Albert Perrin, Fred Shearn, Mr. Dave Patten, Wm Karl and Mr. George Hall.

I will now with a little poem I like. ,

When spache with pells political dope us,

When politics absorb the lifelong day.

I like to think about the star Cassyus.

So far so far away:

When all men are calling names and making faces,

And all worids a]angle and ajar,

I meditate on interstellar spaces,

And smoke a mild seegar.

For after one has had about a week of

The argument of friends to well as foes,

A star that has no parallax to speak of,

Helps to bring repose.

Reflecting plates for centennial year

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, has announced that arrangements have been completed to reflectorize the Alberta License Plates for the Centennial Year.

The reflectorization will be carried out with the use of beads using an improved method The reflectorization will increase the cost of plates by about 5c per plate.

The reflectorization will be carried out at the Fort Saskatchewan Gaol under the direction of Mr. J. D. Leb, Director of Corrections in the Department of the Attorney-General, and Mr. F. C. Owen, Superintendent of Correctional Institutions, in the Department of the Attorney-General. The Department of the Attorney-General will commence making the 1967 plates in the next few days. The Centennial Plates will have green letters on a white background and will also carry a Maple Leaf and the dates 1867-1967.

"The reflectorized plate will be another aid to safer driving and should help eliminate a large number of night-time rear-end collisions," Gordon Taylor said

Credit Union meeting told expansion future bright

Edson Savings and Credit Union held their 22nd annual dinner meeting last Wednesday, January 26th, in the Edson Motor Hotel.

Mr Doug Broderick of Coop Mutual Society, was guest speaker He gave a very interesting address on Credit Unions. Mr. Broderick felt there was a great potential for expansion in the local branch with the many new residents in the area.

A big drawing card to potential members in the 5 per cent dividend given on shares and the 5 per cent rebate on interest paid on loans. The news of the 5 per cent interest had been given earlier in the meeting following the treasurer's report.

It was felt that the Credit Union was a very good place to invest money, as it is audited by the government and all loans are insured.

President Peter Berdish was in the chair and gave a general report on the purpose of Credit Unions. Secretary Mrs. Nadia Bwachnick, read the minutes of the previous meeting

Mrs. St Marie, Treasurer, gave a good financial report it was decided to give 5 per cent dividends on shares and 5 per cent rebate on interest paid on loans

Mr Michael Bannelle, chairman of the credit committee, gave a report on loans. These were satisfactory with no delinquents

Mrs Nora Grant, chairman of the supervisory committee reported that the books were examined every month and found in order.

Mr Chas Holloway, chairman of the nominating committee reported two new directors were nominated and elected They were Mrs. Joan Grey and Mrs. Murray Grier Mr. M Grier was elected to the supervisory committee.

Local Kinsmen contribute to national Institute fund

The generosity of the citizens of Edson in supporting the activities of the Edson Kinsmen Club was relayed into national support of mental retardation recently when Art Jorgensen forwarded a cheque for $750.00 to the Kinsmen Institute of Mental Retardation building fund.

In announcing the national project early this fall, National Kinsmen President Will Klirn of Regina said it was expected that the sod turning ceremony will take place during Canada's centennial in 1967, and the structure would be completed for the centennial of the 60th Kinsmen anniversary of Kinsmen in 1970. The institute is to be built in Toronto.

On completion, the institute will house the national head quarters of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children, which will assume responsibility for annual operational costs. The institute will be a clearing house of ideas a place where new development in the field of mental retardation will be encouraged and then made available to every point on the map of Canada.

It is estimated that by 1970 about 3,000 volunteers, professional and technical people annually will receive instruction from the institute These people will then be able to return to their home communities better equipped to fulfill their role in the community fight against retardation

This is the first nationwide project which the Kinsmen have conducted since the Milk for Britain effort during the second World War Most local Kinsmen Clubs appear to back this national project fully, since they know that Mental Retardation research is too costly for undertaking locally

Kinsmen projects to raise funds for the contribution are carried on throughout the year in Edson. Other local projects currently benefiting from Kinsmen support are the swimming pool and the new arena. The new arena will be one of the major local Kinsmen projects for the next four years, according to motions recently passed at Kin news meetings.

Ward has been received by Mr and Mrs. Karl Whidden that their grandson, Pte Vern Whidden, with the Canadian Signals Corp, has been posted to Egypt for one year. Vern is presently on leave at his parents, home in Calgary.

JOSEPH PLETKA: In loving memory of a dear father, grandfather and husband who passed away Feb. 7, 1964.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away.

Letters to the Editor

Edson High School
February 1st, 1966

The Editor
The Leader, Edson

Dear Sir:

The members of the Pepsi Cola cutting rink from the Edson High School wish to express their sincere thanks to the following organizations and individuals for their generous financial and moral support. The Lions Club, The Edson High School Students' Union and Mr. Wm. Kozyk.

The boys also wish to thank Mr. Wm. Lohner of the high school staff for the time he gave to coaching and supervising us.

The support we received gives evidence of the keen interest which the people of Edson have in young people's sports activities. We want them to know that this interest and tangible support is appreciated.

Rodney Strank
Basil McCrae
Rich Mikyska
Reg Lee

Mr. Editor,

I wonder whether Maple Irate Kopus would agree with my conviction that in a large percentage of criminal cases before him drinking has been a contributory factor in the antisocial behavior of the person involved. I am not an habitue bartender though I would certainly not here any objection if their cause triumphed

Yours at Dying, however have convinced me that the consumption of intoxicating beverages in our society is here to stay, and I cannot in all honesty see much wrong with taking of the occasional drink With the exception of the alcoholic I do not think a drink once in a while would do anyone much harm.

However, it is not the occasional drink which causes our liquor induced problems such as petty crimes, fighting, car accidents, foolish spending of money, loss of health, etc., etc.

I realize there are many causes for excessive drinking and I would not even try to name them, most probably do not even know them all. However, one cause was brought home to me the other day, or rather my eyes saw what they had been looking at for some time.

When chiding an acquaintance of mine for the rumble at a day spent in the beer parlour, he said, "Well, I went to go somewhere to see my friends."

How true!! How many men and women in Edson, many of them elderly, go to the beer parlour not in search of intoxication but looking for warmth and companionship. Many homes inhabitated by some of our elderly bachelors are most inadequately heated. One cannot really blame these people for preferring to spend their days in a warm place with people of their own kind Where can they go do this? Yet beer Parlour.

Would it not be possible in a town the size of Edson to provide alternative accomodation for these people Surely here is a cause that could be supported by every church in town. The churches seem to be unable to agree among themselves on many things, but surely they all agree on the disastrous results of excessive drinking

Really this is not a matter for only the church. It should concern every one of us Would it not be possible to provide some place downtown where a man or a woman could spend an afternoon in a warm place with congenial companions, a cup of coffee, (which would not cost any more than a bottle of beer) and some games. Doubtless there will be a lot of opposition to such a proposal, but I do wish that you Mr. and Mrs. Reader would think about this and let your voice be heard.

Students find diligence pays off in higher marks

Those who placed orders with Jubilee magazine salesmen last fall should be receiving their subscriptions regularly. Anyone whose order has not arrived should call or write Jubilee High School immediately.

Report cards came out on Feb. 4th and interviews are being arranged with parents who request them. Many students have discovered that determination, effort and better study habits have led to a new interest in their subjects and proportionately higher marks during the second grading period.

House leagues are now going at top speed during most hours and after school when ever possible. Results will be summarized at the end of league play in basketball.

The report card committee is looking for ways to improve reports to parents even more. Some of the evaluations regarding citizenship will probably be placed on the individual sheets next year as students tend to display different reactions to different subjects and teachers. Consequently we are attempting to treat each student as an individual and to report more carefully on the student in each subject situation

Edson is hosting the Evansburg Junior High basketball teams on Friday, Feb. 11th. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend and support their home teams.

"Progressive Farming Days," a display of modern equipment, sponsored by The Department of Agriculture in co-operation with about twenty commercial companies, will be held at the Olds Agricultural and Vocational College on February 15-16-18. 1966: 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M

The range of equipment displays will be quite wide, with emphasis placed on equipment associated with Beef Production. Mechanical components will be shown for handling and blending hays, silage, grain and supplements for livestock feeding.

With more recent advanced livestock prices many of these displays will have a lot of appeal to present day farmers interested in expanding their livestock enterprises. There will be limited display of swine and dairy equipment. However, most phases of the farmstead, including building structure, ventilation and mechanization will be encompassed in the presentations

Of interest to homemakers will be a section of considerable size depicting utility room arrangements, lighting effects, floor coverings and home finishing materials, both interior and exterior. Talks and discussions regarding these will be given daily in a separate lecture room.

On each of the four days there will be many illustrations, films and much information on new methods and improved mechanical ways of making farming more profitable and enjoyable around the farmstead and in the home. Each days program is the same. To even out the attendance we in the area north of Wetaskiwin are asked to attend on Friday, Feb. 18th

While many may think the distance too great, yet this undertaking is province-wide and the Olds College is reasonably central for most interested farmers. If you will arrange to go in groups the cost may be reduced. The road is good and we think you may enjoy the day's outing and gain much new and worthwhile information. For further information regarding this presentation contact the Agricultural offices in Evansburg and in Edson

Tractor Maintenance School

The week's Tractor Course will be held at the I.N.C. Shop in Entwistle, Feb. 21 to 25th, 1966 To date, the maximum number of twenty-five students has not been reached. The registration fee of $5.00 Care and operating maintenance of tractors is featured throughout the course If you are interested, come to the Evansburg Agricultural office and give us your application.

Lice on Range Cattle

Cattle wintering outside are often subject to attack by sucking lice. Often during prolonged cold spell they have free access to develope and multiply Heavily lice infestations may weaken animals and can cause their death through anaemia. In any case such loss of blood causes weakening and makes them more susceptible to disease.

Mr Joe Shemanchuk, entomologist with the Canadian Department of Agriculture Research Service, says sucking lice are found most often at the tailhead, on the brisket, on the neck and head of cattle Infected animals now may be rubbed extremly lousy by spring time, unless treated. During cold weather a dry treatment may be administered with satisfactory results.

Choose your new insecticide, says Shemanchuk, and follow carefully the labelled directions for rubdose, tasticity to animals, and hazards to persons administering the insecticide.

January wedding unites Edson district families

A wedding of interest to the many took place in Sacred Heart Church, Edson, at 1 p.m. Saturday, January 22nd, when Margaret Enid, second youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Frith, was married in a double ring ceremony to Mr. Peter Velichko, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Velichko.

Rev. Geo. Gutsulp C.S.B. performed the ceremony, and offered the nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Margaret Sabourin played the organ, and Lorraine Sabourin sang, "Oh this Day Oh Beautiful Mother." and "Ave Maria"

Mr Jerome Bowman, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Bill Velichko, brother of the groom acted as ushers.

The bride's gown was designed and made by herself Of white velvet, it featured a fitted waist, high neckline, and fully point sleeves. The pleated skirt fell softly into a slight train, and was worn over an underskirt of peau de soie trimmed with lace applique. Her chapel veil was held in place by a velvet band.

A miniature pearl studded white gold cross, with matching ear rings, gift of the groom, was the bride's only ornament and she carried a bouquet of deep pink roses, stephanotis and mauve sprays.

Miss Karen Fossheim, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Shirley Vrolman, and Phyllis Frith, youngest sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical floor length gowns of emerald green velvet topped with fitted empire waist, white lace jackets that featured ruffled elbow length sleeves. Headbands were of matching velvet and they carried bouquets of pink carnations and sp . y

Best man was Mr Paul Milech, and groomsmen were Mr. Leo Berube and Dennis Frith, younger brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Frith chose a three piece wool suit of powder blue with matching hat and black accessories. The groom's mother chose a double knit dress of deep turquoise with matching jacket and beige accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

Mrs C Bilton, grandmother of the bride wore a cocoa brown printed silk dress with matching sleeveless Her corsage was of white cymbidium

A reception for one hundred guests was held in the banquet room of the Edson Motor Hotel, suitably decorated for the occasion.

Mr George Bilton, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast which was replied to by the groom

During dinner the best man read a number of telegrams from relatives of the groom.

Later in the evening there was a phone call from Charles McNaughton, of Jasper, and Bruce and Ann Frith, Grenwood, Nova Scotia.

During the evening guests danced to the music of the "Western Hobos" band

For going away the bride donned a three piece rose-red and white wool suit topped with a white fur trimmed red hood, red and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests included John Ongurian, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Velichko and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Velichko and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Sabourin, Mr and Mrs. Bill Benych, Miss Myrtle Ongurian, Mr and Mrs. Bill Velichko and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Velichko and family, Mr.

Worse than infidel

By PASTOR SNOWALTER

An infidel is an unbeliever; especially a non-Christian.

But, there are individuals who are in a worse position than being an infidel. Some of them may, unaware, be calling themselves "Christians."

God has planned the family unit for society in this world. The family unit will be delivered in eternity (Matthew 22:30) but for the present it is of utter importance.

The "new morality" is a serious threat since it is bent on breaking down family fidelity. However, this is not the subject of this article.

Barring the impossible, God has willed that a family should be self supporting. In case of accident, illness, or other Providential circumstances, the principle of sharing with fellowmen cuts into operation.

The Bible offers little comfort in the parents who neglect providing for their children. Or, for children who will not help their parents. We tend too easily to become wards of the government or expect our relatives to become such because of our failure to assume family responsibility

"But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

1 Timothy 5:8

"And I say this without fear of contradiction!"

Accident victim buried in Saskatchewan

The body of Carter Heddon, 21 year old, who lost his life in a tragic accident on Jan. 13, was sent home to Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan, for funeral service and burial.

Mr. Heddon, was working near Robb in NWP&P Camp 25, when he was struck by a falling tree and killed instantly. He was working with his brother Howard at the time.

The accident victim had been married only a month and had been working in camp for ten days when the accident occured.

Besides his loving wife, Linda, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heddon of Meadow Lake, Sask.; six brothers, Howard at Robb, Lawrence at Cut Bank, Sask; Martin at Medicine Hat, Alta.; Blair, Brain and Barry at home in Meadow Lake; five sisters: Mrs. Dale (Barbara) Beatty in Vancouver, B.C.; Judy, Marilyn, Colleen and Debbie at home at Meadow Lake.

Edson Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Teenage drinking serious problem auxiliary told

Rev. Purdie Pastor of the Baptist Church and juvenile probation officer for the town of Edson gave a very informative talk on teenage drinking when he appeared as guest speaker at the regular Hospital Auxiliary meeting last Tuesday.

Today the average alcoholic is between the ages of 20 and 30, has an average of 2½ children, a good job, almost owns his own house and car

When it comes to drinking, what is acceptable for adults doesn't apply to teenagers. A teenager doesn't know how to handle the effects of alcohol and once you mix liquor with a teenager, it invariably ends up to anti-social behavior. A poll was taken in the States which pretty well applies to Canada and they found that only between 5 and 10 per cent thought it was all right for teenagers to drink but the others didn't approve of the use of alcohol.

The majority were of the opinion that the age limit should be 21 though in many places the legal age was 18. Physiologically a teenager wants to be disciplined and is very distressed if a parent doesn't resort to this prerogative. A parent betrays their trust if they don't demand proper behavior at all times.

Why, in the beginning do youngsters want to drink? For a start, it is mostly curiosity and in many cases the boys and girls didn't like the taste Statistics state that 14 per cent have their first drink at the age of 9 and that 25 per cent have had their first drink by the age of 14.

Peer pressure is what concerns Mr. Purdie, the pressure of the group on the individual that doesn't drink or just hasn't the inclination. Amongst teenagers, if you don't drink you are a queer and abstain once is like a disease in some people's eyes.

They don't seem to realize that each individual makes up his or her mind to their general behavior, some find that they can enjoy themselves without the influence of liquor while others are under the false illusion that liquor is a a gift in appreciation of her pick me up when the effect is entirely the opposite.

The question was asked about the biblical reference, "have a little wine for the stomach's sake," and Mr. Purdie said that in his opinion wine was used for medicinal purposes in the early days. It was the responsibility of each parent to set an example for their children. It was by pure chance that the subject of teenage drinking was chosen by the speaker when the Edson School Division Board was having a special meeting on this very subject.

The Board is very concerned about the drinking that has been going on at the graduation dances. The Ministerial Association is seeking to lessen this problem by removing a graduation party just for the teenagers where there will be good music, fun and frolic

Mrs. Bertha Radbourne thanked Mr. Purdie for picking such a timely topic which is vital in all parents of teenage children. All the members found the evening interesting and stimulating and were very pleased that Mr. Purdie was able to find the time to address the Auxiliary.

President Thor Gisemetie brought the meeting to order and th prayer was read by Mrs. Marion Ashmead. Final arrangements were made for the whist party to be held in the Parkland Lodge on Feb. 18th at 7.30 p.m. It was hoped that the general public would support this project as the guests in the lodge always enjoy visitors.

Twenty five dollars was donated to an all Canadian medical team working at Khang Hospital in Malaysia under the auspices of Care Medico, the international Alliance of Hospital Volunteers.

Mrs. Kay Kitkoff won the monthly raffle.

Sale of raffle tickets was started, proceeds to go for the extra treats and benefits for the patients in the hospital.

Mrs. Marion Hamilton and Mrs Marie Ir were welcomed as new members. President Tini Gisemetie presented Past President Bessie Goldstick, years work. In reply Mrs. Goldstick said that her year would not have been so successful if it wasn't for the co-operation of her executive and members at large

The success of the Florence Nightingale Tag Day and the annual raffle was attributed to the cooperation of the children in the community that worked so unselfishly.

Audience enjoy Jazz at Overture Concert

Jazz is a form of modern music through which an artist is able to express his own feelings for "unique sound." Improvisation is the core of this art and since most musicians are copiers rather than creators, few attain this goal. The Mitchell-Ruff Trio has accomplished this standard as their interpretation of Mancini's "Days of Wine and Roses" exemplified. To use an expression of Mancini's it was "a profound gas". The trio appeared in Hinton on January 27th, the first concert of the season in the Hinton Overture Concert series.

The trio dug into a three-quarter time "Autumn Leaves" after a brief announcement from Willy Ruff. Only those arriving very early were aware that the group had visited their instruments. Dwike Mitchell's solo warmed up the group in a few bars and the intricate percussion work of Helelo Militz stood out in this medium tempo. Nowadays this time is more familiar through artists such as the "Dave Brubeck Trio", who made it popular around 1960.

"Improvisations on an Abstract", as Willy announced, sounded not so frightfully modern as some of the "avant gards" we now hear and was not related to any rebel work. Helelo merely gave a demonstration on his tumba, an African originated instrument also used in Brazil. It was clearly emphasized that with limited note availability, time and rhythm become paramount. The changing drum patterns seemed reminiscent of African beats.

Willy was probably kidding when he told the audience that his recently composed number which had no title would be called "The Hinton Blues", a compliment to such a "swinging group". An idea familiar to them from birth, Dwike presented here in medium tempo and welded in smooth key changes which all sustained Helelo to accentuate the time. Dwike became involved to the point where he groaned with the melody as he frequently heard in Peterson and Garner performances Willy took a smooth solo in his blues

After the intermission, Helelo and Willy did a number in which Helelo played an instrument resembling a bow and arrow. Accomplished musicians such as this Trio have a desire to employ exotic instruments and sounds; e.g., Indian or Oriental music. However for the average ear, it takes a lot of listening to rate it at proper value

Of special note was an educational number entitled, "The Do-Be-Bi Blues" in which Willy briefly explained some of the elements of jazz and with the help of Dwike and Helelo produced a marvelous improvisation on the C-Scale. The Trio swung into an early up-tempo and crescendoed to a colorful climax.

There are a number of good jazz pianists in America but only a few great ones Dwike Mitchell is without a doubt one of the latter. His interpretation of "Laura" reflected his accomplishment as a concert pianist. The intricate use of slit phases of the jazz idiom was most apparent through out the entire selection to produce a style of the caliber of the popular "Andre Previn Trio".

Many jazzmen not only are their own arrangers but also their own composers. This is true of Willy Ruff "Chou Chou" was written for a little eight year old Paris girl. Helelo was right at home on the drums during this latin beat.

As one jazzman has said, "Jazz makes me want to tap my foot. Bossa nova makes me want to move my whole body." Helelo's performance here made one want to do just that. His dexterity and imagination produced detailed jazz and bossa nova-samba rhythms ranging from the tapping of a music cymbal to the hand sound of total percussion Here too, Willy's personal solo style on the bass came to the fore. The interplay of bass, piano, and percussion to manufacture the spiralizing, complicated rhythms of "Chou Chou" was extremely pleasant

To conclude the hour and forty minutes presentation, the Trio heeded the applause to play an up-tempo "Love" as an encore, and with asteriskings speed Dwike and Willy ripped off their solos.

The total concert was one which left the audience filled with a craving for more jazz, red, hot and cool; a craving which we sincerely hope will be satisfied in future with more performances of the same quality as the Mitchell Ruff Trio.

The initial plan is to provide limited vocational training in business subjects such as bookkeeping, typing, merchandising, and some mechanical subjects. As the pupil population expands so would the courses offered.

Aside from the vocational educational picture for district young people there would be enough "home" rooms to give the traditional academic course of studies leading to matriculation and into technical or university training.

The feature that struck the meeting most forcibly was that the building was planned with adequate room for expansion without having to duplicate washrooms, administrative and counselling rooms or the athletic, library or extra curricular rooms for dramatics, etc.

Concensus of opinion of the ratepayers present was that at last the district would be able to provide alternatives to students unfitted to develop their individual abilities.

Emphasizing this latter point of view, Trustee Leonard issued a call to all ratepayers to make sure they vote in favor of the Division's building program when it comes up to a plebiscite some time in March.

In this connection the problems of the Division were briefly reviewed. If the Provincial Government acquiesce to the request of Hinton Town to opt out of the Division then severe difficulties could be encountered in administering the rest of the Division. Hinton town provides just over half of the assessment of 32 million dollars, while Edson's assessment provides a bout five million.

Local improvement Districts 78, 79, 85, 86 and 109 with the villages of Evansburg and Wildwood account for the other nearly five million. Edson's school population is 1740 against 1289 for Hinton and 1314 for the rest of the Division.

The building program includes an elementary school for Edson (as well as the high school), an add tion to Edson's Jubilee junior high, an addition to the Hinton junior and high school and an addition to the Mountain View school at Hinton.

Trustee Leonard pointed out that the plebiscite had been demanded by ratepayers from the east end of the Division and that education of the pupils in the two big towns and their immediate district could be impaired if ratepayers were apathetic and did not turn out to vote.

Following reading of the financial statement by Secretary-Treasurer D. S. Blundell and answering questions on the anticipated budget for the coming year, it became clear that there was nothing more than the relentless average upward pressure on the financial aspect of the Division's affairs.

During the closing moments of the meeting, a vote of confidence was expressed to Trustee Leonard for years of consistent and capable service on the Divisional Board as Edson area division a trustee

Edson Commodores drop pair to Drayton Valley

In local hockey action over the weekend, the Edson Community travelled to Drayton Valley for games on Saturday and Sunday. The hometown Rebels swept both games winning 8-3 on Saturday evening and then came from behind a 7-2 second period deficit to overpower the Commodores by a 10-7 margin in Sunday's game.

Goal scorers for Edson in the first match were Ron McNiven with a pair while E. Durkac notched the other goal. John Lowry had a pair of assists in the game which saw the Rebels lead 3-1 after the first period and 4-2 at the end of the second period.

Sunday's game turned into a scoring rout and the short handed Commodores saw a 4 goal lead dwindle rapidly in a hectic third period as the Rebels poured in seven goals to win 10-7.

Edson's Norm Debray struck for five goals in a losing cause while R. Pysar and E. Hurle had singletons. Ron McNiven picked up three assists.

The Commodores next taste of action comes this Wednesday when they take on Stony Plain.

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Thursday, February 16, 1966 Vol. 11, No. 7

Method of assessing land explained to meeting

BY E. JOHNSTON

Fourteen people attended the meeting on assessment, held in Pulham School Auditorium, the afternoon of February 10th.

Mr. Joe Wynne was chairman of the meeting and introduced the two speakers, Neil Gibson and Roland Hiller, assessors for the Department of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Wynne explained that this was a general meeting to inform the taxpayers as to how dollar value is arrived at in assessment.

Mr. Gibson spoke on valuation of buildings and small holdings. All buildings are assessed except farm homes and farm buildings. Houses on small holdings are assessed according to classification in the Department's manual, according to condition and age of building.

Mr. Hiller spoke next on land valuation, he had as reference a large chart to illustrate the points he made

The assessor covers each quarter section and samples all areas, preferably along a fence row where the land has not been disturbed. Deep black soil is valued at $40 per acre if all other factors such as stone, kind of subsoil and absence of trees are favorable. This black soil at $40.00 per acre is used to find a percentage basis for evaluation of other land

A degraded black soil to percentage of grey soil with other factors such as depth of top soil composition, contour, standing trees, etc. is rated percentage wise to find the assessed value

Grey wooded soil which is the category of most land in this area is treated in the same manner. It has a certain percentage value if trees are knocked down ready to cultivate, which doubles when the land is broken and cultivated

Peat soil is evaluated in the same way, with special regard to depth of peat A 12 inch depth or more classes it as pasture land. Bush pasture land is valued at $2.50 per acre

Any quarter section may have on it many of these different types of soil. All parts are sampled to get an average for the quarter section

After a quarter section has been covered by the assessor the results are averaged to find the dollar value for assessment purposes The assessment value is based on productivity not on the market price of the land The object of the Department is that assessment should be fair and equitable and assessment is often re-checked before final assessment

Mr Hiller said that he and Mr Gibson would answer any questions on the subject. The first question regarding assessment appeal was answered by Mr Hiller, who said that each individual's farm land sheet can be seen in Mr Wynne's office and a farmer can check on the basis for his assessment

Assessments can be appealed each January, appeals must be made to the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton The Department likes appeals to be made on specific facts, not such a general statement as "My assessment is too high".

In answer to a question regarding assessment of a field with varying soil areas, the assessor samples all areas of the field and averages the results

Mr. Gibson answered a question regarding higher assessment of river flats by saying that in previous assessments, river flat land had been classed the same as high land, but is now assessed higher due to the quality and higher productivity of the river flat land

A question was asked regarding the assessment of a manse which was occupied only part time. Mr. Gibson replied that churches and church lands were exempt from taxation but a manse or rectory was taxable and was assessed according to classification, age and condition of the building, less depreciation.

A question was asked regarding assessment on a pre-sluicer oil well lease Mr Hiller explained that the acreage leased to the oil company was valued at the top farm value in the area When the lease expires the leased land is taken off the top list

Mr Haddock thanked the assessors for their explanation of the assessment setup and the meeting adjourned

NEXT STOP IS HAWAII and warm sunshine for Mrs. E. O. Quick, centre, of Wayburn, and her daughters, Mrs. H. M. Hemphill, left of Wayburn, and Mrs. Percy Wells, of Edson, Alberta. The trio boarded the Oronsay in Vancouver for nine-day cruise to California and Hawaii.

Neil Reimer asked to run provincially

Provincial New Democratic Leader Neil Reimer last Saturday was asked to represent the Edson constituency in the anticipated forthcoming provincial election.

Mr. Reimer assured the large gathering at the annual meeting of the New Democrats held at the Athabasca Valley Hotel in Hinton that when their nomination meeting is held his name would be allowed to stand.

Since Mr Reimer's loss by only 90 votes in the Edson by-election one year ago, he has been approached by several New Democratic constituency groups to have him represent their area.

In the afternoon session Mr Reimer spoke on the oil development in Alberta explaining how the Alberta Government could have realized a three billion dollar profit over what they have, which could have been used towards our high education costs

Mr Ted Chudyk of Vegreville, now working as one of the provincial organizers for the NDP, and a federal candidate on several occasions at Vegreville, spoke on party organization and his successful membership drive in the Lac Ste. Anne constituency. He pointed out his experience in the rural districts, having farmed for several years and serving on marketing boards, farm representation to Ottawa.

Mr. Tom O'Dwyer of Edmonton, an invited guest speaker, also claims he is an ardent member of the Liberal party spoke on, "Dishonesty in Government"

Mr O'Dwyer attended to open the eyes and ears of the group with his information suggested Mr Reimer would make an excellent Premier of Alberta.

Mr Jack Loitus of Jasper was elected as the new president for the constituency replacing Dr Peter Cohen, who presently holds the position of vice president on the Provincial Council and also delegate on the Federal Council

Other officers elected were vice president C. R. Christie of Edson, Secretary, Mrs. G Jensen of Hinton, Treasurer J Pyper of Edson and Victor Wasuita of Jasper, district canditor.

NEIL REIMER
Asked to Run

Directors elected were: A. King, Hinton, Mrs. Kjelland Nixon, G Hanson, Hinton, J Brons, Rosevear, F. Loderer, Pocatalo, Bill Owen and Dr Peter Cohen of Edson, Bob Sivik of Jasper

President Jack Loitus mentioned his first plans will be setting the dates for a session convention to coincide with the availability of the National Leader Tommy Douglas.

Mr Loitus' in his closing remarks, thanked the delegates for turning out in such good numbers and travelling so many miles.

A. Chiste to address C of C

A. Chiste, Superintendent of the Edson School Division will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce this Wednesday evening in the Commodore Hotel.

President Jack Meek urges all members to pick up their tickets in advance if at all possible.

POSSIBLY THE HIGHLIGHT of the Edson Fish & Game Association meeting last Thursday evening was the presentation of trophies to winners in the first annual Big Game competition. Unfortunately there had only been heads entered in two classes, elk and mule deer. Fred Armstrong, centre, was the first winner of the Commodore Hotel trophy for the best elk head. Making the presentation is Bert Kupfer, manager of the Commodore while Alex Gering steadys the winning antlers.

Tribute to a District Pioneer

One of the earliest settlers in the McLeod Valley District, Mr. C. H. W. (Hank) Tomlinson died recently at his home. Although he was a quiet man who seldom went visiting, Hank always enjoyed visits from friends and neighbors, old and new, and was always ready to give a helping hand where needed.

By the time he came to the Valley, Mr. Tomlinson had already learned well what it was to work hard. He was born near Culbertson, Nebraska, on May 26th, 1878, the eldest of ten children. His father was a small rancher with a wandering streak and when his family was young he moved them, via covered wagon, to Colorado.

Soon they were surrounded by big ranches and moved again, this time to New Mexico. It was 40 miles to the nearest neighbor and the youngsters were so shy they would run and hide whenever they saw a stranger approach. Once the children were playing in an arroyo and ran out minutes ahead of a wall of water, caused by a flash flood.

Sheep and loco weed drove the family out of New Mexico and back to Missouri. This was a bad move. Their cattle died and his father contacted pneumonia and also died. Left with the responsibility of nine younger children, Henry moved west to Idaho.

It was here he met Jesse Messinger who became his partner, and came to Canada with him in 1907 bound for the Peace River country.

THEY SETTLE IN THE VALLEY

In 1908 they scouted on the land. It was in a timber limit, but there was no merchantable timber on it. It was 1913 before they could file on the land. They were the first settlers in the Valley. The river was their highway.

Once while bringing a raft down from Wolf Creek a sweeper cleaned the raft. A few of the things were salvaged, among them a very wet sack of beans. But it was just too bad for the sugar and salt.

The partners had a small boat at the river which they used for themselves and anyone else who needed to cross.

People coming from the south used to start calling when they reached the top of the hill. By the time they reached the river some one would have waited the three quarters of a mile to the river to put them across.

No one was ever turned away from the Messinger homestead where Hank made his home. When settlers began coming into the Mahaska district and across the river from Mahaska most of them made it a habit to stop there, and they became valued friends.

FIRST FERRY MAN

Hank was the first ferry man at McLeod Valley and as far as known here, so the whole of the McLeod River people at Whitecourt had to raft their provisions down from Wolf Creek.

Hank did a great deal of hunting and trapping in the early days. He was strictly an out-of-doors man and continued to enjoy hunting for many years.

All money was good for in those early days, was for what could not be grown, hunted or made, clothes were meant for comfort or use but not for show. He didn't like them and never went there unless he had to.

Mr. Tomlinson was never one to cry over spilled milk. When a two hundred dollar carload of green feed heated or when he didn't get paid for hay, he didn't waste time complaining, just took it in his stride.

THE PIONEER MARRIES

In 1918 he married Florence French of the Mahaska district. The wedding took place in Edmonton in the manse, with Rev McQueen, long time pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Edmonton, officiating. Mr Messinger the bride's sister and Mrs. McQueen were witnesses. After the ceremony there was nothing to do as the wedding party went to a theatre featuring "My Wild Irish Rose"

On the afternoon of the wedding Mr Messinger was walking along Jasper Avenue when he was kidnapped and taken for a ride. Knowing it would be some of his old cronies of earlier days, he did not resist. Jesse didn't dare tell his captors that he was due for a wedding that night, so he said he had an important appointment that he had to keep which meant money to him. They let him go.

The summer of 1917 he built a house in spare moments, by the river.

One night Mr. Tomlinson woke up and saw a fire on the sand bar across the river. He went across to discover the people thought they would have to wait there till morning. The fare at that time was five cents for a pedestrian at night.

The new house was moved into in February and the following December when the flu was at its worst a daughter arrived. Eighty dollars had been laid aside to cover the event. Shortly before the arrival was due a neighbor, several miles distant, came to Hank and asked him for a loan of eighty dollars. Hank spoke to his wife. She was a bit skeptical knowing the man's reputation. However he knew what the money was needed for and promised to get it back in time. He had got it had with the government by trapping however this early. He kept his promise and all ended well.

In the spring of 1920 the quarter across from Messinger's was purchased and the family moved into the log house. Later the house by the river was moved up. The place had been homesteaded by a Mr Straker who had been struck by lightning a couple of years before it fell to Henry's lot to identify him and notify the coroner. Hank never shirked an unpleasant duty.

Hank wasn't a carpenter but he built his house and other buildings with very little outside help.

Mr Tomlinson was secretary for the local school board for several years and helped to build the Valley School House. He was a member of the Nurses Association of Peers and helped build the first nurses home there.

It has been forty-five years since he moved his family to the place where they now live. He lived till the 9th of March he would have celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary. It is well that he should go quietly from the home he loved.

Anne's songs are "Fool's Gold" and "Who can see an Hour,". The record is available in Edson at Mahon Electric and Murray's Drug Store.

Mrs. Cash was in Edmonton recently when she made plans with Hank Smith to record additional songs in the near future.

The Hank Smith long playing albums sell best in Saskatchewan and Manitoba although Alberta sales are picking up all along. Mrs. Cash has received a couple of royalty cheques on sales of earlier records and although they aren't all that big she says they are a real thrill to receive.

Full house for Optimist Show

The Jubilee High School auditorium was jammed to the doors last Tuesday evening as a variety of local children's groups thrilled the audience with their singing, dancing and tumbling acts.

The Jubilee singers, a group of young boys and girls from the Jubilee Jr. High School under the direction of Mr. W. Lauterbach opened the show with four selections from the Rene Christian Anderson compositions.

Mr. Lauterbach also told the audience of the light operetta planned by the singers early in the spring.

Miss Elizabeth Collin, a very experienced baton twirler, displayed some very difficult baton manoeuvrers and drew a fine hand of applause from the audience.

One of the big crowd pleasers for the evening was 7 year old Allan Browne, who went through a series of contortionist acts that included a back bend to pick a nickel off the floor, walking across the stage on his hands, as well as on his knees while his legs were crossed.

There were only a few in his bag of tricks which left many of the younger people wondering how come they can't do that.

The rhythm band under the direction of Mrs. Kent Barker of the H. A. Dakin School contained a series of vocal numbers with their variety of musical rhythm instruments many hours of training must have been spent by this group as their skit carried on for about 15 minutes.

The highlights of the gay twenties were once again revived in a dance routine by Miss Brenda Nelson who drew the cheers of the crowd as she stepped gaily through the old time favorite, the Charleston.

The Beetle thems 'the Go Go Girls' was just across by a group of enthusiastic teenagers from the 7 Jason High School under the direction of Wayne Callaghan to make one of the bright acts of the night.

It is hoped these young people will continue with their band as there is a need for a local band rather than always hiring an out of town band.

Miss Gerrie Rosigno, gaily dressed, pleased everyone and especially the young admirers in the front rows with her fine baton twirling.

The tumbling group of boys from the A. H. Dakin School under the direction of the Mr Wortman and Mr. Banerjee got into full swing and really keep the stage jumping with their live wire tumbling.

A grand finale to the show was sparked by the favorites of many talent show winners. They sang four songs that have been popular on the radio and TV networks and drew spontaneous applause throughout their singing from the large audience.

They were supported by local professional musicians, Rod Jaasan, Jim Bell, Earl Stone and Bill Owen. This background music according to some music critics in the audience gave these young singers a real professional sound.

The Optimist Club wish to thank everyone for the support and are very pleased it was such a success

HOW LONG SHOULD WE TAKE IT FROM BOTH SIDES

Turning the other cheek is getting a little monotonous as far as most thinking Edsonites are concerned. What we're referring to of course is the school situation. We have ratepayers in the east end of the school division who want the best facilities possible for their children and we agree they should have them.

Our neighboring town to the west feels it is paying over half the costs of the division and they very strongly feel that they would get a better break for their children if they get out of the division. In between Edson seems to get the blame. It's probably because the town has been a whipping post for all the gripes in the area for years. But Edson has a point of view too, that perhaps hasn't been expressed as loudly as it could have been.

First of all we is in the immediate Edson district have the largest concentration of pupils in the division and therefore have the greater problem in educating them. They do not all come from the town, but the bulk of them do. But first of all let's look at the sources of revenue in the school division.

Should we swallow the contention that the assessment of the pulp mill at Hinton should be included in the Hinton town's assessment exclusively? The mill IS near the Town of Hinton, but if wouldn't be there were it not for the forests reserved to the mill north and south of Edson and all the distance in between the two towns. Another example is the gas plant on our west side. When the plant comes on the tax rolls it will be included in the assessment of Local Improvement District 95. But Edson town schools are providing the educational facilities for the scores of pupils who have come with the very welcome families in this new industry. Our only tax revenue is on the homes of these families with no industrial taxation to draw on.

If the provincial government were to say to the Hinton ratepayers that they would go along with their saying out if part of the assessment on the mill were allocated to the rest of the division we suspect there would be some backing up.

No reasonable ratepayer on our east end can make much of a case with the proposition that the low assessment farms in the Hinton area for instance, are hearing a proportionate tax load to say a home owner in Edson.

If Hinton is allowed to get out of the division, we think Edson should be allowed out as well. We suspect that this might not be as bad as is feared. Hinton schools now make up much of the divisional debt as do the schools in the east end. If the debt charges for these schools were taken off the backs of Edson taxpayers we might be better off. Long time residents will recall that Edson school district was forced into the larger school division over 25 years ago and was at that time comparatively debt free.

Another suggestion is that the Niton area east be thrown into the Lac Ste Anne school division where the problems are very much the same. Then the industrial town of Whitecourt could be joined with the towns of Edson and Hinton into an industrial school division.

It's time we on the Edson district slapped back!

ARDA Tourism project to include Drayton Valley

At a meeting in Edson last Wednesday evening plans were set in motion to bring Communities in this Western Alberta region together in a co-operative bid to increase tourist revenue. The meeting was called by the executive of the Edson Chamber of Commerce and was attended by representatives from the towns of Hinton, Whitecourt, Edson and Drayton Valley.

ARDA authorities have made a number of surveys of Census Unit No. 14, which does not include Drayton Valley and determined that a major source in the tourist industry was not being exploited as well as it might be add to the economy of the area.

Census Unit No. 14 rests on the West side of the Pembina River, but in speaking up the area, Drayton Valley was included and the boundaries now run west of Drayton to Hinton and North to White court.

ARDA surveys have established that tourist potential in the area outlined could reach as high as $10 million annually and is presently realizing less than $1 million.

First step in a long range plan will be the publication of 40,000 brochures outlining tourist attractions in the area. The brochures are to be ready in time for mailing prior to the next vacation season.

ADRA, to assist in getting the project rolling, is putting up 75 percent of the cost of the brochures with the four Chambers of Commerce putting up $200 each.

The brochures, of the round map type, will show natural features such as streams, lakes etc. with emphasis on tourist facilities and anything that might be of interest to the visitors.

Publication of the brochures is only a preliminary and enough to get things moving for this year. Much more planning for the future is to be undertaken later.

G. R. Sterling of the Provincial Government, Department of Agriculture was present at the meeting.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor;

I am enclosing a report on the annual meetings of the Edson School Division Board and I would like you to print it, if possible.

Mr. A. Chiste the acting superintendent of schools for the Edson School Division met with the ratepayers of the East End at the Niton Evangelburg Auditoriums this past week. He gave the impression of being a whirlwind of activity.

After talking with Mr. Chiste the Niton ratepayers felt confident that he would study fully their plan for maintaining their school with some needed additions.

He grew the Wildwood rate payers the feeling that their village might be a nice central location for the proposed high school in the east end, also the Evansburg ratepayers were happy to learn that their village could also be the spot for the new school.

Mr. Chiste has confessed to further by his different views in each district. He opened each meeting with "Are you interested in Education?" "Surely we must have perusing this after fighting for our school for two years.

But the big question is, "Are the superintendents of schools and the School Board interested in Education for all the children or just the ones that live in towns. Why should not the rural children have equal chances? For instance if the proposed Vocational School for the Edson School Division were put in the centre of the Division it would serve the vocational needs for both the east and the west areas of the division."

We fully support Hinton's move to break away from the Edson School Division so, as far all why shouldn't a town's the size of Hinton govern itself. Or any other town of equal size" Hinton can expect the full support of the majority of the east end in the coming plebiscite.

Thank you,
D. Kjelland
Secretary,
Niton Ratepayers

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT APPROVE LAND PURCHASE

BY JOHN WARREN

Pity the other parties. They are fresh from conventions that were to whip them into shape for an election. Their leaders were issuing election warnings and their organizers were supposed to be making feverish preparations for voting day

Then the premier called a press conference. He was asked about the prediction of Liberal leader Adrian Berry that a snap election might be called. Mr. Manning shrugged, laughed, said he wasn't going to play politics with people who are trying desperately to get their names in the papers — and changed the subject.

After it all, only one thing remains abundantly clear The only man who can call an election will do so when he's good and ready (it doesn't have to be until 1967) And he's not going to assist the opposition by providing any more advance notice than he has to.

With election talk thus put aside the premier was able to go ahead with what might be called one of his normal pre session press conferences it covered:

— special aid to farmers. Mr Manning said he had still heard nothing directly from Ottawa about federal assistance to drought areas to match the province's $1,250,000, but the senior government should still do something.

— policing of towns and villages A new $2,000,000 agreement has been made with the RCMP for small communities policing. It would cover centres of up to 1,500 where the population limit now is 500 inclusive in fact it does much of the work the highly touted provincial force as going to do before it as abandoned because of high costs

— The CPR's abandonment of the Dominion passenger train — The Alberta government will proceed with an appeal to Ottawa against the CPR's decision to drop the service. The other provinces will join in the protests

In other business last week the provincial agriculture department approved spending of about $3,000,000 for acquisition of land under the ARDA plan during the next five years. The move was approved by order in council. Ottawa must now agree to share costs on a 50:50 basis.

The deputy minister of agriculture — Dr. H. G. Bellentyne — said the land to be acquired would be for community pastures, reforestation, recreation and resale to farmers for creation of economic units.

The officials say federal approval should come within six weeks to permit purchases of land as it becomes available after that.

Combined with the land purchase will be a research report on the Edson area — part of Alberta's first ARDA project which began eighteen months ago. The report is aimed at assessing the needs of a depressed farming area (or as it is described) from Edson west to Jasper Park.

The financial officials say people in the region will be asked to study the report and make their own suggestions on how to improve conditions.

The pending session of the legislature will be a big one for legislation dealing with highway included will probably be a new Highway Development Act, which will likely have to do with the proposed gold system. It could also deal with proposed provincial assistance to Edmonton and Calgary who want their freeways included as part of the provincial highway — and thus could run into trouble from rural MLA's.

The on-again off-again heavy water plant is on once more, for the moment at least. Industrial officials are said to be studying sites in northern Alberta for a plant that could cost up to $80,000,000 Of course any decision still needs the approval of the Atomic Energy Commission of Canada.

Going down to defeat at the hands of the Rapp rink was Dick Tygesh backed up by Ray Binette, Tom Browns and Nino Chiene.

Edson drops two at Hinton in first hockey weekend

By IVOR FOSTER

SUNDAY

The Hinton Hawks put together a fantastic twenty-two goal harvest Saturday and Sunday to win both ends of a weekend double header from the Edson Commodores 8 - 5 and 14 - 1.

Saturday's game saw Edson holding a 2 - 1 lead going in to the third period.

Up to that point Hinton's style of play resembled that of a three legged race at a firemen's picnic. You know kinda disjointed but coming on strong. Occasional strong offensive efforts by the Hinton Hawks were frustrated by the tremendous goal-tending of Edson net-minder Martin Krupa.

At 41:14 of the third period Edson's dreams of victory over the Hawks were rudely interrupted by the CNR offense thrown at them by the Hawks I say CNR because although no one could tell when the goals were going to be scored, everyone knew they were coming. And come they did, with almost flawless regularity

In the third period after a fine 1 goal shut-out of the Hawks, net minder Krupa was snowed under by a barrage of 22 shots and 7 goals.

None of Krupa's efforts went unnoticed by the Hinton fans, however and they let him know it with lots of applause.

Three third period goals helped Edson gain the short end of a fairly respectable 8-5 Hinton victory.

The three stars of the game were picked by John Grimmon Stu Vickers (H), Ken Walker (E) and Dennis Maine (H) were each recipients of gifts donated by Valley Barber Shop.

Individuality — White, Marcotte, Stupar and Walker to name a few — and occasional ly collectively the Edson hockey players tried valiantly to stave off a rout to be devoted the tremendous goal-tending of Edson net-minder Martin Krupa.

Krupa again starred in the Edson nets behind an almost non-existant defense When you consider that he did stop 46 shots the 14 goals scored almost sound respectable.

A big improvement over his Saturday performance had a shutout going for Ron Rhoades until 32:41 of the third when one of Edson's few offensive efforts resulted in Marcotte slapping home a high hard shot over Ron's shoulder which was screened all the way.

The three star selection for Sunday's game was sponsored by Bar Hey. Lloyd Ide'w (H), Nick Marcotte and Raul Gauchie were picked as the afternoons best by Don Brown and Lou Cusa.

An unusual thing happened on Sunday which will rate a special niche in Hinton Hockey history. Without much fanfare and after 666 minutes and 40 seconds of Arena Hockey, the Hawks with a one man advantage finally scored a power play goal With Treasure in the box for charging, the only penalty of the game, Maine carried first three honors for Hinton, by firing home his third of the day one in the 10th of the game for the win.

Another happy note of Sunday's game was the positional play of the Hawks. Whenever a Hawks player left his position, which wasn't too often there was always another player covering.

Hockey fans and players paid tribute to Dave Pacey during a ceremony prior to the game on Saturday night. Dave is moving to Prince George where he will start new duties in one of the Pulp Mills now under construction.

The ex-Hinton defenseman was a great guy to know and a hockey player everyone should watch, but like they say, you can't keep a good man down'. I think I represent everyone in wishing Dave lots of luck and a lot more success.

A tip of the hat and a round of applause to John Hickey and Jocker Reich for the No-Nonsense officiating over the weekend I think it can be safely said that this was the best we have seen this year

Collectively, over the weekend Eli May scored two for Edson and team-mates, Marcotta, Walker, Gardine and Pyzer helped out with one each.

For Hinton it was Maine scoring 5, Vickers with 3, Gauncher 4, Hiorns 2, Lee and Ide'r 2 each and Powell with a single.

Cubs and Scouts

Edson Cubs and Scouts will be canvassing the town this coming Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. with their annual light bulb sale.

Fathers: do not forget to come with your son to the annual father and son banquet to be held in the Legion Hall on Sunday evening, February 20th at 6:00 p.m.

Around Town

BY GILL OWEN

The other day it was suggested to me to write some juicy exciting news. Now if the feelings and expressions of some of the people around here could have been recorded in print and heard after a recent assessment explanation meeting, it probably would be exciting.

Apparently some of the new assessments have jumped from 200 per cent to 800 per cent but reasons are no doubt being made and surveyors, well almost everyone, will be longer again

The Hinton area is very fortunate to have a congenial well informed tax assessment officer by the name of Jack Wynne who is faced with the job of trying to satisfy people on both sides of the fence.

On a interesting point brought out at this meeting was that the Edson area has been classed as a depressed area, but the taxes have been raised, in some instances, to over 800 per cent.

Last week The Leader carried an appeal for help for a family in need, the response was rewarding. This week I have a friend who could use a job, but he has disability that limits his walking or standing. If you know of a suitable position or need more information, call me at the Leader office

Edson as a tourist spot should also be considered as a fly in stop-over with the in crease of private air travellers. This past weekend an air traveller flew in from Nipawin, Sask. Distance for weekend visits are becoming shorter all the time

Now as the second stage of the plan the United Church members come to the Anglican Church and the Reverend Don MacPherson will be the preacher.

By this means both congregations hope to get to know one another's way of worship a bit better in anticipation of the potential union which is being discussed on capacity these days.

Vocational Centre opened at Fort McMurray

The Hon. R. H. McKinnon, Alberta Minister of Education officiated at opening ceremonies of the Alberta Vocational Centre, Fort McMurray on Wednesday afternoon, January 26. Guest speaker was the Hon. P. C. Colborne, Alberta Minister of Public Works.

Special guests included Hon. Ira McLaughlin, Chairman of the Northern Alberta Development Council, and representatives from the federal department of Indian Affairs, the Vocational Division of the Alberta Department of Education, Canadian Iberbel, Great Canadian Oil Sands, Alen Trailer Co. of Calgary and representatives of the town of Fort McMurray.

The training centre has been in operation for about three months and at present 76 trainees are registered in full time courses, 46 in night courses and 42 in residence from outside communities as far away as Fort Vermilion and Fletcher Creek.

About 80% of the trainees are Indian and Metis. Trade training courses offered are building construction, welding, vehicle servicing, heavy equipment operation and academic up-grading.

A welding course sponsored by the provincial government, Canadian Iberbel and Great Canadian Oil Sands is a special co-operative venture at the vocational school.

The companies, through a leasing arrangement with the provincial government, have provided equipment, a welding shop in downtown Fort McMurray, and two instructors for the course, from which 13 students will graduate this week, four with a restricted first class welding certificate and nine with a restricted second class welding certificate.

All 13 welding graduates have been hired by the sponsoring companies to work on the tar sands development in the Fort McMurray area.

The three buildings comprising the vocational school were pre-built by Alen Trailer in Calgary and erected on concrete foundations in Fort McMurray through an 80 day construction contract featured jointly by the federal and provincial governments under the Technical and Vocational Training Agreement.

The facilities provided include classroom, office, shop, laboratory, dining room and recreation accommodation.

Hinton possible site for Heavy Water Plant

Twenty-four members of the Hinton and District Chamber of Commerce attended their regular meeting in the Timberland Hotel banquet room on Wednesday evening last week.

Letters were read by Clay Richardson concerning the proposal of a Heavy Water Plant to be located in this area.

One was to the Town stating the Chamber's supporting of a bid for this project and the other to the Canadian General Electric regarding the advantages this area has for a plant of this kind being built here.

Canadian General Electric are responsible for selecting a site and in a letter from them it was learned that it has been announced that an addition to Heavy Water Plant is being built in Nova Scotia, but this will not have any effect on selecting a building site in the west.

To quote, 'in view of a very light schedule for a selection of the project and negotiations our site investigations at this stage have been quite preliminary in general.

"If we do proceed with the plant, which we confidently expect to do, will of course intensify our site search over the coming weeks and in this period will give full consideration to the town of Hinton as a location." end of quote.

Chairman Frank Resch, secretary , Nick Remsky and directors Clay Richardson and Mrs. H. Trudgeon were seated at the head table.

Clive Symons accepted the office of finance chairman. This was previously held by Magnus Hansen who was obligated to resign due to ill health.

Bernie Williams, who is in charge of a Business Training program that is to be sponsored by the Chamber, spoke to the members present concerning the course. Anyone interested in attending these classes should contact Mr. Williams and list their preferences.

Classes will commence when a minimum of 15 applicants have been received. These courses are in no way connected with the Division of Vocational Education, but are making concerned with aiding the small business man

It was agreed at the meeting that the Chamber will host a luncheon meeting when the Canadian Forestry Assoc. tour comes through Hinton Oct. 7th this year.

New inovations create interest in Legion Cadets

The Edson Legion Army Cadet Corp, with a strength of 60 boys, has instituted numerous inovations lately that have resulted in marked increase in member enthusiasm.

Parades have been changed to company formation giving all boys an opportunity to participate in giving company commands. This has resulted in more interest in following out instructions and turns up unexpected talents in many boys.

The rifle range was opened in the Legion Hall on Wednesday, January 26 and the boys have been having shooting practice after the Wednesday evening parades. So far about 30 Cadets have been shooting and more will be doing so in the future. Rifle practice is an item of cadet training that holds a great deal of interest in all the boys and they have been looking forward to using the range opened for some time.

Lieut. Allan Mah and Civilian Instructor Karl Gano attended a chief instructors' conference at Greisbach Barracks in Edmonton weekend before last. One of the topics discussed was cadet centennial projects, with suggestions and advice as to how to go about organizing for the centennial year coming up.

The Edson Cadets have a project in the planning stage that will receive publicity in Scared critters

BY PASTOR SNOWALTER

In appearance the hawk and the owl are very much alike, but they are as different as night and day in their living habits.

The song of the wren is quenched by nightfall while the critters exposed by the overturned stump or stone manage nicely for the cover of darkness.

God created man a creature of the light. Yet a large proportion of mankind prefers the darkness of night above the day. Or, if not literally the darkness for lack of light, they wish to live undercover of secrecy from fellows and God.

God has them figured out and explains such "scared critters" in this manner: "For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved." John 3:20

District Unions plan co-odinating committee

Trade Unions in the Hinton-Edson area are planning a co-ordinated approach to programs of education, organization and political activity for their members. Plans for a labour co-ordinating committee were mapped out at a meeting at the Overlander Lodges last week. (Feb. 1)

Representatives of local unions from Hinton and Edson were at the Overlander for the first northern Alberta week long winter school organized jointly by the Canadian Labour Congress and the Alberta Federation of Labour

Proposals for the area co-ordinating committee were initially made by members of the International Woodworkers of America, Pulp and Sulphite unions in Hinton. Suggestions for long range activities and programs were made by CLC representatives at last week's meeting

Robert Hale, CLC Prairie regional Director, Henry Tomashuk, CLC northern Alberta Representative, Clifford A. Sexton, National Director of Federations and Labour Councils, and Frank Badia, Executive Secretary of the Alberta Federation of Labour, attended the session

Mr. Sexton noted that the CLC has 114 local labour councils situated between Port Alberni on Vancouver Island and St. John's Newfoundland

Their function is to co-ordinate the activities of local unions in their area, just as the Hinton Edson committee will do here.

The local labour councils undertake responsibility for;

making representations to municipal authorities, organizing educational and publicity programs, and assisting in the organization of non-union workers

One of the first projects of the Hinton Edson committee will be to organize an educational seminar for union members in the Hinton Jasper area during the Spring

Officers of the Labour Committee are Stan Fritter, Chairman; Joe March, vice chairman; Maurice Howe, Secretary

There are already some 1,200 union members in the area covered by the committee's activities.

The next meeting was planned for March 1, 1966 in Edson.

A supplementary source of farm water

The presence of ground water and the conservation of spring runoff water are two of the main sources of water for the farm family.

Since 1938 the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration has assisted financially and technically with the construction of more than 80,000 projects involving the storage of surface water. The majority of these projects fall in the farm dugout category.

This type of project is convenient to locate either near the farm buildings and shelter belt or in a pasture. It is simple and relatively inexpensive to construct when related to the large volume of water that can be stored.

In assisting with dugout construction, the PFRA recommends certain specifications that have proven to be efficient. The recommended dugout size is 200 feet long, 70 feet wide, with a depth not less than 14 feet. This corresponds to the size of dugout on which the maximum $800 grant offered by the Federal Government will be paid.

Assistance is paid at the rate of seven cents per cubic yard on the completed excavation and after the project has been approved by a field representative.

Assistance is also available for the construction of stock watering dams and irrigation works. These are subject to Provincial control through the issuance of a Water Right License. Dugouts do not require such a license.

"Application for Assistance" forms are available at your District Agriculture office.

For fuller information and advice, contact your PFRA Water Development office, Box 914, Federal Building, Red Deer, Alberta.

See the Public Works Department working on the North Road this past 2 weeks preparing to haul gravel from the McLeod to the Carrot Creek stock pile. CAPITOL REPORT

CONSERVATIVES PUT FORTH GUIDELINES

BY JOHN WARREN

Alberta Conservatives have returned from their Calgary convention justifiably heartened at their party's new look. They're not likely to win more than a handful of seats in the next provincial election (possibly this spring) and they certainly won't form a government but the party appears to be solid and on the move for the first time in decades.

Leader Peter Lougheed can be given a large part of the credit and credit be a welcome addition to the next legislature. Being a level-headed young man Mr. Lougheed probably doesn't bother to off the fluttering things that were said about him and the party by Gen. Hess. . .

Among other things the former minister of trade said that the conservatives would form the government in Alberta, in the not too distant future. Possibly in the terms used by geologists, but probably in those of the average politician who looks little farther ahead than the next election.

Nevertheless, Mr Lougheed put forth both a sensa and appealing set of guidelines for the party whose organization is already on the move. Among these — deficit budgets may be needed to meet heavy capeyd iture.

— Alberta governments should establish a list of priorities for long-range action;

— government by order-in-council should be kept to a minimum;

— local councils and school boards should retain as much authority as possible.

— the provincial government should support the idea of a strong federal government.

— adequate warning should be given people likely to be affected by legislation.

— welfare should be hand led on the basis of need but should preserve human dignity;

Resolutions urged action on agricultural research and grain shipping.

The program certainly isn't the unique product of conservative party thinkers, but it gives the party a solid basis on which to campaign And it incorporates a philosophy that makes the party identifiable after years of ill-defined and even contradictory ideas.

Well, all that pudding and letter-writing about crop failures in the Peace River area may have had some effect on the Minister of Agriculture, J J Greene.

Mr Greene has now and inspection will be conducted in the region to determine whether aid will be granted through the PFAA that doesn't mean aid will be granted, of course, and even if some assistance is given it is unlikely to make the drought stricken farmers entirely happy But anyone who has dealt with governments knows these things take time It's a step in the right direction at least

Meanwhile a couple of Al berta conservative MP's (Dr Hugh Horner and Cliff small wood) have headed for the west coast in try to find out just what the grain handling problem is all about. The blame for the tie-ups is still being passed around so fast that no one seems responsible for more than a couple of hours at any given day.

Several Alberta farmers are discovering it can be costly to take matters into their own hands in the matter of grain shipments. A member of them in the Andrew and Wostok areas, and at least one district elevator agent have been fined for shipping grain in excess of government quotas.

Their arguments were understandable, if futile Most of them said the illegal shipments were necessary if they were to have sufficient income to support their families. And a number blamed the CNR for holding back cars until elevators were filled

In Calgary last week delegates to the Western Stock Growers' Association meeting decisively rejected Alberta's proposed livestock dealer's in surance fund

They seemed to feel stock dealers would become unmanageably careless if given too much protection But they added that a small dealer bond is probably worthwhile in helping to prove the integrity of buyers.

Audience thrilled by brilliant young pianist

BY BILL LAUTERBACH

Members of the Edson Overture Concert Association had a rare treat last Saturday night when Richard Greuko dazzled the audience at the Edson High School auditorium with his piano virtuosity.

Greuko, the 23 year old Montreal born pianist, has been acclaimed as "one of Canada's surest hopes for a musical future." Edson area residents were extremely fortunate to be entertained by such a marvelous professional as Greuko.

Although he looked a bit weary from a rushed trip to Edson from Calgary, there was certainly no evidence of it, due to his enthusiastic performance.

Several of his selections were identical to those which he played at his debut performance for the New York critics in November. A January edition of the Star Weekly carried the story of his successful venture.

His program was opened by Shostakovich's Prelude and Fugue in D minor. In typical Bach style, the theme was introduced in the prelude and developed in the fugue.

Although the style was strikingly similar to that of the great master of the Baroque period, the stark harmonies and unpredictable chord progressions were much more modern in flavor. The theme was built up to an exciting fervor first in treble, then in the bass, in alternating octaves with an instrument rhythmic drive bringing it all to a dramatic climax.

The tension which had built up in the Shostakovich selection gave way to more lighthearted spontaneity of two sonatas by Scarlatti, Italian composer of the 17th century. Both were played with clean-cut precision and the frequent ornamentation characteristic of the era fairly sparkled.

The second selection was particularly effervescent, characterized by quick arpeggios sweeping from treble to bass, played with lightening speed by Greuko.

The Waldstein Sonata by Beethoven followed the Scarlatti numbers. Greuko played difficult work with more fire and brilliance than the usual treatment of Beethoven's music. Beethoven composed in a style combining the polish of the Classic period with the romantic gavle romanticism which was not fully understood by his early 19th century contemporaries.

Greuko made good use of these contrasting elements and kept the audience attentive. The brilliant performance was hampered only slightly by a refusal of the baby grand to give out with the full resonance in the bass which Greuko was seeking.

Curiously, Beethoven had dedicated this sonata to Count Waldstein who had provided the funds for the young composer to purchase a new piano which he needed badly.

Following the intermission Greuko moved into the impressionistic period with two pieces by the 20th century French composer, Maurice Ravel. The English titles were "Sad Birds" and "Spanish Court Jester." Both pieces were characterized by frequent use of the whole-tone scale which produces the vague, filmy quality of all impressionism.

There was an occasional hint of syncopation and "Jazz" harmonies similar to the style of George Gershwin. There is good reason for the similarity, as Gershwin studied under Ravel and absorbed much of his master's modern idiom.

Greuko's vivid portrayal of Mussorgsky's "Pictures from an Exhibition" could possibly have been the favorite of the audience. The suite contains Mussorgsky's musical impression of two paintings made by a friend of his.

The opening "Promenade" suggests the visit of the visitor and appears frequently as the bridge between the ten separate movements which would otherwise seem quite detached.

With such titles as "The Ballet of Unhatched chickens" and "The Hut of Baba-Yaga," the various movements gave the audience opportunity to use their own imagination. The majestic chords of the "Great Gate of Kiev" brought the lengthy composition to a thrilling satisfying end.

A standing ovation brought Greuko back for an exciting performance of Chopins "Grand Polonaise" which disappointed no one. The pace of the evening had been electrifying, and the quality and quantity of output breathtaking.

It was truly a great experience to witness the talent of a dedicated young Canadian who became so thoroughly engrossed in the expression of his art, that the audience could scarcely help but share his emotion.

Eskimos working on Alberta line

Four Eskimos are part of a 19 man bridge and building gang that moved down from the Great Slave Lake Railway last weekend to commence bridge building on the Alberta Resources Railway now at the start of construction in far western Alberta.

Up to the present time the gang has been engaged in routine maintenance work. The new job calls for construction of two, 65-foot high concrete piers that will support a 180 foot steel railway bridge across the Wild Hay River, 52 miles north of Hinton.

The Canadian National Railways project manager, W. H. MacIlroy, who hired them last November following interviews at Inuvik, is leaving for the Arctic Coast again next week in search of 15 more potential Eskimo railroad workers.

He already has 14 in his employ on the Great Slave Lake Railway servicing locomotive, car, and work equipment as well as trucks, bridges and buildings.

The four now working on the new Alberta railway, being built by Canadian National for the provincial government are: Tom Kinikmikana and Adam Ruben of Inuvik and brothers Henry and Simon Nasogaluak of Tuktoyaktuk.

Left destitute by house fire

An old age security pensioner, Mrs. Louise White of Marlboro, was left without household effects and clothing on Feb. 6 when her home burned. Mrs. White lived alone in the house.

The Marlboro citizens are holding a benefit dance in the hall this week for her. Help has also been obtained from various churches in Edson and the Welfare office. Numerous donations of clothing and bedding have been received.

However, help in the way of household effects, dishes, cooking utensils, bedding, etc. would be much appreciated.

SIR ALEXANDER MACKENZIE

The first man to cross continental North America by land, Alexander MacKenzie was disappointed by his achievement He knew his journey was so difficult that the route never could be used as an artery of the fur trade, and that, not fame, had been his purpose.

Born in Scotland in 1764 he had come with his parents to New York in 1774. He was schooled in Montreal and entered the fur trade as a clerk in 1779 In 1785 he travelled west for the North West Company, was soon made a partner and was placed in charge of Fort Chipewyan on Lake Athabasca in 1788. In 1789 he explored a route to the Arctic along the river that today bears his name.

Mackenzie returned to England in 1791 to study astronomy and navigation and the following year ventured on the Peace in preparation for a journey into the unknown west May 9, 1793, with his lieutenant Alexander Mackay, six voyageurs and two Indians, he set out by canoe toward the Rockies.

The explorer followed the Peace to the Parsnip, went north over the continental divide and began a descent of the Fraser, contending with a crew ready to desert, with hostile Indians, rugged portages and turbulent waters which finally forced him to abandon the river route Below the present site of Quesnel he turned westward, trekked 15 days overland and came down the route of the Bella Coola River to the salt water of Dean Channel Arm Knighted in 1802 for his achievements, he lived to gain a seat in the Legislative Assembly of Lower Canada He died in Scotland in 1820

Day of Prayer Service to be held in Baptist Church

Requests for special prayers have come from many lands this year as final arrangements are made for the observance of the World Day of Prayer. As has been customary in recent years the first Friday of Lent, Feb 23th 1968, has been set aside for services which will unite Christian women in 130 countries and areas.

Locally services will be held in the Baptist Church, 4717 8th Ave. at 8 p.m. Time of the service has been changed from afternoon to evening this year so that working women as well as home makers may have the opportunity to take part.

It is expected that women from practically all Christian groups will participate. This includes the Anglican, United, Apostolic, Mennonite, Pentecostal, Christian Reformed, Baptist and anyone else who would like to worship in this combined manner.

Rev. John Telbe, who was raised in this area will be guest speaker. Rev. Telbe is a missionary home on furlough from India With such a world wide focus on this famine ridden land it will be a wonderful opportunity to learn of the problems of these "neighbors."

In preparing the service to be followed this year the committee, composed of Scottish Women in Edinburgh have kept in mind the needs of churches around the world Africa for instance, asks specific guidance for those in authority in the face of that continent's rapid emergence into independence.

Asia's women request intercession for those who may be confused by the difference between democracy and totalitarianism. They pray also for freedom in education and that the growing threat to individual liberty in all countries will be curbed

The old and the lonely are a prime concern of the women of the British Isles and essential Europe, while Latin American women have added their prayers be said for youth who are questioning their Christian principles and for the church which must find new ways to approach many complex social problems.

Offering made by those who attend the World Day of Prayer services are divided among a number of Christian projects in many lands with special emphasis on literature, Bible Societies, the Refugee services of the World Council of Churches, Braille books for the blind and other areas of Christian work receive grants.

When Canada first joined the World Day of Prayer in 1921 offerings for the day were ~~$118~~ In 1966 more than $69,000 was distributed through the Women's Inter Church Council of Canada which is responsible for World Day of Prayer services in this country.

Oldtimers social evening proves enjoyable event

About forty Edson and district oldtimers turned out for an evening of fun on Feb. 6th when the entertainment committee of the Oldtimers' Association planned a social evening. The gathering was held in the Elk's Hall

With Bill York as master of ceremonies and Mr. George MacLean keeping events running smoothly the evening started with a five table court whist. At the conclusion of play Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Fowler were found to be the winners of the ladies and mens prizes. The prizes had been donated by Mr and Mrs. Geo. MacLean.

During the whist games the company was entertained by Mr. George Collin who played accompaniment for himself and Mrs. Anne Wyshowski singing numerous old songs.

Community singing was enjoyed for a while before soloists, Ernie Fowler, Alf Fisher and Carol Ahlf did their bit with vocal selections.

Then there was a real treat as the youngest citizen in ever entertain at an oldtimers social won the hearts of every one. Four year old Jamie Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson stood up on the piano bench and without the least bit of self consciousness sang two country music numbers. He was accompanied by his uncle, Ed Romaniuk, who later sang two selections in duet with his sister Mrs. Blake Fraser.

The entertainment was roped by Mac Collin and during the lunch period the tape was played back to the delight of all.

AARN members hear talk on welfare work

A special general meeting of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses was held in Red Deer on February 6th.

The Edson Chapter sent a delegate, Mrs. Helen Aspeslet, who was accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Cutser. Mrs. Aspeslet returned with a most encouraging report This was presented at the first meeting of the year held on February 7th in the hospital.

Following the business session of the February 7th meeting, guest speaker, Mr. G. M. Henderson of the Public Welfare Regional Office in Edson was introduced.

His account of the department's work in this area as well as all over Alberta was most interesting and informative. An informal question and answer period, over coffee at ~~so~~ brought out some points that had been missed in his address.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, February 20 at 8:00 p.m. in the Health Unit Office.

WHO'S CRITICIZING WHO ?

Hon. Judy LaMarsh said on TV that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation should be critical of Parliament but should not set itself up in opposition to the government. The Peterborough Examiner argues that the CBC should be free to criticize government as it sees fit. This is wrong.

The CBC is an agency of government; there is no other fact about it as important as that. As an agency of government, it is not and should never be free to criticize government, if this were valid other agencies of government such as Polymer, the Canadian National Railways, Air Canada, the Telecommunications Corporation, and the dozen other Crown Corporations could openly criticize government, or would be free to do so.

Following that, any civil servant would be free to criticize government. The penalty of belonging to the government is that neither the person who is civil servant nor the agency set up by government is free to criticize government.

A Magistrate's dismissal of a charge of assault on an employee of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has been appealed and the appeal has been won by the Crown. This means that an Indian Chief has been fined $100 (or on scolding a man who went to an Indian reserve for the purpose of doing a piece for CBC.

The Chief didn't like the intrusion on the property and it may be that he was justified, but not to the point of avenging an axe and damaging CBC property Yet people are entitled to privacy no matter what the CBC wants.

THE BEST SET OF ANTLERS in the mule deer category of the Edson Fish & Game Assoc. big game competition was turned in by Dave Osborne, centre above, who is accepting his J & K General Supply Trophy from Mr. Jack Waywitka. Alex Goring, at left, was chairman of this years competition. Alex hopes that with more publicity next year there will be many heads entered in each category.

Trophys presented in Big Game competition

The Edson Fish and Game Association & Gun Club held their fourth meeting Thursday, February 10 in the Commodore Hotel banquet room the use of which was donated by Bari Kneller.

The meeting was well attended by regular members and a few interested visitors. During the course of the evening trophies were awarded to the lucky club members who took the best heads in the various species of game animals during the current hunting season.

These trophies of excellent quality were donated by local businessmen. They consisted of a large trophy to be retained by the club and a smaller trophy to be awarded annually to the member offering the best entry.

The trophies are for elk, mule deer, white tail deer and moose. They were donated by the Commodore Hotel, J & K General Supply, Edson Motor Hotel and Pilnga Oil Transport Ltd , respectively.

Freddie Armstrong took the elk trophy with a fine six point rack. Dave Osborne's well balanced set of mule deer antlers won him the trophy in that category

Unfortunately no awards could be made for moose and white tail deer as there were no entries in these classes.

The club at present is advancing a hunter training program and with further development of the gun range and other projects it is hoped to make the organization a real source of entertainment for the members and an asset to the community.

Board okay withdrawal if not detrimental to rest

REMINDER — The annual Edson ratepayers meeting will be held in the Legion Hall, Monday, February 28 at 8:00 p.m.

"That Hinton be allowed to withdraw, providing that there will be no detrimental affects on the educational opportunities on the balance of the district"

This was the motion made by the Edson School Divisional Board in a meeting held last Wednesday, February 16, when confronted by a delegation of ten Hinton representatives who had promised a brief desiring their own division.

The delegation headed by Mayor Dave Bradwell and consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark, Allan Clark of the Hinton Herald, H. Collinge, Don Eyford, Bob Herman, J. Hamilton, Mrs. Stan Hart and Mrs. Tannis Olson

Mr. Eyford acted as spokesman for the group and pointed out the trips and interviews the group have been carrying out for the past eighteen months with the Minister of Education and the Deputy Minister Dr Swift.

He passed around copies of the Tele-Facts from Premier Manning's TV series dealing on the proposed new colleges for Alberta, and indicated he felt the balance of the division should not be effected as the word of our Premier and his Cabinet Ministers should be quite reliable.

Mr Eyford at times seemed to get carried away like a high pressure salesman and at one time tried putting words into the mouth of the Board Chairman George Mouzas

The motion was passed, but Mr. Mouzas appointed a group of board members to act as a delegation to meet and discuss the situation in a fuller extent with the provincial authorities

This meeting of February 16 had a very full agenda with all the trustees and regular staff personnel present. Many problems large and small had to be dealt with, including dismissal of teachers, school bus sale transfers, parking problems at the divisional office, installation of a DAL Rotary Telephone service for the office and quarters for schools.

OUR NEW ARENA suddenly appeared above ground on Tuesday after two months of underground preparation. Footings to hold these pipe trusses are 30 feet deep in spots. The truss supports form a geometric pattern against the sky line and were being watched with interest by passersby who thought they were upside down. (Here's one!). —Leader Photo

Muddy water in your tap a modern growing problem

Seventy-five percent of the water that comes through the taps originates from rivers and lakes in North America, according to a film on 'Water Pollution' shown by Fish and Wildlife Officer Matt Mandrusiak, Monday evening at an Optimist meeting in the Commodore Hotel

Mr Mandrusiak explained how the water pollution problem on this immediate area is not as great as on the level prairies but pollution of streams and rivers start in many ways right from their beginning in the mountains

It was pointed out how the Wildlife Department are involved through the effect of polluted waters on the life of the wild animals.

Each year in the U.S there is a 2 million dollar loss industry through deterioration in the salmon and oyster production, routing on shipping vessels and many other forms.

Mr Mandrusiak spoke on forces affecting the immediate area, explaining the extra expense the pulp mill at Hinton has gone in to improve their filtering system

Trees being pushed into rivers, dead animals, garbage, sawdust from sawmills and dumping of users from street cleaning operations all add to the pollution of the water that may end up coming through the tap in your home

Optimist Ken Perkins thanked Mr Mandrusiak for his informative speech and presented him with a small gift as a profession of his efforts

Optimist Jim Lawrence who is also vice president of the Edson Home and School Association expressed the desire of their organization to work with the Optimist Club with the Pedal Pushers program this year. Optimist George Collins reminded the gathering of the success of last years program when 167 youngsters were registered and completed the course. Peter Serdiuk was in charge of last years program

Guests at this meeting included Mr Emmett Horne and Optimist Vice President Glenn Ashmead

Edson Chamber concerned with school problem

Mayor W. R. Brunelle drove home a very important point regarding the school division problem at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday evening in Edson

Mr. Brunelle explained he felt the people opposing the building of the new proposed vocational composite school in Edson had not considered the cost of sending their children to Edmonton or Calgary schools or where these children would end up if they became dropouts.

Some hardship may be encountered through bus travel to schools but would not compare to having to room and lodge the students away from home.

The discussion arose after the presentation of Mr. Christie Acting Superintendent of the Edson School Division, after outlined the architect's plan of the new school.

It was explained how the plebiscite for the school would come before the ratepayers of the division on March 14th, but with the by-law passed by the Edson School Board for formation. Study was disclosed board and the eastern area already campaigning against the new school. It was suggested a committee be appointed immediately.

Chairman Jack Black admitted the situation was not all together familiar to him and referred it to a group associated with the local school board and the home and school association.

Chamber Membership

Membership chairman Dick Tuppit submitted a proposed membership registration for the Edson Chamber of Commerce that was passed and accepted by the meeting.

The new membership fees have been divided into three groups. A group for firms with two or less employees or individual memberships — $10. B group — 3 to 4 employees in the firm $20.

C group — 5 or more employees in the firm $30.

Mr. Tuppit explained how the merchants would be approached for their new membership and expressed the desire of the Chamber for full and immediate co-operation.

Kehler, Bill Cellis, Ted Hicks, D. Inness, A. Jager, A. W. Lenard, H. Meris, J. Metz, H. VanderVeen, Herris McCrae, A. Polzin, D. Popoff G. Morin, Ron Schlender, and A. Stanton.

Brochures were discussed for the coming year and Mr. Hauk explained the co-operation offered by ARDA and how the Chambers of Drayton Valley, Evansburg, Wildwood, Whitecourt, Edson and Hinton were combining their efforts into one compact effect brochure with hopes of carrying a good impact on the tourist trade.

The expenditure on this information booklet was suggested to run in the neighborhood of $4000.

Mr. Bill Ashmead or Northwestern Utilities mentioned the availability of identifying road signs for the approaches to Edson that would be supplied by his company if so desired.

Due to certain town regulations for signs it was presently left to be taken up with the town council.

Mr. Don Innes informed the gathering of the business management course recently completed by the Chamber and introduced the instructors, Mr. Hector Topham and Jack Berthelsen of the accounting firm of Topham, Berthelsen and Co.

Mr. Topham told the members the course had begun in November and completed in January with 30 students graduating out of 35 enrolled. Certificates were presented to those at the meeting.

Those completing the business management course included, Mrs. W. T. Pillipe, Mrs. Strasburg, Mrs. M. Sebastrie, Mr. C. Calvert, Mrs. J.

SEED GERMINATION TESTS

Late February and March is a good time to have seed tested for germination. Do not delay in planning to have good pure viable seed ready for your spring operations. A new reason for low germination may include, frost damage, high moisture content from wet harvesting conditions with some sprouted and bin heated kernels.

Inclement weather in late summer can cause small shriveled and sometimes diseased kernals which may produce weak seedlings. Wheat showing wrinkled and discolored surface layers will almost always have a lowered germination. The same usually holds true with discolored and fishy flax seed.

In the case of oats and barley the eye can often be deceived and germination tests are the only sure way of telling viability.

If you suspect that any of your seed is impure, diseased or otherwise defective, why not send a representative sample for purity and germination test to the:

Plant Products Division,
Canada Department of Agriculture,
572 Federal Building,
Edmonton, Alberta.

It is much better to be sure now before the other busy activities of spring occupy your attention.

Don't Overwater Your Home Plants

Most problems encountered with house plants at this time of year are due to overwatering, says P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, Alberta Department of Agriculture. He points out that many people erroneously believe that providing house plants with water will prevent problems actually caused by low humidity, excess heat and lack of light during the winter months. He advises to water house plants about once and certainly not more than twice a week.

The best way to water is to put the plant pots in a pan of water and let the water percolate up through the soil.

Flowering plants should receive sunlight from a southern window. Drafts should be avoided. The recommended temperature for house plants is about 70 degrees in the day time and about 60 degrees at night.

ECHO RAPE SEED

The demand for the Echo variety has been very keen because of it's high yield. Interests across Western Canada it has out yielded Polish by 15 to 20%. In addition it has shown improved straw durability and less tendency to shatter.

Present seed regulations permit the use of a varietal name on commercial seed or rapeseed. Since there is no way to distinguish ordinary rapeseed from the seed of the Echo variety, this provides a loop-hole for unscrupulous growers. The Federal Seeds Act has been changed to prevent the use of a varietal name on commercial seed, but this regulation does not come into effect until July of 1967.

Mr Bratvold, Supervisor of Special Crops, Provincial Field Crops Branch, points out that farmers who wish to buy Echo rapeseed should protect themselves by buying only "Certified" seed. Certified seed provides a guarantee of varietal purity. Moreover, the bag is officially sealed under government supervision and therefore, germination and purity within grade is assured.

EDSON'S YOUNG PEOPLE WARRANT PROPOSED SCHOOL

Our editorial on the School Division tempest in a teapot from the west side and east side of Edson has drawn a good cross section of reaction as can be seen in the letters to the editor in the next column

One thing that should under no circumstance be up for popular debate is the hard fact that there is a sufficient population in the Edson district to warrant the limited vocational school planned. Whether Niton parents want their children to take advantage of this improved education or not should not even be a consideration in deciding whether the school be built.

Edson with its combined head count of the town, Glenwood on the west and the Grande Prairie Trail population has over five thousand population and has the basic 500 high school pupil population to warrant the increased education facility.

If taxes (and we don't admit this) are needed from Hinton or even the Niton area, to run the school, then there is something wrong with the way the revenue is allocated by the foundation program. The greater Edson area is as prosperous and as live wire as any comparable community of its size in this province. People who live in the town are also paying taxes on a par with other towns of the same size. If taxes had to come from a farmer at Niton, say, when they should go to pay the costs of a local Niton school, then we too say that there is something wrong.

But this doesn't seem to be the case from what this editor can find out. The immediate Edson area would seem to be paying its way as far its own school costs are concerned. We did have to dig down to get the construction of the schools at Hinton going when that town was being built up and before the mill or the town itself came fully onto the tax rolls. That day is over and perhaps the mill at Hinton is now paying part of Edson's costs. But Edson earns that by educating the children from the pulp reserves operated by the mill.

We would like to emphasize that the construction costs of the new high school and vocational wing are to be paid by the Federal and Provincial governments. Outside of the land purchase from the town there would appear to be no other capital cost to building the school. The contention that the operating costs would be any different from what they would be if all our children are in continue in school as long as their abilities warrant would seem to be the same in either case.

So far we have not heard anyone say that we shouldn't give the major part of our high school population a chance to get an education that would help fit them for life in this modern world. Academic students who will normally go on to university get their education no matter what type of school we have. The young people who need extra classes get help at present. But the vast majority of our pupils who are not going to university should have a school program that is designed to cater to their abilities.

We lose our university people as they don't come back to live in our community as a general rule, except, of course, those who enter the teaching profession. But surely we want the bulk of our pupils, who ARE going to work and live here to get as much as they can from the educational system.

This is the crux of the problem and thinking citizens should make sure we get this much needed school in our area.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Yes, Edson had been a whipping post for all the school gripes in this area for a long time. It is getting monotonous!

If the Niton people would stop hollering long enough to stop and THINK, they would make more sense

The people in Edson Town have been buttering Niton's bread long enough. The tax payers in Edson pay four times as much taxes on a fifty foot lot, then what those farmers pay for 160 - 640 ACRES.

Furthermore where would they be without the taxes from Edson's industrial areas? You we've been carrying TIGER load and in appreciation we've been constantly criticized and kicked in the teeth for it.

Perhaps their children do have to be bussed some distance to and from school isn't an education worth it? After all they are picked up with a bus. How many of their parents spent just as long going to and from school -WALKING!

Why not let Niton go out on their own. We can certainly do without them BUT can they do without us? and our financial support?

Niton ratepayers read last weeks editorial over carefully and START THINKING.

Curling Club interested in old arena

Why should a building that would cost $100,000 to replace be demolished, is the question I'nat has been a main issue with the Edson Curling Club.

At a meeting held Monday night it was decided that a plan showing proposed alterations of the old arena into a six sheet attractive building would be presented to the Town Council for their consideration.

According to members of the club this would be a self supported project not involving any taxpayers money and would also release the present curling rink property for residential use.

Clubs in attendance were in favour of the proposal and plans are now underway for the renovation.

Marlboro News

Radio has been good to three Marlboro ladies. Christine Plante won $5.00 from Bine Ribbon and $1.00 from another program. Carol Paul won a silver dollar; and Mrs. Edna Warriner won the largest when she received a $100 check from CJCA.

Mrs. Ida Plante fell and has a broken rib and is feeling quite bad.

Mrs. Lovell and Mrs Lambert were Edmonton visitors on Wednesday and Thursday.

A benefit bingo was held for Mrs. White in the hall.

The terrible snow storm on Thursday night and Wednesday stopped everything in Marlboro for a couple of days. This is the first time the school bus has been snowed in. This is the most snow that has fell on Marlboro in many years. All fences are covered and many streets and roads are still blocked. The storm ran out near Obed and was not so heavy in Edson.

G. Coulombe new head of hospital board

Mr. G Coulombe has been elected president of the St. John's Hospital Advisory Board for the coming year. Mr Coulombe takes over the position held by Mr. Al Stanton

Other officers and board members elected were vice president Walter Fowler, secretary Jos Wynne, Directors W. S. Brunelle, A. Stanton, A. Morin and Paul O'Hara.

Presently the board is concerned with the plans for the new hospital which entails viewing various architects drawings, visiting other hospitals, interviews and many time consuming duties.

To the Editor:

BRAVO! Your last week's editorial was terrific! It is time we in Edson stopped back.

Just what is wrong with that Niton bunch? Isn't it about time they started acting like sensible ADULTS rather than a bunch of spoiled brats?

I don't think they are interested in education. If they were they wouldn't be setting the way they are.

Perhaps they would like to go back to the Rural one room school. They seemed to be much happier when they did have kids.

They're not interested in their children getting an education. The most important thing in their minds is to make a big noise and get their own way.

Unless they stop making fools of themselves and their board representative let them go off on their own. It would be good riddance.

Dear Sir:

Recently it was brought to my attention that niche the Bible Society of Canada canvassed Edson last fall (Nov.) nothing was said in the local paper as a thanks and acknowledgement to the people of Edson and also to the canvassers themselves.

At that time each Church canvassed their assigned area and a total of $240.00 was realized It is usually left up to the district secretary to write up a small item and send it into the local press. However at this time there wasn't a district secretary and each church sent in their collected amount. Many thanks how ever go out to the people and canvassers for their efforts.

The Bible Society's work is more challenging then ever before because the demand for the Scriptures from 135 different countries in the world is at an all time history.

One of our priceless treasures is to have the Bible in our own language to be able to read it. For many countries the scriptures were available in only a few languages and it has only been in recent times that the masses have been able to read.

The scriptures have been distributed in over 1200 languages. Through the work of the Bible Society Scriptures appear in an additional language every four weeks. Translations are currently going on in 300 languages in this day and age no one should be denied his right to read the Word of God in his own language.

Thank you kindly.

Dear Sir:

We read with interest your editorial in last weeks paper and wondered if you have been informed of the new tax assessment in this area, we have some home owners here whose assessments have gone up 150% and are now paying the same as Edson home owners without the advantages of sewer, water, sidewalks, police protection, etc.

Now that Hinton's move to withdraw has passed at the School Boards Level, and is pretty well assured, we hope that the board will take another look at the proposed building program. Edson feels that its taxes are high now, and will they try and maintain a vocational wing with all kinds of business machines to equip.

Please Mr Editor don't say the debt on Edson's back is for schools in the East end, when you have had two large new schools built in Edson recently and are contemplating another two large schools, plus another addition to the junior high in Edson. It's been a long time since there was anything new built in the East end although many additions are needed.

With regards to the other comments in your letter we just consider where they come from

Sincerely,
Mrs. Doris Currie

Dear Ed:

Let's get one thing straight — the point stated by D. Kjolland, Sec., Niton Ratepayers is a one sided opinion.

Many of us in Niton are fed up with all this fuss and do not share this opinion.

We who are interested in education are thankful that our children are getting the opportunity to get a better education than what we their parents had. We are not complaining as a few are.

SUCCESS STORIES

These people KNOW that it pays to use Leader classifieds.

Fred Makowecki came into the Leader office last Monday to insert an ad about a car he had for sale. It wasn't long after the Leader came out that Fred began to get inquiries about the car.

On Saturday, Mrs. Makowecki, who was sick in bed, was quite annoyed when she had to get up time after time to report the car was already sold. Three people even drove down from Hinton to see it.

Arnold Bonkenna put in a classified for a fridge for sale. The paper came out Wednesday afternoon and that evening a man phoned from Jasper and took it right unseen. Mr. Bonkenna also had numerous other phone calls about the fridge and said jokingly that he thought he should go into the second hand business.

R. Gulliver had a classified ad in last week's Leader for weaner pigs for sale. Friday morning early a man arrived at the Gulliver farm who took all eleven piglets and spoke for five more when they were able to leave their mother.

Mrs Ben Eldridge put in a classified for assorted baby furniture and sold most of the items by Saturday Mrs. Eldridge said she could have sold five cribs instead of just the one she had She was very happy with the results of a classified she had run a few weeks earlier that sold their house with one insertion

Sun Life has record earnings during 1965

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada had record earnings during 1965, and will increase dividends to participating policyholders in 1966 P. W. Wells Sun Life's area manager in Edson announced following the Companies annual meeting in Montreal. This will be the seventeenth consecutive year in which dividend disbursements have been increased by changes in the dividend scale.

Scales in 1965 amounted to $1,317,135,000 bringing total life insurance in force to $12,333,507,000, up 7.7 per cent over the year. Ordinary life insurance scales increased by 9 per cent to $965,559,000 and group life insurance sales were substantial at $999,726,000.

Health insurance in force, with premiums per annum amounting to $14,999,000, showed an increase of 18.6 per cent

Payments to policyholders, beneficiaries and annuitants during 1965 established a record at $264,065,000.

Assets of the company increased $136,716,000 to $3,975,235,000. The gross rate of interest earned on the assets in the life branch was 5.03 per cent or .22 per cent over the 1964 rate. After adjustment for investment taxes and expenses the net rate of interest earned during 1965 was 5.36 per cent.

As a result of increased earnings, control of expenses and a favorable mortality rate, the company will adjust dividend scales and pay an estimated $60,304,000 to participating policyholders in 1966. This is $5,402,000 more than in 1965.

Major strides were made by the company in the sale of pension plans based on the variable accumulation principle. Funds on deposit for Sun Life Variable Accumulation Fund plans increased during 1965 by $10,215,000 to $51,970,000.

At the annual meeting of the Company in Montreal, Sun Life president Alistair M. Campbell said the business of life insurance has an important part to play in society and the economy and is profoundly affected by changes in them. In particular he mentioned the rapid growth and shifting age ratios in the population, the impact of automation which, because or educational requirements, will tend to increase the age at which workers enter the employment market, the increase in the number of married women in the labor force, and the growth in the rate of family formation. All these present new challenges and opportunities to the life insurance business, Mr. Campbell said.

Outlining the contribution which life insurance has made to the welfare and wellbeing of Canadians, Mr. Campbell commented: "I do not believe there has been a full realization of what life insurance and health insurance have done and are doing and will do to fulfill such a noble objective."

Mr. Campbell referred to the encroachment by public welfare plans on the areas served by life insurance.

"It would be most unfortunate if reliance on public services should hamper individual initiative for protection through life insurance.

"Government participation in the field of pensions, if limited to providing for basic needs of its citizens, leaves those capable of assuming their own responsibilities sufficient opportunity to augment such basic allowances by their own endeavors. The life insurance companies are well equipped to assist this great majority to provide additional retirement income for themselves according to their needs and desires.

"I've could deny, least of all the insurance industry, that every citizen is entitled to comprehensive medical care at costs which are reasonable. There is relatively small portion of the population which is unable to provide such care for itself by means of voluntary, contributory, prepaid insured or doctor-sponsored health insurance plans available in Canada and the United States. With a constantly growing interest and participation by the public in such plans, it is a social responsibility of the insurance industry to continue to do everything it can to provide the needed benefits at a reasonable cost."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Conover on the birth of a daughter, Donna, on Feb. 9th in Edson Hospital.

Bruna Sebastianelli and Sandro Sebastianelli and Edmonton spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Sebastianelli.

Marilyn Giles was home for the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Giles.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Wiennmeyer and family of Jasper were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon last week.

Orval Armstrong has moved his trailer to Edson where he is working for a construction firm.

We have had a terrific fall of snow this past two days, 5 inches measured on the back porch.

The Putman high school bus was only able to get as far as Frank Rea's on Thursday. The engine failed due to snow packing up around it. The students were taken home again in Mrs. Hendersons bus.

A very enjoyable shower was held in the home of Mrs. Fleming on Feb. 12th for Bruna Sebastianelli and Bill Cronin. Thirty seven guests were present. Mrs. Fleming had a table very tastefully decorated with bells and streamers. Bruna and Bill, Susan Williams and Miss Sebastianelli. Mrs. Campbell (Bill's mother) were seated at this table. Bernie and Gwendolyn Roberts carried in a beautifully decorated box containing the gifts. The girls issued up with ribbons. Roberta Williams opened the gifts to the guests, Susan and Bea assisted Bruna and Bill by removing the gifts.

Many lovely gifts were opened. Miss Sebastianelli took Kodak pictures of the event.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess Mrs. Fleming.

Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine is now available, free of charge, to all Albertans who have completed the series of three Salk polio injections. Qualifying adults and children may obtain the treatment from City Health Departments and local Health Units. Also, for the first time, the Sabin Vaccine will be available in areas served by Municipal Nurses, including Fort McMurray, La Crete and Wabasca. Besides protecting against the disease, Sabin oral polio vaccine also prevents a person from carrying the polio virus.

Free Measles Vaccine

Now available to all children in Alberta between the ages of three months and three years, who have not had the disease. The measles vaccine will be given at clinics to be held throughout the province by City Health Departments, Health Units and Municipal Nursing Services.

For these FREE services contact your local city health department, health unit, or municipal nursing services.

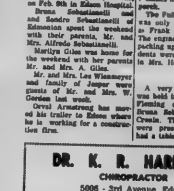
Hon. Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Minister — Dr. M. G. McCallum, Deputy Minister

To be guest speaker at Day of Prayer service



REV JOHN L. TEIBE

Rev. John Teibe, Youth for Christ International Vice-President for Central Asia with headquarters in New Delhi, India, will be a guest in Edson this weekend.

Rev Teibe will speak at the World Day of Prayer service to be held Friday, Feb. 25th at 8 p.m. in the Baptist Church at 4717-9 Ave.

On Saturday the new film "Tashi of Tibet" will be shown in the Jubilee Jr. High School Auditorium.

Rev. Teibe will speak at the Sunday morning service at the Baptist Church and show slides of his work in India. In view of the fact that India is in the grip of a famine with many other problems arising from this situation all who attend will get a first person account of present day life in this densely populated area.

Rev. Teibe, who was raised in this area is a graduate of Bereen Bible College, Calgary. He was a pastor for four years in Western Canada, before he joined YFC1 in 1954.

John and Anne Teibe accepted a call to India with YFC1 arriving in Bombay in 1960. One year later he was appointed all-India director. Before his return to Canada in 1965, Teibe entrusted this responsibility to Indian Nationals leadership. His biggest challenge during the first term of service was being Executive director for the mammoth 15th World Congress for Christian Youth sponsored by YFC1 and held at Madras in Jan., 1964. Over two thousand delegates attended this great youth event.

The public are cordially invited to attend any or all of these meeting.

Around Town

BY GILL OWEN

The members of the Edson Kinsmen Club this past week are busy with their Chinese Raffle on the new '66 Ford. There are only 300 tickets being sold with the proceeds to be used for some of the extras in the new arena. The ticket sale is progressing very favorably and will be drawn as soon as the last ticket is sold. Anyone wishing to see the new car which will be won for gas may do so at at Griffiths Motors Ltd.

Al LaBelle of Marshall Wells has been very concerned over the large shipment of lawn mowers originally with the entire heavy snowfall. His problem he finds has been partially solved as he says the lawn mower does an unbelievable job of replacing the lawn mower, might be very interesting.

Latest rumor from Tri-Service Rodeo Association is that Miss Canada has her agenda scheduled to appear in Edson on her first stop in Canada after conquering for the Miss Universe contest in Florida.

At the old saying goes, "Out of the high rent area to save you money." We had a look at the new improved facilities of Al's Barbeque on 49th Street and 2nd Ave.

Growing with the community and offering a new and needed service to the farmers in the surrounding district, Al Stanton is adding to his many services now available in Edson. One very appropriate service he advertises is the particular time of the year is snowshoe rental.

One recommendation you ought to know about from Johnny at the Blue Jay. Every roof has an edge to shovel the snow off of but not to walk over.

Johnny had a broken arm last year to back up the statement.

Overheard at coffee, "He sure is a clean living fellow he doesn't smoke or drink and seems to think of it, he has a couple of adopted kids."

Toastmistress Speaking

The club year is half over and, as is the ruling of the International Toastmistress Club, our most able executive is retiring and a new executive is taking its place.

By having two executives yearly more girls are able to gain the experience of holding office, and in doing so are able to learn the duties, responsibilities, and procedure of various offices.

Our retiring executive are, President Hazel Rykanes, Vice President Eleanor Monsma; Secretary Bea Berkhuis; Treasurer, Emilee Matis; Program Chairman Emily Pollock. They are to be congratulated and thanked for a job well done. Our meetings have been well organized, smoothly executed and admirably chaired. They also have been interesting, educational, amusing, or emotionally inspiring, but most of all they have been fun.

The meeting themes have ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous, but they have always produced something worthwhile. The variety and scope of our efforts may be seen in this short list of activities: Total Disarmament, a debate; The art of Stage Technique, by Mary Gavin; How Scouting came into Being, by Ivy Jorgenson; Home Never Looked so Good, by Emilie Pollock; Scenarios, by Toni Koebel; Why Can't You be like Her', by Eleanor Monsma; Psychology and Magazines, by Hazel Rykanes.

The best speech of the evening cup was won by Eleanor Monsma, Rita Monsma, Toni Koebel, Lorraine Lanigan, Darlene Maris and Sister Knechtel. It should be noted that Rita and Lorraine won the cup for their most efficient and helpful handling of the role of General Krobutar. Their ability to pick up our errors and omissions and confront us with them, as well as commend us for our strong points was most helpful.

As we go into our second term we are again inviting new members. If you are interested in self improvement in the ability to communicate effectivly give the Toastmis Club a try.

CARD OF THANKS

Sincere thanks are extended to the Sisters and Staff of St. John's Hospital, Dr. Crawford and all our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and floral tributes during our recent bereavement.

BY FERN ICE

Mr. and Mrs Harold Thomas are enjoying a two week holiday in Vancouver at the home of Anne's brother John Lane and family.

Cecelia Gooliesen spent a few minutes at the Ray Thomas home last Sunday. Mrs. Gooliesen has spent the winter with Duke Liebling Ch.

Local trappers tell us they have a feeling the old supply and demand squeeze this winter. Pelts are a fabulous prize at present; for example lynx bring as much as $80, the only trouble seems to be a scarcity of fur bearing animals. That's life fellows. Remember the good old days when every house wife owned a flock of racing homs!

News, that elusive commodity, is coming down with a vengeance in the form of millions of snow flakes. Fences, paths and side roads have disappeared from view. To get where you want to go just don your hip waders, chart your course and charge, full steam ahead you just might make it, sir. Sam.

The milk cow, is dragging her supply tank in the snow this morning as she wends her way to the water trough. Poor old critter. Of course her stay out in the elements is short lived, a drink of water and she returns to her stall. Pity the wage earner. We of the so called weak gender don't suffer as we tend our tootsies by the fire and watch TV but Mr. Man of the family is really earning his sauer kraut and wieners the past several weeks.

Just a thought in passing Once we reach the day and age where a man works a one day week; when our govern ment houses a Leisure Department to guide us to the proper and improved manner of loafing, who is going to sweep and shovel snow from the front walk?

How to relieve BACKACHE

Use Dodd's Kidney Pills and get relief from the terrible backache resulting from disordered kidneys. Soon you feel better, feel better. Don't suffer longer. Do as Dodd's.

WHERE MEN ARE MEN

By JESSIE SHANTZ

You are thinking of going south, how I wish you would I get so fed up hearing about your Bahamas, your Florida and Mexico Let us take a look in on this couple in Florida They get out of bed and there is that same old monotonous sun blazing down, just like all the other days The same old routine the same orange juice on the patio, the same old trip to the beach with the same observerly fat selfies lying all around, pour oil sand on their navels.

This is one pal in Mexico just getting up at 8 30 He has not paid his last years taxes, but he has borrowed fifteen hundred dollars from the bank for his trip He has a hangover from those forty rest drinks and a twisted spine from doing the limbo His wife in the other twin bed, looks like a drug addict, because she has had Mexicos complaint ever since she crossed the border She shines and he growls as they loiter and relax the soggy heat Another horrible day in Acapulco has dawned.

It is not like that around here My alarm wakes me at six and I bounce out of bed while I throttle the clock I start the fire and put on the kettle I reach for the oranges peel them, and slice them all ready to eat. I make the porridge and bess up a tune to let the family know all is well with the cook and it's time to get up I open the door and feed the dog There is a thrill of variety as you prepare for the day Will the sun be shining, a husky blizard howling, or snow falling? Don't tell me about the seductive charms of the languorous southland. Just give me the crisp hard challenge of living where men are men and women are women, where you get them thawed out!

Lions Club shuffleboard installed at Parkland

Lions and their ladies, with guests and representatives of the Legion, the Peers Oldtimers Assoc. and the Civil Service Assoc. gathered in the Commodore Hotel last Tuesday evening for the club's Sweetheart Night.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the shuffleboard by Lion Club committee chairman Dan L'Heureux to representatives of Parkland Lodge. Receiving the board on behalf of the lodge residents were Matron Maude Pryor with the oldest residents of the Parkland, Mrs. Rose Phillips, Mr Delaine and Mr. Clausen Otis.

Following toast, Lion president, Lloyd Bonnett presented Mr L'Heureux with a model shuffleboard. This had been designed and crafted at the Edson Craft Centre by Mrs. H Lueck, yes. from our own Edson unit

Membership chairman Grant Hilton posted out membership awards to Lions, Jack Hogh, Bert Kuiper, Clarence Johnson, Rush Dixon, Murray Grier and Ken Hatlen. These awards were made on behalf of Lions International for the new members brought into the club during the October membership drive

The Lions Club are once again fundraising the Easter Seal campaign for funds in the Edson area. Chairman of the campaign is Bill Ashmead. His assistant is long time Lion supporter Wilf Gosling who has recently come back to Edson after a few years absence

Terms of the Easter Seal drive, which usually runs from March 10th to April 10th, a film entitled "Billy" was shown. This was made possible by the co-operation of Mrs Gerald Mahon and their movie projector. Every attempt will be made to show this to as many groups as possible. The club is most appreciative to Mr Mahon for making this possible

Should you wish to have the film please phone Mr Bill Ashmead at 723-4080 for appointments.

SIGNS OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the party, lovely gifts, cards and good wishes for our Silver Wedding Anniversary. It was a memorable occasion.

Thanks Again Everybody! Your Support is Appreciated

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE that this man is 90 years old as he claims. Mr. Sidney George Lawrence stands rock still on one leg in a stance that most persons much younger could not duplicate. Mr. Lawrence was born in England, spent many years in the army and has farmed 10 miles east of Edson for about 30 years. A few years ago The Leader carried a picture of him kicking over his head as he celebrated an earlier birthday. It hasn't been many years since Mr. Lawrence's mode of travel was a motorcycle on which he was always willing to do a number of daring tricks at a moments notice. With a grin in his eye Mr. Lawrence says he expects to live another 90 years and if he keeps as agile as he is now he just might do it.

Edson Aces and Hinton boys split cage tourney

By MEL SOLTYS

Three local basketball teams were engaged in a round-robin tournament on Tuesday, February 15th held at the Hinton High School Auditorium. The teams included the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces, the Hinton Senior Men and the Hinton High School boys

The teams played two games against one another with the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces winning the two games and losing one. The loss notched the first time this season that the Aces have tasted defeat They now have won eight games.

Their loss came at the hands of the Hinton High School Boys, tournament finals, who defeated Edson 39-19 in the fifth game of the tourney. The Hinton High School Boys finished the evening with two wins and two losers while the Hinton Senior Men recorded one win and three losses

On a basis of a superior for and against average, the Hinton high School Boys finished with a 37.19 count, Edson was a close second with a mark of 32.19 while the Hinton Senior Men posted a 16-37, re

Each game was [illegible] in two eight minute halves which resulted in the overall box scores in the tournament's first encounter, the Hinton Senior Men posted a narrow 34 victory over the high School on the virtue of an eleven point performance by their ace Senior Jim Skolyn

In the next game, Edson represented by the High School 22 20 and polished off the Hinton Senior Men 34 11 in the third game.

In the tournament's fourth draw, the High School Boys trounced their counterparts, the Hinton Senior Men, by a convincing 35-11 margin as Barry Witwicki came up with an eleven point effort for the winners. The High School win set up a crucial match between themselves and the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces.

Edson were minus their top scorer Bob Bell and centre Dennis [illegible] and Bell absence was felt as they went down to defeat by a score of 36 19 The High School at one time in the game led by a margin of 15-4 only to see Edson march to a man-to-man defence and tie the score 15-15 The defensive switch by the Edson Hotel Aces proved costly to Edson in the long run as they appeared to run out of steam after deadlocking the score Hinton High School forward Eric Hansen struck for a big fourteen points to spark the hosts to victory.

The tournament's final game pitted the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces against the Hinton Senior Men and the Aces had little trouble in defeating Hinton for the fourth consecutive time this season to the tune of 36-17

Council asks assessment split if Hinton opts out

Edson Town Council got into the opting out picture as initiated by the Town of Hinton at Council's regular meeting on Tuesday night. Hinton has been asking out of Edson School Division as they consider they can run their schools more effectively on their own.

The motion passed by Edson Council read "With respect to the brief presented by the Town of Hinton requesting the separation of the Town of Hinton, as a school district, from the Edson School Division, it be indicated that the Town of Edson has no objection to the withdrawal provided that the pulp mill is transferred into Improvement District 95, or an equitable distribution of the assessment of the pulp mill is made that will guarantee that the several other municipalities and the improvement districts in the school division will not suffer economically from the withdrawal".

The motion follows one by the School Divisional Board last week asking that should the withdrawal be allowed it should not be detrimental to the rest of the division.

Edson Council justify their point of view in that, while the actual pulp mill is close to the Town of Hinton, it would not be there at all if it were not for the huge forest areas in Improvement District 95 surrounding Hinton and Edson. Edson shares the education of the children connected with the pulp industry with Hinton.

THE EDSON OP-TEEN CLUB MEMBERS have proven time and again that they are a thinking group of teenagers, concerned with the betterment of the community. The latest evidence was the presentation last week of a copy of Websters Third New International Dictionary to the Edson Public Library. With Library Board chairman, Mr. St. D. Meade witnessing the event the dictionary was presented to Librarian Mrs. Eileen Manuel by Op-teen Club president, Glenn Ashmead and Op-teen secretary, Karyle MacDonald. Mr. Meade congratulated the Op-teen members on their foresight in choosing a book of such lasting value as their contribution to the library. The dictionary will not be let out of the library, but will hold a place of honor on the counter where all who need it will have access to it.

H&S convinced school necessary

In conversation with parents attending the Home and School meeting last Wednesday evening in the Jubilee School, it was quite easy to see the panel of speakers had convinced the audience the necessity of the new schools and the importance of voting on March 14th in favor of the plebiscite.

Home and School President Dick Tassii introduced the panel that included Acting Superintendent A. Chiste of the Edson School Division, A. W. Leonard, Trustee of the Edson School Division; Mayor W. R. Brumelle; M. D. Meade, Principal of the Edson High School; M. A. Collin representing the Edson Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Chiste outlined the new proposed vocational school explaining the five various divisions that it would consist of and the improved facilities it would mean for educating our youth.

Subjects covered in the three evenings will include: aim and scope of the course; the threat and weapons effects; EMO organization; Role of emergency welfare services and emergency welfare services organizational; welfare centres, welfare centre areas, mobile teams; emergency feeding; emergency clothing; a discussion on welfare organization, emergency feeding and emergency clothing; "Help for the homeless"; emergency lodging; registration and inquiry; personal services; discussion on emergency lodging, registration and inquiry and person al services.

A special appeal is made to school teachers in Edson to take the course as they would be vitally concerned in the case of disaster. Then again, with their experience in dealing with people in large groups they would be especially called to help with disaster emergencies concerning mind.

The course is not, as many people feel, concerned so much with a national disaster such as nuclear war, as it is with local or provincial disaster. This could include, a mammoth train wreck, explosion at the gas plant, fire or flood.

The point in taking the EMO courses is to learn how to cope rationally and sensibly in an emergency of any sort.

Anyone who is interested in taking the course should telephone Don Hodge at the Medical Centre or Peter Serdiuk at the Town Hall.

Edson boy instrumental in saving seamen's life

An Edson lad, Ordinary Seaman, Weopemaman Surface Rick Sylvester was recently mentioned on ship's orders for his day as having been instrumental in saving the life of a man.

Richard is attached to HMCS Qu'Appelle at Esquimalt. The ship and crew have been engaged in workups in the Straits off Victoria. The incident took place when OS Sylvester was standing watch on Feb. 25th. He spotted a lone diver in the water about 1 and one-half miles south of Albert Head. His report to the OOW and subsequent action led to the rescue of the man.

The diver, from the Coast Guard vessel Cantwell, had entered the water alone, near Race Rocks on Monday afternoon and was swept out into the Straits by the current. He was unable to attract the attention of any ship or boat and spent a cold, lonely night until forenoon drifting until he was spotted and rescued.

A note to the men from the Executive Office followed. "This incident should prove an example to all men who are required to stand watch on lookout. It should convince you of the superiority of the eyeball of an alert lookout over the radar set, in many instances such as this one.

This is the reason you stand watch as lookout, take this duty seriously, the safety of the ship may depend on you one day."

In March the Qu'Appelle will be sailing to San Diego for a month of training and on the way will stop off in Portland, Oregon, for the Rose Festival.

OS Sylvester is the son of Mr and Mrs. Rick Sylvester of Edson

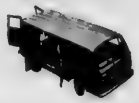
You can see how great Handi-Van is from the back. But the most important thing is on the front.



It's that GMC nameplate that makes the difference. Not the plate itself of course, but what it represents. GMC has a reputation for Engineering Leadership. For instance: realizing most Handi-Vans would be city-operated and subject to road moisture and salt, GMC engineers started at the bottom. Sheet metal is exposed areas is first galvanized, then covered with aluminum paint, phosphated . . . then, after all that, undercoated! No wonder Handi-Van stands up so well under the worst a Canadian winter has to offer. And no wonder GMC has earned that reputation for handiness. When you're thinking vans—think Handi-Van by GMC.

Local students enjoy Varsity Guest Weekend

Approximately 30 grade 12 students, 19 grade 11 and 2 grade ten students took in all or part of the recent Varsity Guest Weekend.

They returned home tired, but with a different idea than most of them had had as to what to look forward to in the next few years. Most of the grade 12's at least came home with the feeling that they would have to dig in and work harder at their studies to prepare them for next year's courses at Varsity.

Although the "touch-in" was very good most out-of-city students could not afford the casins. Farnsworth: Wild Horses of Rainrock, Bush; Rowland War, Swayne

I Wish I Had Duck Feet, Lenski; King, Mice and Cheese, Gurney; Sons of the Arctic, Wilkinson, White Calf, Fredson; Senior Dropout, Summers, Berg's Wildest, Collie; Mystery At Love's Crank, Cavanna, Mouse and the Motorcycle, Cleary; Gentle Ben, Morey; Black Magic White Magic, Jennings, Mystery of the Ancient Idol, Whitney, Caterpillars, McClung; No Lights for Bridleville, Schatz; Big Dog Little Dog, Berg; Mystery of the Green Ghost, Hitchcock; Harold and the Purple Crayon, Johnson; Harold at the North Pole, Johnson; Harold's Fairy Tale, Johnson; Harold's Trip to the Sky, Johnson

time to take it in. There were so many activities going on that most students felt they would miss too much by attending the "touch-in."

The visiting students got a very good aspect of varsity life although the winter exams is not so impressive with its dirty snow. The University buildings show to much better advantage later in the year when the grounds are fresh and green.

The local young people thought highly of U.F. Abner, this season's varsity variety show, and most took in one of the dances on Friday or Saturday evening.

Due to the inclement weather making roads heavy, about half of the local students went in by train. The biggest majority of them took in the Friday and Saturday activities, returning home on Sunday, although a few motored in on Saturday morning

A GOOD VARIETY OF MODELS NOW ON DISPLAY

Short skirts a nightmare?

A friend of ours was parked in front of a local hotel while waiting for her son to run an errand. The time spent proved more entertaining and hilarious than a television show. She and her husband were watching the passers-by when a man, much the worse for consuming too much fire water, came weaving out of the hotel. He got as far as the top step where he sat down, put his head in his hands and sat contemplating whatever people in this condition contemplate.

Now there appeared on the scene a real a go-go type of teenager, wearing high heels and a well above the knees tight skirt. From where the man sat on the top step the bottom of the skirt was just about eye level with his tired, blurry eyes.

Hearing the click of high heels he looked up. An incredulous look crossed his befuddled face, he shuddered, rubbed his eyes, shook his head in disbelief then covered his face as if it were too much. So if it were too much.

In spite of what the fashion designers push as the latest thing it would appear from this reaction, at least, that to some people short skirts are in the same class as pink elephants.

Audience Convinced

He pointed out the modern methods that would be used in each class commencing with the commercial department, library, science, industrial arts and the gymnasium.

Mr. Chiste drew the audience attention to the fact if they heard the school would be having carpets on the floors, not to be alarmed as a new carpeting has been put on the market which enables lower maintenance costs. It is being considered from this point of view.

COST FACTOR

Mr. A. W. Leonard dealt mainly on the cost factor explaining the proportions paid by the Federal and Provincial governments.

The federal government will pay 34.1% of the building which covers the vocational part of the school. The provincial government contributes $16.60 per square foot for the balance of the building.

MAYOR'S VIEWPOINT

Mayor W. R. Brunelle expressed his concern very clearly as to what the situation would be if this school should not be built at this time.

He stressed the cost of sending our children to out of town schools, what happens to dropouts when some type of vocational training is not available.

He mentioned the inconvenience of the children being housed long distances, but pointed out to the audience, how this was still better than having to walk several miles to school as many parents had to do or take schooling by correspondence.

One main point Mr. Brunelle stated was the improved standards of education that could be passed on to our children with the new school.

He spoke from the experience of sending some of his children to an Edmonton school with the cost of $100 per month and said he would not wish it on anyone when the same facilities could be had right in locally.

CROWDED SCHOOLS

Mr. Meade explained the percentage of increase of students over the past three years and showed the increase in van students alone has jumped by 5% each year with the 1965 proportion of van students totalling 49%.

In the past year with the unavailability of a shop and home economics teacher, two classrooms were made available which helped to relieve some of the congestion.

The large number of students in this years junior high school will certainly add to the confusion for the coming year unless plans are put into motion immediately, urged Mr. [illegible]

Mr. Topott introduced Mr. Collin as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce who complimented the previous speakers on their fine outlies of the situation.

A series of questions followed. One very important point was unveiled that many people did not seem to realize. This was that any out of town student is eligible for a living allowance from the School Division for $35.00 per month providing they come from an area where no present organized school exists.

In summing up the evening Mr. Topott pointed out that on the March 14th plebiscite the taxpayers would also be voting on other school buildings and additions as well.

Included in this are an addition to the Hinton High School and an elementary school in Hinton, an addition to the Jubilee Junior High School and an elementary school in Edson.

When Mr. Topott was asked what the Home and School Association were doing to encourage a favorable plebiscite the question was referred to Mr Gerald Mahon.

Mr. Mahon explained how he had discussed the situation with residents in both the western and eastern areas of the division and assured the gathering that the majority of the people realized the need for the schools. He felt they would not jeopardize the education of the children by not voting YES on the ballot.

Around Town

BY BILL OWEN

This week we are pleased to see Armand Lord back at his desk at the Edson Motor Company after a serious operation.

On inquiring how he felt on Monday morning, he claims he was in better condition than some of the curlers around town.

It was a pleasure talking to some of the old Edsonites over the weekend who had returned for the bonspiel.

Bart and Ann Davidge enjoyed seeing Edson again, as Bart was curling with John Walker, Norm Graden and Harold Gold With the exception of Norm, these other members of the rink have been Past Presidents of the Edson region and very well known in our community. Sorry to say it didn't help them get into the prizes.

It was a great pleasure to see Mr. George Hewitt throwing the opening rock at the bonspiel which he has done so well for so many years.

Curlers from out of town wasted no words on congratulating the curling club executive for their hospitality at the Saturday morning breakfast and in fact the whole show.

Mrs. Paul Sebryk commenting on the weather around Edson says it doesn't compare with the heavy wet snow that they had at the coast when Mr and Mrs Sebryk were visiting there last month.

It may be hard to believe but we had more snowfall in January than Feb. with 35.6 inches in comparison to 12.5 inches for Feb. I guess we notice it more when it comes in big chunks.

Mr. Rocky Maise, well known former Edsonite, spend a few hours in town on Saturday renewing a few friendships.

Today we are very thankful for the driver who drove through the stop sign and missed us and it reminds me of a poem a friend has posted in his car.

This is the story of Michael O'Day,
Who died while trying to maintain the right of way.
His way was clear and his will was strong,
But he was just as dead as though he were wrong.

Edson Division Teachers Attend Math Institute

Approximately 90 teachers of grades four through nine in the Edson School Division attended a one-day math institute on Feb 22nd at the Jubilee Junior High School

Main consultant for the day was Mrs. Joan Kirkpatrick, Elementary Math. Consultant for the Edmonton elementary schools and Secretary-treasurer of the Mathematics Specialist's Council for Alberta. Mr. A. Jorgenson, Principal of the Jubilee Junior High School, was chairman for the institute.

In her discussion Mrs. Kirkpatrick dealt with the problems of problem solving, set relations, basic concepts, symbolization, and skill development.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Superintendent Chiste both emphasized the need for in-service training of this sort and went on to encourage teachers of mathematics to attend the short course in mathematics which is being offered by the University of Alberta in Edmonton this summer.

Following the lunch which was supplied by the School Division Board in lieu of transportation, the teachers divided into smaller groups for mutual discussion of classroom problems which arose in the presentation of the new mathematics.

Most teachers felt that these discussions and Mrs. Kirkpatrick's presentation would aid them considerably in their efforts to make mathematics a more rewarding subject for children at every grade level.

Two cowboys met for the first time at a bar and by way of introduction, one of them said, "Just call me Tex."

"You from Texas?" the other cowboy asked.

"Nope," said the other, "I'm from Maryland, but who wants to be called Mary?"

On The Main Drag

Mr. Alphonse Rouillard was going around this week with his hand wrapped up after having lost the ends of two fingers in a recent accident at the new arena site.

The warm weather brings out all kinds of people to linger in the sunshine. Persons who have been hurrying to their destinations to escape the cold and snow now pause to window shop along the Main Drag.

Parallel parking was a must along the Main Drag a couple of weeks ago 16 or so inches of snow that fell. This consigned with a hip high pile of snow in the centre of the street slowed traffic and also slowed snow removal operations. The wise motorist left their cars at home and enjoyed the walk in the snow and also had a laugh on members with their cars stuck along the curb.

The middle of the street snow was piled so high in fact that one lady we know was unable to get over it and called a taxi to get her to her place of business on the other side of the Main Drag.

With the return to warm weather and melting snow the most common sight in town was home and business owners cleaning the load of wet white stuff off their roofs.

Drastem News

Mrs. S. Fossblem and Mrs E. Maurer returned home Friday from a very enjoyable tour provided by the FUA. The tour was changed to Vancouver and Seattle and other points west, and not to Otis as originally planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Fossblem have their niece Mrs. Dene Moore and girls of Cochrane visiting with them for awhile.

There was a very poor attendance at the Drastem Community Club meeting on Wednesday night. Come on folks, lets show a little more community spirit and get out to these meetings.

The whist party at Drastem on Saturday evening proved quite successful. Winners were as follows: Ladies first, Mrs. Bill Paschak, ladies second, Mrs. A. Stevens; mens first, Mr. Ed Bodnar; mens second, Mr. Mike Jakubow. Lunch was donated and served by the ladies of the district. The next whist party will be held on March 26th.

There will be a dance in the North Rossevay Hall on Saturday, March 5th sponsored by the Rossevay FUA.

We see that the M. Johnson's are driving a new International half-ton, happy motoring folks!

Cubs and Scouts

The Group Committee would like to express their sincere thanks to all those who supported the Cubs and Scouts on their semi-annual Night both sale on Friday evening. A special thanks to mothers and fathers, who came out with their cars to take the boys around town. It was a very successful sale.

The next Group Committee meeting will be held at the home of Mr. J. B. Potter on Friday March 11th at 8.

Cub Training Course to be held at the A. H. Dahin School on Tuesday, March 15th at 8. We would like to see more people attending this course.

Letter to Editor

Dear Mr. Caston:

Thought I'd better let you know our change of address, otherwise we'll miss out on our "Leader" and that would never do, must keep up on the "goings on" back home.

We have settled down nicely and enjoy this weather (two weeks of winter).

We have snowdrops in bloom in the garden and the daffodils and tulips are up above the ground.

New address is,
248 W 18th North
Vancouver, B.C.
Sincerely,
May Jenkins

REST IN PEACE

In loving memory of my dear husband, Wally Anthow, who passed away March 3rd, 1965.

I miss you more than ever
At this time of year;
But I know you are watching
Over the ones you loved so dear;

It's such a helpless feeling,
When there is nothing I can do

To bring back all the yesterdays,
That were so filled with you.

You left me so suddenly,
Your last thoughts unknown
But you left me a memory,
That I am proud to own.

Ever remembered by his loving wife Shirley and baby

HOME, SWEET HOME

A six year old was motoring to Western Canada with his family. The weather had been bad, the travelling rough. After a particularly hard day they stopped in a town in rocky Northern Ontario, took the only available hotel rooms and sank wearily into their hard beds. Immediately the silence was broken by the six year old.

"Mommy", he wailed, "why don't we just go back to Alberta and live happily ever after?"

CAPITOL REPORT

NEW LT. GOVERNOR READS THRONE SPEECH

BY JOHN WARREN

The newest thing about the Throne Speech opening the third session of the 12th Alberta legislature was the man who read it, Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan. He was as new, in fact, that the ushers didn't have time to make a vice-regal uniform to fit his six-foot, three-inch frame and the former Calgary Mayor read the speech garbed in a morning suit.

Although the main items of legislation to be dealt with had already been outlined by Premier Manning, the complete speech gave added emphasis to certain areas of activity. Agriculture came in for more than its normal share or attention. Included are measures to establish an agricultural research trust to increase financial aid to that department at the University. The promised Livestock Dealers' Insurance Fund and an extension of the crop insurance plan (installing compensation for those who lose animals to carelesshunters) figured prominently in the list of proposed legislation.

Extension of the community development program to help residents of marginal and under privileged areas was promised. And the long term water conservation program for agriculture, industry and recreation was outlined with a promise that money would be sought to get it started this year.

There was a definitely protective tone in much of the planned legislation. One bill for instance, would protect Albertans against hard sell door to door salesmen. It would provide a "cooling off" period before contracts signed with such salesmen become legal.

Another would extend the services available under the Alberta Medical Plan (prescription drugs for instance). An increase in subsidization of medical insurance premiums for low-income groups was also promised.

And a long discussed code of human rights will be introduced "to ensure respect for human rights regardless of race, color or creed."

The $8 government members and four opposition spokesmen will also be asked to appoint an special committee to enquire into auto insurance. The move is in response to complaints about the 15 per cent boost in premiums in less than a year.

The speech also forecast a safety-testing program for motor vehicles and a highway reconstruction program that will provide for a secondary road grade through the province. Pensions, welfare, the university, adoption, Sunday sport, home owner grants and a variety of other subjects will be dealt with during the session.

The program appeared to be a thorough one. It answered many of the demands Alberta residents have made in the last few years, and it left the opposition little to shoot at.

Bill Dickie, Calgary's M.L.A. suggested revisions in the proposed home owner assistance to give "new help to young couples. ...and he said the car insurance committee was just a move to get highway Minister Gordon Taylor off the hook for not taking action earlier.

He said most of the good ideas were stolen from the Liberals while the government itself did little more than propose increased spending in various departments to carry out the programs.

Tory leader Peter Lougheed was in the spectators gallery, wishing he were on the floor of the house. But in interviews the next day he said he was disappointed in the government's legislative proposals.

He said the government failed to plan for an automated, industrialized Alberta in which small towns will die in the 1970's if they are not helped.

Other opposition spokesmen described it as "a speech of complacency" and a "milk and honey" speech

Government and opposition alike agreed that it contained a lot of material. And most of them felt it would take more than seven weeks to deal with.

Robin Hood initiated the first war on poverty. And yet, the suspicion lingers that the real reason he robbed only the rich was that they were the ones with the money.

Imagination was given to man to compensate him for what he is not and a sense of humor was provided to console him for what he is

Variety is the spice in 1966 shoe fashions

Fashion goes where the action is this spring — to the feet.

Short skirts put new emphasis on shoes and in particular on correct heelheights with everything a woman wears. Though the new season's shoe story can be summed up in one dynamic word, 'young', this is young with a difference.

"There's no age barrier to the new look whose silhouette is light and low," said Hal cohn C' Knox, speaking for the footwear industry.

Mr. Knox led off by answering some pertinent questions regarding shoe styling for spring, such as: "How young is young? How round the toe? How low the heel? How have the feet in '66?"

To the first he said that regardless of age, the woman who is young in spirit, cannot help but find the new shoes to her liking, and referred to the great diversity in heel heights and shapes; fashionably rounded toes; the basic look that shows more toe cleavage; opened up pumps, slings and sandals carrying innumerable strap treatments, ties that are both functional and decorative.

As to "how round is round" he reflected that toes have become progressively broader, more flattened, or brushed off in shape until this spring the current level of roundedness will run from "28 cents plus" on 3¼ inch heels for more formal or dress-up occasions, to advor dollar proportions on chunky lower heels.

"Taller or stp...ed toes are accepted lasts for the new season," Mr. Knox said. Open lines are just beginning to march back into the picture.

He commented that though the heel is taking on a chunkier look, the front of the shoe remains light, graceful and very feminine. Fashion interest is on lower heights in all categories and these tend to balance the broader toes. The collection of spring '66 heel shapes makes fascinating reading. As with heights, variety seems endless and includes the straight, the museum, block, Louis, umbrella, the chunky, the stacked (no less than 3 inch heights) to quote only eight among many.

As to silhouette, straps dominate new styling. You'll see them everywhere in every possible area of the shoe. ... ed, doubled, tripled — instep to ankle. Functional ties, fashionably styled, as well as shoes with imitation tie treatments are important in the spring picture.

The great styling variety goes to pumps, slings and sandals, emphasizes the bare look. Cutwork portholes open ings, perforations, lower sides and topliner, shelled out threads that reveal, cause toe cleavage, all innovations in the very open effects. Slings and sandals give pumps a run for popularity.

The very soft, flexible shoe is Fashion's darling. This softness is reflected in the kid and

Jubilee schedules busy Education Week

Jubilee students and staff are looking forward to another Unforgettable Education Week during March 7 to 11. Several special events are scheduled.

On Wednesday afternoon, of the March 9th, parents are again invited to come into the classrooms to watch classes as they are being taught. Doors will be left open and extra chairs will be provided at the rear of the room. Since parent teachers' conferences are scheduled wherever the need or inclination arises throughout the year, Jubilee will have no special conference day during Education Week.

Mr Meade, Principal of the Edson High School, will come to Jubilee to address the grade nine students concerning what they can expect in high school.

A student variety show will climax the week on Friday afternoon. Auditions will be held earlier in the week.

Students' Council will also be seeking the will of the students on proposed council constitutional changes. Debating and voting will both take place during Education Week.

Along with all this and classes as usual, the operetta cast and stage helpers will be continuing their work and practices. Plans are being built, costumes are being sewed, and rehearsals are being held during noon hours and after school nearly every day.

Teachers and cast members are putting in many hours of extra time to assure the public an excellent evening of entertainment on March 30, 31 or 32nd.

A large exhibition of art is now on display in the Jubilee Junior High School Library. Everyone is invited to view the paintings from 3:40 to 4:30 p.m. daily.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES TYMCHUK AND WEDDING PARTY

A very pretty wedding of interest to Edson and district was held in St. Barbara's Cathedral in Edmonton on Jan. 29 at 1 p.m. Following the ceremony the wedding party travelled back to Edson for a reception in the IOOF Hall.

The bride gown was floor length with a bouffant skirt of white lace and nylon over taffeta. Jewelled sheer nylon rounded out the sweetheart neckline. The V waistline accentuated the lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a tiny jewelled crown which matched the jewelled neckline of the gown. A heart shaped gold watch, gift of the groom, was

Hawks split weekend pair with Wetaskiwin

By IVOR FOSTER

Superior net-minding from Hinton goal tender Bill Wirth good solid defensive work from the likes of Joe Passmaree and an off again on again offense helped the Hinton Hawks gain a 7 - 6 decision over the Wetaskiwin Colonels on Saturday night

Not so lucky on Sunday, the Hawks were roundly clobbered 12 - 3 by a much aroused and clearly superior (that day at least) Colonels squad.

Saturday's game was obviously a good one from the spectators point of view but the score in the game was not a real indication of the play For a great part of the game Hinton carried the play and it was only defensive lapses and many missed scoring chances that served to keep the score close to the very end of the game

Vickers picked up three goals, his second hat-trick of the year to lead the Hinton scoring on Saturday Maine scored twice and Ishiw and Gamache each scored once to finish the scoring for the night

Scoring for Wetaskiwin were Fontayne and Stevar with two each and Greene and Marchenski with one apiece

Referee John Hickey and Linesman Bill Stroud banished 5 players to the sin bin during the course of the evenings action.

The three stars of the game were announced by the Alpine Coffee House and were picked by Ed Malinski Ed picked Stu Vickers as the first star followed by Dale Fontayne of Wetaskiwin and Reef Gamache of the Hawks

A DIFFERENT STORY

Sunday the Wetaskiwin Colonels came to play hockey and play they did. Taking advantage of at times plain sloppy play on the part of the Hawks, the Colonels poured in 12 1st and 3rd period goals to beat the Hawks 12 - 3

At 4:06 after a number of mild scrambles around the Colonels net, Vickers dumped in his 4th goal of the weekend and it seemed at the time that Hinton was ready roll and run away.

The play continued with Hinton dominating but unable to score on good tender Allie Mann of the Colonels

Gradually the play in the game shifted to the Colonels and at the end of the first they were leading 5 - 1 Two of those goals coming off tremendous bomb in a slap shots from outside the blue line by Fontayne and Greene.

In the second period, both teams ran into trouble commuting from Hinton goal tender Bjornson and his Wetaskiwin counterpart Mann, and were kept scoreless. The second period would probably rate as the best the fans have seen this season. The action was fast paced and as I mentioned already, the net mind ing had been on their feet almost all the time

The third period was a disaster and the Hawks already crippled with injuries had to face yet another with the loss of Gamache who pulled a muscle already aggravated the night before.

Playing shorthanded with some players doing double duty the Colonels only tiring Hawks were unable to watch or the resulting 9 goal barrage and went down to defeat 12 - 3

The two Hinton goals in the third period were scored by Maine at 9:29 and Ishiw with less than a minute to go. The last goal caught the goalie out of position, WAY out of position, up near the blue attempting to clear the puck and land a little comic relief to an already sad situation.

At this time I would like to say a word in defense of Ron Bjornsons 14 goal net mind ing effort That's just what it was, an effort Bill Wirth had it figured when he said in the dressing room after and I quote, "Man, I'm glad I was not out there", unquote The Colonels sharp play around the Hinton net and defensive lapses from an inexperienced Hinton squad led to at least 7 goals that no one could have stopped.

Ironically enough, it takes a 14 1 loss for people to appreciate the outstanding play of defenseman Joe Passmaree, who received second star recognition for his efforts, and Ross Powell whose bouncing slap shot was never quite lucky enough to find its way into the Colonels net

At various times in both games over the weekend Powell and Passmaree were carry ing the brunt of the attack and the defense for the Hawks and were certainly worth all the applause they received.

The three stars as selected by Les Old and Verly Bolgiwik were Hubber for the Colonels Passmaree of the Hawks and Schaefer of the Colonels The three stars selection was sponsored by Hinton Hardware and Appliances

Thanks to all this week

Next weekend we have Edmonton City Police or the Wetaskiwin Merner's At press time it is not known an watch for the posters

THE MEN'S BONSPIEL wouldn't be officially opened it seems without Mr. George Hewitt casting the first rock down the ice. Mr. Hewitt, who celebrated his 87th birthday on February 22, is a long time curler, although he hasn't skipped a rink now for the last number of years. However, he was over at the rink as usual to watch some of the bonspiel curling. He was made life time member of the Edson Curling Club a few years ago, as was Mr. Harvey A. Switzer, another long time Edson curler.

Edson bonspielers keep curling trophies at home

The Edson Curling Club locked a total of 48 local and out of town rinks at their very successful bonspiel last weekend Probably the highlights of the spiel, other than the presentation of prizes was the western breakfast on Saturday morning and the banquet Sunday evening.

The eye-opener breakfast, the first held in a Edson curling spiel, took place in the Edson Motor Hotel from 7 to 9 30 a.m It gave curlers the opportunity to start the day well fortified against the day long curling as well as giving every one a chance to get acquainted with out of town curlers.

The banquet was held this year in the basement of the Sacred Heart Church. The C.W.L. ladies provided a delicious roast beef dinner that got plenty of favorable comment from the curlers.

Interest mounted high towards Sunday evening as the 2's and 4's were reached. There was a crowd of behind the-glass curlers giving advice to the skips on the participating rinks. It is a good thing that the skips can't hear all the advice given them or the outcome of the games would surely be different.

When the smoke of battle had cleared the Commodore Hotel Trophy, emblematic of Grand Challenge supremacy, was awarded to Maury Wigelsworth and his foursome. They defeated the Glenn Schultz rink to take the trophy and generous first prize.

Third place winners in the Grand Challenge event was Red Strauh and his school boy rink. Fourth place was the rink skipped by Larry Ellerwood.

Second event winners for the Edson Motor Co. Ltd. Trophy was the rink skipped by Gary Mahon who defeated Al Grant. Ivan Walker of Jasper, one of two outside winners in the spiel, was third position while fourth place went to Albert Taylor.

The Ed Lyons rink defeated Lee Burnett of Jasper to win the third event and the Mahon Electric Trophy. Skip Lyons was called out of town during the bonspiel and the final game was skipped by his third, Gordon Welch. Third place in this event went to Leo Kochel and fourth place to Lloyd Bossert

The Josh Woywitka rink skipped by Barry Smith were presented with the Edson Hardware Trophy after they defeated the John Pysar rink. Jim Oliver was third in this final event while Bill Lohner came in for fourth place prize

Apologies are extended to the Imperial Bank of Commerce and E. Geimel and Son who were inadvertantly omitted from the list of bonspiel prize donors carried in a Curling Club advertisment in last weeks Leader

Town in good shape ratepayers complacent

Mayor W. R. Brunelle in calling the meeting to order, thanked those few citizens present for turning out to hear the report of Council on its stewardship of the Town for 1965 at the annual meeting of electors in the Legion Hall Monday. Mayor Brunelle pointed to the surplus in operations account as against the budgeted deficit, that had resulted from an unanticipated increment in some revenue items and the cancellation and cut-back of some items of expenditure.

It had, generally, been a favorable year with building permits close to one million and the population neighboring 4000 people.

The Town had a well balanced and diligent Council and good administration and he urged electors to attend Council meetings. He commented that it would appear that the lack of interest in the Annual meeting was an indication that the citizens were apparently satisfied.

Mayor Brunelle read the Municipal Inspector's Report, dated November 24th, 1965, commenting on the indicated satisfactory condition of Town affairs.

The Town Manager report ed on the financial statement, ing particularly with those items of revenue that had ex ceeded the sum budgeted for and which resulted in a total revenue of $508,281.13 as compared with budgeted sum of $487,200.00 — most of the increase being in the area of licenses, permits, fines and wa ter surplus. The actual ex penditures were $17,000 less than the budged sum, largely as a result of a curtailment of capital work and the setting over of the re-pint of Area C

Councillor Meade reported for the Works Committee on behalf of Councillor Kuether.

CAPITAL PROGRAM

The capital walk construction, commenced in 1964, was completed in 1965 Bylaw No. 1080, providing for the construction of an extension to the storm sewer system at an estimated cost of $62,600 was passed, however the lowest tender received with respect to the project brought the total cost to $83,000. It is proposed to call tenders again in the spring of 1966 in the hope that they might come within the estimate.

ROADWORKS

In the developed section of Town roadwork was mainly confined to the extension and maintenance of the present oiled streets. Six blocks were oiled for the first time and a further 25 blocks were maintained. Virtually all residential streets have now been treated with asphalt. The number of blocks now treated stands at 94. Since the inception of the program in 1958 the cost has been approximately $130,000. Annual maintenance costs to existing oiled streets now run at approximately $10,000.

Road and alley construction was carried out in the new subdivision (S4317 M.C. and 4393 M.C.). In 4317 M.C. 9th Avenue is ready for final shaping and oiling. In 4393 M.C. roadwork is well ahead of development and streets can be oiled as and when required. A stepped up alley maintenance program was carried out in 1965. 26 blocks were reshaped and gravelled.

Mrs. McIlvaire defeated the rink skipped by Mollie Strubel and made up of Pat Bednar, Mary Koger and Chatti McEachern. The ladies held a very successful and enjoyable banquet. Part of the enjoyment came from the delicious supper in the Legion Hall which was prepared, served and cleaned up after by the men of the Legion Branch.

B EVENT WINNERS in the Legion Auxiliary banquet was the rink skipped by Daisy Pompiet with Joan Taylor, Barbara Brown and Elsa Serdiuk. They defeated the Judy Owens rink which was comprised of Dorothy McIntosh, Mary Shuchinsky and Jean McMillan. Auxiliary president, Mrs. Steve Craddock, at left, made the presentations in the Legion Hall, following the banquet. Speaking briefly to the gathering Zone Commander Steve Craddock told the ladies the Edson Branch had started something new four years ago with their local closed rink. Other branches have followed suit and found it fun. It is hoped next year to hold a closed mixed spiel here for the first time.

Education Week Plans at Evergreen School

Education week officially began this Monday March 7. To observe the occasion the Evergreen Elementary School has planned a number of educational tours.

The Grade 1 classes of Mrs. Hale, Mrs Gemawka, Mrs Kerkiwich and Mrs Drumm plan to visit the Edson Public Library on Monday afternoon while the grade 2 classes of Mrs. Hergeron, Mrs. Harrison and Miss Levchenko, will tour the Post Office and the Midtown Bakery. Three grade 3 classes of Miss Deck, Miss Thakker and Mr. Tate are to visit the Edson Leader premises to learn about the newspaper business.

The pupils of Mrs. Weaver's grade 4 class have been working like busy beavers on their school newspaper project. Pupils from the other classes are submitting material for the publication.

On Wednesday, March 9th parent-teacher interviews will give the parents another chance to meet the teachers and to discuss the progress of the pupils.

Underneath are essays written by grade 4 pupils on why they want a good education:

By Douglas Wiegand, grade 4

WHY I WANT A GOOD EDUCATION

When I grow up I want to be an architect. A good architect must write and speak well so he can explain his plans. An architect must know his arithemetic in order to figure the cost of the materials he plans to use.

Another thing he must know is science because this will teach him about the construction materials that he will recommend for his plans. A good education will help me to answer all the questions that I am asked.

When my job hours are over, I want to be able to do something enjoyable like swimming, reading, drawing and other fun things.

By Loraine Shumeluk grade 4

I WANT A GOOD EDUCATION

A person with a good education has many more chances in life than an uneducated person. It broadens the mind and makes us more understanding where otherwise we would be selfish and ignorant.

We become acquainted with the problems and lives of people in other countries bringing the people of the world closer to each other.

Jobs of the educated are much easier than the jobs of the uneducated and are higher paid. On the whole education opens to us a world of books, art, beauty and many, many more things we would not be able to enjoy.

Niton ratepayers ask "What is the answer?"

Many interested ratepayers of the Eastern end of the Edson School Division attended the annual meetings held last week at Niton and Evansburg.

The proposed centralization plans for the Eastern end of the Edson School Division were discussed at these meetings. Many people left these meetings with a feeling of complete bewilderment as to what was best for the future of their children.

The Edson School Board tells us that they propose to put a central school somewhere in the Eastern end of the Division, preferably Wildwood.

We were told that this would be a large high school and fully equipped. How large a high school can be obtained when there is only one hundred and five students at Evansburg and fifty-five students attending Niton at present?

It would be more desirable for approximately thirty-five of the Niton students due to distance to go west to Edson if there was a division line made at Niton.

With the projected enrollment increase this would only leave the East end high school with an enrollment of around one hundred and fifty-five students for the year 1967.

This is still considered a small high school according to the Bowney Report on "Small High Schools in Alberta" and could only offer a good matriculation program with the optional being of low value.

The Edson School Board proposes to put Industrial Arts and Home Economics in the Eastern High School. The junior high students of Niton and Evansburg would receive on benefit. From this because it is felt that the people who want the home for these schools would not permit the whole high school at Evansburg to be abandoned and 9 classrooms left vacant at Niton which would be the case if they centralize junior and senior high school in the Eastern end.

Since these loans are granted according to the pupil enrollment and this determines the size of the school is square feet many people were left wondering if would be much larger than the high schools already established at Niton and Evansburg.

In this proposed school going to give any real benefits to the children or are they only going to get longer bus rides, shorter noon hours and very little extra-curricular activities?

Wouldn't it be better to great Industrial Arts and Home Economics to Evansburg and Niton schools plus some needed additions than go to the expense of another high school.

Wildwood which is only ten miles from Evensburg could send their junior high students to Evansburg for their Industrial Arts and Home Economics classes as was done in the past.

Most people in the Eastern end have received their new assessment. According to the Edson School Board it doesn't cost anything of the taxpayers to build these schools and only a small amount to maintain them.

Do you the ratepayers really believe this to be true? Is it wise to spend money for unnecessary facilities that might even be a burden to many children as well as ratepayers.

Mr. McArthur reported on the activities of the Agricultural service boards. He said there had been a decrease in the use of fertilizer and in effective weed control last year due to the excessively wet season. There had been increased Brucellosis inoculations indicated a rise in the cattle population of this area.

He asked that the fox board and toad flax be watched for. A soil sterilant should be used for toad flax control. Septic tank forms were still available for rent to farmers for $10; a refund of $10 is given if the form is returned in good condition. Fishermans are available for delivering cattle.

An over-all report on in the 1966 mill rate of 12 mills. The discontinuance of the early payment discount caused late payments and a deficit at the end of 1965.

The same owner discount of $50 will apply to farm houses also and will only apply on 1966 and future taxes, not on arrears. If the taxes are less than $50 the house owner pays is $1 with his claim. the government pays the municipality.

The next order of business was the election of two Advisory Council members. C. E. White was returned for District 1 and J. Fairbairn for Division 2 by acclamation.

The tour had been conducted for 130 Canadian and American personnel associated with education in North America.

Dr Bargen commented on each slide in an unbiased manner leaving the decision of comparison of educational methods and facilities to the large audience

Mr. Arthur Jorgenson, President of the Edson ATA, thanked Dr. Bargen and expressed the feeling of the audience who really enjoyed having the opportunity of seeing how people in other countries live.

At the banquet held earlier in the evening at the Edson Motor Hotel, Chairman Ted Yeomans, President of the Edson sub local ATA, introduced the head table which consisted of Mrs. Horne, Secretary of the ATA, Mrs Yeomans, Mr. Chiste, Superintendent of the Edson School Division, Mr. and Mrs. A. Town in good shape ratepayers complacent this rate would vastly improve the alley system and from a study of requests and complaints received at the Town office, it appears this is one of the improvements taxpayers are now expecting. The winter of 1964-65 saw the big cost snowfall in a number of years and this was reflected in higher spending in the labor and equipment hire fields.

WINTER WORKS

The 1965-66 Winter Works program calls for the cutting out of roadways and the drainage thinning out of all bush in Area C west of 51st Street.

EQUIP

This year proved one of the best for updating works equipment. The following equipment was purchased: one Wayne sweeper, new, $12,002 (over 2 years), one tan truck, new, $3,314 (rebuilt, one backhoe loader new, $6,600 (rebuilt with trade); one loader, secondhand, 2 (bb) ser 2 years)

The equipment level is now generally large enough for all present purposes. Trucks are still generally over-aged but it should not be too difficult from now on to replace the older units by purchasing a replacement vehicle annually.

Councillor Meade next read the report of the Building, By-Laws and Plans Committee showing that

46 Permits were issued in 1965 for buildings to value of $963,837 including 42 new single dwellings $39,000 ... 37 residential additions alterations $4,982. 1 eleven unit apartment $3,000, four 4 plex units $20,000

Two commercial retail $6,000; 1 commercial alter & add $40,450; 1 industrial 4,000. 1 institutional $500.

BY-LAWS

Twenty four were passed in 1965, including two regulatory plus four money by-laws. The new Traffic by law was a major project, bringing conditions up to date and regularizing the traffic control signs.

DEVELOPMENT AND PLANS

Forty parcels of land were sold in 1965. There are 94 undeveloped and serviced residential lots remaining in the two replot areas in the east end of town. Area "C", lying in the north-west area of Town, is being cleared and will be replotted in the spring of 1966, this will provide approximately 130 residential lots

Councillor Meade commended the members of the Development Appeal Board re marking that their duties, thus far, had been very light.

The Edson Public Library was very substantially patronized in 1965 and giving an effective service. The requisition for the Town in 1965 being $4,300

Councillor Bisette reported for the Health and Welfare Committee indicating an increase in sewer services from 813 in 1963 to 888 in 1965, with a revenue increase from $23,202.66 in 1963 to $25,433.94 in 1965. The operating costs in 1965 were $6,580.70 and the annual debenture costs $20,274.52. The Lagoon and sewage collection system operated satisfactorily in 1965. Services were extended under the capital program, to the area north of 8th Avenue in Plan 4517 M.C. Town foster laid two minor extensions in 1965,837, including 42 new serviced seven services.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

A steady schedule of early new pick-ups was maintained through 1965. The growth of the Town is reflected in 1965 costs at $12,467.20.

The Town Dump is fast approaching obsolescence after more than twenty years of service and the M.O.H has directed that action be taken toward corrective conditions. A study is to be carried forward to ascertain if a land fill disposal major project, bringing con- site may be established in a location south of the old round house. By-law No. 1080 was passed in 1965 providing for an increase in the contract garbage pick-up rates by 50c per month for each additional pick-up day per week.

Edson Health Unit requisition for the calendar year 1965 was $8,286.15. Hospital Plan requisitions 1965 was 11,888.00 and the Evergreen Foundation deficit requirements for 1965 were $65.07.

WELFARE

Gross expenditures for Welfare in 1965 were $,514.62. Seven families were assisted (nine of these out of town) plus two Court Wards. Provincial contributions (refunds) for 1965 amounted to $2,840.52.

FIRE

There were 10 Fire Calls in 1965. 5 dwellings, 2 commercial (Archland, and White Rose); 2 grass fires, 1 vehicle, 1 trailer; 3 Department of Highways and 2 Area.

Of the dwelling fires two were major, the losses being gutted. Fire Chief Ted Semeniuk reckoned in 1965 and Fire Chief W T Cush and Deputy Chief D Maxwell were appointed. Councillor Bisette commended the members of the Fire Brigade on their devotion to duty

Councillor Goldstick report the Utilities Committee reported the water production figures showing consumption of 99,241,000 gallons in 1965 and noted that this consumption is still below that of 1961 before total water metering was achieved. The average daily consumption in 1965 was 181,920 gallons and the maximum daily demand. In this was 295,000 gallons. There are 920 water customers and 7 industries to customers in 1965 amounted to $47,221.50

WELLS - WATER SUPPLY

The regular water supply during 1965 was obtained from Wells No. 2, 3 and 8. In the fall of 1965 we began having trouble with No. 9 Well which appears to be caused by infiltration of sand through the screen The Well will require a reworking as soon as weather conditions permit. In the meantime the Well is producing in the neighborhood of 90 g.p.m. on a 12 hour pumping schedule

No. 8 Well pump has also given trouble and it has been found necessary to replace it. It is anticipated that the new pump will be on line within two weeks and in the meantime a spare pump has been installed that is producing a nominal 15 g.p.m

With Wells No. 8 and 7 on the line, on a temporary measure, the town water supply is being maintained. It is evident that another producing Well will have to be obtained in 1966, to meet the growing demand and to acquire a reliable supply.

PLANT

The new pump for No 8 Well is to cost approximately $2,300. It may also be necessary to replace the impellers in No 9 upon the completion of repairs to No 8. Pumps in Wells No. 8 and 7 were checked in 1964 and should be reliable. Pump in Well No. 2 has been overhauled in 1965. The pump at No. 3 should be drawn and checked as soon as the supply and distribution permit. The interior of the elevated concrete tank was sand-brushed and repainted in 1965 at a cost of $1,000

CHLORINATION

Chlorination of the town water has been irregular in 1965 as we have had very great difficulty in obtaining injectors that can handle the chlorine at Town pressure and the Consulting Engineers were forwarded into the picture during the summer of 1965. It is expected that this will be under control this year.

STREET LIGHTING

The Street lighting costs increased from $13,798.32 in 1964, and from a summary of street lighting costs in comparative towns in Alberta it appears that Edson is the best 1/4 of them all.

Councillor Cullin, reporting for the Parks Committee reviewed the 1965 activities of the several departments:

PARKS

Boulevards were maintained and fill, shaping and seeding was carried out along the high way at the east end of Town adjacent to 43rd Street and south east to 2nd Ave. Some additional clearing was done and the river road was extended at Willmore Park. Picnic tables were constructed and placed at Willmore Park area.

AIRPORT

Application was made to the Department of Transport for funds toward the general improvement of the air strip, following which it an all weather strip. The Department of Lands and Forests has supplied a second hand Gallion Grader for snow clearing on the strip. The strip has been kept in good shape so far this winter.

CEMETERY

Except for some tree planting and seeding there was little more than general maintenance carried out at the cemetery in 1965. There were 6 interments in 1965 of these 10 were local and 31 from out of Town.

SWIMMING POOL

Only minor repairs were required at the pool in 1965 The grounds were improved and a effort was made to improve that part of 8th Avenue to the north of the pool, however the continued wet weather of this work back.

The dressing room sections continue to disintegrate because of the shallow foundations and may have to be generally repaired this year The pool opened on the 24th of May and operated until Labor Day. The attendance in 1965 was 19,184, a substantial increase over prior years, and the operating costs were $10,693.62 against receipts of $7,999.50

ARENA

The Surgeons approved by-law No. 1093 on November 9th by a vote of 71.2% in favor. Contracts in sum $368,812.00 have been signed with respect to the construction of the new arena. Loans have been approved in sum $211,350. The aforesaid Centennial Grants for Lobby Entrance amount to Town of Edson $10,514.00; Arena No. 73 $,316; I.D. No. 22 3,402.

With funds on hand, or due the Town, in sum $15,033.00 and Winter Works Participation, estimated at $20,00, plus the forgiveness under the M.D.L.S.A Act it is anticipated that the building can be erected within the total estimated cost of the Town.

RECREATION AND CULTURAL ACTIVITIES BOARD

Councillor Cullin commended the members of the Recreation Board for its contribution to the Welfare of the Community in Town, in continuing and directing its recreational activities.

The Town Manager reported for the Finance Committee on behalf of Councillor Wells noting that his earlier report on the Financial Statement had indicated that the Town ended 1965 in a sound financial condition and pointed to the above what improved relationship between the actual and expended amount in 1965 as compared to 1964 — in 1965 the proportion of expenses to actual was just over 97% whereas in 1965 it was indicated to be under 92%, at least a sizeable improvement for the Town.

The discussion held, allowing for the amounts authorized for the Arena, will be over $850,000 in 1966. Going back 15 years our population has doubled since 1952 and our debenture debt has increased about three times, however in value of money, and in ability to pay, we are in a much better position now than we were at that time.

It was also noted that of our annual debenture costs of approximately $60,000 a fairly large share is taken up by water and sewer. The Building permit figure reported at $985,000 was substantially related to tax producing development containing only one third of the amount improvement. There is every reason to believe that Edson's healthy growth would continue in 1966.

Mayor Brunelle reporting for the Police Committee referred to the statistics that indicated a very busy schedule for the Police Staff, however especially noting that there was no sign of an increase in serious crime from the previous years.

The Mayor commended the Chief and his staff and thanked the R.C.M.P., and other Agencies, for the co-operation afforded the local Police Department in 1965.

Mayor Brunelle in review of the general satisfactory report for 1965 commended the members of Council for their devotion to the Community, especially mentioning Walter Kortzman and Jon Scott. Mayor Brunelle expressed Council's appreciation for the co-operation obtained from Town Works staff, the Fire Department and Civil Defense.

He commended the Health Unit and thanked the School Board for its co-operation, acknowledged the support and co-operation of the staff of Northwestern Utilities, Calgary Power Limited, the Department of Highways, Telephones and Forestry, commended the Chamber of Commerce and the local Service Clubs for their activities to assist the betterment of the Community.

He thanked members of the several Boards serving the Community and commended the Town Staff generally Mayor Brunelle made special mention of Parkland Lodge and its value to the Community.

Mayor Brunelle referred to the Arena Building now under construction expressing the hope that the whole Community would take advantage of this wonderful facility and especially commended Improvement District No. 70 and 95 for their contribution toward the Centennial portion of the project.

His expressed hope that with the co-operation of the Department of Transport the Local Airport might be very substantially improved. Mayor Brunelle referred to the School Photostats of March 24 representing the hope that it might carry as the proposed plant is essential to the Education in the Division.

He deplored the controversy that was current that could be very detrimental to the children of the whole area.

The Mayor spoke of the prospects of a new Hospital in 1966 and of the possibility of a Nursing Home in the future. He spoke of the general prospects for development in the area and of the sound reason for optimism for the future.

Mr. G. E. Cullin moved a vote of thanks, on behalf of the ratepayers, to the Mayor and Council and Town staff, for the accomplishments of 1965.

Northwestern Utilities, Limited to spend 4.5 million on capital improvements in 1966

Northwestern Utilities, Ltd. will spend four and one-half million dollars this year to meet the normal growth of the company's service area, extend service to 324 new communities northwest of Edmonton and connect additional gas supplies to their system.

The 70 mile ... pipe line from Paddle River gas field north...st of Edmonton to the city, built in 1963, will be utilized this year to make gas service available to the communities of Sangudo, Mayerthorpe, Cherhill, Rochford Bridge, Wildwood, Breeze and Glenevis along the route.

Gas supply to be transported through this line will come from the Cities Service plant to the Paddle River field, expected to be in operation this spring. The company will spend a quarter of a million dollars to provide service to 400 new consumers in those communities.

In addition, Northwestern expects to serve an additional 4,300 new customers as a result of normal growth in the 31 communities presently served by the company.

In order to keep pace with the growing demand for natural gas the company will connect six new wells in the Sturgeybell Lake field 35 miles east of Edmonton and two wells in the Fairfield-Rodwell Accord field. Two small gas processing plants east of the Pembina field will be connected to the company's Pembina pipeline and the Paddle River line will provide a maximum of 25 million cubic feet of gas per day.

By year end Northwestern Utilities, Limited expects to be serving 122,500 consumers in 37 communities from the Saskatchewan border to Hinton and from Red Deer to Swan Hills

STREP INFECTIONS CAN AFFECT THE HEART

Rheumatic fever always is preceded by a streptococcal, usually of the throat, reports the Canadian Heart Fund. If a child has a 'strep' infection, and if the parents secure prompt medical attention, the physician can often destroy the infection and thus ward off the danger of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease

Come spread your wings in a Falcon
(You'll fly first class on Economy fare!)

Right from your first glance you can tell Falcon's styling has taken on a new sleekness. It's low, lean, sporty, with a long hooded Mustang look.

And right from your first trip, you'll realize that's not the only change! Falcon has a new handling "feel"... thanks to its new wider track. The ride is smoother and quieter as well . . . the longer wheelbase and new front torque boxes see to that.

When you take over the controls, you'll appreciate Falcon's new driving environment. A suspended accelerator pedal, reversible keys, keyless locking, an outside rearview mirror and lighted selector quadrant on the optional 3-speed dual-range Cruise-O-Matic are all new on Falcon. And your passengers will find Falcon much more roomy, with more hip room, more shoulder room and more knee room under the "swept away" instrument panel.

But with all this new styling, new handling ease and extra roominess, Falcon is no thrifty as ever. The standard Six is ture in economy. And there's an optional 120 hp Six or 200 hp V-8 if you like even more lively performance.

See your Ford Dealer. Ask him about the Falcon luxury at economy fares . . . you'll be amazed at the savings you'll make!

Take a test flight.

Talk about luck!

Years of playing bingo almost twice weekly paid off in a big way recently for Polly Matorovich.

A week ago last Saturday Polly split the Legion jackpot of $216. The top it off she took in the Knights of Columbus bingo in the Catholic Church on the following Wednesday evening and again called bingo in with their jackpot of $136.50.

Probably Mrs. Ed Beck of Wolf Creek would say she was luckier than Polly. She was the lady that split the Legion jackpot the first evening. It was her first try at bingo in the Legion Hall.

The bonus jackpot of $118 was won last Saturday by Mrs. Dave Simpkins so the Legion pots are starting over at scratch, which would still be a pretty nice win.

On Sunday, March 13th, at 11:00 a.m. the above baptismal font will be dedicated in St. Catherine's Anglican Church in memory of Mrs. Agnes Wilkie (Millie) Worton, who died on December 13, 1965. Mrs. Worton was a long time member of St Catherine's Church and her many friends felt it would be most appropriate to put a memorial in the church in her memory. In the church she ever will remain as a fitting memorial to an intelligent, kind and true worthy woman who had been a good mother and friend.

Dog by the ears

BY PASTOR SHOWALTER

There may be many ways to handle dogs but to take him by the ears is probably not the best for results, especially if you are a stranger!

No doubt the best policy in getting along with a dog is to have as little to do with him as possible. When he sees you are about your own business, he is likely to go about his.

While most individuals realize this about dogs they are not as intelligent about a similar matter of far greater importance they feel they must meddle into the affairs of other people at a time and manner with results they didn't figure on.

It takes a lot of wisdom to know the difference between giving sincere, friendly help to someone in need of you and thrusting yourself upon someone who would like it best if you would get scarce.

The Biblical Proverb goes like this: "He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears."

Harold and Anne Thomas returned to their home Wednesday of last week, following an enjoyable three weeks (not two as they had planned) in Vancouver.

John Kellner at Peers was seriously injured, but is recovering in a city hospital.

Mr. Kellner was struck by a falling tree while employed by the Highway's Department on a slashing job.

Several local men have received slight accidents in the bush accidents recently. It seems deep snow does nothing to make their work less hazardous. We do have lots of snow.

Gravel trucks are all polish ed and primed for their stock piling job beginning Monday. This is a winter's work project whereby gravel will be stock piled for use on side roads as needed.

Reports of more woods accidents just reached us.

Sawyer Bill Heintz was laid up some time due to knee injuries received in a fall while on the job in Nordvedt Bros. Lumber Camp.

Horace Bowness suffered painful back and hip injuries when a pickaroon broke while he was arranging pulp wood on a truck. When the pick let go Mr. Bowness fell back ward, off the load. Tough luck fellows.

Did you happen to notice we live in Alberta's banana belt? Viewing weather past, present and future assures us we haven't a thing to beef about. Even the Chinook areas of our fair land haven't been able to out shine us.

You are still too young to know what I am talking about!

It was way back during the pre-depression days that we first laid eyes on old Chief Alec and his tribe.

A tired and true friend of the white man, Alec took his friendship very literally. His was a give and take alliance in every sense of the word, but if it happened to turn out more a case of take than give he was able to cope quite efficiently.

I'll never forget the morning he rode in while I was preparing a fryer for Sunday dinner With the usual. "How Nice day. Any tea in the teapot" Alec dismounted and walked into the kitchen for a snack.

Half an hour later the tea pot had been drained and a plate full of doughnuts gone where the good goodies go, so Alec took his leave.

Soon a commotion out back sent my dashing to investigate there stood the chief with a pot quite empty feed each dog over his shoulder.

"Me friend" he announced. "You friend?"

Slightly bewildered I assured him that I was his friend. "Why Alec, I thought you know that. What brought this on?"

He looked me in the eye, dropped the bag in the ground and pulled out two nearly headed chickens. "No need two chickens for Sunday dinner. Squaw hungry. Me like you."

Replanetting taken care of he rode away quite content with the world in general. Sunday dinner was in the bag, and friendship was still intact.

Know something? The old fellow had something there. Just show us a friend worthy of the compliment who would raise a ruckus over a insignificant barnyard chicken or two.

In loving memory of my dear husband, Wally Anthow, who passed away March 3rd, 1965

I miss you more than ever
At this time of year;
But I know you are watching

When there is nothing I can do
To bring back all the yesterdays,
That were so filled with you.
You left me so suddenly,
Your last thoughts unknown
But you left me a memory,
That I am proud to own.

Letters to the Editor

JUST A VIEWPOINT

Dear Sir:

Many young people are advised by certain members of the teaching profession that their scholastic merits do not bear up to the standards which are set by certain individuals, and these young people would do well to leave the halls of learning, and seek out employment for themselves.

This is an important problem and should be brought before the legislature during the It's sittings. It would seem that something dealing with the placing of these people of what seems a low academic standing, and who cannot achieve a university degree, merely our government and its opposition could thrash out a means of supplying funds to assist these people to enter Technical Schools, and other places of learning where they may become skilled in what they would like to do, or might excell in.

Surely the cry for skilled labour has been heard, and we always need look to other countries for imports of this nature when it might well be met in our own towns or villages with certain Government assistance.

This matter along with our ever prevelent welfare problems, and our accident prone highway driving is far more important than whether we have wine cellars ,and a need of home distillery's. Definition of young people is many of those fields has already granted many the initiative to wonder a habit toward wages drinking witness court indicted give assistance through certain ALA's.

Should the Government and Opposition have no more important legislation to table than dealing in "home made wines," presumably the sittings should close without further ado but " many" Liberation soup in over a "wine issue" as it did over a non-existent, insidious flag issue, and more public funds be squandered.

Should we not look at the practical side of life, or will we be led by educated foolhardiness.

Always more money for education and still we arrive at the scene of construction with "unskilled labour" a young man arrives with paper in hand that states he has had two years University education. he waves it around and asks. "Where do I go from here, and what do I do now?"

The abuse of welfare privileges seem to be due to incompetence, over administration, and officers who are not capable, nor conscientious enough in their work, and when abuse arises certain races of people are thought to abuse it more than others. If there is room for abuse why should not one race have as much right as the other to abuse it.

Those are over existent problems. Mine has been brought in this country for over 30 years, maybe sometimes stronger than the allotted 2 percent providing no one was caught.

Surely there is enough of an alcohol problem existing. Why this might help us all to lose our identity.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would like to use this means to elaborate on an article in the last issue of the Leader.

Organization for the unorganized planned

Organization for the unorganized workers in Alberta is progressing rapidly, as indicated by Mr. Keith Johnson, representative of the IWA Union at a meeting held in Edson on March 6th by the Edson Union.

President Alfred Weimer of the Edson Carpenter's Union welcomed the delegates from Hinton and Edmonton He then turned the meeting over to President Stan Fritter of the Edson-Hinton Labor Council who acted as chairman.

Secretary Maurice Howe of Hinton read the minutes of the previous meeting dealing with the first organizational gathering at the Overlander Lodge.

Mr. Fritter explained the plans for the council and the acceptance shown by the Jasper group and exported full co-operation of the whole district within twelve months.

Mr. Henry Tomaschuk of Edmonton presented a brief explaining of the rules governing the new council that was accepted.

He also pointed out the number of various trade occupations in this area that could be organized both to the advantage of the individual and the district as well.

Mr. Paul Weimer, business agent of the Carpenter's Union pointed out the desire of home workers to be employed by the Edson Hospital since the Union has been formed.

"Darling", sighed the strapptured young man, "when I think that tomorrow is your birthday and just a year ago I didn't even know you".

"Sweetheart", said the girl, "don't let's talk about my past, let's talk about my present."

It was not mentioned that Mr. Joe Wynne was re-elected for his sixth term as secretary of the Advisory Board.

Both these men have done a tremendous amount of work for the Hospital and Community and deserve recognition of their efforts.

Colorful lumber operator dies unexpectedly

By JON SCOTT

It is with regret that we have heard of the passing on of one of the most colorful persons who lived in this area for a great portion of the last twenty five years.

The late Harry Nelson, whose great love was the open air, followed the occupations that kept him outdoors. He was associated with companies in road building and sawmill operations.

As a foreman with strong drive for accomplishment he also had a great tolerance toward the young men who came to work without experience. His attentive attitude to these youngers people led them into becoming capable operators of heavy equipment.

It was always a pleasure to see the workmen gathered around in the morning receiving directions from Harry where they would work during the day. He brought into the work a virility which could not be denied and earned for him the respect of all with whom he came in contact.

The vigor of his personality was not only apparent in his work but whenever he took time out to enjoy himself he also did it with the same force.

We would like to extend to his wife Lia and family our deepest sympathy in their bereavement and hope they find condolence in the record of the achievements of the late Harry Nelson

W.A. 'Bill' Switzer M.L.A. addresses the Legislature

The Edson-Jasper constituency had a new representative when the Alberta Legislature opened for session recently. This was Mr. W.A. "Bill" Switzer who was elected in the March 1965 by-election following the death of the Hon. Norman Willmert.

Mr. Switzer's maiden speech in the Legislature is presented here:

Mr. Speaker:

On this occasion on behalf of the constituency of Edson and myself I want to thank you Mr. Speaker and all the honorable members of this assembly for the warm welcome extended to me.

It was deeply appreciated. I have been impressed with the friendliness and courtesies freely accorded and I sincerely trust this situation will continue to obtain. It is reassuring to be embraced by men of goodwill seriously engaged in the government of our Province. It is my intention to present the views of my constituency and to bring to the attention of the government any matters which in my opinion require consideration and action.

I am pleased and honored to be seated as a member of the Alberta Liberal Party and join with the Hon. member from Lac La Biche Mr. Hinman and Mr. Bill Hickman both of whom have served the Province with outstanding public service, and I am sure I will learn much from Mr. Frank Gainer, a veteran of Alberta politics who showed what he can and should be of concern to all Albertans a despicable lack in numbers of opposition in this House.

I have every confidence that the people of Alberta in the name of the Liberal Party will bring about drastic changes in the next election and I say to the massive majority on the government side of the House in a spirit of friendly warning 'look well to your seat'

To His Honour the Hon. Grant McEwan my constituents want to say how pleased we are by your appointment and we are looking for a visit from you to the Edson constituency at your earliest opportunity

To Dr. Percy Page my constituents pay homage. We all came to love and respect him for his high principles and the manner in which he discharged the duties of his royal office. We wish him well.

The members of this House have all heard of the Edson constituency, but I wonder if you know where it is and what a fine jewel it is in the crown of Alberta.

Highway 16 west from Edmonton cross the Pembina River and you are in the constituency beginning with farms, small ranches, Wildwood, Niton and on to the town of Edson, a bustling, cosmopolitan centre. Rich in timber, farms, cattle vast resources of oil and gas, our newest supplier plant in the Province, our famous Coal Branch and our anchor town — on to Hinton where I live and I say without modesty the most beautiful up to date town in the Province. It is the centre of our first pulp mill in Alberta. Which is the largest single industry in the Province, something over $50,000,000 has been invested herewith both American and Canadian capital — from here the new resources railroad is under construction. Then on to Jasper National Park — majestics of the Canadian Rockies cannot be matched anywhere in the world and this we and our journeys on the B.C. border.

This the Speaker is the Edson constituency unsurpassed by any in the Province — rich in resources and people. I invite the members of this House to visit with us at any time and to learn about its fascinating history in early days, secure a copy of Pat Laidlaw to Tete Jaune Cache by J. MacGregor of Edmonton.

Mr. Speaker many have commended the government on the speech from the Throne quite frankly I agree. However, on the Province with such a buoyant economy, tremendous reserves and the sustained growth of expansion and increase in revenues we have enjoyed these many years the address is totally lacking any new or imaginative approach to some of the very serious problems facing Alberta today, and I intend to deal with some of them today.

I intend to present the views of my constituents on some of the problems which vitally affect them.

Naturally I do not expect the government to drastically change their proposed legislation but I would hope they will recognize that we are trying to correct serious defects as we see them. The most serious problem facing citizens in villages, towns and cities today is the burden of property taxes. Particularly for Old Age Pensioners and those people who are retired and on a fixed income and not the least those young families who are struggling to buy a new home and establishing themselves in society.

In the town of Edson we have a large number of pensioners who are hit hard and they find it difficult to pay their taxes and maintain their homes.

We all know that the major share of these taxes are for Education and Health and it is my opinion that there is no true relationship between taxes on property and the cost of Education.

We welcome the increased expenditures for the Foundation Plan for this is to be continued as our own growth naturally creates greater demands.

We are not all convinced that the $50 tax discount is any real answer. There is no principle involved in its application and would appear to be simply a government hand out. That it will be welcomed by thousands of home owners is quite true, but it will only partially answer the pressing need for more and lasting relief of the mess of Education as real property.

We are presently studying the tax discount and we expect to be able to offer a more adequate alternative.

Probably the real answer must be a dramatic reallocation of revenues of the Province.

There is no room in Municipal Revenue to manoeuvre the pressures on municipal mill rates is reaching the breaking point. Towns and cities must be constantly either defer or withhold urgent projects or vital services necessary to their survival. Therefore I suggest we reallocate the tremendous surplus from our resources revenues, with a much great er emphasis on Education

It is an acknowledged fact that the rate of return on equity is far higher to percentage terms than the bonds and debentures in which we have invested the reserves of this Province.

This in turn is directly reflected in the high rate of growth and the resultant buoyant economy will be felt by all sectors of our Province.

Now then Mr. Speaker I wish to bring to the attention of this House that in the field of administering our very large Edson School Division we are encountering a serious problem.

I am not in any way being critical of our trustees they are doing a splendid job under difficult circumstances. It is largely as a result of growth experience in our region in the last ten years and it appears that this very large centralized school division can not physically be properly administered by six trustees We have a very large composition town of Edson embracing a trading area of 30 miles with rural and industrial people.

On the far west 80 miles from Edson is the completely industrial town of Hinton with a population of 4000 and no rural trading areas.

On the east of Edson extending within 80 miles is Drayburg, Wildwood and Niton which is largely rural.

In all three areas the interests of our people are different. Hinton has made an application to operate their own schools, mainly contending their interests are unique and that they could do a better job than under the present system.

The town of Edson is concerned about what effect it may have, and rightly so, while on the far eastern end our rural people feel they are being neglected and forced to travel long distances to a central school and they do have a case which merits a much closer study than they have had thereto-fore.

It is my contention Mr. Speaker that while the organizing of the large school divisions in first instance had the immediate effect of raising the level of education for our rural people and agree it was most desirable, to state that 28 years later that this organization is still valid is to ignore what is happening.

Mr Macgregor in his amendment to the Speech from the Throne pinpointed part of the problem. We did not expect to bring the government down with the motion, however it received no serious share in this House except the Minister did say that ratepayers have no recourse in alternative steps should they disagree with what their elected representative decided.

It would seem Mr Speaker that a large degree of local autonomy is required here, especially in view of large intensive industry becoming established in various parts of the province and particularly in the Edson constituency, whereby we are having a large influx of people with diversified interests.

In our own case it might be feasable and desirable to join Hinton and Edson with its immediate area and the far eastern area become a specialized area. Or it might equally be advisable in view of Hinton being so isolated to create three autonomous areas.

I can only say it is a serious matter to all my constituents and I am anxious to have it resolved.

Mr. Speaker, we are glad to see an expansion of the ARDA program. Since last spring a program of industrialization has taken place in an effort to have our people become familiar with problems which have cost many of the rural people in the disastrous circumstances they find themselves and I understand further courses are contemplated.

However, Mr. Speaker, I would like to draw the attention of the Hon. Mr. Strom, Minister of Agriculture that many rural residents are getting impatient, they believe that the time is due to put actual programs into effect, that if ARDA is to do a job we must show tangible results and I urge him to move the planning quickly ahead.

It is my understanding Mr. Speaker, that Lands and Forests are undertaking to farm a new policy on land zoning throughout the Province. In our farm area the present policy is laid down in 1949 is very seriously affecting farm settlement expansion. In many instances designated grazing areas should have been opened to settlers either now or for expansion.

I pose this question to both the Minister of Lands and Forests and of Agriculture How can we upgrade and expand areas which quite properly are farm areas when Lands and Forests maintain firm control of them.

I believe that it is most important that land zoning policy be announced without delay.

I wish now Mr. Speaker to present some views of the citizens of Jasper who for the most part regard themselves as second con...s in Alberta. We appreciate the fact that our Honorable Premier has entered into a dialogue with Prime Minister Pearson on National Park leases, however I shall comment in this regard at a later date.

My main interest in Jasper as Hon. M.L.A. is the welfare of the businessmen. Formerly it is a tenant issue. The premises does not have the jurisdiction. This does not seem reasonable that they should be accorded any rights or privileges enjoyed by other Albertans.

The most important thing to concerns Food and gasoline rates in the town of Jasper in comparison to the Mr. Speaker but also the government has the authority to ask for a hearing by the Board of Public Utilities. I am not suggesting that the rates are unreasonable out of line. We want to establish that in fact that these rates are equitable.

And also Mr. Speaker we want to be sure that in the last discount legislation provision is made for the businessmen in federal towns in our National Parks.

Mr. Speaker in the town of Edson we have a very serious problem relating to extremely heavy truck traffic, mainly large pulp trucks passing directly through residential area and school zones in order to gain access to Highway 16.

Presentations have been made to the Hon. Mr. Taylor and with all due respect I wasn't hawkish that the gravity of the situation was fully explained to him. The town is anxious to provide any alternative, yet it is imperative to identify that access to the highway be maintained.

This situation has come about in the last two years because of the large harvesting of pulpwood north of the town. I realize that the department some years ago settled the route for Highway 16, however, it wasn't known then that the situation I have described would arise. I would ask the Honorable Minister to give serious consideration for an immediate study and survey.

Without tempting to add any donating to this request I would be less than fair not to state the Hon. Minister has the town of Jasper in some measure. As the Hon. Minister has confirmed he has the authority to ask for a hearing by the Board of Public Utilities. I am not suggesting that the rates are unreasonable out of line. We want to establish that in fact that these rates are equitable.

A man you lean on in a lonely hour
(your funeral director)

What makes it lonely is not just the suddenness, the sense of loss, the grief. It is also the bewilderment, the strangeness, the wondering what to do.

Your own need then . . . at once . . . is someone to lean on. Someone who can replace confusion with calm, doubts with certainty, questions with answers. Your own need then . . . is someone who knows what to do . . . and goes about doing it quietly, gently, sympathetically, with efficiency and dignity.

This is what your funeral director has been trained by education, apprenticeship and experience to be . . . and to do. This is his mission. To be an island of calm. To counsel. To help. To reassure.

His experience and understanding make it easy for you to make the decisions you alone must make about the type of service, where it will be held. He puts at your disposal the facilities of the funeral home and takes care of an almost unbelievable multitude of necessary details.

But beyond all the necessary physical things he does, what the family invariably remembers and treasures most is that here, in their lonely hour, was a man they could lean on, depend on.

There is such a man in your community. Possibly a multitude of them. You undoubtedly know them. They are good citizens, good neighbors. Men who take pride in their profession and their practice of it. Just as you consult your attorney and your doctor in advance of the need, wouldn't it be equally wise to choose and establish an equally reassuring relationship with your funeral director?

the Smoky River country is a world famous for Mountain Big Game it has supplied. A has not generally known to native Albertans is that this is the only area in North America that all 7 species of big game may be taken moose, deer, elk, caribou, mountain goat, big horn sheep and the grizzly bear. It is the last remaining wilderness and now it is going to be wide open

We would like to know what steps the government intends to take to retain this area as is.

Opening up this vast area rich in resources raises a multitude of problems and we want to be assured the government is fully prepared Townsite development needs to be speeded out, plans for a high way on through to Grande Prairie need action now and I think we should be advised as to what the government intends to do on these matters

Mr Speaker it is with regret that I announce to this House that I shall be absent during the next four days of this sitting owing to annual meetings in my constituency of the ratepayers in the local improvement Districts, which require my attendance

I here now pay my deepest respect to my predecessor the Hon Norman Willmore, who met his untimely death in the performance of the same duties I am about to undertake He was a friend of mine but more than that he served this House and his country above and beyond the call of duty

Now then Mr Speaker I think I should like to conclude with a few remarks on what I have observed here in your presence I have listened and have been impressed with the replies to the Speech from the Throne. in their criticisms of the Government

I can't help but chide the Honourable Premier for omitting from the address reference to daylight saving and fenestration and allowing us to seize the initiative at the outset of this sitting surely intentions of government policy are not to be taken as established fact to the public for the purpose of discussion and reaction when announced

However Honorable members I am thankful to be amongst you and pleased to be part of this assembly The Ed

F.U.A. News

Cold weather and drifted side roads have cut down attendance at FUA meetings this winter thus making it difficult to arrive at majority decisions on any subject.

Farmers concerned about higher land tax assessments will have the opportunity to appeal the assessment at a hearing, the date of which will be announced. Please watch for this announcement and make your appeal if you think you should.

Rural residents should also make an effort to understand what the forthcoming school debenture plebiscite is all about and then get out and vote on March 14th. This is a matter of great importance to the whole area and misunderstanding could lead to defeat or acceptance of expenditures which may affect the future education of your children.

FUA Co-op members are reminded to call at the Cooperator for dividend payments if they made purchases before July 31 1965. Dividends not called for before March 31st will revert to the UFA treasury.

Yesterdays garbage could be tomorrow's history

An experienced operator on the garbage truck will be able to tell you all about your standard of living, interests, tastes and some of your problems merely by emptying your garbage can He doesn't have to pry, the evidence crops up week after week

The Historian isn't this lucky, although he is in a similar type of business He hopes to find things that were destined to be thrown away many years ago, but somehow were preserved. A sixty-year old bus ticket that was used as a bookmark, a local event program that was used to back a picture, and the picture itself

Unlike the garbage man, the historian is actually paying. He wants to know all about the standard of living, interests, tastes and preferably all the problems that faced the people of an earlier time. With his material at hand he can re-create that period for the interest and education of the visitors to his museum

The Provincial Museum and Archives of Alberta has been fortunate that many Albertans have contacted it with offers to inspect "some old junk that has been kicking around here since way back when." The offer is often sellconscious Keeping things around here since way back when." The offer is often selfconscious Keeping things a round for years after their time has passed suggests sentimentalism, and no-one wants to be though untidy.

The runnaties may save us yet. Charlie Plavin of North Star never did get round to getting married or throwing away his old farming magazines Maybe the two go together. He invited the Provincial Museum and Archives to look through some old issues and see if there was anything in them that could be used

The magazines in these issues contain the reality of prairie farming history between 1939-1960 The farm machinery advertisements, the local events, the family portraits, the strong political influence of the early farm magazine are all there to intrigue the farmer of today. The Grain Growers Guide of 1912 is as fascinating a book as he could read in 1966.

Curious posters, labels photographs, programs, handbills, painted cans furniture, clothes and equipment of all kinds are a wealth of information on an earlier way of life Unfortunately they are easily disposed of and, although garbage shouldn't be hoarded for posterity, it is a great relief and delight when some of these items re-appear.

Hugh Taylor the provincial Archivist, states that any Albertan who has lived in the same spot for over thirty years is almost bound to have accumulated some of the Province's history .

If you feel you are one of these people and would like to contribute artifacts, photographs or documents for permanent preservation, the Provincial Museum and Archives of Alberta, at 10158 103rd Street, Edmonton, would be most grateful to hear from you.

The discards of today are the business of the garbage man, the accumulations of yesterday are the business of the historian Your garbage man knows where to call the historian. Should I

History of Scouting

Scouting as we know it, was founded in Great Britain in 1907 by Sir Robert Baden Powell. In 1910 he left his honoured position in the army to devote all his time to Scouting, which was spreading rapidly throughout Europe and the world.

About this time his sister Agnes, pressured by the need for a world organization for girls, established the Girl Guides. She, like her brother became a very ardent worker for the cause.

Baden-Powell was born on Feb. 22, 1857 the seventh son of Baden Powell of Oxford During his younger years which he spent at a Boys School in England, he learned many of the skills of Scouting by spending most of his time in the woods near his school.

In these woods he learned to track and stalk game, to trap, to survive in the woods, how to build certain types of fires and many other woodland skills. In 1876, after graduating from school, he joined the 13th Hussars regiment with whom he fought in India and Africa.

After special service in Ashanti and Metabelland he returned to India in 1897. In command the fifth Dragoon Guards. During the South African war he became a hero for his 217 day defense of Mafiking. As a result of his heroic deed, he was promoted to major-general and given charge to raise and train the South African Constabulary.

In 1910, after 34 years with the army he retired as an honored military man. He later was acclaimed chief scout of the world at the first jamboree by Scouts of 32 countries.

At this jamboree Sir Robert and his wife were presented with a Rolls Royce and trailer by the Boy Scouts of the world The gift was to show their love and respect to this great man. He worked for the Boy Scouts he established up until the time of his death on Jan. 8th, 1941 The Boy Scouts felt deeply about the death of this brilliant, well loved man and services were held in his honor all over the world.

Boy Scouts of America were founded in 1910 by Daniel Beard, who because of an incident while he was in England and saw the light and the need for this great organization in America.

This incident occured one foggy evening when Daniel Beard found himself lost in one of London's worst fogs He did not know where to turn until a boy appeared out of nowhere and asked him where he was wanting to go.

After many blocks with good guidance he arrived at his destination and when he went to pay the boy, he shook his head saying he was a proud member of the Boy Scouts just doing his duty and his good turn Daniel Beard wondering about this conquered into this organization which lead him to establishing the Boy Scouts of America

The Boy Scout handbook, "Scouting for Boys" ranks second to the Bible as the largest selling book in the United States

As a result of the need for a group for the younger boys who were not old enough to attend Scouts, in 1930 Wolf Scouting began

In 1916, Boy Scouts of Canada, were established with a National Council formed and Earl Grey declared chief Scout of Canada

The purpose of Scouting is to train boys in the essentials of good citizenship. It teaches boys about the outdoors and how to adapt themselves to different conditions.

It also gives the boys a chance to meet scouts from other parts of the country and other countries at Provincial National and World Jamborees

The World Jamboree is held every four years in different countries Jamborees allow for a great exchange of ideas with boys from different countries

There are 7,500,000 scouts in sixty-four countries Scouting teaches mainly by means of games and outdoor activities calculated to develop in children of observation resourcefulness and co-operation

Evergreen Tourist Assoc. is formed

An afternoon meeting on Monday, February 28th accomplished the formation of a Tourist Association embodying Drayton Valley, Whitecourt, Hinton and Edson as well as the area included between these centres.

Originally laid out simply as Zone 7 by the Alberta Tourist Association the more formal name of Evergreen Tourist Association was adopted by the meeting.

Mr. George Le Strange, the managing Director of the Alberta Tourist Association and Mr. Williams, executive officer of the Alberta Government Travel Bureau were in attendance.

Mr. Le Strange discussed the need for citizen participation in the burgeoning tourist industry. In 1965 there were 600 million tourists dollars spent in Canada with 100 million of these coming to Alberta Tourists are attracted to areas, not to places, and therefore a corporate method should be adopted to promote these areas Alberta has been divided into eleven areas of attraction.

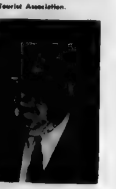
Everyone benefits from the tourist even if only from the portion of the gasoline tax that is returned to each area.

Mr. Williams described the best time for the tourist association to take. He recommended the election of officers and incorporation as a society which would then affiliate with the Alberta Tourist Association.

Each affiliated association would pay a fee based on the number of rentable units in their area. Each association would receive a grant of up to five thousand dollars. This grant would be on a matching dollar basis, matching dollar for dollar with the funds raised by the association up to the stipulated maximum.

The meeting agreed to the formation of a committee and election of officers with the result that the first executive of the Evergreen Tourist Association is composed of the following:

Howard Pickup, Mayor of Drayton Valley, elected a director of Evergreen Tourist Association



Walter Fowler of Edson, elected a director of the Evergreen Tourist Association.

Jon Scott of Edson, elected secretary of the Evergreen Tourist Association.

THE FIRST ROOF TRUSS on the new arena was erected last Wednesday morning and by the next night they had all been placed in position. This week the cement block walls have started to rise under cover of plastic sheets. School plebiscite carries with simple majority

As expected the only ratepayers in Edson School Division against the building program for schools at Hinton and Edson were Niton and Evansburg burgesses in the results announced unofficially by Returning Officer D. S. Blundell, secretary-treasurer of the Division after Monday's vote.

The vote allows the Divisional Board to go ahead with a masonry addition to the Mountain View Elementary School and a masonry addition to the Junior-Senior High School at Hinton; a masonry academic vocational high school, a masonry addition to the Jubilee Junior High School and a new masonry elementary school at Edson.

Wildwood residents voted heavily in favor of the program as they have not agreed with the dissenters from the Niton and Evansburg areas.

The unofficial figures by polling place are as follows:

	For	Against	Spoiled	Total
Grvle	3			3
Mountain View - Hinton	91	4	3	98
Crescent Valley - Hinton	82	14	1	97

Call for bids on Resources Railroad

The Alberta Resources Railway is calling for bids on 31.3 more miles of clearing, grading and culvert installation. This represents the third section of the 111 mile line into the Smoky River coal field and will carry it to mile 82.7.

The Alberta Resources Railway starts at the Canadian National main line 14 miles west of Hinton, Alberta. Tenders are returnable to Hon. A. O. Aalborg, Alberta Provincial Treasurer, and the railway's chairman by April 5.

Town and Division work out sites for new schools

With the passing of the school building program in Monday's plebiscite, a meeting last week of a committee from the School Divisional Board and members of Edson Council becomes particularly pertinent.

After ironing out policies in connection with location of the schools, Edson Council agreed to the vocational high school complex in the area north of Jarvis Street in Block Y and an elementary school in the general area in Block 70.

Town land involved in the project consists of approximately 40 acres all lying east of the basin of Wane Creek in the area north east of the present residential areas in town. The general location is on the high land up from Parkland Lodge.

Sale of the land to the Division was agreed on at $750.00 per acre subject to the School Division paying the costs of survey, delineation of this area and servicing.

The School Board understood that an addition will be made to the elementary school building in this location. All future elementary school buildings will be located on another site or sites in the western area of town.

The Division and Town will jointly share, if found practical and possible, the diversion of Wane Creek along the line of the north boundary of Block Y into East (Poplar) Creek. The Town to arrange for an engineering study of the diversion proposal. Costs of the study are to be jointly shared.

Consideration is also to be given to the storm sewer line through the school area rather than an open ditch along the general route of Wane Creek bed.

Jarvis Street (18th) East of 48th Street, it was agreed, should be widened to 78 feet to facilitate traffic movement and vehicle parking. A wide

Visit to Fossheim farm a thrill for town youngsters

A wonderful day was spent by the members of Mrs. Walter Martin's United Church Sunday School class recently. The girls, with a few younger brothers and sisters, were transported by Mr. Bill Ashmead, Mrs. J. Crawford and Mrs. W. Mills to the home of Sverre Fossheim for a day out of doors.

Leaving town just after 9am Sunday School was over the group were taken on a sleigh ride by Mr. Fossheim. This was complete for thrills when the sleigh tipped over spilling its occupants in the snow. Not that it really made any difference for they were on and off the hay bale piled sleigh innumerable times anyway.

A church service was held in the Fossheim home at the end of the sleigh ride. The service was conducted by Ruth Martin and Corrine Calvert. This was followed by a delicious supper of beans, weiners, buns, etc., provided by Mrs. Martin and the transportation committee.

This is the second time that Mrs. Martin's Sunday School class had enjoyed a sleigh ride at the Sverre Fossheim farm. Last year's was so much fun that the girls all wanted to go back. This year to show their appreciation they packed an assortment of goodies for their hosts, complete with a can of dog food for the family dog and some oats for the team of horses.

GETTING SETTLED FOR A SLEIGH RIDE at the Sverre Fossheim farm, these youngsters climb aboard and find the most comfortable spots ready for fun time.

Sluggish Kidneys May Bring Restless Nights

If you "hate the pillow" you may be up through the night and don't know why, try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Users and folk for over 70 years say such restlessness may be traced to sluggish kidneys. CARROT CREEK NEWS

BY A. SHANTZ

A talent show was held in the Nixon Central School on the 8th of March. It was very well attended by parents and pupils.

Kathy and Laverne Merrpoulis were the winners of the first prize trophy. Little Sherrit was the winner of the second place trophy. Norma Nowotney won the third prize trophy for a monologue. Ah! Grace, I thought she were you.

The following were not competing for any trophies but are certainly worthy of mention. Wayne and Lyn Kondrak sang two duets. Mr. Glen Flewelling gave a piano solo, very nicely rendered. The holder of the Highland dancing junior championship Miss Nancy Hays of Edmonton, did two dances.

I thought all the pupils did very well, and Oh, you! I must not forget Mr Lew Merrpoulis who really lifted the roof with his Greek songs. The first time I ever heard of Leaders songs referred to as Greek. Ooh la, la, what next.

The gravel trucks are really burning up the snow this morning by the end of next week they should have quite a stock piled at Carrot Creek.

Operetta Rumpelstiltskin will unfold magic land

The auditorium of the Edson Junior-Senior High School will be filled with the sights and sounds of a whole countryside when the operetta, 'Rumpelstiltskin', opens Thursday evening, March 24.

Teachers and students of the Junior high have been working hard for the past month preparing this musical play for the public. Last years presentation of Johnny Appleseed proved that Edson young people do have musical and dramatic ability. 'Rumpelstiltskin' allows even more students to become involved in this exciting venture.

Frances Ciciarelli is again supervising the production and is in charge of dramatics. William Lauterbach handles the musical coaching and Beverley Crossman, Grade 9 student, serves as piano accompanist.

Many other staff members and students are also involved with set construction, painting, lighting, make-up, preparing tickets, programs and posters. One of the most important tasks is that of handling the wardrobe. Since the cast has over thirty members, Mrs. Dorothy Gregg and her crew of teachers and parents have been quite busy preparing costumes.

The operetta is based on German folk-tale, 'Rumpelstiltskin', which has been loved by the young and the young at heart for years.

The story concerns the adventures of Gretchen, a poor miller's daughter (played by Lorraine Sabourin), who is sent to the palace of the King (Johnny Terpstra) because her father (Herbert Craddock) boasted falsely that his daughter was able to spin straw into gold.

With the help of a weird little dwarf, Rumpelstiltskin (Glen Hanlon), Gretchen spins the straw into gold and becomes a Queen. But unless the Queen can guess the name of the little dwarf, she will be forced to give him her first born child. As everyone knows, the story has a happy ending for all, except for Rumpelstiltskin!

The three-act operetta will be presented on the evening of March 24, 25 and 26. The dress rehearsal on the afternoon of March 23 will be attended by some of the elementary and junior high students. Several students have been selling tickets in advance, but tickets will also be available at the door.

Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

Way to friendship

BY FAITH SHOWALTER

A little puppy comes running and original all over, everybody likes him.

The baby who has a smile for all is wanted to be held by all.

It seems with age a change takes place many times. The puppy becomes the unwanted dog and the baby a hard to get-along with adult. It is not always this way and, therefore need not ever end in such a sad state.

Many adults are "dying" for lack of friends which is tragic in a world that is becoming increasingly crowded with people.

The trouble is they have forgotten the old technique, wriggle and smile!

The Bible put its wisdom this way, "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly." Try it!

Around Town

BY BILL OWEN

The present population figure in Edson as announced by Mrs. Dawson at the Town office stands at 3043 which has been increased by people moving in and out. This week we would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bath.

Bob is he new TV tech nician at Frank's Radio & TV Centre and as Frank claims he man responsible for fixing all the radios and TV's so the customers can now at least get in the front door.

Gary Crane, formerly of Drayton Valley, and now on the sales staff with the 4 Way Wholesale Ltd., was throwing a pretty good stone in the mixed bonspiel last Sunday.

It is nice to see the Royalite Cafe operating again after the busy spot it used to be. Mr. and Mrs. Lout are the new owners and are anxious to meet new friends.

This may not be a new face in Edson but Doerksen-Reisinger foreman has taken on a new role of public relations as we noticed him shaking hands and buying coffee for some of the oldtimers of Edson.

The box social days maybe on the way back if the same enjoyment can be derived elsewhere as was seen at the Pulham Hall last Friday evening. This may seem a little out of town but I am sure some of the organizations a round Edson could arouse some of the fine spirit of hospitality that was shown out there at country dances would again take their place as the best entertainment and fun.

Danny Switzer was overheard commenting on the curling ability of Mrs. Elaine Wessner, who on her first attempt at the game ended up on the Grand Challenge winning rink.

The Board of Industrial Relations and many progressive thinking businessmen of Edson are always on the lookout of new industry for Edson, and believe it or not on the outskirts of town we have an enterprise just about ready to explode. The only thing hold ing back this business venture is the survey of demand has not been completed. For an inclination of the volume as to how large this endeavor should be allowed to expand could be simplified if all interested persons could please in their next six months requirements for fresh rabbit meat.

Edson folks win mention in Alberta Poetry Contest

The latest edition of Alberta Poetry Year Book 1963 contains poems by two Edson residents. They were among the 950 poems submitted by almost 350 Canadians in the 36th annual Alberta Poetry Contest.

In the humorous class a poem by Mrs. Ann Cash won an honorable mention.

A poem by Audrey Mellerah won an honorable mention in the juvenile class. The poems follow:

Surrender

I am building you a robin with my axe
I am starting in next payday so relax
Stop yakking while I'm backing
Up my promise to come through
With a ring and all those other things
The world says I owe you

I will hitch up my old mare to the plow
We will grow our beans and spinach starting now
Stop squawking while I'm knocking
Out my brain to find the tricks
For two to live as cheap as one
At my digging in the sticks.

I am whittling out a cradle with my knife
All this bus and cry has greatly changed my life
Stop crying while I'm trying
Hard to make a different track
For goodness sake, tell your Dad to take
That shot-gun from my back.

—Ann Cash

Daily Prayer

O Lord. . .
If you could know the difficulty
And suffer the anxiety
Of hoarding victim security,
For something longed for frequently. . .
I know how happy you would be
To bless us with a money tree!

Edson holds EMO Welfare Extension Course

An Emergency Measures Organization Welfare Extension Course, conducted by the chief instructor, Alberta Civil Defence School, was held in Edson on the evenings of March 8, 9 and 10.

Although the attendance was small this was more than compensated for by the quality and enthusiasm of those candidates who did attend. It is fortunate that Edson has a few trained citizens on whom it can rely to rally round in cases of any local disaster.

The turnout from the Edson School Division was, to put it mildly, somewhat disappointing as only one member (bless her heart) attended the course throughout.

It is perhaps not fully realized that EMO exists only to save life and to ensure the continuity of the lawful government of Canada. By no stretch of the imagination can 2360 be deemed offensive in character.

Finally, the co-ordinator will be very willing, if he is invited, to come and talk (not lecture) to any service club or organization or to any school if they are at all interested about EMO.

HELPING HAND APPRECIATED

The young German couple with their two little kiddies, who were featured in a Leader story early in Feb. have found proof that Canada is a good place to live and that a hand is often stretched in friendship when one is in need.

The young couple found themselves in very bad circumstances when the husband was without work for weeks and money to live on had become non-existent. With almost no food in their house their plight was reported to The Leader.

The Leader was hardly in the post office and on the news stands before the phone was ringing, asking what was needed, how old the kiddies were, what size of clothing the mother wore, etc.

Five boxes of clothing, mainly for the youngsters, was delivered by members of The Leader staff. There was also numerous items of food. The young husband now has a job and the future looks rosier than it was when they first arrived in Edson, thanks to the generosity of these many-a-nous friends, Edson business men and organizations.

Guiding in Edson

The Girl Guide Company of Edson held their regular meeting in the A.I.D. The meeting was opened with inspection and roll-ection of absentees.

Captain Malson told the Guides $28.50 had been made at the bake sale and the Guides thought maybe they should buy a new flag.

The Second Class Guides talked about some of the requirements. The First Class worked on first aid and the Tenderfoot worked on their tests. Later some of the Tenderfoot were enrolled into the sisterhood of Guides.

Some songs were sung and the meeting closed with Taps.

The get up and go in the members of the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Association has been sparked by the announcement that Miss Dominion of Canada will make her first appearance in Canada at the Edson Rodeo after attending the Miss Universe contest.

Miss Canada will be crowned on July 1st and then spend two weeks in Miami, Florida prior to being guest of the Tri-Service on July 29 and 30.

Rodeo Chairman Jim Griffiths pointed out that the agency that handles the promotion for Miss Canada also supply full advertising coverage for over a 150 mile area that will cover Edmonton as well.

The go ahead for a float in the Edmonton Klondike parade has been received and the rodeo association are open for suggestions as to the type of float that will be entered. Numerous ideas have been put forth but more suggestions will be dealt with in in hopes of coming up with an original novel idea.

ALBERTA IS CANADIAN TEXAS

By AL CLARK

Rastar Monday will be the first time the Premier of Alberta has officially visited Hinton. This is as good a time as any to remind everyone that the Honorable Mr. Manning is the most respected Premier in all of Canada. Certainly he has reason to be proud of his accomplishments and the loyalty he has engendered through his many years of Premiership.

Alberta is becoming the Texas of Canada no fast that those of us on the spot have difficulty keeping up. In so many respects we are THE BEST PROVINCE IN CANADA. A little evidence of pride would certainly be in order. Give us another twenty years of the same type of good solid administration such as we have had and we will be in a position to outbrag, justifiably, any Texan who dares to make any claim whatsoever.

We would expect that the welcome the Premier will receive in Hinton will make the day a memorable one for him. The Railway to Resources will change, in the not too distant future, the whole concept of Hinton. From a one industry town to being a focal point of economic activity in the change that is coming. We should let Mr. Manning know that we are behind him every step of the way in his program for building Alberta.

I finally tired of the novelty of having a four wheel drive vehicle and am now co-owner with the Bank of Nova Scotia of a new Chrysler. The new Chryslers are sheer luxury — beautiful cars to drive and look at.

ARE PROVINCIAL PREMIERS CANADA'S SALVATION?

By B. W. HOGLE

Manager News and Public Affairs CFRN

You may recall that on the day following the November 8th general election I called for the resignations of both Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker. My reasoning was that Canadians in the November 8th election that no one wanted, voted in protest about the election. As such, they refused to give either man the mandate.

The overall composite average shows the premiers of Canada's ten provinces have been in power an average of nine years each. That's pretty sound stability — especially when you compare it to Ottawa where the prime ministership has been shattered by Messrs. Pearson and Diefenbaker for the last eight years.

Maybe we Canadians haven't been seeing the forests for the trees. Maybe it's time for all Canadians to give serious consideration to urging their premiers to look at Ottawa. The individual provinces would be the losers — but such a move could be the salvation of the Dominion of Canada. Think about it.

I think you will agree with me that things in Ottawa have not improved any since November 8th. As a matter of fact, they seem to be getting worse.

Because of this, Canadians today — more so than ever before — must depend on their respective provinces if they want any stability whatsoever. Let's look at the record across the land.

Premier manning of Alberta has been in power as premier 22 years. Premier Smallwood — in power 16 years; Premier Bennett — 13 years; Premier Stanfield of Nova Scotia — 9 years; Premier Robichaud of N.B. and Premier Lesage of Quebec — 5 years each; Premier Roberts of Ontario — 4 years; Premier Thatcher — 2 years; Premier Roblin of Manitoba — 7 years and Premier Shaw of P.E.I. — 6 years.

Letters to the Editor

Hinton, Alberta
March 7, 1966

Mr. D. Cannon,
Editor, Edson Leader
Edson, Alberta

Dear Sir:

After reading the editorial page of the Edson Leader, February 23 issue, on the students of Hinton Central Junior and Senior High School, would like to express our views on the current controversial school problem. We feel our opinions are worthy of some consideration as we will be directly affected by any changes in our school system.

Firstly, we wish to make clear the fact that the following are the opinions of Hinton students. We have not been directed by our parents or teachers in writing this letter.

We have only one request to make to the Hinton School Board and Edson people: "Leave Hinton School alone!"

Do you realize that, even while attending Hinton School, many students have to get up as early as six o'clock in the morning in order to get their chores done and catch the bus by eight o'clock? Believe it or not, Hinton is a farming district and most children must help with the work on the farms. How much hardship do you think we can bear and still keep our school grades up?

The Edson School Board claims that it is working for the betterment of the education of the individual. We do not see how traveling fifty miles further each day will be of any advantage, as we are completely satisfied with our present school accommodations.

We feel that we are receiving an education equal to or perhaps better than (due to lower pupil-teacher ratios) we would receive in a large school. If there are advantages in Hinton students going to Edson (or Whitecourt) schools, they are outweighed by the many disadvantages and hardships created by such a move.

Before closing, we would like to comment on the many phrases used by people writing letters to the Editor concerning this school problem. Are they ashamed of their opinions? This is a democratic country; everyone has the privilege of freedom of speech without discrimination. It is for this reason that we have written this letter.

We hope our efforts might help in some small way to bring an end to this unnecessary, unsettled for controversy.

Thank you,
Yours truly,

The letter was signed by over 50 Hinton Students.

BILL SWITZER DELIVERS ADDRESS ON BUDGET

M.L.A. for Edson Constituency W. A. "Bill" Switzer delivered an analysis of the Province's budget proposals to the Legislative Assembly in Edmonton on March 11. Mr. Switzer's text follows:

Mr. Speaker it is with some reservation that I rise and speak to such an important budget so ably presented by the Hon. Provincial Treasurer last week to this House.

However, I feel it is my duty as a member of this House, that in spite of the fact we possibly could be reached on all time high and that we are possibly reaching the ultra limits of taxation by government has failed to take cognizant changes of our society in application of sound fiscal policies to Alberta.

I do not know when the financial advisers are to our government now do I believe, it is generally known in the Province. Have we followed and do we seek advice from qualified people in the field of economics? This is quite probable but unlikely.

I raise this question because it is obvious that in the presentation this budget to the citizens and taxpayers of this province we have failed in meeting the same principles of financing put into effect by private industry and they will certainly note that mortgage which our land is described as "mythical".

What is needed here is a bold, new imaginative approach in provincial budgeting. In my opinion we have failed to meet the serious problems of financing in Alberta.

And I intend to illustrate clearly to this House just an article where our failures in land will go on to suggest ways and means to bring about sound economic policy within the framework of a free market economy and with due regard to social justice for all our citizens.

There is more than sufficient evidence available to substantiate the charge that governments are experiencing great difficulties in the fields of both capital and current financing.

No one can marvel with the fact that the economic impact of a population from the rural to urban areas, is straining the ability of our municipalities to meet the growing demands of a young, healthy, vigorous people. this is creating grave problems in our rural areas.

Local governments are overcrowded agencies have seem to rely on grants and it is my conclusion, Mr. Speaker, as this reliance continues to grow as indeed it must, if municipal governments are to discharge their responsibilities placed on them by the provincial government under our present system then we will witness the gradual withering and importance of local government to a point where the very foundation of our democratic system will be seriously threatened if we continue present policies of financing in this Province.

I realize the seriousness of points with pride in the expanded school foundation program and so they should and we welcome the statement by the Hon. Minister of Education that the supplementary requisitions will be cut in half this year. In taking this step our government is freely admitting its responsibility for education and I wonder, Mr. Speaker, if the members of this House realize that education entirely the responsibility of the Provinces as provided for in the British North American Act, was among the earliest requirements of complete local government services.

Now then, Mr. Speaker, if it is the desire of this House to continue and correct to the best of our ability, then we must be prepared to thoroughly review the fiscal policies of the past and the present and the effect of our free economy on the individual citizen. Are we following the principles laid down by government has failed to take cognizant changes of our society in application of sound fiscal policies to Alberta.

That we have a favourable provincial financial picture cannot be denied, $262 million in current expenditures is another example. But can we fault Alberta on resource income which accounts for 42.9 per cent of our income. However, the attention I have outlined remains with us, what can we propose? To bring our total economy to meet the needs of a shifting rural population, and the scientific and technological age we have entered bringing with it the urgent need of higher standards of education at every level for both our youth and adults and ever growing demands of this new society.

1. Mr. Speaker I am going to advocate a major re-allocation of resources revenues, with a far greater emphasis on all levels of education. This I submit will result in a far greater return as an investment and the well being of our economy.

2. I suggest that the present mill rate for school boards and program be gradually replaced by resource income in its entirety, preserving at the same time elementary equalization as that local autonomy may decide for themselves special factors affecting education in their own areas.

3. And instead of the $50 tax discount to homeowners, the most equitable and the most effective means of distributing the estimated $ million dollars would be to pay it directly into the present school foundation plan this year. In proposing this tax discount our government again admits that municipal governments are being adversely affected by taxation on real property and that the burden carried by the citizens in this province must be abated.

I am suggesting that this course of action, the tax discount, only partially answers the real need to reshape municipal financing, and not only that, it appears to me to be an expensive method of returning resource income to our citizens and I advise the Hon. Provincial Treasurer that it is intended to receive from him how much it is going in cost to credit every homeowner in this province with $50 not only to his department but the cost to the L.I.D.'s, the town's and cities. It is going to be a large and formidable task.

In suggesting the take over by the Province of a truly adequate foundation program, we would do away with all conditional grants to municipalities and we would relieve them of direct debt.

In this province there are telling our non-renewable resources and it can be said that we have a responsibility to future generations of this Province to see that these tremendous revenues are invested to...

With Guides and Brownies

The purpose of this letter is to bring you up to date with happenings in the Campanies, and we hope to see every home of the Companies represented at the meeting regarding the re-dedication.

We wish to draw to your attention the naming of a new executive to the Local Guide station. Mrs. G. Schultz and her executive have retired after two and one half years of concentrated work in selling the Girl Guide Association functioning again in the town. Mrs. T. W. Brown and representatives of various organizations in town have now formed the new executive.

We are sure you join with us in thanking the ladies who have worked so hard on the hall of local Guides and Brownies in the past and we hope you will pledge your support to the new Local Association members.

What does supporting the Association mean? It means helping when called upon. If by chance you are not called then it is safe to say that Mrs. Brown would be only too happy to hear from you.

It is as simple as this; with out the Local Association there can be no Girl Guides in Edson so your support is vital.

About the Girl Guides: Many new girls joined us this season. The Majority of them have come up from Brownies while there have been some into the movement for the first time. If they have not come home after the weekly meeting morning a bit lost and at see, please do not be alarmed.

We are a very large group about twice the number we should be accredited to have (less but not) assurance can be found and trained but, we will become Captain of the First Company we feel we must carry on with the two companies working as one.

An added problem this season has been the change made in the entire program of the Girl Guide Association in Canada and the fact that we have not yet received the new Handbooks. Each girl will be asked to purchase a Handbook when they arrive, (one per family will do for a start) at $1.40 each.

Anyone wishing information about uniforms, now or second hand, is asked to contact Mrs. M. Schnirer, Phone 723-2386. Anyone wishing to sell a uniform is also asked to contact Mrs. Schnirer. The Local Association has set up a committee to handle a uniform exchange.

The Guides held a very successful bake and candy sale in Kelso's Order Office on Saturday, March 5th, in order to raise funds for needed equipment.

Yours truly,
Guiders of the 1st and 2nd Edson Companies.

ideal of bonds and debentures we need to invest the reserves of this province in productive assets; we should buy resource income from home industries, further expansion of tourism and recreation will give a long term return forever.

We should investigate investment in industrial bonds backed by assets equity in business and industry and be prepared to accept the attendant risks.

We need to spend large sums on research institutions to every sector of our economy. It is my opinion that these research institutions are vital to the projected growth that even we are able to see before us in the year 1986.

I have made these proposals in light of what I have observed and on the advice of people in Alberta.

It is heartening to see that a party as long in power as the Social Credit Party can be so long that have had the courage to look at the most important sector of our economy and that is the control of fast housing up with the rest of Canada.

ter of Public Works. He should arrange a list of priorities in the tremendous expenditures. He should spur his program carefully so as to cause the least difficulties to the private sector of building and construction. Our government should be extremely sensitive to overheating of our economy and dangerously adding to the burden of inflation facing Canada.

In general the Government should look to its own housekeeping. It should increase its own productivity and streamline its procedures.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I pronounce that we set up an Economic Council of Alberta, similar to that which was established by Ottawa and has proved such a useful barometer to our Canadian Economy.

We have before us, Mr. Speaker and it has been a honor to me sir to speak in a record budget for a record Province.

Proposed Revision in Freight Rates.

Since 1907 Edson has enjoyed a very competitive and advantageous freight rate basis compared with other points approximately the same distance from the main distribution centres of the province. During the past nine years operating costs including fuel, taxes, wages and pension contributions have increased substantially, as also have the Capital costs of equipment. A new schedule of rates is expected to come into effect on April 1st, 1966, and as far as Edson is concerned this will be the first general increase in freight rates from Edmonton in nine years. In the light of the considerable increase in all operating expenses in the past few years, we believe that most of our many customers will agree than an increase is justified. While there will be some variations in the various commodity rates, an average increase of about one half a cent per pound can be expected on the majority of the rates from Edmonton to Edson.

The proposed rates are as published by the Alberta Motor Transport Association in the new rate schedule to become effective April 1st, 1966 in the Province of Alberta. It will be the policy of this company to continue to provide the best possible service at competitive rates and trust we may continue to enjoy the support of our many customers in the Edson District

Edson Commodore Aces sweep Hinton tournament

Sparked by the return of 6 foot 8 inch forward Bob Reil the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces swept through a senior mens basketball tournament at Hinton undefeated. The tournament was held at the spacious Hinton High School on Wednesday March 2nd. Besides Edson, teams from Jasper and Hinton were represented.

The Aces record for the evening was four straight wins running over the Jasper Jets, a team they had met prior to last Wednesday's action.

The triumphs brought their season's standing to an impressive twelve wins and one loss. The latter came at the hands of the Hinton High School boys team who this year are representing this area in the Provincial "B" High tournament.

Playoffs.

Reil struck for a total of 28 points in the round robin tournament which saw the games shortened to six minute halves. Other high Edson scorers were Barry Smith with 17 points and Dennis Hill with 14.. The Aces were never behind in any of their games and their strong defensive zone continually hampered the opposition.

In the evenings first encounter Hinton bested Jasper by a narrow score of 16-14 with Edson defeating the Jets from Jasper 19-11 margin. The Edson Commodore Hotel Aces followed that win up with a 32-5 shellacking of Hinton.

Jasper gained their first win of the tournament in the next game, winning 6 - 2 over Hinton as 6 foot 5 inch centre D. Service hit for 11 points in the last two games of the evening. Hinton posted a 10-11 victory over Jasper and then polished off Hinton 20-10 as Reil struck for 14 and 7 points respectively to put the Aces to an undefeated night.

The Edson Commodore Hotel Aces next see action again at Wildwood and Hinton are keen to sponsor a British Columbia-Alberta tournament early in April. Basketball fans are asked to follow The Leader for further information in this respect.

Edson Commodore Aces chalk up more Victories

By ARIL SOLTYS

Edson's senior mens basketball team, the Commodore Hotel Aces, continued their domination of hoop play in this area by scoring two lopsided victories on Wednesday, March 9th.

The Aces completely outclassed the Edson High School team by a wide 105 - 34 margin and then turned around to bomb the Hinton Senior Men by a 93 - 39 score in a three tournament played in the Jubilee Junior High School auditorium. The other game saw Hinton defeat Edson High School 59 - 35.

The two wins by the Aces extended their unbeaten string to eight games. Their season's record now stands at fourteen victories and one setback.

Reil Paces Win

Forward Bob Reil paced the Aces to their 105 - 65 shellacking of the High School by hitting for 43 points in a game which saw the center man leading by a score of 64 - 18 at half time.

The other scorers for the Commodores Hotel Aces, who played with only six players in both their games, were Randy Evans with 20 points, Dennis Hill with 18, Mel Bailey 16, Barry Smith 15 and Al Lepore with 8. M. Wynne and W. Miller scored 13 and 10 points respectively for the losers.

Edson Aces were misses Barry Gotts, John Dean, Lee Acreman and Dale Kearns while the High School team were also short some of their better scorers.

The evening's next game featured the Hinton Senior Men and the High School with Hinton pulling away from a 30 - 29 win by scoring fifty-one points in the last half to put the game far out of reach.

Dennis Hill led the Edson scoring attack with 21 points, Randy Evans with 20 and Bob Reil notched 18. Joe Menard sank 13 points for Hinton as did recruit Eric Hansen.

"You'll never get started sitting with your nose in a book. Couldn't you at least read on the public library?"

Eric Hansen scored thirty-five points for the winners with Ron Whyte close behind with a 29 point effort. Wayne Miller played a strong game for the High School and finished the game with 17 points.

In the third and final encounter of the night, the Edson Commodore Hotel Aces continued their domination over Hinton by recording a 52-32 half time lead to post a final score of 93-39.

Auxiliary members learn of other branch activities

The regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary took place Feb 1st. A good way for some twenty active members to start the month.

Miss Pryor was called upon to read the prayer. Mrs. Gauvette extended a special welcome to the newer members which we are sure will be of real interest to the organization

They are already volunteering for the serving of the Wednesday treat to the St. John's Hospital patients, new members, new goodies.

A newsletter sent to all Auxiliaries in the thirteen regions in Alberta was read and proved very interesting.

The year 1966 is to be known as the year of the horse, this can only mean one thing more work, efficiency, effort, etc

Our 1967 Centennial Project is the history of each Auxiliary, this has meant a lot of additional work for our able secretary, Mrs. Osborne. This should prove very interesting to the pioneer members a little reminiscence will be in order

Part of the meeting was spent reviewing By-Law pertaining to Hospital Auxiliaries.

Two gracious ladies, Mrs. M. Ashmead formerly from Lamont and Mrs. M. Hamilton from Ft. St. John were called upon to exchange ideas as to projects undertaken by their individual Auxiliary. We can see they have been busy girls. Their experience on opening of new hospitals may prove useful in the near future.

Prizes won at the enjoyable Whist Social held at the Parkland Lodge were as follows: Ladies 1st, M Konkle and Boobie, Mrs. Neal; men's 1st, P Pearlish and M. Ridley; Booble, Mr Orpwood

The monthly raffle was won by Mrs. J Wiley. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Ashmead, this brought the evening to a close.

Trans Mountain Spiel won by Kamloops rink

Trans Mountain Oil Pipe-line held its annual bonspiel in Jasper on March 5.

This is called the "Hatch Plug" and the trophy is a replica of a Hatch Plug or "Pig" which is shipped through the line.

This year there were 13 rinks entered. These rinks were comprised of people from Edmonton, Stony Plain Edson, Jasper and Kamloops, plus a number of others from Alberta Gas Trunk at Edson

A banquet in the Modern Cafe and social evening in the Curling Rink was a bonspiel highlight.

Top prize went to Bob Andrews from Kamloops. Second to Bernie Pullingham of Kamloops and third to Leon Gleberman of Jasper.

These rinks were all mixed with two men and two ladies and all names pulled out of a hat.

Everyone is looking forward to next year If this spiel was any indication the next it should be real good

Woywitka rink wins Eiks spiel

The Jack Woywitka rink, skipped by Richard Stabich on Mar 6 won the A Event in the Elks curling annual Bonspiel. The second and third rinks also held this year as Masters.

Of the 16 rinks entered two of them, Woywitka and Dan Switzer placed first and second in the A Event. Members of the Woywitka rink included Skip Richard Stabich 3rd Kay Woywitka 2nd Jack Woywitka and lead Vila Perkins.

The second event was won by the Pat Palmer rink from Jasper, who defeated a hosting Hinton rink, skipped by George Lange.

What price independence?

There's one born every minute, an infant who grows up with a big fat chip on his shoulder. This is in every sense a chip off the old block. While still on the subject of wood, we recall the well worn saying, "As the twig is bent so grows the tree."

The old block dandies through life, blaming, bewailing and denouncing his fate. His lament, "All I ask is the chance to conduct my life the way I see fit. I want to be independent."

That's what you think Buster, and incidentally, just what do you mean by "independent?" There is no such thing as total independence. This desirable (so called) state of affairs is neither mentally nor physically possible.

The man who refuses to take a job tries to kid himself that he has to answer to no man. Then winds up at some Welfare Office begging food and clothing for himself and his family. This is independence?

Kids depend upon Mother, who pays Dad the same compliment. Dad depends on his employer who in turn looks upon industry as his benefactor.

It would be a good idea if we were to concentrate on enjoying things as they are, because Heaven help humanity if ever some lamppost philosopher does manage to upset the applecart.

To quote just once more: "Together we stand, divided we Fall."

EDSON RESIDENTS will have the opportunity of listening to one of Canada's outstanding accordionists this Thursday, March 17, when Dixie Dean appears in the Baptist Church. He will be representing radio station HCJB in Quito, Ecuador. Mr. Dean was a professional accordionist at 14 and was with the CBC for 20 years. He has written and played music for the National Film Board, is the first charter member of the Canadian Teachers Accordianist Assoc., and has played recital in the U.S. with Pietro Deiro who invented the piano accordian in 1903. Dixie served 2½ years as a wireless operator in the Royal Canadian Navy and followed this with 2½ years in the Canadian Navy Show. It was during that time that he had the honor of playing for the late King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses. Local residents are indeed privileged to be able to hear Mr. Dean play and to meet him when he is in Edson this Thursday. Don't miss him. The program starts at 8:00 p.m.

Daphne Hellman Trio in final Edson Concert

The Daphne Hellman Trio, the final performers in the 1965-66 Edson Overture Concert series, will appear in the Jubilee Junior High School auditorium next Monday, March 21. The group were formed five years ago and are great favorites of colleges and concert series across the nation as well as supper clubs in New York. The concert starts at 8 p.m.

Jazz meets the classics when Miss Hellman, a talented and beautiful harpist introduces her unusual instrument in a solo capacity for the first half of the program. In the second half she is joined by bass and drums to create one of the worlds most unusual jazz combos.

DAPHNE HELLMAN

Daphne Hellman, talented versatile blonde whose career includes pianos as an actress, cover girl and musician has made the harp the love of her life. Born in New York she began the study of the harp at the age of twelve. Shortly she won not only playing the harp successfully, but writing articles for various leading magazines including Harpers and Vogue

After attending the Royal Academy in London, she appeared in productions of "Hamlet" and several British films. Miss Hellman then decided to concentrate on becoming a harpist and subsequently went to Paris where she studied with Renie, Mildred Dilling and later with Marcel Grandjany. She soon reached the point where she elevated the harp from a minor role to an instrument of rare solo entertainment.

To the American concert stage Daphne Hellman brings a program that is as entertaining as it is unusual Miss Hellman, whose excellent playing of the classics has been praised by music critics, is also at home in boogie woogie and swing

Her programs contain the best in the classic repertoire, the best in modern jazz and a combination of both, since one of the highlights of her performance is a group in which she "swings the classics"

This lovely soclaite harpist has been featured in many of the country's leading magazines including Time, Look, Mademoiselle, Vogue and has appeared in the United States and Europe with orchestras as well as in concerts.

Edson Overture members plan for coming Campaign

A meeting of the Edson Overture Concert Association was called recently with a rather disappointing turnout of members.

However, an executive was formed for the new season and tentative plans made for an April campaign for members.

The Executive is comprised of Miss Frances Cyrlarelli, president; Rev. Jack Purdie, vice president; Art Jorgensen, treasurer; Mrs. Rose Mouty, secretary. Heading the campaign committee is Nigel Aspeslet and Mrs Marg Kerkhywich. Concert reviewer is Bill Lauterbach with Carol Ahlf looking after publicity. Mrs. Sally Gardener is the reception convenor

Two concerts have been very well received in Edson this year The first, Dec. '65, featured a personable and talented duo, Sylvia Grant and Alexandre Grey, who drew prolonged applause from the Overture membership audience

The second concert featured the very talented young Montreal pianist, Richard Greskin Although everyone who attended were not piano enthusiasts, there wasn't a one in attendance who would deny that this Edson audience had witnessed and enjoyed one of Canada's outstanding pianists

This coming Monday the third and final concert of 1965 fill season will take place in the Jubilee Jr. High School auditorium it will feature the Daphne Hellman Trio Daphne Hellman is a talented and beatuous woman who plays the classics and jazz on her harp, accompanied by a bass and drums. The results have made the trio a favorite wherever they appear.

Edson and district residents who plan on joining Overture Concert next season so that they, too, can enjoy these concerts, are invited to join next Monday evening and attend this final concert of the season as a bonus. See the advertisements elsewhere in The Leader for the rates More information may be had by phoning Carol Ahlf at The Leader office

A campaign for members will be held in April, but new members gain an extra concert by joining next Monday evening.

Anyone wishing to attend the reception following Monday evening's concert should phone Mrs. S. Gardener at 3-3041, after 5 p.m. as soon as possible

Edson planning July 3rd canoe race competition

As many as eight major canoe races are planned for Alberta in 1966.

The Alberta Paddler's Association at a recent meeting in Calgary approved the 1966 race schedule, although two dates for several of the events have not yet been confirmed

Confirmed events include
June 12, Rocky Mountain House
July 3, Edson
July 16, Alberta White Water Canoe Race
July 17, Rocky Mountain House to Edmonton
July 30, Lac La Biche
Sept. 4 Drayton Valley

John Nikel of Edmonton, President of the Alberta Paddler's Association, says other races are proposed from Banff to Calgary, from Medicine Hat to Empress, and from Red cliffe to Medicine Hat

Mr. Nikel told the Calgary meeting that canoeing is "definitely on the increase in Alberta," and added "with this race shoulde competitors and spectators alike are offered some of the top canoeing events in North America."

He pointed to the Alberta White Water Canoe Race as evidence that "canoeing has come of age in Alberta." The race, held last year for the first time, attracted 80 entries from all parts of Canada and the USA, and thousands of spectators lined the 172 mile route from Rocky Mountain House to Edmonton on the North Saskatchewan River

Council hears Fish & Game proposal on C N reservoir

A proposal from the Edson Fish and Game Association was made on behalf of the Club by A. Gering to Edson Council at their meeting two weeks ago.

The Association's idea is to stock the old CNR reservoir with fish and to otherwise develop the site by control of water levels and bank area improvement, with Town assistance. Control of the area would be through the club or mutually with the Town.

Council approved the proposals in principal subject to further study and a report be made on the project. Of particular concern to the Council, on first view, was the permissive water levels and the requirements as to level and control structure.

Present were Mayor Brunelle and Councillors Blenkie, Catlin, Goldstick and Moody and three citizens.

Council granted its approval to the proposed increase in parcel "C" in the SE33-52-17 W5 by the consolidation of title with a part of parcel "A" abutting thereon, as submitted on behalf of Mrs. M. Jay to the Provincial Planning Director.

The report of Mr. H. A. Dorn, Professional Engineer, with respect to required drawings and specifications for farm privies for arena extras proposed by the Kinsmen Club, and the quoted cost of same, was to be forwarded to the Kinsmen Club.

The advice of the Alberta Assessment Equalization Board, confirming the equalized assessment of the Town for the year 1966 as $4,860,230.00, was placed before Council.

It was moved that fees with respect to John Maddison's membership in Alberta Building Officials Association in sum $5.00 be paid, that his attendance at conference in Edmonton March 18th and 19th be authorized, and that his out of pocket expenses be paid.

A letter from C.M.H.C confirming extension of forgiveness period to September 30th 1966 with respect to approved Municipal Development Loan Board Funds, and with particular reference to the Arena project, was placed before Council.

The Secretary advised Council that the provisions of By-law No. 1073 had been duly advertised, as required by section 236 of the Town and Village Act, and that no petition had been received from the proprietary electors within the required 30 days of publication of such notice. By-law No 1075, a By-law authorizing Council to offer for sale and to sell the old arena building, was given second and third reading and passed.

The Secretary advised Council that, in accord with the provisions of the Early Closing Act, due notice had been given and published of receipt of a petition from the local Beauty Parlor Operators asking that Beauty Parlors as a "class of shop" be excluded from the general hours of closing and be made subject to special hours of closing, and no objection to the proposed amendment to the Early Closing By-law had been received.

By-law No. 1077, a By-law providing for the amendment of By-law No. 982 and fixing the hours of closing of Beauty Parlors, was given three readings and passed.

The Town Superintendent advised Council that the gasoline on the Huber Warco Roller required extensive repair and recommended purchase of a Block Kit Assembly at the quoted price of $1,851.40. It was moved and carried that the Block Kit Assembly be purchased as recommended.

The letter from the Deputy Minister Department of Education, indicating that the Department would receive a brief from the Town of Edson with respect to Hinton's application to withdraw from the School Division, was placed before Council and discussed.

It was moved, with respect to the brief presented by the Town of Hinton requesting the separation of the Town of Hinton, as a School District, from the Edson School Division, it be indicated that the Town of Edson has no objection to the withdrawal of the Town of Hinton from the Division provided that the Pulp Mill is transferred into Improvement District 25, or an equitable distribution of the assessment of the Pulp Mill is made that will guarantee that the several other Municipalities and the Improvement Districts in the Edson School Division No 13 will not suffer, economically, from the withdrawal of the Town of Hinton from the Division.

The resignation of Mr. W. F. Teddy as chairman and Member of the Edson Public Library Board was placed before Council. It was moved that the resignation of Mr. Teddy as chairman and member of the Public Library Board be accepted with regret and that the Library Board be requested to recommend a citizen to replace Mr. Teddy.

Council approved the issuance of a Provincial license to Mr. and Mrs. E. Lust to operate a restaurant business in Royalite Service Station building, subject to the approval of the Health Inspector.

An application of Mr R. Murray to purchase Lot 19 and part of Lot 20, Block 23, Plan 1496 A.C. and his indicated intention to use site for parking lot was placed before Council. It was moved that with respect to Lot 19, and part of Lot 20 Block 23, Plan 1496 A.C., it be indicated to Mr. R. Murray that the Council will not entertain sale of this property at the present time, and will not consider such sale until the old Town Hall building has been moved.

It was moved that it be made clear to the Minister of Highways that the Council did not, in its earlier submission, relate its request for a Truck Road on the North West side of Town to Highway 16 and to traffic carried on it through or into Town.

The Works Staff request for consideration of Council in wage increment and other benefits was placed before Council and ordered tabled to the budget meeting.

a sidewalk should also be erected by the Town on the south side to carry pedestrian traffic through to the school area.

An area sufficient to provide 100 parking spaces and ample bus turn around should be provided, by the Board, it was agreed, south of the high school and north of the elementary school.

To assist parental delivery of children to school it is proposed to widen 9th Avenue between 46th and 47th Street to provide a loading area for cars.

A walk should also be built by the School Division in the school grounds from 8th Avenue, east of Wase Creek, and north through the high school as may be required.

A study is also to be made of general mutual recreation development of Parcel 1, and part of Block Y west of Wase Creek and south and north of Jarvis Street. The community reserve lying north of the apartment site might also be used by the school for playground area or jointly developed.

It was agreed that school buses shall be routed to keep them out of the area of the intersection of 8th Avenue and 46th Street and controlled to assure smooth and safe common handling of high school and elementary students.

MR. AND MRS. FRED HINDLE provided a fun filled afternoon last Sunday for about forty Sacred Heart Church altar boys. The afternoon started off with a magic show with Mr. Hindle showing many of the sleight of hand tricks that have entertained Edson audiences for years. He was assisted in some of these by Mrs. Hindle and members of the audience. With the completion of the magic show the boys formed a semi-circle before candy bars, pop and ice cream was served to them by Mrs. Hindle, Mrs. John MacDonald and Mrs. Ben Wank, assisted by three of the boys. Mr. and Mrs. Hindle received a big hand from the boys, most of whom had not had the opportunity of seeing Mr. Hindle perform before.

Curling Club present plans

Mr. Mel Goldie addressed Council at their regular meeting last Tuesday on behalf of Edson Curling Club presenting a brief and sketch plan and proposal that the old arena building be renovated, in its present location, to provide a six sheet curling rink.

Following discussion it was decided to take no action with respect to the disposal of the old arena building before June 21 to allow time for the Edson Curling Club to examine and bring in comparative cost estimates and details.

Three aspects of the proposal will be investigated:

1. renovation of the old arena building on its present site;

2. moving of the building to the east end of the new arena and its renovation; and alternately;

3. the erection of a totally new building as contemplated when the new arena plans were drawn up.

Bill Switzer Disagrees with Parks policy

"I wish to make it clear," Edson MLA Bill Switzer told this newspaper, "that I do not support current development policies, including leasing presently being interpreted by the Department of Northern Affairs; that have had the effect of curbing and depreciating proper development in our National Parks.

"It is my intention to introduce very shortly in this Session a motion directed to the Provincial Government at which time I will make a major statement concerning National and Provincial Parks. I shall forward a complete text of my remarks so that my position will be crystal clear.

"In my opinion it is urgent to all concerned, business people and residents, that development in our National Parks be placed on a rational, stable basis, so that we know, and the people of Canada know just where we are going and what our responsibilities entail."

T. C. Douglas to speak in Edson, April 1st

The leader of the New Democratic Party, Mr. T. C. Douglas will be the guest speaker at the nomination convention to be held in Edson on Friday, April 1966 at 8 p.m. in the Edson High School.

THE MOST OUTSTANDING RINK attending the ladies open bonspiel last weekend — although they did not win any prizes — was the Gerda Nelson rink from Valleyview, who curled in these stocking outfits complete with number. The rink was seated at the head table and during the course of a brief but a mock telegram was delivered and read to the effect that the ladies should be on the lookout for four dangerous fugitives from Valleyview. Rink members were seated: Skip Gerd's Nelson and 3rd Eve Snodgrass. Standing second Peggy McCullough and lead Beverley Gabb.

Wildwood trustee resigns to accept propane tender

"You realize if the tender from your company is accepted your resignation will have to be automatic," explained Mr Momma, Chairman of the Edson School Division Board to Trustee Dave Headon of Wildwood at the regular monthly meeting last Wednesday.

Mr. Headon who is a director of Westland Motor Tool Supply Co. Ltd., of Wildwood has been a trustee of the school division for the past five years, but the Company he is associated with submitted a tender to the division for supplying propane and the tender has been accepted.

Mr. Headon said his resignation letter will be forthcoming.

Mr. Mondo, Principal of the Edson High School and Mr. Gordon Hanson, Principal of the Niton School presented a brief to the Board on Spring Graduation vs. Fall Graduation. The brief outlined the advantages of the spring graduation exercises.

Mr Hanson who had previous experience with the fall exercises explained the problems that had arisen especially when new teaching staffs are involved

The Board passed a motion to leave the decision of the spring or fall graduation in the discretion of the principals of each school.

A delegation of two, Mr. Whit and Mr. McGary, who live north of Hatisonford approached the Board in regard to bus route extensions to pick up their children.

These people live on a border area between the Lac Ste Anne School Division and the Edson Division. The bus trip to Edson would be 80 miles and to the Mayerthorpe School would be only 32 miles, but impassable roads exist.

Mr. Chiste explained this was a situation that would have to be handled by the Department of Education in Edmonton but the delegation were assured of full co-operation in trying to solve this problem

"Your husband talks like a very brilliant man," the wife's friend said, adding, "He must know everything."

"Don't be silly", replied the wife, "he doesn't suspect a thing!"

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY J. EATON —Photo by Grant

The Edson United Church was the setting on March 12th for the wedding of Linda Louise Yeudall and Timothy James Eaton. Rev. Donald MacPherson conducted the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. Hugh Yeudall of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Eaton Sr., of Shining Bank, Alberta.

Mrs. George Maclean played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie with a jacket of Spanish lace. Her waist length veil was gathered to a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Maid of honor was the brides sister, Pat Yeudall. Bridesmaid was Miss Verna Lanum of Hinton. Both attendants wore floor length gowns of French satin with emerald green satin heels and headbands and long white gloves. They carried bouquets of green carnations.

Attending the groom were Bill Jeffery of Jasper and Merlin Eaton of Shining Bank. Ushers were George Brand of Edson and Harold Jenkins of Jasper.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Eaton were an afternoon dress of turquoise crepe and lace. Her accessories were black and she wore pink roses corsage.

Approximately 80 guests attended the reception in the Edson Motor Hotel. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Joe Wynne and answered by the bridegroom. A wedding dance followed the reception.

Leaving that night for a honeymoon trip to the Okanagan Valley in B.C., the bride wore a two piece double knit suit in light turquoise shade with tan accessories and a corsage of red roses.

On their return the young couple will make their home at the Poplar Place Trailer Court.

Out of town guests attended the wedding from numerous places in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Mr. Carter Freeman of Parkland Lodge and Mr. Bob Robinson drove down from Edson the last nice day we had to visit with brother Ken for an hour or two.

Give generously, say I

BY FERN ICE

It's all so easy — Just slip your contribution into the envelope and mail. Or has been suggested "take them to your leader" (ie) Club President, place of business etc., to be picked up by our local Easter Seal chairman

Please don't forget folks. They who are depending upon us are at our mercy We can not let them down We can ever about our local 2020 target without half trying.

How to get refund faster

Use of the personalized income tax form received in the mail can bring your refund back faster said W. H. Dunwoodie Public Relations Officer reports from Edmonton

WI Ladies please attend the meeting on April the 13th at Mrs. Frank Novotnys

A letter in the mail today extends an invitation to the WI ladies to visit the Lodge and inspect the wonderful shuffleboard. This is nice, but how about a little game? Anyway I think you should plan to accept the invitation, it's two years almost since we were at the Lodge in a group.

Phone the door open this St. Patrick's morning and that was no leprechaun sitting on the doorstep looking for hay (wot) they eat shamrocks don't they?? No, that was bushes of white snow and no paths to be seen. Oh well here we go again the shovel is supposed to be good for the waist line I think it only broadens mine

Mrs. POLLY LUBARSKY was the first person in Edson to roll a 650 single game at the local bowling alley. Polly, who bowls in the Ladies Afternoon League with the "N's" scored 650 for her single game and 1264 for her triple while bowling last week.

STARS ON OUR STAGE

We attended, and enjoyed very much, the concert in the Jr. High School auditorium on Monday night. Featured was a charming young woman who played a most impressive looking and sounding harp, with two young men on guitar and bass fiddle.

Actually these particular instruments, and performers weren't what struck us as so important. Rather it was the fact that we had been given the opportunity to attend a concert of this type, with the polished, professional performers who we would ordinarily see only on television or movie screen or have to drive to Edmonton to see in person.

It was an outstanding performance, no matter whether the listener preferred classical or popular music.

The concert was the last for this season of outstanding artists brought to Edson by the Overture Concert Association of Vancouver. This is the first season that Edson has had a local Overture Concert Association and the majority ill the numbmen last that it has been very worthwhile.

Some non-members feel that people join to be 'high brow' or to 'gain culture'. This may be true of a few, but certainly not the majority of members. Others say they wouldn't join because the money is going out of town and local service clubs, etc. can bring just as good talent to Edson. This is possibly true, but it is almost a certainty that a local club brought a group such as the Daphne Hillman Trio who appeared here Monday, the result would be the club would go a few hundred dollars in the hole and the performers would play to a drop in the auditorium of mostly children.

We feel the members who have attended these concerts have gained an appreciation of music not realized before. More than that they have had the opportunity of watching international stars of stage and music hall perform in a local auditorium, bringing with them a touch of the unreal world, seen mostly on the video screen. They have been given the opportunity to meet and talk to these performers.

So far there has appeared in Edson, through this Overture Concert plan: Maika and Jose, a duo who perform regularly in Toronto supper clubs and on TV; Sylvia Grant and Alexander Gray, two outstanding members of the Canadian Opera Society; Richard Gresko, a young Montreal pianist who promises to be one of Canada's brightest stars; the Daphne Hellman Trio featuring a gifted model, musician, actress and author, who has appeared throughout the States and in England.

The polished instruments setting on stage when the curtains opened Monday evening opened a door to live musical enchantment for the first time, for many in the audience. The way to this door is a membership in Overture Concerts.

It is true that money spent for a membership goes out of town, but there is a far greater return for this money than for that spent on an Edmonton car bingo, for instance.

We feel, as do thousands of members from Vancouver to the Lake Head, that Overture Concerts Assoc. is performing an invaluable service for residents of towns such as Edson.

FRESH LOOK NEEDED

With the turning down of the application of Hinton to withdraw from the Edson School Division this week perhaps now would be as good a time as any for a fresh look at the setup of the large division.

We have said it before and say it again. It is absurd that Hinton, which pays half the shot for the division, should have only one trustee — one which pays another quarter has one trustee and the rest of the division has four trustees!

With the notable exception of Wildwood, Robb and Peers it is obviously following last week's plebiscite, that a hate the two towns complex is fouling up the relationships within the division. Surely the voters at Hinton and Evansburg didn't really think the two towns did not need more classrooms!

Why should a ratepayer nearby a hundred miles from Hinton have ANY say at all as to what schools are needed at Hinton — or Edson for that matter. The reverse being true of course.

Our suggestion of an industrial school division comprising the three industrial towns of Whitecourt, Edson and Hinton looks even more logical this week than it did a few weeks ago. Niton east could be combined with Lac Ste. Anne School Division to make up for the transfer of Whitecourt.

Certainly we should have representation by population if not by dollars.

Optimist Club completes 8 years in Edson

Eight years of community service by the Edson Optimist Club was recognized last Monday evening at the Commodore Hotel Banquet Room when a large delegation of Hinton Optimists were in attendance.

President Bill Owen related on the charter night in 1958 with 20 members and the activities and whereabouts of the next presidents since the formation.

Constable Clark Wolff of the RCMP spoke on his association with Bike Safety and Pedal Posters at Versailles and indicated the support of the Highway Patrol as in the past and still be of assistance to the Club.

Optimist George Cullis explained how the Club with the assistance of his Town Police and Highway Detachment last year had trained a small of 160 boys and girls in Edson.

Constable Wolff also showed the film "North West Passage" and explained the role carried out by the RCMP in the far north.

Op-Teen President Glenn Ashwood reported on the activities of the Op-Teen Club including their booth project which will provide a resting place for the residents of Park and Lodge who may be waiting up town.

In spoke of the Queen's Ball being held at Hinton this Friday and the work entailed in selling up the program for choosing the outstanding teens.

Their trip to the Op-Teen Convention being held at Olds during the Easter holidays was discussed and the members of the Optimist voted to assist these young people financially with their projects.

Once again the Optimist Club will be conducting a fund raising project on the Stanley Cup series for 1966.

Seen on the Main Drag

— Mike Vanderbeemest telling Mrs. Effie Seanes at the Post office that the Vanderbeemest family were heading back to Ontario where the winters are shorter — People hurrying down to Godsticks to take advantage of their half price sale before the store is closed for good this Saturday. The store is one of the oldest businesses in Edson, having been built in 1913 or 12 following a fire which destroyed the original store operated by Abe's father Mr. Harry Goldstick. It was located next store to the old Cecil Hotel, where the Provincial Building now stands. Probably the only business place in Edson older is the one occupied by Collin Grocery Ltd., next door to the Post Office.

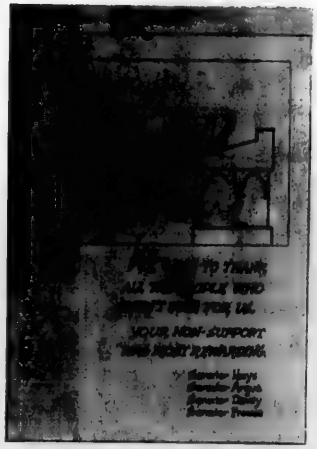
— Overheard someone who had attended the Overture Concert telling a friend the only trouble with the concert was that it was too short. How right he was. The clever blending of the classical and popular music was a delight to most.

— Steam rising from the Main Store as the town now pulsates cracks in the hard top.



LEGISLATURE PASSES HOSPITAL DETERRENT FEE

Legislation is making major changes in hospital and medical care in Alberta was introduced on the final day of a busy week of budget debate.

Among other things the Legislation will make it more expensive to get hospital care after July 1 and will extend the range of services covered by the province's health insurance plan.

On that day Alberta residents will begin paying a deterrent fee of $3.50 a day in all active treatment hospitals. They will also have to pay a charge of $5 on entering hospital. Health Minister Horn said the fee was being increased to bring the patient's portion of hospital expenses more into line with spiralling costs. Present fees range from $1.50 to $2 daily.

The revised insurance plan will make prescription drugs, artificial limbs, rental of hospital appliances and the services of optometrists, physiotherapists and psychologists insurable. Those would be expense from the comprehensive physician's services now covered by the plan and might involve a small deductable charge for benefits.

Dr. Ross also outlined a change in government subsidies for people with low incomes. And he said he thinks the proposed new plan will result in a medical insurance fee about 50 percent of Alberta's population within a year.

Last week also saw introduction of a bill that will create Alberta's 18th cabinet post. But while the Ministry of Youth will be created at this session, the man who will head it won't necessarily be named before prorogation.

Premier Manning said the youth department is being established because more than half of Alberta's population is 25 or younger and because "it has become one of our greatest needs today to do everything we can to develop human resources."

These certainly weren't the only developments in a busy week in the legislature. It seemed that everyone who didn't take a turn to speak during the throne speech debate was taking a crack at it now, and a few people were getting up for a second turn during the budget debate.

Among them was Rev. Robert Simpson of Calgary north who attacked proposed legislation that would reform the majority needed on a fluoridation plebiscite to 51 per cent.

Said he: "If 51 per cent of the population of Calgary can insist that I must take my medicine whether I like it or not, then the bill respecting human rights, now before the assembly, will not have any depth of meaning for me."

Keith Hunsley of St. Albert didn't take any chances by risking an attack on the provincial government or his fellow Social Credit colleagues. Instead he berated the federal government for failing to establish a bank from which municipalities could borrow at low rates of interest.

Opposition leader Mike Maccagno took the first of the two turns he will have in budget debate to warn the government about possible problems in the development of the McMurray oil sands. He said the great Canadian Oil Sands plant is going to cost much more than expected and expressed concern for Albertans who have invested in it.

And he gently twitted the provincial treasurer, Mr. Ansberg, for that comment about a fabulous means imaginary or unreal. And that, he said is increasing quite right.

Agricultural Minister Harry Strom answered earlier queries by Mr. Maccagno about special assistance to Peace River farmers. He said the Alberta government will not assume what it considers the federal share of this aid. It never appeared that if Ottawa doesn't pay half the bill the assistance simply won't be given. The opposition had suggested that Alberta pay the whole share required and then collect half, if possible, from Ottawa.

Daphne Hellman Trio delights audience with mixed program

By WILLIAM LAUTERBACH

A glittering gold harp greeted the eyes of the audience Monday night as the curtain opened on the Jubilee Junior High School stage The Daphne Hellman Trio were the featured entertainers on the third and final offering of the Edson Overture Concert series this season. Miss Hellman was accompanied by two young musicians, Edward Berg on guitar and Frank Krone on bass viol.

The combination of harp, guitar and bass is unusual enough, but this was equaled by the unique variety of compositions played, from Bach to boogie-woogie!

The program opened with a pair of Bach chorales. Their familiar melodies were enhanced by a continuo provided by the bass and a contrapuntal melody on guitar. The crystal clearness of the harp on these baroque compositions gave a harpsichord effect. Bach and other 17th Century composers wrote many of their works for a forerunner of the piano.

Included in the opening part of the program were one solo by two other Baroque composers, Leclair and Scarlatti. Although similar in style to Bach, they were less interesting musically and 3 "Antique Dances" by Beth Century composer Respighi were welcomed more enthusiastically.

The first group of selections by the trio gave the harp little opportunity to display its own beauty. In fact, at times the guitar and bass overshadowed the delicate quality of the harp. But the audience was delighted when Miss Hellman allowed the harp to "speak for itself".

Her first solo harp number was a moving performance of Rachmaninoff's beautiful Piano Concerto No 2, which was far too brief. Miss Hellman's excellent stage presence and grace added greatly to the total effect.

Before proceeding, she gave an interesting demonstration of her instrument, explaining in detail how different effects are achieved, how the seven pedals change the pitch, and how the red and blue strings guide the player. The modern double action harp was developed in Paris about one hundred years ago, and Miss Hellman's own instrument is over sixty years old. Albert Ketelbey's "Song of the Night" was her next selection. This work uses many of the harp effects which Miss Hellman had just explained.

Her flair for comedy was demonstrated in her arrangement of Liadov's "Music Box". She played this unassuming little piece as it was written by Liadov; then she played it in the Bach style, in the classical style of Chopin, and finally in the swing style of Benny Goodman.

Miss Hellman drew laughter with her "Me with the harp" farce, which displayed her dramatic talent and ability to captivate an audience.

Following the intermission, the trio played a group of contemporary songs, beginning with Leroy Anderson's "Blue Tango" and "Syncopated Clock". The trio seemed to be more at home in the contemporary style, although again the harp suffered by taking a secondary role. The "Waltz Blues" and the "Swingin' Shepherd Blues", as well as the popular "Walk Right In" were real foot tappers which proved the musical worth of jazz.

In a bass and guitar duet, the two young men continued to show their flair for the special rhythms and sounds of jazz. The jazz musician usually appreciates his art more fully than is possible for any listener, but these two gentlemen had a way of getting the audience involved. Berg surprised the audience with an electrifying classical guitar solo of the Spanish favorite, "Malaguena". This was a welcome relief from the jam tempo which was almost overworked in the preceding section of the program.

Placed in a strange, and questionable, part of the program — at the end — were the two audience pleasers "Claire de lune" by Debussy, and dances from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite". The two works should have been performed immediately after the intermission, leaving the contemporary works for the latter part of the program. But the entire program was an unusual one, and the mixture of pops and classic was taken in stride by the audience who were forced to make radical shifts.

Two encores were well received. The lilting melodies of several of Strauss's famous waltzes were performed well by the trio. The rhythmic "Downtown" delighted all, especially the younger set. Several young people made their way to the stage following the last piece not only to seek autographs, but to get a closeup look at a fascinating instrument and to meet an intriguing artist.

Around Town

BY BILL OWEN

Darn that cat! This common phrase has been expressed many times with possibly stronger adjectives but accenting to the story on the motion picture coming to Edson in the very near future by that name, the extra adjectives are more than supplied with humor and excitement. It'll be worth seeing.

You meet the nicest people on a Honda, is a slogan becoming as popular as the little machines themselves. Royston Mahon at Mahon Electric predicts spring is right around the corner if enquiries about the motor bikes is any indication.

Sour or upset stomach? Many people have problems of upset stomachs and heads in the morning and while browsing through the deliciousness department at the Edson Bakery a label on a few bottles caught my eye. It read for upset stomachs but in finer print I managed to read the part that said 40 per cent alcohol. No doubt it is intended to be taken with a teaspoon.

Dr. Andy Younger, the man who took the boys to the arena even though the arena was 50 or 100 miles from Edson, will be moving his family back to Calgary as the building operation of the Hudson Bay Oil and Gas plant has reached the production point.

Dr. Younger's stay in Edson has involved him in numerous spanking engagements as there has been considerable interest in Edson's first gas plant.

Crazy Foam — The person who invented Crazy Foam must have had his head screwed on right, or almost right, to pick a name like that. A can of it managed to get into our home, brought there by a fellow I mentioned last week and I believe he was mad at me. Anyway the Crazy Foam affected our kids until they ran into a full length mirror. Any offers to take the same years bad.

Last week was the first mention of the new business promotion in Edson. Yes some businesses have a sad inevitable ceremony but this ceremony consisted only of throwing the two rabbits in the same cage.

Liquor Store hours to be extended

After years of comment by tourists that liquor could not be purchased on Wednesdays the problem has been solved for the summer season.

Chamber of Commerce President Jack Hook announced last week that word had been received from Mr. Elliott of the Alberta Liquor Control Board that the Edson store commencing the week of June 12th, will remain open on Wednesday.

This is only one of the many service improvements planned by the Chamber for the betterment of the town and district for the coming year.

Curling Reflections

Reprinted from the Edmonton Mirror.

Inside the clubroom at the rink,

Are beauties in a row

Where fellows sit to watch the games,

While wreathes of smoke they blow.

And if you really want to learn

The fine parts of the play

Don't shout your rocks, just stay

Inside and listen to what they say.

So light your pipe and take a seat

Where its warm and nice,

Where better games are always

Curled then out upon the ice.

For soon you'll hear: he's narrow sure,

He's coming down too hard,

No Ernie, swoop, just let it go,

He's going to get that guard.

Say watch that guy, the totsie

He makes in his delivery

He'll tie himself in a knot

If he should draw the tee,

He's wide, he's sure, oh let it hang,

He never got the broom,

He'd no excuse to make that shot

He sure had lots of room

Now what's he playing that shot for?

What can he be about?

He ought to take a running shot

And take that rock right out.

He'll never get it with that ice

Well Look at that, he struck

He got it after all, but then

He has slicks luck.

But when these men are call ed to play,

These curlers, skilled and wise,

They make the same mistakes

As those they criticize,

They find it takes but little skill

To dissipate advice,

And play a scientific game

When they are off the ice.

So as we pass along life's way,

And as we hear men talk,

We're always skilfull when we throw

The other fellow's rock.

This disposition is not strange

Through life its much the same;

We're always wisest when we play

The other fellow's game.

Teacher, to new pupil: "What is your father's name, dear?"

New pupil: "Daddy".

Teacher: "Yes, dear, but what does your mother call him?"

New pupil: "She doesn't call him anything. She likes him."

Resource Railway Construction speeds up

Construction of Canada's newest railway line, the Alberta Resources Railway, will move into high gear within the next two weeks.

Massive earth-moving equipment is arriving at Hinton daily as Manchu Construction prepares to fulfill the grading contract for the first 60 miles of the route which will terminate at the Smoky River coal field.

The coal field is roughly 125 miles northwest of Hinton which is the project headquarters. Actually the new line commences at Solomon on the CNR main line 14 miles west of Hinton.

Clearing of the 125 foot right-of-way began on December 20 and has progressed all winter to the point where the first 5 mile section is now ready for grading.

In accordance with provincial forestry requirements the timber removed in clearing operations is fully utilized as pulpwood for the Hinton pulp mill.

Seismograph readings and soil samples have been taken along the right-of-way. It is known, for instance, that the first 20 miles at construction will require the excavation of 2.3 million yards of earth and 10,000 yards of rock.

In preparation for actual construction Canadian National, which is building the railway has an engineering staff of 27 on the job now. This will double by summer.

It is planned to call tenders for grading the third 20-mile section of line sometime in March. Detailed route maps are now being prepared for the fourth and final section which terminates at the coal fields.

Three major bridges are required on the first section to span Oldhouse Creek, the Solomon River and the Wildhay River. Largest of these over the Solomon requires a steel through truss span 197 feet long.

Project Engineer for the CNR is Charles Planck who was a construction engineer on his railway's Chisel Lake line in northern Manitoba and, more recently, the Great Slave Lake Railway.

Engineering of the line requires for a grade of no more than one per cent in the heavy traffic south-bound direction, in the opposite direction it will have a maximum of 1.57. Curves will average between three and four degrees.

The 'Tiger' has spoken

"Seeing the new arena well under way, pleases me very much," said Cecil 'Tiger' Goldsick, guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday at the Edson Motel.

Having spent most of his life in sport circles, Mr. Goldsick's talk centred around the possibilities of brighter future for our youth with the improved arena facilities in Edson.

Mrs. Bessie Goldsick introduced 'The Tiger' and enlightened the large gathering on the colorful past of one of Edson's native sons.

President Jack Hook spoke on the trip he, Jon Scott and Lloyd Bassett had made to Edmonton on Chamber business and the success of having extended hours approved by the Alberta Liquor Board for the Edson area.

Out of town guests of the meeting were Mr. Lyle Johnson, District manager of Mercantile Life Assurance Co., and Mr. Reen Quinn, Editor the The Whitecourt Star.

A Hot Spot

BY PASTOR SNOWALTER

Suppose you lived long ago, before the days of guns. You were out in the wilds with your club or your sling when you met a lion and the race for life begins.

Let's say that with streaks of luck you think you have an even chance of winning! then you met a bear in the path coming toward you! What is your chance of winning now?

The proposition was given by God to the describe the predicament of man who is not ready to meet a disgrace and God in the Day of the Lord.

In prosperity, punishment seems so far away, God's mercy has prolonged the day of Grace so that evil hearts try to convince themselves that punishment will never come. False teachers claim that God's love is so great to do hurt. Foolish men make fun of God's judgement.

Listen: In that Day you will be as a man who is chased by a lion, and met by a bear, or as a man in a dark room who leans against a wall and puts his hand on a snake. Yes, that will be a dark and hopeless day for you. Amos 5 : 18-20 (Living Phrophecies)

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIDGE In loving mem-ory of our darling son and brother, Daryl Edwin, who was taken away from us March 20, 1960, at the age of two years.

Tonight the stars are shin-ing
On a silent lonely grave
Where sleeps our darling son

The one we loved so much
We wished God had spared him

For many more years
You tossed so much to us
For more than we can say
There is an awful ache
Within our hearts
That years won't take away
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed with broken hearts

EDSON'S YOUTHFUL OPERETTA

Directors and cast of the 1966 production of 'Rumpelstilskin,' received well deserved praise this week following three performances of theirs second annual operetta last weekend

The star of the operetta had to be Sammy Hexter, in the title role, although every member of the cast performed very commendably Every person in the audience had their own favorites in the production, but it is almost certain that Sammy, with his long nose, bushy brows, high pitched laughter and elf like hop, stole the heart of everyone

Lorraine Sahourin was perfect as Gretchen, the miller's daughter who became Queen John Terpstra fitted the role of the haughty and stern king to perfection

The three performances, played to a well filled auditorium each night, brought to an end the many hours spent practicing, designing and making costumes, buildings and painting scenery and all the other items necessary to a successful operetta Practices were sometimes made unsatisfactory when the flu kept members of the cast absent, but as usually happens in such cases, everything went off well in the end

Musical director Wm. Lanterbach and dramatics and general co-ordinator Frances Ciciarelli, have worked tirelessly with the students, in presenting 'Rumpelstilskin'. Besides the members of the cast many other students and teachers helped with costumes, make-up, scenery, lights, properties, ticket sales, etc., lend-

Marlboro resident killed on highway west of town

A tragic accident occured Saturday evening about two miles west of Edson that claimed the life of Daniel Mast, 23 year old resident of Marlboro.

Mr. Mast's pickup truck had run out of gas and he was in the process of putting more fuel in the tank when he was struck by an east bound car and killed instantly. The driver of the east bound car was apparently temporarily blinded by oncoming lights.

A companion in the truck, Vertis Swartzendruber, was hospitalized briefly for cuts and bruises.

Mr. Mast was a native of Arthur, Illinois. He had been associated with Bushmans Contractors, at Marlboro, employing Marlboro residents in various bush activities. His wife, Jo Ann, has been teaching school in Marlboro since the beginning of the present school term. They had no children.

The body was sent home to Peoria, Illinois, for burial

7 year old girl recovering after accident

An accident that could have been very serious, happily only resulted in minor injuries Friday evening.

The accident occurred about seven o'clock near the Spike Island bridge when seven year old Brenda Rutensky, playing with companions, dashed into the path of a small car.

The driver of the car, Glenn Ashmead, was on his way to attend the Queens Ball in Hinton After the accident had been investigated by police and a check had been made at the hospital to see that the little girl was all right, a friend drove him to Hinton where he was to find he had been chosen as Outstanding Teenager

Brenda was detained in hospital overnight, but was released the next day with only bruises and scratches to show for her narrow escape.

Home & School meets tonight

The next meeting of the Edson Home and School Association will be held at 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 30th, in the Evergreen Elementary School. Mr. Jim Lawrence will give a talk concerning Pedal Pushers and the safety of children while riding bicycles and motor scooters.

Moose builders club working towards end

The first Moose to take its place with the citizens of Edson in the tourist promotion program is entering the first stages of maturity in George Collin's workshop.

Bye catching attractions rather like a family affair and Mr. George Collin Sr. wasn't sure if it should be called a Moose Collin Club or a Collin Moose Club.

Assisting George Sr., are his five sons: Max, George Jr., Silas, Lloyd and Bill.

George Jr. who has acted as the engineer on the creation outlined the blueprints to the spectator that will probably weigh about one ton.

A tremendous amount of work has gone into the construction as the skeleton has been erected with steel rods and covered with mesh wire to hold the final cement coating.

When completed the big moose will take up his stand on the east end of town.

As yet no name has officially been announced but possibly the Chamber of Commerce may consider a contest to choose a handle for this east end attraction.

Building the moose has been tend to slow down the tourists according to Silas Collin who has been working steadily with the brochure committee of the Edson Chamber of Commerce.

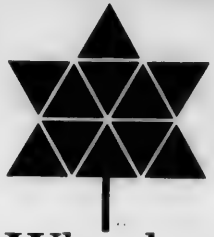
This is the Centennial Symbol.



What does it mean? What does it mean to you?

We hope it means more than any other symbol you have ever been exposed to. Because this symbol is Canada. And Canada is you.

It is composed of eleven triangles. Ten representing the Provinces, and the other, our northern territory. The triangles are arranged as a stylized Maple Leaf, the identifying symbol for Canada and Canadians.

It is your symbol and it can help stand for your involvement in Canada. It can show your pride. It can interpret your enthusiasm for a greater Canada. From this point on, all Canadians will be caught up in the growing excitement of honouring 100 years of Confederation. Individuals will soon be involved with their own Centennial projects. Many communities have already begun to embark on large scale Centennial endeavours. Industries have initiated widespread Centennial efforts of varying degrees. All Canadians working to say "Canada" to the world.

You will be seeing this symbol everywhere. Like to be one of those behind it? We'd like you to use the symbol in your home; your office; at school; in your plans; wherever you can. The manual noted below may help to explain how you can best use it.

Remember, this is an opportunity for all of us to understand Canada, its history, its present and its future. Let's explore what can now be called a great country. Let's all be a symbol for Canada, the same way this is a symbol for Centennial.

Jasper sweeps brace from Edson in hockey action

By MEL SOLTYS

The Jasper Combines defeated the visiting Edson Commodores 10-5 and 6-5 in weekend hockey action on March 19th and 20th. The Commodores, who are playing exhibition encounters away from Edson due to lack of ice, fared well in both of their games and nearly upset the favored Combines in their second game.

On Saturday evening, Jasper scored five goals in the second period to pull away from a 3-1 first period lead and then coasted to a 10-5 win. John Tarreau led the winners by scoring a hat trick and collecting three assists for a six point evening.

Ken Sawka also scored three goals for the Combines while other Jasper scorers were Bill Benner with a pair, Dorian Rowan and Ray Geddy notched singletons.

For Edson, Sam Belcourt beat Jasper netminder, Terry Pry twice in the last period to lead the Commodore scoring attack. Single goals were scored by Gerald White, Leo Gamache, Randy Pyner and Dave Zarusky.

Jasper outshot Edson 36 to 34 and took seven penalties to the Commodore's ten. Edson however was assessed a total of 50 minutes in the six-biter due to two majors for fighting and three misconducts.

SUNDAY GAME

In Sunday's game, the Edson Commodores led by a score of 3-1 with only one minute and 44 seconds remaining in the encounter. Two goals by John Tarreau within a span of seventeen seconds provided the margin of victory for the Combines who were outplayed and outshot by the visiting Commodores.

Goal scorers for Jasper were John Tarreau who scored his second hat trick in as many games, Alden Bradley with a pair and Dave Berzkavicus.

Tarreau also had two assists in the 6-5 in and total-wise, collected six goals and five assists for an impressive 11 point weekend. Berzkavicus also credited with four assists in Sunday's game while Bradley had three helpers.

Edson scorers were John May with two goals, while singletons went to Al Lagore, Norm Dubray and Gerald White. Dubray also assisted on two goals.

Ten penalties were called with Jasper being charged with seven of the infractions. Edson outshot the Combines 39-37.

The next taste of action for the Edson Commodores comes this weekend when they journey to Rocky Mountain House to take on that town's Intermediate "B" team.

Most of Edson's competition this year has been against intermediate "C" teams. Then on April 8, 9 and 10th, the Commodores will participate in a hockey tournament at Jasper. They have drawn Northwest Goms in their first game.

Local rinks take part in Jasper men's bonspiel

Three rinks from Edson travelled to Jasper last weekend for the mountain town's annual men's open bonspiel. Although they never brought it back any prizes they had an enjoyable time. One thing that is nice about the Jasper spiel is the fact that with the larger rink participants don't have to curl around the clock. Local men taking in the bonspiel were saying they looked forward to when the Edson club had their enlarged rink and would be able to do the same.

Of the three rinks from Edson, all were knocked out of the prizes in the semifinals of the 5th Event, judged by most to have the toughest competition in the spiel.

Glenn Schultz, Bert Kuefler, Bill Kurpk and Paul Giovanetto made it in the eights. The Edson Motor Hotel rink of Al Moberley, Ted Yeomans, Carl Baluch and Bert Herring were knocked out by a heartbreaking stroke of bad luck in the semis. Jim Oliver, Albert Taylor, Harvey Lucek and a pick up player from Jasper also lost out in the semi's of the 5th.

There were 62 rinks entered in the bonspiel, including a number from B.C. and Edmonton as well as Edson and Hinton.

Locally, Norm Miller's rink won the Northwestern Oil Trophy in the men's A event while Tuesday and Wednesday Masse, Norm, Bill Pilage and Gary Mitchell defeated the Bank of Nova Scotia to win the finals then went on to defeat Ted Yeomans rink in the A finals. Eight rinks took part including Wigginton, Lemons, Battis, Morlock, Hall and Dixon, besides those mentioned above.

The curling season may be drawing to an end but Ed Gerding at Edson Outdoor Supply has solved the problem for people who wish to curl twelve months of the year. Presently on display is a curling game called Armchair Curlers. It is designed as a attractive piece of furniture that will add a lot of enjoyment to any rumpus room. It is worth seeing.

Barry Smith of Atlantic Pacific, and one of the stalwart members of the Edson basketball team, tells a good story of Showboat Buchner, one of the stars of the Jiarkan Clowns. Showboat, who has excelled in a variety of sports, was playing ball in one of the eastern Alberta towns. Always a crowd pleaser he had the opposing pitcher $10 he could hurl the ball and stand to third base.

The bet was on and on the first pitch Showboat buzzed the ball along the first base line and ran to third base and collected the ten spot.

Axiomatism throughout the world is becoming evident in Edson last weekend a sociology survey was started to find the definitions of leisure time and recreation.

It may be hard to determine the actual outcome of these surveys but one might assume that Leo LeClerc's Wide Open or the late movies on TV still never replace sex.

That Darn Cat as filmed by Walt Disney has seemed to start off a series of chain reactions in the cat world this past week.

The Leader Went Ads carried an ad for a gentleman who had found a nice cat and wished to find the owner.

Now this chain reaction is rather difficult to figure out as to whether the results should be credited to That Darn Cat or the effectiveness of the want ad, but the gentleman, Mr. Al LaBelle is now the proud owner of four darn cats.

Steve Derksen of Derksen Foreign Cars will be making like a bird some of these days as he is now installing an air cooled engine in the Auto-Gyro plane he has built.

This type of plane comes under the category of the ultra light class which seems to be appealing to some of the airplane builders, who are becoming more numerous in the Edson area.

In presenting the project, Mr. Bessert drew attention to the [illegible] years of preparation and planning that had gone into the project. He reviewed the progress that had been made by the club, and mentioned that the tourist service exceeds the original objectives and has been able to develop the 7.75 acre site.

Total cost of the project, $30,000, which has an area of 7.75 acres with such tourist facilities as washrooms, shelters, tenting, trailer parking, tourist information bureau, picnic areas, one acre fish pond, playground area and 9 mile miniature railroad.

Benefits to Edson and surrounding area are expected to exceed $100,000.

At the conclusion of his presentation Lion president Bessert remarked that "we must all have the foresight to plan for this ever increasing mobile society".

"Situated as we are on the Yellowhead route, it would be poor planning on our part not to be concerned over the progress being made by our western neighbor, British Columbia: not to be prepared for the traffic explosion which must come following the completion of the B.C. section of the Yellowhead route; or to plan for a further increase that will result when Alberta completes its section would seriously affect our tourist industry as well as the economic growth of our town and district.

"This area will be in the middle of this traffic explosion, rated by authorities sources as being Alberta's biggest tourist boom with traffic volume exceeding the Trans Canada Highway."

REMEMBER EDSON?

"Remember that town we stopped in where they had the park with the fish pond and miniature railroad? Edson, wasn't it. . . a lovely place to stop". These are the words Lions Club members are hoping to have tourist visitors say when receiving a happy vacation through this area.

CHAIRMAN of the ARDA CD14 Zone 2 central area Advisory Council is Chris Nielsen, well known merchant of Pero. Backing Chris up as vice chairman is Mrs. Frances Mahon, a woman of many years community service to Edson.

For the people by the people

Who knows what we need more than the people who live here.

Our program can only move as far and as fast as the people themselves.

It's the people's program, their idea's, their plans that we are here to help co-ordinate.

These were a few of the remarks made by Regional Resource Co-ordinator, Frank Belyea following the Lions club presentation of their proposed project to the Central Advisory Council on March 24th.

He advised the Council that the decision they bring in concerning the Lions Club proposal is for them alone to decide. Not all the decisions they make in the months and years ahead are necessarily going to be the right ones but they won't know the difference until they take those steps.

The Council went on to accept the Lions Club proposal, marking the first definite move by this newly organized town and rural area Council.

Lagoon type, Edson's disposal grounds is now one mile out of town in an area very well controlled and maintained.

Direction and Assistance

The need for a tourist information bureau seemed more apparent as tourists by the hundreds were passing through Our Town without any organized attempt at assisting them.

Following the suggestions of The Town Council and local Chamber of Commerce concerning the need for a tourist information bureau, the matter was discussed within the Lions Club.

Done in agreement with Town

New Lions Park Site

After considerable discussion and planning, Council was approached with regard to obtaining land, formerly the new sewage disposal site.

The Lions Club entered in to agreement with the Town for an area comprised of 7.75 acres with one of the conditions being that a tourist information bureau would be erected immediately, to be followed by a complete plan for the development of the whole site.

Through the Lions club many fund raising rallies, auctions, and dances have been held a total of some $7,000.00 has spent so far carrying out plans for the Park.

A Tourist Park is born

In years gone by one of the surest ways of knowing you were entering the east limits of the town of Edson was the smell. And smell it did, even the most stopped up nose should know and began twitching when your approach coincided with an east breeze. Former sewer disposal site

The area responsible for the smell was the site of the town's sewer disposal plant, as well as the location of the town dump grounds.

Both however, gave way to progress, with the sewage system being extended to the new

NDP Leader Douglas has lengthy political career

T. C. DOUGLAS

Mr. T. C. Douglas, Leader of the Federal NDP party, who will be speaking in Edson on the night of April 13th, has had a long and varied political career. His name is well known in both provincial and federal spheres of government.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree from Brandon College in 1930, Mr. Douglas joined the ministry of the Baptist Church. He continued with his education completing his Master of Arts at McMaster's in Hamilton this in 1933. However, when the CCF party came into existence in the mid-1930's, Mr. Douglas was already one of its outstanding exponents. He left the ministry to participate in politics.

From 1935 to nearly 1944 Mr. Douglas represented the Federal Constituency of Weyburn in Ottawa. During this period he came rapidly to the fore as a major assistant to M. J. Coldwell, the leader of the CCF party in the House. He was a natural selection to take over the provincial CCF reins in Saskatchewan.

In June of 1944 he led his party to a landslide victory in Sask. and repeated his success in 1948, 1952 and 1956. During the early part of his tenure in office he was Minister of Health as well as premier and was largely instrumental in bringing in a medical and hospitalization scheme which was a "first" for the North American Continent. This government was likewise responsible for bringing in the first program of compulsory automobile insurance.

With the retirement of M. J. Coldwell as leader of the CCF party, Mr. Douglas was chosen leader in a four-way contest with Hazen Argue.

In the December survey of Saskatchewan in 1964 Mr. Douglas was defeated. He was then invited to a contest a Federal by election in Burnaby, B.C. and was elected. He still represents that riding in the House of Commons.

As leader of the New Democratic Party, successor to the CCF, Mr. Douglas is noted for his outstanding oratory and debating ability. As a platform speaker, his spirited delivery and humorous anecdotes are found most entertaining both by members of his own party and by those whose allegiance lies elsewhere.

As noted in last week's issue of The Leader the meeting of 8 p.m. on April 13th in the High School Auditorium is to be a provincial nomination meeting. It has already been reported that Mr. Neil Reimer Leader of the NDP Party in Alberta, will permit his name to stand.

Hartman rink wins annual Elks-Purple spiel

BY BOB MEWIN

Edson Elks and Royal Purple wound up their curling season with a hang-up mixed spiel on Sunday, March 13th. Though this was mainly a social rather than a competitive event, the day nevertheless saw some very fine curling.

The Ken Hartman rink took the A Event, followed closely by Jack Woyzitzki, skip; Kay Woyzitzka, third; Vic Cebuliak, Second and Ricky Latziak, lead. Winners in the B Event were Lou Masse, skip; Mrs. Masse, third; Fred Swarchyniski, second and Marg. thrilling one for tyro curlers Schairer, who on their first ale Goldstick, second; and Vic McEachern, lead, took second prize in this event.

The day proved to be a thrilling one for two curlers Elaine Weisner and Marg Schairer, who on their first attempt at curling, wound up with the winners.

Social activities in conjunction with the spiel were in charge of Rod Jamain at the Elks lodge rooms, where Dan Switzer presented the winners with individual trophies, provided by the Commodore Hotel for the A Event and by Griffiths Motors for the B Event. Second prizes in both events were given by the lodges.

The bonspiel was agreed by all to have been a great success, and a fitting wind up for Lodge curling activities for the season.

"OUR ALBERTA HERITAGE"
RED CROSS SOCIETY

Every day the newspapers are full of incidents of storm, tragedy and suspense. Many of these stories revolve around the theme of saving human life. Many times these stories have happy endings. They often happen because of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion service.

This service is just one of the many offered by this enterprising society. There's the Junior Red Cross — a vital force for healthy living and good citizenship that reaches school children. The Canadian Red Cross Society in Alberta operates a disaster service, a water safety service and a reunion and enquiry service. Members of this society lead the way in providing surgical dressings, splints, clothing and bedding to those in need.

We're proud to salute the Canadian Red Cross Society and give grateful thanks for this organization that contributes so much to OUR ALBERTA.

Government institutes Indian reserve program

A massive Indian reserve improvement program to cost the Federal Government $113,000,000 in the next five years was announced recently by Superintendent General of Indian Affairs Arthur Laing.

"Under the program Indians will receive assistance to provide better housing, safe water supply, sanitation facilities, electrification of homes and improved roads in their communities," Mr Laing said.

A comprehensive study of housing conditions on reserves completed in Feb., 1965 confirmed the need for 12,000 new homes over the next five years together with the necessary facilities and community services.

The situation was discussed with the National Indian Advisory Board which met in Ottawa Jan. 10 to 21th. The Board called for an accelerated program to eliminate the problem in the shortest time.

Under the accelerated program the objective is to build 12,000 homes in the next five years. The cost will be met from personal and band fund contributions and about $70,000,000 in public funds, Mr. Laing said "The program will be flexible to meet the wide variety of reserve conditions across Canada, but will recognize four general areas of need."

First, for the widowed, aged, indigent and disabled, suitable housing will be provided largely at public expense. Second, for Indian families living in marginal economic areas help will be provided for homes of minimum standards.

Thirdly, Indian families living on reserves where economic conditions and prospects are favourable, who are able to contribute to the cost of their homes, will be provided with assistance to acquire a higher standard of home. Fourthly, Indian families wishing to relocate off reserves to obtain employment will be provided with financial assistance to enable them to take advantage of normal lending facilities.

In addition to housing rural electrification program will be undertaken using existing public utilities wherever possible. "Progress on many reserves has been seriously impeded by the lack of power. It is necessary to provide electricity to the reserves," Mr. Laing stated. The cost of this program over the next five years is expected to be $7,000,000 and will be directed mainly to communities where Indians left band funds are necessary to extend facilities.

On many reserves adequate water and sewage systems are non-existent and vast improvements in this field are required if Indian people are to have the amenities enjoyed by the majority of other Canadians. Some $40,000,000 will be spent for this purpose.

To co-ordinate the reserve improvement program, community planning has been undertaken on a number of reserves and scores of other communities will be examined as the needs and priorities are set by the Indian communities.

To carry out this ambitious plan the services of other government agencies, particularly the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, will be utilized to the fullest extent. Of particular importance is the total involvement and participation of Indian band councils and the Indian people.

Among the former Edson residents that came home to take part in the annual ladies open bonspiel last weekend were Mrs Ann Davidge, Mrs John Walker and Mrs Jim Bess from Edmonton. The gals got a big hand when they were introduced at the banquet in the Secret Heart Church hall, Saturday evening.

"Be sure and tell them there's no charge for a second cup of coffee!"

It Happened This Way . .

BY PERN ICE

Listen my children and you shall hear — Remember those famous opening lines?

Well anyway back at the tail end of the Depression eight of us gals living in an oil field shack town capitalized on the services of our own Paulette Revere.

It's a fact!

The country was gradually pulling out of the depression, but money was still scarce so unless it was a matter of prime importance the family jalopy set idle. Ninety percent of us walked thither and yon, but not our female Revere.

She owned a saddle horse Old Crow Foot was her last link with a fruitless attempt at ranching and a welcome addition to our little community.

Our gal ran errands, delivered the latest gossip, rounded up wandering kids and was always ready to ride and spread the alarm when the necessity arose.

Now don't think for a moment that such occasions didn't present themselves.

We neglected to mention that P.R. lived on the out skirts of shack-town, a mere stones throw from the one sentry flanking us with the out side world, so to speak.

Thats how it came about that she was first to encounter that officious gentleman sent out to check for radio licenses.

She had not invested in that dollar's worth of protection and was aware of the fact that her buddy-buddies were guilty of the same discrepancy.

As soon as the checker-up per disappeared around the first corner Paulette flew into action.

Out her back door she sped, jumped aboard her pinkie charger and tore down the back alley full steam ahead.

By the time that poor man had reached the door of his third potential victim the alarm was shattering. Never before had he heard such a quiet nor witnessed so many vacant windows and locked doors. It must have been frustrating!

Soon Mr. Snooper gave up in apparent despair and left town in a cloud of dust.

Were we relieved! Our hero fortune had done it again! Tomorrow we would converge in Mass on the proper place of business, lay down our duties and enjoy Ma Perkins with a clear conscience

That's what we thought. But let me tell you that inspector was an unscrupulous operator! Sneaky too He park ed his car and in the cool, cool of the evening walked back and nabbed us, not one did he spare He rood us a riot act that beat any humiliation ever suffered before or since.

Our husbands took over where he left off and didn't even have the decency to punish his pause, as he so justly deserved.

You've heard the saying, "Chivalry is a lost art." Well that and but true bit of philosophy originated as that memorable day, thirty odd years ago.

Men are not to be trusted so let us hear no more snide remarks on the wiles of a woman.

The Migratory Bird Treaty

The Migratory Bird Treaty between the United States and Great Britain was signed in Washington, D.C. on August 16, 1916 it was proclaimed on December 8, 1916 The Treaty marked the close of a long battle by pioneer conservationists in the United States and Canada to bring migratory song and game birds under uniform protection It effectively ended the market shooting that was threatening the extinction of many valuable bird species in North America. The Treaty was one of the cornerstones upon which the modern U.S Fish and Wildlife Service and Canadian Wildlife Service were built It established the primary authority of the Federal Governments of both nations to regulate the hunting of migratory game birds and to take needed steps to assure their preservation The Treaty provided full protection for many beneficial nongame species.

Good Friday service

The Edson Mennonite Church extends a cordial welcome to a special service on Good Friday evening, April 8, at 7:30.

Of all the Christian days and traditions, the only event of Jesus' life which he himself asked to be remembered specifically was the death and resurrection. For this reason, this is beyond doubt the most important event of the Church Year.

Pastor Stanley Shantz of Fort Assiniboine plans to be present for the occasion.

After the public service there will be an intermission after which the congregation will again assemble to observe the Lord's Supper and the washing of the Saints feet as Jesus gave example in John 13.

Everyone is welcome to attend all or part of the service.

MacKay man dies at 68

Mr (Fred) Theodorius Wolcomyn of MacKay passed away on March 30th at the age of 68. He is survived by his loving wife, Katherine, of MacKay; one son George and two daughters, Mary Ann and Anna all in Edmonton Two brothers and two sisters who live in Ukraine.

Prayers were said Monday, March 28th in the Park Memorial Chapel in Edmonton. Reverend Bohdan Sukhorowych was celebrate at the Requiem Mass interment was made in St. Michael's Cemetery.

AT THEIR MEETING last Wednesday evening the Edson Fish & Game Association and Gun Club installed their new executive as follows, left to right, seated: Frank Magyar, treasurer; Don Popoff, president; Bill Anderson, vice president; Aime Laloude, secretary. Standing at back are committee chairman, D. H. Brooks, fishing; Don Jenkins, hunting; Fred Armstrong, membership; Alex Gering, ways and means. Missing from the picture is shooting chairman, Glenn Schultz. Leader Photo

Don Popoff new prexy of local Fish & Game Assoc.

With the installation of their new executive last Wednesday evening the Fish and Game Assoc. and Gun Club spent the biggest share of the remainder of the meeting in discussion of tentative projects for the future.

There was quite a good turnout at the meeting with many constructive points being taken up as members gave their ideas on the subjects on the agenda.

The new exective is comprised of: Messrs. Don Popoff, president; Bill Anderson, vice president; Aime Laloude, secretary Frank Magyar, treasurer; Committee Chairman are as follows: Dr. D. H. Brooks, fishing; Glenn Schultz, shooting; Fred Armstrong, membership; Don Jenkins, hunting; Alex Gering, ways and means.

The first subject brought up for discussion was whether or not to hold a raffle. Prizes on a boat and motor had been solicited from local and out of town dealers following preliminary thoughts on the project at the last meeting.

The proceeds of the raffle would be slated for the proposed park and stocking of the old CNR lakelets at the west side of town. The Fish and Game Assoc. and Elks Lodge had both put in a petition at the last meeting of the Town Council. However final approval of the project could not be obtained from Council until the Water Resources Branch, town engineer, etc. had had a chance to check the dam after the snow has melted. With this in mind the subject was deferred to a later meeting.

Tentative plans and preliminary discussions have now taken place and the groundwork is laid if it is decided to go ahead with the raffle at a later date.

The secretary reported on the recent Hunter-Trainer course, stating that most of the fifteen men who took the course had written their exams on the previous Monday.

The question was raised as to whether the potential instructors had to be members of the Fish and Game Assoc. if they instructed in future courses. It was generally felt that as the Fish and Game Assoc. would in all probabal ity be sponsoring the courses, it was desirable that the instructors belonged to the Assoc. Some felt non-member instructors should be welcomed hoping they would see fit to join the Association in the future. Others felt that non members should not even be considered as instructors in a Fish and Game sponsored course.

With the discussion reaching something of a stalemate it was decided to defer it until it was learned how many had passed the instructors course.

MR. AND MRS. BILL STROUD

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stroud mark 50th Anniversary

One of Edson's grand old couples, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stroud celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Saturday, March 26th.

The Stroud's were married in Edson in 1916 and have lived their entire married life here, the last 35 years in their home at 4914 - 7th Avenue East. Mrs. Stroud, the former Mabel Shepherd, came to Edson with her family from the States in 1912. Mr. Stroud came the next year from Montebello.

They have both found Edson a good place to live and bring up their family of two, a son Charlie, and a daughter Catherine, Mrs. Ingmar Christensen.

Following almost 30 years with the CNR Mr. Stroud retired in 1950, but decided that there was no better place to spend the rest of their years than among their good friends and the familiar surroundings of their home town Mr Stroud is 76 and Mrs. Stroud 72. They both look forward to many more years in Edson.

With the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge catering for their long-time sister on this happy occasion, 45 members of the Stroud and Shepherd families sat down to a family supper in the IOOF Hall. Among them were Mrs. Stroud's sisters Mrs. Olive Morris of Vanderhoof, B.C., Mrs. Elsie Reynolds of Edmonton, her brother Art Shepherd of Edson and numerous nieces and nephews.

Following dinner Open House was held from 8:00 p.m. until almost midnight when old and new friends called in to help celebrate. Mr. George MacLean was master of ceremonies and had the honor of presenting the honored couple with a gift of money on behalf of friends and relatives. There were 112 entries in the guest book, all but eight of which were couples.

During the evening Mr. Ernie Fowler sang several solos, Mr. MacLean also sang a solo and community singing was enjoyed accompanied by Mrs MacClean at the piano and Mr George Collin with his violin.

Telegrams of congratulations were received from Prime Minister Pearson, John Diefenbaker, Premier E. C. Manning, Lieut. Governor Grant MacEwan, Dr Hugh Horner, M.P., Hon. Walter M.L.A. and Mayor Brunelle, besides innumerable friends and relations.

Centennial work shops

Members of the Centennial Branch staff, Department of the Provincial Secretary, have embarked on an extensive program of Centennial Workshops, to be held in some 20 communities throughout Alberta.

The purpose of these workshops is to develop ideas and offer suggestions on how the average citizen can and should participate in Canada's Centennial and, in particular, to develop plans for celebrations to co-incide with the visit of the Centennial Caravan to each community.

Workshops are currently taking place in the southern part of the province, during the month of April they will be held in the areas between Calgary and Edmonton; and in May they will move to the communities west of Edmonton, and up into the Peace River area. Residents of all communities which will be visited by the Centennial Caravan in 1967 are urged to watch for announcement of dates and locations in their local newspapers, and on radio and television stations.

Conducting the workshops are Centennial Officers G. D. "Bud" Salloum, V. G. "Vic" Chapman and E. H. "Pat" Abell, all of Edmonton.

Witnesses to attend Edmonton convention

A number of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are now preparing to attend a convention in Edmonton on April 1, 2 and 3. The convention will feature a baptismal service on Saturday, and on Sunday a public Bible lecture by Mr Alex Didier, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, entitled "Does God Have Influence in This Twentieth Century?"

The presiding minister of the local congregation, Mr Jack Eckstein, will be assisting in the preparation of the baptismal arrangements. This arrangement is for the baptism of new ministers.

Baptism does not imply the applicants' joining a church or a religious organization, nor do Jehovah's Witnesses consider it a sacrament, but a symbolizing of a dedication vow of one's life to Jehovah's service.

Following the convention on April 3 the local congregation will hold the annual memorial celebration of Christ's death. Last year 1,823,026 gathered for this celebration world-wide. Locally in Edson there were 70 persons who attended this celebration.

Seen on the Main Drag

— Ah, Springtime! Harbingers of the season included, girls in pretty dresses, young men in convertibles with the tops down, and elderly persons out to enjoy the sunshine Saturday was such a day on Edson's Main Drag.

— Did you happen to notice a blue and white 1960 Chev rushing around the Main Drag on Saturday? One week before their wedding and so much to get done. Well it won't be long now will it, Don and Shirley — Taxi Driver Mr. Manville patiently waiting for a passenger.

— Edson Motor Hotel Lobby bright with a new coat of wall paint.

— The Main Stem and 6th Avenue seemed to be a beehive of activity Sunday morning as the bright sunshine drew motorists and bike riders out.

— Rickie Beatie, must be a real drama fan. He was ever heard telling a playmate that he had seen the Jubilee Glee Club presentation. Rumpelstil skin' three times. It only had three performances and a dress rehearsal.

— Bill Patrick, out bright and early to pick up the mail and a few items of groceries. This is a sight that can be seen almost any morning as Mr. Patrick is one of Edson's old timer who believes in rising early.

— Lloyd Bonnert, Lions Club President, figuratively turning cartwheels in his station at the good news about the Lions Park Project. Stories on the subject can be found elsewhere in The Leader.

PREMIER E. C. MANNING PRESENTS AN AWARD OF MERIT to the Hon. Henry Ruste, Minister of Lands and Forests, on behalf of the National Rifle Association of America, while Honour Training Officer Paul Prasidemis looks on. This was the first year Alberta had entered the annual international competition for hunter training programs. The Alberta program was one of nine selected from 39 states and provinces for the award. Inscription on the plaque reads: "National Rifle Association of America presents to The Province of Alberta this award of merit for outstanding achievement in the field of Hunter Safety during the year of 1965 as determined by a special committee of the International Association of Fish and Game Conservation Commissioners". Alberta's two year old program covers a much wider range than safe gun handling. Instruction is also given in game management; rules and regulations; the game act; general prohibitions; identification, habits and habitat of fish, birds and animals; sportsman's responsibilities; hunting courtesy; forest fire prevention; care of firearms; code of ethics; hunting hints and techniques; first aid; survival and archery. The program is handled through the Fish and Wildlife Division, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests.

TEN PARKLAND RESIDENTS celebrate with joint birthday party.

Around Parkland Lodge

Another winter is behind us, and spring is in the air. The residents of the Lodge have enjoyed a measure of good health this past winter. Those sick in the hospital at the present time are: A. Braaten, J. Oswalt and J. Dalenc.

On March 11th, the Opti-Mrs Club entertained the guests of the Lodge. The four talented Collins sisters performed for them, rendering musical numbers, luton twirling and singing. Some musical numbers were also rendered by Lynn and Wayne Kendrak.

March is the month when many birthdays fall due, so this year we all celebrated together. In the picture you can see them gathered round the table at the birthday party. A four tier cake was made by Mid-Town Bakery. From left to right of the matron are: A. Braaten, A McDonald, Mrs C. Barnes, P. X. Dussontelle, Mrs. L. Reese, C. Tufts, Mrs. N. Thibodeau, P. Bacon and Mrs. E. Nielsen.

We wish them all many more birthdays and more parties.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Crowthers from Jasper took us all on a scenic trip by film on Saturday evening. Scenes of Jasper Banff, Al Canning Game Farm and Storyland Zoo were much enjoyed.

We at the Lodge are still waiting to challenge visitors to a game on our shuffleboard

Op-Teens plan trip to Olds

"On behalf of the Op-Teen Club, we wish to thank the members of the Optimist Club for helping to make our trip to the Olds Op-Teen convention possible," were the words spoken by Op-Teen president Glenn Ashmead, as he received a cheque from Optimist President Bill Owens.

This years convention will be held at Olds, Alberta, from Thursday, April 7, until April 10th. The Edson Op-Teens will travel there by a special chartered Greyhound bus.

The 41 passenger bus will be shared with 20 members of the Hinton Op-Teen Club, also attending the convention, accompanying the Edson group as chaperone will be past president of the Optimist Club, Mr Harold Wortman

One of the resolutions to be discussed at the convention will be the hiring of a uniformed commissioner to attend all dances sponsored by the club This has been one of the chaperoning problems at those functions possibly due to lack of interest by patrons, but it is hoped to determine if the same situation exists in other Alberta centres

Art Club to select painting for exhibit

All members of the Edson Art Club are asked to be on hand at the Jubilee Junior High School, Friday, April 1st at 7.30 p.m. when the final session of the season will be given by Miss Lynne Connell

In a recent interview Prof. Harry Wohlfarth of the Department of Extension asked the Edson Art Club to choose two of the best paintings done by members of the class this last winter. These will be forwarded to the department in order to send them on exhibition next fall along with other pictures displayed by other community art clubs at the recent Community Art Class conference

Among other matters to be discussed is the setting up of dates for classes next year The extension department wishes to have their schedule set up in the next six weeks Please be on hand, and bring along your best painting or paintings

Agriculture Notes

A SPECIAL 4-H WISH

May we extend our congratulations and best wishes to the leaders, officers and members of the Pembina 4-H Grain Club for their most recent achievement. The winning of the Provincial Grand Championship at the Seed Fair held recently in Calgary is no small feat for winning samples from all areas of the Province were in competition.

This is the second major award come to this area in a matter of months for John Chinnyk, a member of the Pembina Grain Club, won the Grand Championship in the Provincial standing crop competition for the 1965 season.

Also amongst the winners at the Calgary Show was Shirley Hutchinson who placed 10th in the Oat Class and Terry Kremeniuk whose samples was 10th. These members did well considering that there were 39 entries in this class of oats. You did well Shirley and Terry.

We are justly proud of your win and hope you may continue to lead in areas of competiton. We feel sure that we speak for all in the district when we say congratulations, Pembina Grain Club, it's a job well done.

A final reminder to keep Thursday, March 31st open for:

A Short Course on Forage Crops; Soils and Fertilizers to take place in Edson in the Provincial Building, meeting room lower floor at 1:00 p.m.

Speakers will be Mr. O. G. Breivold, Supervisor, Crop Improvement, Alta. Dept. of Agriculture; and Mr. A. W. Goettel, Supervisor, Soils and Fertilizers, Alta. Dept. of Agriculture.

The short course is sponsored by P.U.A. Sub-District No. 2

Remember the date: Thursday, March 31st, 1966

We think you will find interest and benefit in this presentation and may be amply rewarded for your effort in coming. Tell your friends so that they may know about the meeting too. A good attendance will make the event more worthwhile. We hope to see you at the meeting on Thursday afternoon.

GOOD SEED MONTH

March has been designated as "Good Seed Month", and many farmers are busy making plans for better seed improved cultural practices. New equipment will be considered and, of course, how best to prepare a suitable seed bed for control of weeds.

It might be advantageous to consider kind and variety of cereal seed that will show greatest chance of success. There is quite a lot of information available in the Agricultural Offices at Evansburg and Edson. Come in and ask about some of these aspects of farming.

Fertilizers are a powerful tool to help increase yields and maintain the soil in good condition. Feel free to enquire about soils and fertilizers.

Better never born!

Many wicked men and their deeds are exposed in the Bible but it was said of only one individual that it would have been better had he never been born.

Judas was this infamy

He was quite human and not so unlike many another

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend thanks to the many friends and relations who made our 50th Wedding Anniversary such a memorable event. The gifts and well wishes were very much appreciated.

man who lived before him or since. He must have had out standing qualities to be chosen one of twelve from among the multitude.

True, he was a little too money minded it must have started as a little thing, but it had gotten out of control when he betrayed Jesus to His enemies for a price.

But, was this worse than the throng who ignored Jesus completely? Or the Pharisees who spit upon Him and mocked Him? Or modern man who remains wilfully ignorant of Jesus' life and purpose

One thing is certain. God's sanction must be faced by every person ever born, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation " Hebrews

IS THAT 20 COUNTERFEIT?

Your neighborhood grocer, even though he's known you for years, probably looked suspiciously at that lost $20 bill you tendered him. Don't be surprised A phony $20 could mean a big drop in his week's profits and there have been a vast number of them around recently

An article in the April 2nd issue of Maclean's Magazine examines the nation-wide problem of counterfeit bills that has grown up since the development of offset printing

Last year alone Canadians were bilked of $300,000 in phony bills passed out and police in all parts of the country seized some $400,000 more before they had been distributed. The counterfeiting nucleus of Canada is Montreal and the current situation is so bad that 25 RCMP anti-counterfeiting experts are kept busy just in Quebec.

But at RCMP headquarters in Ottawa the counterfeiting squad is worried that the worst is yet to come. A "series" of bad bills that first appeared two years ago and were judged to be the best ever produced in Canada is still flooding the urban areas.

The cops say the fake $20's have improved with every reprinting. They are afraid that a master issue of these phony bills — perhaps worth more than $1,000,000 — will begin appearing for Expo 67, a counterfeiter's paradise.

The RCMP is busy working on a pamphlet that will help both local police forces and the general public detect the fake currency. Meanwhile, they say, the best way to tell a counterfeit from a good bill is to examine the Queen's portrait. A messy hairdo or an unbecoming droop in the royal lip always betrays the phony bill.

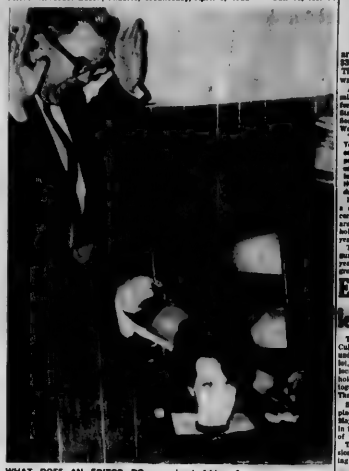
FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Wednesday, April 6, 1966 Vol. 12, No. 14



WHAT DOES AN EDITOR DO on April Fools' morn when he tries to take the editorial chair only to find parts of the female anatomy there a-head of him. Some person or persons on this newspaper must have cooked it up because here's the picture to prove it!

Council budget meeting sees wage increase

The budget planning meeting of Edson Council is always a fascinating meeting to sit in on. Figures from previous years — what was estimated and what the actual figures turned out to be — are again estimated for the coming year.

The meeting last Tuesday was only the preliminary budgetting session as requisitions from the school foundation program and the "unapproved" school costs that are not included in the foundation requisition were not known.

With the Provincial Legislature in session there are rumors that the Town might be hit for as much as $30,000 less this year in the "unapproved" category. The Council couldn't be sure so the budgetting had to wait for policy finalization by the senior government.

A review of the wage and salary structure saw increases for most of the Town staff. Stayed as they were were the Secretary-Manager and the Works Superintendent.

"Fringe" benefits for the Town employees now include one day sick leave, with pay per month without medical certificate. Unused sick leave days can be accumulative to a maximum of 20 days.

Knocking off for more than a day will require a medical certificate though. Employees are to get three weeks annual holidays with pay after five years uninterrupted service.

The rest of the budget discussion indicate another good year for our Town. While no great rush for building permits had actually been received this early in the year there are signs that this could be a record year for new construction.

COURT OF REVISION

During the meeting Monday, April 25th, was set as the date for the court of revision to hear appeals against business property tax assessments.

A letter from the Alberta Centennial Officer confirmed approval of the revised Town Centennial Arena Lobby project.

The Minister of Highways has indicated that the department will give consideration to the request from the Town for a skirting road for trucks from the North Road was read.

A letter from the Department of Education confirming the decision to reject the proposed withdrawal of the Town of Hinton from the Edson School Division was placed before Council.

Plans and estimates of Stanley Associates Engineering Limited with respect to the proposal of the School Division that Wase Creek be diverted eastward into East (Poplar) Creek along and adjacent to the north boundary of the Town indicated cost of $60,000 plus was estimated by the engineers. The estimates are being forwarded to the School Division without comment.

The request of the Lions Club that the information hereon be serviced with water and sewer was favorably considered when the buildings are placed at a satisfactory site and elevation.

The Secretary was asked to communicate with Calgary Power Limited requesting the (Company's consideration to an increase in the interest rate with respect to Town money on loan to the company.

Tenders are to be called for crushing 2500 cubic yards of 2 inch gravel, 5650 yards of ¾ inch gravel, 500 cubic yards of chips. The gravel is to be stock piled in the Dandurand (Swanson) gravel pit.

Edson R&CDB offering leadership course

The Edson Recreation and Cultural Development Board, under chairman Nigel Aspel, in co-operation with the local ARDA office, will be holding a series of three get-togethers, called "Seminar Three."

Seminar Three will take place on April 21, April 28, and May 5 at 7.30 each evening in the meeting room, basement of the Provincial Building.

Two well qualified professional people will be presenting the program of leadership orientation. They are Mr F Belyea, regional resource co-ordinator, and his assistant, Mrs. Pat Sheehan.

The course, Seminar Three which is being offered to all executive and members of clubs, youth groups, church groups, unions, agencies and organizations could very well have a great deal to do with the development of local resources and other activities.

Make a point of attending all three sessions.

Brownies help with Easter Seals

The 1st Edson Brownie Pack went to work this past week to raise $5 for the Easter Seal Campaign now under way by the Lions Club.

These young folk dug right in by digging out some old rags and selling them with the idea of helping some crippled child.

Their Leader, Mrs Anita Parenteau is very proud of the thoughtfulness of these young workers.

District fire leaves family destitute

A roaring house fire last Friday afternoon left a Carrot Creek family of eight, homeless and without clothing or household necessities.

The fire victims are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pitoulle and their six kiddies, who range in age from nine years to six months. The family live on the former Elmer Walsh farm.

It was thought the fire started when sparks from the chimney lit on the dry shingle roof and were whipped into flames by the violent winds that were blowing at the time, about 5:30 in the afternoon.

District residents quickly organized a building bee that worked last Sunday to help erect a new home for the family. Residents of the Carrot Creek and other neighboring districts also rallied to aid the family with items of clothing, bedding, household goods etc.

The youngsters include two boys, the oldest and youngest in the family, and four girls, aged 2, 4, 8 and 6 years. All of the kiddies are big for their age.

Anyone who would like to donate clothing or other items may leave them with Mrs. Howard Rew who lives one mile east of Peers corner on Highway 16.

Beware of Sham Salesmen

Woman tricked into signing 60 promissory notes by salesman runs up $3,000 unawares.

These men are experts. They often represent themselves as vice-presidents or sales managers of reputable firms whose financing they are carrying.

They will assure you that your signature is just a formality. It is not. Every time you sign one of their bogus documents you may be signing your life savings away.

BE WARNED

When a salesman calls take these steps:

1. Ask for identification
2. Phone office or firm he represents or wait and write if this is impracticable.
3. If you are a woman check with your husband.
4. Tell the salesman you are checking and ask him to call back in 24 hours. If he is not genuine this may put him off.

AROUND TOWN

BY BILL OWEN

Good Neighbors — A Surprise party held in the Glenwood Hall last Saturday evening in honor of Mr and Mrs. Stout Markley on their 25th anniversary it seemed to bring back a friendliness among neighbors that proved it wasn't out of style.

Fun and hilarity reigned as Deacon Tom Browne officiated over the wedding to the amusement of everyone. Rod Jaunman's group supplied the music for an evening of one steps, polkas, butterflies, two steps and a lot of fun.

The 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burton of Edson was also celebrated last Saturday when friends gathered to wish them the best for the coming years. Their son, Tom was home from Whitecourt, Helen their daughter, who is working in Edmonton, also assisted in making the day a glorious one.

Ray Weisner dropped in over the weekend to visit his folks prior to heading for Alaska where the company he works for, General Mobile Accomodation Ltd., will be setting up camps for a large industrial project.

The best dressed man of the month for April will be Mr. Frank Maynar who has been the lucky winner of the Kinsmen unit raffle. Chairman for this project, Randall Murray, pointed out after the draw that the proceeds will be used to help pay off the debt being incurred on the new arena.

To show his appreciation for having his picture in the Edson Leader to help celebrate his birthday, Mr. Sidney Lawrence last week brought a nice box of chocolates to the staff. Mr. Lawrence was recently released from the St. John's Hospital after being confined for about one month.

Peter Sertisk, a non-committed politician, claims by the rumors that are flying around that Tommy Douglas will park the school auditorium on April 13th.

Jehovah's Witnesses convention

About 30 members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses attended the semi-annual convention held at the Sales Pavilion Annex at Edmonton, April 1-3.

The presiding minister of the local congregation reports that 2 of 10 persons baptized in symbol of their dedication vow to serve Jehovah were from the local congregation. After the baptismal arrangement on Saturday there 3 new ministers along with 1,114 other ministers in attendance enjoyed an evening of Bible lectures and demonstrations on the benefits of regular Bible study.

On Sunday at 3 p.m. 1,597 were present to hear Mr Aleq M. Delver talk on the subject "Does God have Influence in This Twentieth Century".

While attending the three day convention Mr. Jack Erbstein was able to visit his sister, Mrs. Herb Kein of Vegreville who has undergone open heart surgery without the use of blood. Her condition is good and she still has a good reserve of blood.

The annual Memorial celebration of Christ's death will be celebrated by the local congregation at 7:30 p.m., April 8, 1966.

MR. AND MRS. ED BECK SR.

All of their eleven children and most grandchildren were present, plus their 17 grandchildren, were home to help Mr. and Mrs Ed Beck celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Saturday, March 12. Mr. and Mrs Beck are long time residents of the district, having come from North Dakota, and homestead ed up Wolf Creek in 1931. Four of their children were born here.

The celebration started with a family supper in the Commodore Hotel banquet room. Approximately 47 persons sat down to supper including children, sons and daughters-in-law and grandchildren.

Following supper open house was held when old and new friends called in to extend congratulations and help celebrate the happy occasion. Mr. Bert Kneller was master of ceremonies for the evening. Music was provided for dancing by Bill Bush and the Rhythmaires from Cavanagh, friends of the family.

Among the gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Beck was a trip home to Missouri to see Mrs. Beck's mother who is 88 years old. This was from their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck, 75 and 69 years old respectively, still make their home on their farm up Wolf Creek, although many members of their family have scattered across Alberta and British Columbia and Manitoba.

Attending from out of the district were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilcox of Wrangell, Alaska, (a niece); Mr and Mrs. Ed Kloss of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beck of Peribgo La Prairie ,Man.; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Beck of Brandon, Man.; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beck of Edmonton. A son Amos, from Vancouver, was unable to attend.

Band rehearsal Tuesday nights

"Conflicting activities on Wednesday nights has affected the turnout to rehearsals for the band members," stated Bandmaster Dick Christie, "so we shall try our former night, which is Tuesday."

Previously the turnout numbered 25 to 30 members but with the transient population in Edson the number has decreased allowing openings for any interested persons.

The band has acquired a fine library of music and are presently planning the coming years agenda.

Home & School meeting has interesting program

A good turnout to the Home and School meeting in the Evergreen School last Wednesday were well entertained with songs and informative talks.

A choral group of young sters under the direction of Miss Levcherko and Mrs. Wes ver sang several songs which indicated a good basic group for the glee clubs that are becoming so evident in Edson.

Vice President Jim Lawrence chairman for the evening, introduced George Collin who spoke on the Pedal Pushers Club.

Mr Collin explained how the Home and School had assisted the Optimist Club for two years in this worthy youth training program. He pointed out that the police department had expressed their apprecia tion for the instruction given to the young pedal pushers.

Mrs Horne spoke about the special group of children that she has in her class. This information was very well received by the audience.

Mr Yeaman's group of young tumblers sparked by a couple of artful clowns went through their paces in fine fashion.

Coffee was served to complete a fine evening of entertainment.

Rodeo admission price to be decreased in 1966

The price of admission will be lowered but the caliber of the show will remain as high as in the past, claims Rodeo Chairman Jim Griffiths.

At the regular business meeting of the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Association held Tuesday, it was decided that the admission price to the Edson Rodeo being held this year on the 29th and 30th of July, will be dropped back to the same as in 1965.

Considerable discussion also took place to insure the caliber of the show remained the same and the directors were informed that Harry Veld, the well known stock contractor who has been pruned for the past six years will once again be here.

A special attraction will be the Dayland Pony Chariots, 24 teams that will take part in the two parades and be competing for prize money at the track on both days.

A good midway has been secured with several new rides booked that will be thrillers for the children and adults alike.

Three nights of big dances are being set up featuring the Rodgers Brothers for the Thursday and Friday nights with a local band featured for Saturday night. These dances will be held in the new Edson Arena.

Once again George Collin will be chairman of the queen contest. With eight years on this job, and now assisted by Barry Smith, it is expected to be the best contest yet.

The Edson band will be receiving a healthy donation to help them in getting the Band on parade for two days.

Directors for the Tri Service Rodeo Assoc this year include: Chairman, Jim Griffiths; Secretary, Ian Rutherford. Treasurer, Fred Jeneviewki. Directors are Lloyd Bonnert, Paul Gornevie, Murray Grier, Allan Marr and Jack Hook, Past President; Optimist Club Directors Bill Owen, Harry Enns, Ralph Linden, Jim Lawrence, George Collin; Kinsmen Club Directors: Art Jorgensen, Gordon Welch, Dick Topoll, Danny Switzer and Lorne Kroetch.

NOT TOO MUCH DOG PROBLEM

Townspeople will recall the dog controversion of a few years ago when an out-of-town contractor was running into resistance from dog owners every time he toured the town.

The problem has been almost completely resolved with the appointment of Warden Les McLeod. Tribute was paid to Mr. McLeod's diplomatic efficiency at the recent budget meeting of the Town Council.

Mr. McLeod's approach is that of a friendly neighbor with a mutual problem to discuss. A far cry from the brash young men who put everyone's backs up a few years ago.

Keep up the good work!

THE SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE

A GUEST EDITORIAL

Where have all the trails gone? What routes did the Indians travel in this area and how did the early settlers get through to the west, to the Coal Branch area or to the Peace River Country?

Some of our old-timers can tell us. Some maps show portions of early trails but the growth of the forest over the years is rapidly concealing evidence of man ever having treked through the surrounding wilderness. In recent years industry, in pursuit of natural resources, has cut new roads criss-crossing, and in some places following the old original trails. Before long, all evidence of these trails will be lost forever.

But this need not happen. There is a group in Canada taking action to preserve this portion of our national history. Recently, the President of the Canadian Camping Association reported on plans of the National Committee for a Cross- Country Centennial Journey, by Provincial Camping Associations. Methods of travel will be by canoe, saddle horse, hiking and a variety of methods used by early voyageurs in Canadian history. Participants will complete a record of provincial routes by keeping a journey log that will be useful for fellow-travellers in the future.

We, in Edson and District, are invited to join in the adventure. Not all would be expected to actually travel the routes but many could take part in gathering information, studying maps, finding old photographs and generally compiling information that would be required in making possible our portion of the Cross-Country Centennial Journey.

At present the Kinsmen Club of Edson is planning to travel by horse back in the City of Grande Prairie via the Grande Prairie Trail, in May of this year.

Surely more residents of this area would enjoy capturing the spirit of advenuture by tracing the old trails of the past.

GOBBLEDEGOOK!

The gobbledegook that finds its way into business communications is often annoying and sometimes funny. The following directive from the British Admiralty is a classic of the genre: "It is necessary for technical reasons that these warheads should be stored upside down, that is, with the top at the bottom and the bottom at the top. In order that there may be no doubt as to which is the bottom and which the top, for storage purposes, it will be seen that the bottom of each warhead has been labeled with the word 'Top'."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the opportunity to express my deep felt thanks and gratitude to all responsible for the excellent "New" theatre we were to see in Edson March 22, 23 and 24.

How many realize the hours of thought and planning such a production demands, the sleepless nights spent trying to see a finished product from only the printed pages of a script; the heavy spend, casting for a cast; the difficult task of timening and thereby disappointing many; the time spent teaching parts, songs, and finally rehearsals every moon with only 15 or 30 minutes for lunch, every other school until five and often six.

How many realize the formidable task of co-ordinating all this with costumes, [illegible] sprays and lights to finally arrive at such grand production. Last all this plus teaching is a very full day.

Thank you one and all for a job well done, for the valuable experience given to our youngsters. Without you, the school year 65-66 would have been ordinary indeed.

Special thanks also to your most capable young pianist.

Mary Sobocinia

Dear Editor:

Attached please find information on the Alberta Camping Association tied in with the local scene. I hope you find it acceptable in this form.

You will notice I have begged the question in other words — who is going to promote our share in the Canada Country Centennial Journey

Seeing your handsome map from Edson on the news at noon attending the Evergreen Tourist Assoc. meeting at Drayton, brought to mind this group as being the logical one to promote the rediscovery of old trail in the entire area. What do you think?

I think the ETA could not only draw tourists this way but could involve the people of the entire West Central Region in an exciting and worthwhile Centennial project. If not Centennial then a strong unifying project for the good of all.

The tourist and recreation potential here makes a person's head swim. For example have you noticed on 6th Ave West an outfitters sign complete with horse nailed to the front of a house?

How many towns in Canada can boast a sign like that and just think what it means — a character of the land is saying, "Here I am, I'll show you the way!"

This summer has a personality all its own. Don't you think it's high time we "yogod it" before all is lost in so called progress which is sweeping over all of us. While pockets of the adventurous past still remain, let's dig in and say, "There, we have a heritage we want to share with all comers!"

HOW THE MILK GOT IN THE COCONUT

By JACK KELLY of the Panuka Herald

For weeks now there has been an [illegible] in Ottawa. In the first round the Conservatives had the initiative and found the Liberals of Prime Minister Pearson lacking in certain virtues which the Conservatives implied they alone had a corner on.

In the second round, the Liberals made it quite plain that the Conservatives were also lacking in certain virtues.

Now both sides have quieted down and seem to be ready to consider the nation's business — and not each other's [illegible].

It seems as if just about every person in Canada with access to printed media, microphone or TV has said his or her bit about the alleged scandals, the wickedness of the political parties he is opposed to and the terrible dangers that bleedin pressent.

What no one has pointed out — at least so far as we have read, heard or seen — is that we have a representative government at Ottawa, a government representative of the people who elect them.

It is understandable that on rare occasions this rather obvious point in discussing the big racket. All, or just about all, commentators wish to appear far above such shenanigans as may, or may not have been going on in parliamentary circles.

This approach lends to irritate many Canadians who have neither the time nor facilities to express their views. This holy horror and indignation attitude seems to arouse

BLATANT POLITICS

If Prime Minister Pearson had sat down and deliberately calculated the manoeuvre most likely to discredit the Canadian Senate, he couldn't have selected one better than his recent appointment of ten new Senators, all at the same time, and nine at least of them known almost exclusively for their active interest in Liberal party organization.

There would definitely have been criticism if the Senate slots had been filled from time to time one at a time with all Liberal appointments, but it would not have seemed on the surface at least to be such a cut and dried proposition. Even devoted Liberal workers to whom we've talked can't find words for their feelings.

Alberta may probably find itself reasonably well represented by Harry Hays, known for his outspoken opinions regardless of party or personage. It may even be that Harper Prowse, who was elected twenty-odd years ago by Canadian servicemen in quit his regiment and return home to the Legislature, will add some stature to the Red Chamber. Although based on past performance, we do not anticipate debates in the Senate will gain much lustre from their appointments. On the contrary, we feel Alberta's third appointment, Senator Earl Hastings, is little short of an insult.

We have in the past stoutly defended the need for the Senate in Canada, and the job it can do. But we're thoroughly sickened by this contemptuous using of the Senate and we'd readily agree the time has come for changes.

We still need the Senate, and we still need Senators.

But let's for the well being of our nation find another way of getting people into it. We could establish an electoral college, such as in the United States. We might set up a permanent commission making appointments. We might allocate so many by every political party, or to every provincial legislature. We might arrange for popular election from zones or wards, on a lifetime (or 70) basis. Or we might establish an hereditary Senate, somewhat in the fashion of the British House of Lords. Or maybe we could hold educational sweepstakes, with Senate seats as the prize.

Even this last ridiculous suggestion we submit, wouldn't produce any more shameful result than Mr. Pearson's sickening political gesture which studiously avoided any alliance with moral principle.

UNCOMFORTABLE QUESTIONS

Does any one really think for a minute that he is voting for a superman? Move to the point, does he give a hoot? We are convinced that the answer to both questions is "no".

The second uncomfortable question is have the members accused of shenanigans done anything that is not commonly done today by a very large number of Canadians? If you think the alleged behavior of certain members of the house is not fairly common, then you are not up on current affairs and human nature.

The allegations will of course rate a number of political cursors and for a few years every election will be more diverse, but we don't suspect any great reformation.

Here is another uncomfortable question each of us should face. Could we vote for some candidate whom we knew would not be susceptible to pressure from us or our constituency if we wanted some sort of favor from the government? Very few would suspect such an iron man. In fact the candidates themselves make a special point of promising to work for such special considerations for us.

Where then do we draw the line? A Quebec town wanted a charter for a race track, other towns in the West want an airport, farmers want crop loss payments regardless of whether most payments can be justly made under existing regulations.

In the free and easy Quebec way, an effort was made to pave a legal escape route for a dope distributor. It failed. So did the race track application. We suspect that all a certain blonde ever got was a bunch of promises and double-talk.

On the whole, the uproar seems to be based on nothing more than the making public of what has been going on in the background and back rooms of governments for as long as history records — regardless of whether king, dictator of elected representatives formed the government.

It is not our intention to apply a coat of whitewash to the Ottawa uproar. If you don't like it, will you even think of it when the next election comes? Will you vote for a tough candidate who is concerned only with the welfare of Canada, or will you vote for the man who almost promises to lick your shoes and break his neck getting something special for you or your community?

There have been no charges against members of the NDP, Social Credit or Real Canadian's group. However it is only fair to point out that these groups have never formed a government at Ottawa and have never been exposed to the pressures which are applied to those in national power.

Students of governments have long pointed out that one of the inherent weaknesses of representative government elected by the people. It is no better or worse than the people who elect it.

And that, we believe, is the way the milk got in the coconut.

From now on, we sincerely hope that the House of Commons will get down to doing something about the inflation that is promising to make life just about as tough as when the Great Depression of 1929-30 made communists out of conservatives.

Their primary job was to select and reject specific projects as presented to ARDA for assistance or guidance.

Zone 3 has proved to be the most active. To date the Advisory Council have approved a tourist brochure publication. This project is being spearheaded by the local Edson Chamber of Commerce who are awaiting final approval from Ottawa to print 60,000 brochures.

The cost of the brochure would be met, 3 pronged by the Chambers and 79 percent by ARDA.

CAPITAL REPORT

Obscene Movies, TV, Literature Brought Out For Annual Debate

BY JOHN WARREN

It was the week for the legislature's annual romp through the world of filthy movies, obscene TV (mostly CBC) and salacious literature.

While the discussion never strives anything from one year to the next it gives all members a chance to try to undo their association in municipal competition. The speeches are often marvels of disscryption, passion and superlatives.

For instance the Provincial secretary, Ambrose Holowach noted: "It's a paradox that is unlawful to bring in some vegetables, fowl and plants while literature that is tawdry and infested with obscenities is allowed to come in."

Premier Manning added that the problem of smutty books will remain as long as the public makes the best sellers of the dirtiest print. And he took a whack at the CBC for using public money to pay big fees to prostitutes and other unsavory characters.

The whole problem was brought up by Bill Dickie (Lib.) who suggested the situation regarding salacious literature seems to have gotten out of hand again.

It was a week of variety. Industry and Development minister Russ Patrick said the Alberta committee studying gasoline marketing is considering a Royal Commission thinge that report suggested British Columbia Among other study on this subject from the provincial vernment might have to take over oil company sales unless major oil companies act to reduce prices. That seems like an awful extreme proposal for Alberta.

Two members Jim Henderson and Mike Maccagno attacked the Lands and Forests Department. They said Alberta is lagging far behind in its fish and wildlife programs.

And Health Minister Dr. J. D. Ross hotly denied an opposition suggestion of a secret deal between the Alberta government and the medical profession over fees. The suggestion was that a fee increase was being delayed until the medicare issue cooled off.

It took Calgary Liberal Bill Dickie only ten minutes to introduce a motion calling for an independent commission to study redistribution of Alberta's constituencies.

It took Public Works minister Colborne well over an hour to shoot the idea down. Mr. Colborne handed the last redistribution commission in 1961. He said he wanted to make it amply clear that he wasn't opposed to the idea of representation by population but that he considered it impossible.

He might have stopped there but he didn't. He point ed out that the last Federal redistribution created all sorts of controversy and that it didn't achieve representation by population anyhow.

The whole thing bogged down to the old argument that the cities have at least half Alberta's people and so should have half of the legislature's members. Some rural ridings are already too big to be handled thoroughly by one man and "rep by pop" would make those sparsely settled ridings even bigger.

The odd part of it was Mr. Maccagno's support of his colleague's motion The Lac La Biche riding is the biggest in the province. You would hardly expect Mr. Maccagno to support any action that would make it even larger

The plight of farmers in the Peace River country and other parts of northern Alberta seem to be creating a good deal of confusion, along with sympathy, among MLA's A while back A. O. Fauvie CBC Spirit River) said homesteading regulations and other factors threatened to turn parts of the rural region into rural slums.

Last week the same Mr Fauvie said the image of farmers in the north has been hurt by publicity given to drought and farm problems asked government economists in parts of the region He has to repeat on the entire picture, noting that land values have dropped because of repeted crop failures.

THE FIRST AND LAST CUSTOMER — a lot of changes have taken place since Mr. Sid Bridges, at left, made his first purchase from Mr. Harry Goldstick away back in 1912 when Goldstick's store came into being. During that time Edson grew from a rough and ready pioneer railroad camp into the prosperous town it is today. Mr. Goldstick now lives in Edmonton and made the trip out last weekend especially to greet his old friends on the occasion of the store's closing, after 54 years in business. The original store was about where J & K General Supply is located. It was lost in a fire when the shutting Cecil Hotel burned in 1915. Mr. Goldstick then moved into the premises of a clothing store which had been built and occupied for a short time by Cowens and Johnson. It is the same building that will soon be demolished to make way for a modern bank building.

Surprise Lake Camp dates set at Crecent meeting

Spring is here and plans for summer camping activities at Surprise Lake are well underway for the summer season.

Former experience is helpful but not necessary as a Training Camp for Church Camp Counsellors and Youth Leaders will be held at Surprise Lake July 1, 2 and 3rd. In any case Prospective leaders are given full particulars of duties and responsibilities before going to the camp of their choice.

The Work Camp for High School Students and Young Adults will be held May 31, 32 and 33rd. and will open up the camp for the summer. Every weekend during June will see groups using the campsite for their group camping. Then five camp sessions will be held during the summer months as listed below

Junior Camp — Grades 5 and 6 — July 5 to 14.

Junior High Camp — Grade 7, 8 and 9 — July 17 to 26.
Junior Camp — Grades 5 and 6 and 7 — July 28 to August 6.

Junior High Camp — Grade 8 and 9 — August 8 to 17.

High School Camp — Grades 10, 11 and 12 — August 19 to 28.

Registration forms will be available very soon for all these camp periods. Why not plan your summer holidays now to include a camping experience for your children and also the joy and satisfaction of spending nine days at camp this year as a leader.

Help is needed in all areas Cabin Counsellors, Directors, Swimming and Waterfront, Crafts, Cook's Helper, Nurse, Business Manager and Junior Staff.

For further information call Mrs. Leo Smit, 13011-122 Ave., Edmonton, Alberta.

The sympathy of their many friends and neighbors goes out to the bereaved family of Mr. Aarne Berglund.

Our sympathy also to Mrs. Charlie Dawson and family on the recent passing of husband and father.

His many friends will be happy to learn that Leonard Smith is doing well in Royal Alexandra Hospital and should be home much sooner than was expected.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Berkholtz on the recent arrival of a son. A baby brother for three sisters.

That nasty little flu bug is still at it. No respecter of age it visits old and young alike. Baby Darlene Heintz was rushed in Evansburg for treatment Wednesday of last week.

What do you think of our weather now, fellow sunny Albertans! Did you ever see so much snow disappear so fast.

Centennial Report

1867 1967 by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIST COMMISSIONER

When I took over the Job of organizing Canada's biggest celebration in history I ran into a number of pessimists, even a few cynics.

This is the sort of line they gave me: "Canadians aren't noisy patriots. You'll have a tough job stirring up much flag waving for 1967."

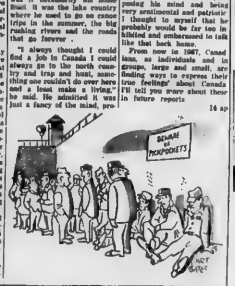
Well, some of their facts were correct but the spirit in which those few pessimists presented their views to me was not what I accept as a Canadian. I have travelled long and far enough in this country to know that Canadians really have a deep positive feelings about their country.

I could agree with some of the statements by my pessimistic friends if they were in different context. Canadians are not given to wild demonstrations of patriotism in their own country. Such things can embarrass us. I believe our kind of nationalism is more thoughtful than emotional and that is why I believe so fervently that our Centennial will be a successful and meaningful event in our history.

Yes we may have difficulty at times in deciding what we are, what we are for and what we are against the world. But we know what is home and though we may be embarassed to express it, we love our land. Perhaps I discovered this through travel abroad when I met Canadians far from home. When we are more apt to open up and reveal to other people our inner thoughts about our country. One particular instance comes to my mind. I was having breakfast at a small hotel in London, England, a few years ago and became engaged in conversation with a young man across the table from me. He was a Canadian working at the airline office in London. With no prodding lines me he poured out all his thoughts about home and s least Canada.

"I'm not a nationalist," he said. "In fact I'm against nationalism. It causes a lot of trouble in the world. That's why I like my country. We're not agressive nationalists. But really, mister," he said, "it's hard to describe my feelings about my country." He thought his feeling for his homeland was not just the house he was born in back in Ontario, nor was it necessarily his home town. It was the lake country where he used to go on canoe trips in the summer, the big rushing rivers and the roads that go forever .

"I always thought I could find a job in Canada I could always go to the north country and trap and hunt, something one couldn't do over here and at least make a living," he said. He admitted it was just a fancy of the mind, prompted by nostalgia.



I thought to myself that he probably would be far too inhibited and embarrassed to talk like that back home.

From now to 1967, Canadians, as individuals and in groups, large and small, are finding ways to express their true feelings about Canada. I'll tell you more about these in future reports

Optimist Club to give big push

"We may be small in number but quality counts and we'll give full support to Rodeo Chairman Jim Griffiths," urged Optimist Harry Zann at the regular meetin at the Commodore Hotel banquet room on Monday

Plans to join forces with the Opti-Mrs. Club for the anniversary of the Clubs are being set for April 23 under the capable supervision of Mrs. Ann Iwaniwski of the Opti-Mrs.

Lastly he would starve, but Canada always gave me a feeling of security, he said "I felt that the Rockies or the Glaspe' wilderness were mine, even though I didn't go there every weekend. (I only saw the Rockies once.)"

The young man went on, exposing his mind and being very sentimental and patriotic I thought to myself that he probably would be far too inhibited and embarrassed to talk like that back home.

From now to 1967, Canadians, as individuals and in groups, large and small, are finding ways to express their true feelings' about Canada I'll tell you more about these in future reports

A lovely wedding was solemnized in the Edson United Church on Saturday, March 26 when Beverley Marguerite Dixon became the bride of Thomas George See.

Rev. Don MacPherson performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon of Peers, Alta., and the son of Mrs. Agnes See of Pioneer, Alberta.

Mrs. E. Taylor played the wedding music and accompanied soloist Fred West who sang, 'I Love You Truly'. For the occasion the church was decorated with a mixed arrangement of spring flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a full skirted floor length gown of organdy over taffeta. The long sleeved lace bodice was adorned with sequins. Her three tiered shoulder length veil was gathered to a floral headpiece. Her lingerie was comprised of a dainty, single drop pearl and the bridal bouquet was of cascading red roses.

Bridal attendents were Mrs. Mary Pierce of Edmonton and Miss Marie Collin of Edson. They were identical gowns of organza over taffeta with scalloped lace bodice, in shades of pink and blue. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and wore floral head pieces.

Attending the groom were Mr. Robert McNaughton and Mr. Ronald Wadley, both of Edson. Ushers were Ian Mayer of Pioneer and Mr. James Pierce of Edmonton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dixon wore a sheath dress of blue and green print of satin. Her accessories were in blego and she wore a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. See wore a sheath dress of blue lace over taffeta with accessories and corsage in white.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the Peers School auditorium at 5.30 p.m. Toastin the bride was proposed by Mr. Thomas Forbes and responded to by the groom. A well attended dance was later held at the Pulham Community Centre the Singing Strings from Edson provided the music.

The happy young couple left that same evening for a honeymoon in Jasper. For travelling the bride wore a blue linen dress trimmed with white and topped by a white coat.

They are making their home in Edson.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Pierce, Mrs. Sodmont and Jim, Mr. and Mrs R. Cunslet from Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Marenduke, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pryor of Calgary; Mrs. Rose Gillespie of Lacombe, Alta.; and Mrs. Earl Giles of Lees; Waltenberger families of Drumheller.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Dad, Ernest V. Stone, who passed away April 7th, 1961.

He had a smile you could not help loving,
And a heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew and loved him,
His memory will never grow old;
We think of his sayings and smiles,
We know he is not lost, only gone for awhile
Ever remembered by Alf and Marie Ford and families and Pete and Allen Olsen and Family of Valemount, B.C.

Claims province doesn't care about national parks

Liberal MLA Bill Switzer has accused the provincial government of failing to show any real concern for the problems of Alberta's national parks residents.

He said that lack of debate in the legislature on his motion calling for establishment of a federal-provincial parks authority "implies that the government is not seriously interested in our problems."

The people of Jasper and Banff need another standing board but the provincial government doesn't seem to care," the member for the Edson constituency said. "This is clearly an area where the province could move if it so desired."

Lands and Forests Minister Henry Hinman said in the legislature he feels it is sufficient for federal and provincial parks officials to meet once a year, the present practice.

Mr. Switzer's unanswered motion asked that an authority be set up to co-ordinate federal and provincial policies to provide for the maximum orderly development of national and provincial parks.

The Edson MLA blasted the new federal parks policy, particularly the proposed leasing conditions which have residents of Jasper and Banff up in arms.

"These residents of long standing feel it necessary to band together and form an association to protect their tenure against confiscation by the government, it is difficult to believe we live in a free country," he said.

The federal government's narrow view, Mr. Switzer suggested, is inhibiting the natural growth Canadians have a right to expect in the parks.

"It is absolute nonsense for anyone to suggest we are asking for special privileges versus the rights of all Canadians.

"Our people are willing to provide needed facilities and recreational pursuits so that many many thousands of Canadians and foreign visitors can truly appreciate the great beauty of these outstanding parks."

Mr. Switzer said at present all leasehold decisions are made in Ottawa and new ideas for improvements are often al delayed in development.

"We need a parks leasehold development board, located in the two main parks town sites," he said. "Those should be staffed by professional people who know how to administer parks development and should be given broad authority to effect proper, acceptable development within the concepts of our national parks."

Mr. Switzer said he was hopeful that his resolution would convince the federal government to take a positive point of view in reasonable, rational development and control of the Jasper and Banff tourist sites.

His objective was to provide a means for Alberta to become an advisor for the benefit for the people of Alberta and Canada.

The provincial government did not escape criticism in Mr. Switzer's speech.

He accused Industry and Development Minister A. R. Patrick of "unholy distortion" of facts and said he was convinced that his constituents could be harmed by a backlash from "such irresponsible public statements."

He said if Mr. Patrick was not correct in saying the new parks policies would be a serious detriment to the tourist industry,

There is every reason to believe the number of parks visitors will continue to climb, he said.

April bride honored

A bride of the near future, Miss Connie Erickson was honored last Sunday in Edmonton, when a shower was held for her. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Nellie Tydyruk with co-hostesses being Rose Robert and Florence Green.

Connie was the recipient of many lovely gifts and a multitude of good wishes on her forth coming marriage. She extended gracious thanks to the ladies for their thoughtfulness.

Various games were played to round out the social gathering with prizes going to Mrs. Vivian Parr and Miss Minnie Flir.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostesses.

Connie's marriage to Larry Lind will take place later this month.

Kinsmen keep active in community activities

Edson area students who desire Kinsmen Car Bonanza tickets have just about run out of waiting time as only a very few tickets remain and most of these are spoken for already. The monies and money for over 160 of the 200 available tickets were already turned in as of March 28th.

A hurry-up call to Kinsmen Barry Smith or Tony Grassi might find a ticket, but this is doubtful. Lottery of booths tion will soon be sent out to all ticketholders.

The Kinsmen voted to issue a bloody challenge to the Lions and Optimist, Edson's other major service clubs. To benefit the Blood Donor Clinic which the Red Cross will be holding at the Legion on April 28, Kinsmen are prepared to pay $10 into the public service coffers of the club which can beat them in the percentage of members contributing blood.

Kinsmen have also offered to assist in setting up and taking down equipment and in providing lunch funds, as they will do more than just bleed for the Red Cross.

Several Kinsmen attended the Xona Seven Spring Council which was held at Hinton last weekend. A fine business session was held on Sunday afternoon, and local president Kin Art Jorgensen initiated his campaign to seek the position of Deputy District Governor for Zone Seven.

Northwest Pulp and Power entertained the curler cousins on Saturday with a tour of the plant and woodlands topped off by a lumberjack feast at camp 27, about 23 miles north of Hinton. All who were present praised the work of current DDG Jerry LePage of Hinton in arranging such a fine outing.

Jubilee students write Easter exams

Many Jubilee students and teachers are counting the days until the Easter holidays begin, but all the students are busily writing Spring exams this week By Thursday afternoon, all exams will be finished, all books checked, all lockers and desks examined, and all persons concerned will be ready for a ten day break in routine.

Jubilee staff and students are thrilled with the overwhelming response which their operetta "Rumpelstiltskin" received when it was recently presented four times. If arrangements can be made earlier next year, they would appreciate the opportunity to take next year's production to nearby points. Other committments make such trips impossible this year.

A special thanks goes to those in our community who loaned props for the stage settings, worked on make-up or costumes, provided publicity, or helped in any other way to make the operetta a success!

Although the students will not forget, parents are reminded that April 8 to 17 is the date for Easter holidays. Many people will be bringing home gym suits for washing while many teachers will be bringing home tests for checking.

Happy Holidays!

Area baseball clinic to be held in Edson

The Edson Commodores baseball team are sponsoring a Baseball Umpire and Coaching School which will be held at the Edson High School on May 7th.

The school is intended for people interested in baseball and includes an umpiring clinic, minor baseball coaching instruction and tips to minor leaguers.

Applications must be received by:

E. Smith, Supervisor
Athletic & Outdoor Education
Dept. of the Prov. Secretary
Room 426, Legislative Bldg.
Edmonton, Alberta

The registration fee of $1 must accompany the application.

It is interesting to note that the application form is made out for Mr., Mrs. or Miss. This is a good opportunity for women interested in baseball, especially minor ball, to take the minor coaching instruction and enjoy the fun of working with youngsters while they coach a boys team to the local championship.

Anyone interested in attending the clinic may get their application form and more information from: A. Lagace at Box 2104, Edson, Phone 723-4378.

This year's bids on storm sewer better

Last year bids received on construction of storm sewers in the residential area were considered to be too much out of line. The project was held over until this year and the bids received at Tuesday's Town Council meeting on Tuesday, April 5, were considered more reasonable.

The report of Stanley Associates Engineering Ltd. on tenders received for construction of storm sewers was placed before Council. Noyes Construction Ltd., $64,227.31; N. S. Pawlick & Son Contractors Ltd., $67,297.95; Petroline Construction Co. Ltd., $67,769.01, Whitsell Enterprises Ltd., $70,272.80, Okeiloh and Mcllna Co., $72,814.05, G. C. McLeod & Co. Ltd., $80,039.48.

Engineers recommended acceptance of the Noyes Construction Ltd. tender which Council concurred in.

Mrs. Patrica J. Sheehan and Mr. Frank Belyea, Agricultural Extension Service, Department of Agriculture, addressed Council Mr Belyea summarized as outline of the summary of the inventory of Resources in Census Division 14 and the establishment of a name and emblem typical of the CD 14 area. Council indicated its approval in the name of Tree green Resources Development Area.

Council granted its approval to issuance of a license to Messrs T Mairville and K. R. Legge to operate a taxi business in premises on Lot 3 Block 7

Application of Mr. Elmer Fossheim to erect an aircraft shelter at the airstrip was placed before Council. The application is to be held over for further study and was referred to Councillor Kuefler for report.

The approval of the Department of Highways is to be obtained for the required 3000 cu. yds. of pit run gravel from the Government's Swanson Pit on behalf of the Lions Club.

C. W. Duemler & Associates Limited are to be instructed to proceed with the preparations of individual residential Lot level and plot plans for Areas "B" and "C". Purchase of Lots will be charged for the plot plans.

Payment is being withheld on an invoice for $1,176.30 to Span Structures & Supplies Ltd., until Council is satisfied that completion of material is carried forward in accordance with agreement

Appropriate application is to be made to the lending authorities, and the local authorities Board, toward obtaining the approximate sum of $73,630.00 toward the cost of storm sewer construction on a basis of the estimated forgiveness on municipal development loan board advance of approximately $10,430.00 and the authority of By-law No 1089 to the issuance of debentures in the sum of $63,200

A letter from the Municipal Development and Loan Board informing Council that the Loan in sum $41,730 for the Storm Sewer System had been approved, was read.

The Edson Centennial Committee is to be asked to recommend an appropriate Plaque for the Centennial Lobby project.

Edson-Grande Prairie trek 1966 Centennial project

We'll ride it all the way, the 240 miles of it, quoth some of the members of the Edson Kinsmen Club who are spearheading the highly talked about trek from Edson to Grande Prairie

This trip is designed to re-live and honor the hardships of the pioneers of yesteryear and spark a centennial project for Edson.

The group of ten local town promoters will leave Edson on May 22 under the guidance of one of Canada's most experienced outfitters, Mr. Jim Babala, internationally known and presently on a sheep hunting expedition in Mexico.

It is expected that the City of Grande Prairie will be out in full force for their arrival on June 3 (in time for the Kinsmen Convention) as the boys of the Edson pony express will be carrying greetings from Mayor Brunelle and President of the Chamber of Commerce Jack Hook

The boards have had a few days growth already on Sagebrush Soltys, Tumbleweed Tapsott, Galloping Grant, Jingo Jay, Knobby Kroetch, Buckaroo Brown and Cordite Chiesa.

Considerable investigation has gone into this project with interviews with people such as Johnny Herbert and Kurt Bellack.

Mr Hackett, who is very familiar with this area as he trapped around the Grande Prairie Trail a number of years back, has offered his assistance to help make it a safe trip

In conversation with Mr. Bellack, who crossed the old route back in 1911 and 1913 on horseback, and also driving a team of mustangs in a cutter, pointed out his admiration towards these young backs for considering the hardships that some of the oldtimers had to put up with.

When Mr Bellack was asked how long he thought the trip should take, he mentioned it would be difficult to determine as his one trip with the cutter was made in record time of four and one half days, due to the emergency of a sick person needing attention.

Kurt's other trip lingered into a matter of months as this was during the courting days and involved an eighty mile ride on horseback to acquire his marriage license

Anyone having information that may be of assistance further stalwart citizens in regard to history, maps or material that may be used in a book planned on the completion of the trip may leave it with Tumbleweed Tapsott or Galloping Grant

C of C to have 'surprise' guests

"We are planning to add some color to the next meeting of the Chamber. President Jack Hook said

It will be a surprise and one worth seeing but that is all the information that would be released to the Leader

The meeting is slated for Wednesday, April 20th in the Edson Motor Hotel commencing at 6:30 p.m

ONE WEEK from the day that fire burned their home to the ground with all contents lost, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plouffe of Carrot Creek district had a new home well on the way to be ready to live in, thanks to the generosity of neighbors who came to their aid. There was a crew of eight working on Good Friday, the day this picture was taken. They had the studding up for partitions for the four-room log gabler type house, had the walls all sheeted in and were putting on the shingles. —Leader Photos

A SKILLED MAN with a Skil-Saw, Howard Raw kept the building crew supplied with materials. Most of the material for the new house was supplied by district residents, the Karl Brothers, Bert Mavropoulis, Jack Rogers, Bill Hovortney and Harold Chapman. Men who were unable to provide material provided physical help in the building. Dinners and lunches were provided for many of the men by Mrs. Howard Raw who was also a volunteer depot for anyone who wanted to leave donations of clothing, household goods or building material for the fire victims.

A New Day

Arise, look up at the brand new day,
Live each one as it shows the way,
Enjoy it and help others do the same
For this day will never come again.

Whether there be sleet or snow,
Wintry gales that blow and blow,
And those clouds that bring rain.

For the sun will shine again.

Thank God for your good health,
Signs of living are great wealth,
Mindful of those who are needing
A kindly smile and friendly greeting.

Different kinds make up this life,
All have worries, all have strife,
Troubles that are big and small,
To forget them is best of all.

Each day we all make mistakes,
Do wrong things which give headaches,
Think about them and have no rest.
All we can do is our very best.

How often have we felt forlorn,
As we arise on a misty morn,
Then meet someone who has a smile,
Suddenly, the day seems more worthwhile.

Twenty-four hours make night and day,
Divide them in three is the best way,
Work for eight hours, take eight for play,
Then rest and sleep complete the day.

So as each new day appears,
Have no time for troubles and tears,
Be courteous, impartial, sober and true,
All these and more we should do.

THE WEST COULD GO IT ALONE

If the stupidity of narrow-minded politicians and the short-sightedness of leaders in French-speaking Quebec resulted in a breakdown of Canadian confederation, Western Canada would be in better shape to create a new nation than would a fractured eastern Canada.

Here we have the first requisite for greatness — over 125,000,000 acres of the productive land in one vast concentration. Eastern Canada cannot feed itself.

Here we have resources in oil and natural gas which have yet to be fully discovered and exploited. Alberta's tar sands, alone, provide one of the world's greatest oil reserves.

Alberta alone has coal reserves calculated at better than 40 billion tons. Saskatchewan has the largest potash reserves in the world and production has only started. British Columbia has Canada's greatest wealth in forestry, great mining riches and faces the broad Pacific Ocean; Manitoba has mining wealth, industry and a growing port on Hudson's Bay.

The West has the vast undeveloped resources of the north to look forward to and that region contains fresh water supplies which the United States is already coveting. Fresh water is one of the greatest of natural resources.

Without the demands of the West, eastern Canada would find its extensive manufacturing plants in real trouble. The West could readily create its own industries.

It would be a terrible tragedy if Canadian confederation should break up. But the actions of some of the petty-minded Canadian political leaders may bring such to pass. Right now the nation's federal political scene shows a sad lack of intelligent, patriotic and competent leadership.

GOVERNMENT BY BLACKMAIL

We, like most Canadians, are sick at heart for the depths to which our present Canadian government has sunk. We're disappointed, too, that our Prime Minister, a man for whom most Canadians had much respect (even when they didn't agree with his political thinking) would succumb to blackmail by members from one area in order to keep the support of the members and stay in power.

The Pearson government is the government of Canada only by virtue of the support of a group of people who hold no respect for Canadians generally.

What a price to pay for power.

NICER TO STAY IN BED

Some psychologist, a preacher for the advancement of individuals in their life and work, has stated that every person should do one necessary but unpleasant thing every day.

Most people already do at least one, so perhaps the psychologist should make it two. The first unpleasant act is to get out of bed.

It was the late Josh Billings, one of the noted New England humorists, who said that he left his bed in the morning not because he was dissatisfied with the bed but because it would be inconvenient to carry it around with him all day.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir;

YOUR HERITAGE

Will you help to preserve it?

Appreciation of wildlife is deeply rooted in our Canadian way of life. It is really not very long ago that Canada's immigrant found wildlife very useful indeed.

Rich fur harvests prompted much of the early exploration and mapping of new land. Beaver skins and buffalo hides served as money in the frontier communities. As the importance of the fur trade gave way to fish and game to supplement their food.

Yet, even in this modern age of machines and city living wildlife is of great importance to every Canadian. Who does not thrill to the sound of a bird expending his song from a tree top or the haunting cry of a goose in the spring. Isn't it the sight of a spotted fawn or a brood of ducklings which often provide the most lasting memory of a holiday trip?

Wildlife draws over a million and a half hunters into the healthy atmosphere of the outdoors each fall, and perhaps twice that the number of fishermen during all seasons of the year. The presence of wildlife attracts through us people to the parks and other natural areas. Wildlife has inspired much of what is best artful and noble in our art, literature and music.

Can there be any doubt that wildlife is a vital part of our heritage?

The Canadian Wildlife Federation, in co-operation wit the Edson Fish and Game Association reminds you that the theme of this years National Wildlife Week program is the "Preserve Wildlife Habitat". Wildlife cannot survive without places which habitat reduces our opportunities to enjoy wildlife.

On behalf of the Edson Fish and Game Association I urge you to Preserve Wildlife Habitat during this National Wildlife Week and throughout the coming year.

Don Popoff
President, Edson Fish and Game Assoc. and Gun Club

HOME AND SCHOOL DISCUSS SEX EDUCATION

Should sex education be given in schools? This question is thoroughly aired in the current issue of QUEST, official publication of The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation. The magazine contains the views of an unmarried girl, a teacher, an Anglican minister, a psychologist, a marriage counsellor.

In a separate article writer de Revlis examines the question of responsibility for teaching youngsters about sex in the light of evidence that we are failing our young people. Venereal disease among teenagers is soaring again, despite modern antibiotics. Teenage marriages are also on the rise, a cause for concern only because more of these marriages fail than those contracted when the parties are over twenty. In 19% to 33% of these early marriages the children are already on the way on the wedding day. The many divorces that follow immature marriages mean not only unhappy adults, but children deprived of the warmth and love of normal home life.

"Sex has leaped into the living room from the TV set" says de Revlis' with song, novels, limbs and low cut dresses, with jungle animals in sexual display and sexual salons in bikinis. No wonder Grandpa keeps two pair of specs handy. When he was a boy, an ankle was a revelation. Now the merchandise is in almost full display

"Healthy? Probably. Sex activity does not rise and fall as does the barometer of our frankness on the subject. In terms of mental health, surely we are far better off in facing sex as a delightful and ever-present force than in shoving it into secret corners as something too crude for comment, and enjoying it only in the dark.

The QUEST article goes on to look at some of the prudery, hypocrisy, conventions, taboos and emotional difficulties that prevent parents from guiding their children in sexual knowledge. It concludes:

"So if we are really going to teach the facts of life and love we need to employ qualified instructors. It is not strange that we should demand specialized training for the primary teacher, for art, music, mathematics and even physical education, but in the most complex and precious area of human relationships we leave it to the amateur, or shy away from it altogether.

We are cheating our sons and daughters if we leave them a legacy of ignorance; we are also cheating them if we lead them to suspect that a manual on sex methods is a guarantee of a richly satisfying family life".

NEW VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COURSES EXPLAINED

By Russell Patterson in the Ponoka Herald

What is Vocation Education? As the name suggests, it is education — whether public or private — to train personnel for employment. It is not new to many countries. However, in Canada, since federal grants became available in the 1960-65 period and were extended in 1965, many vocational schools and technical institutes have appeared.

Vocational schools are special in that they offer vocational courses leading to the completion of a high school diploma. In Ponoka, Stettler, Wetaskiwin, Lacombe and other small centres, vocational and regular academic and matriculation courses are taught, "under one roof" and are referred to as a composite high school.

How is vocational instruction different from industrial arts? There are several differences, as follows:

1. Vocational school students spend more time in shop. Industrial Arts (woodwork, metal work) are offered one-eighth of the time to matriculation as well as non-matriculation students. Vocational course students spend half-time in shop.

2. Industrial Arts are taken as "an art", for a hobby in adult life, or for exploration. Vocational courses are intended for job-training, either for direct employment or for credit in apprenticeship or technical institute.

3. Industrial Arts instruction is intended to give experience in many fields at least depth, whereas vocation instruction goes deeper into the subject and gives more specific training in that particular area.

Who should take vocational courses at Ponoka Composite? Vocational programs are for Grade XI and Grade XII students within the County of Ponoka and the vicinity of Ponoka. A student who is unable to take, or is not interested in taking matriculation, would profit from vocational instruction. A student planning to take industrial courses or serve apprenticeship, can get credit recognition in vocation courses, as well as academic training. Complete business education courses are offered leading to direct employment.

The following courses will be offered at the Ponoka Composite — Business Education, Automotive, Agricultural, Mechanical, Carpentry, Beauty Culture, Drafting, Electricity.

Courses at the Wetaskiwin Composite include — Business Education, Automotive, Machine Shop, Carpentry, Electronics.

Courses offered at the Lacombe Composite will include: Business Education, Automotive, Agriculture, Mechanics, Carpentry, Electricity.

Red Deer Vocational school has: Business Education, Automotive, Agricultural Mechanics, Machine Shop, Carpentry, Beauty Culture, Drafting, Electricity, Pipe Trades, Auto Body, Sheet Metal, Food Preparation.

Stettler Composite will have Business Education, Automotive, Sheet Metal, Machine Shop, Carpentry, Drafting, Electronics, Pipe Trades.

Camrose Composite has: Business Education, Automotive, Agricultural Mechanics, Machine Shop in Ag. Mech., Carpentry, Drafting, Electronics.

Drumheller Composite has: Business Education, Automotive, Carpentry, Electronics, Industrial Chemistry.

Edmonton and Calgary have many varied courses such as the above-mentioned, also Graphic Arts, Commercial Art, Industrial Electricity.

What advantages does vocations' education offer? Students who might otherwise drop out of school can take advantage of training in a variety of courses besides straight academic subjects. Cost to the student is nominal. A student leaves school with a diploma and a start on apprenticeship or technical institute (some year).

Can a student who didn't pass Grade IX take vocational education? If there are sufficient students interested, a special pre-employment class will be set up. Students or parents interested should contact the school telephone 783-3383 or the county office 783-3322.

Can adults take vocational education? Yes. Every year adult students are admitted to academic classes to raise standings. In vocational courses, first choice would be given to students of school age. As interest warrants, adult evening classes will be offered in academic and shop courses.

Will Ponoka Composite operate on semesters? No. However, semesters are gaining in popularity all over the province. The major drawback is the Grade XII departmental examinations. Consequently, the Department of Education has not authorized semesters in other than Red Deer, Cardston, Fairview, Mount Royal and Alberta College. In non-departmental subjects, Ponoka has a few subjects operating as semesters, but, as yet, it is not general.

What will vocational education cost? There is no tuition charge to students in the County of Ponoka. Students not provided with bus transportation can request transportation allowance of $1.50 per day. Book rental: $10 per year; school fees: $2; notebook, $2.50 (optional) insurance optional, and shop fees, which will vary according to the vocational course taken. All of the fore-going figures may be adjusted.

when fire broke out on the roof, on the windiest day we have had lately.

Mr. Pioufle was absent at the time that Mrs. Pioufle managed to lead all the children to safety. The children's ages are from 1 to 6 years with David going to school, he is ten. There are four little girls in the family.

Local musicians are asked to donate music for the dance as this will give all young musicians a chance to help. You are to get in touch with Mrs. Frank Novotney and she will put you on the list of musicians for the night.

Donations of anything useful for the home may be brought to the dance. Please look over your extras. I know you have some, I know how awful it is to lose your belongings by fire.

On April 18th a Carrot Creek Cemetery meeting will be held in the Carrot Creek Hall, look for the poster for the time. Now is the time for work to be done.

Alberta journalist wins Headliners Award

One Canadian journalist was among the 20 winners announced in the 22nd annual National Headliners Club competition. Awards were made in newspapers, magazine, syndicate, radio and TV categories, and will be presented to the winners at the annual Headliners Frolic in Atlantic City April 15-17, sponsored by the Atlantic City Press Club.

Hall W. Dodson, executive secretary of the National Headliners, said the only Canadian winner was Bruce Hogle, news and public affairs manager of CFRN Radio and Television in Edmonton. M. Dodson said Mr. Hogle "was the unanimous choice of the judges in the Consistently Outstanding Editorials category."

Some of the other winners include Life Magazine, CBS News, New York News, Miami Herald, Washington (D.C.) Star, Philadelphia Inquirer, Look Magazine, and WAKY in Louisville, Kentucky.

Hogle was selected as "Consistently Outstanding Radio Editorialist" winner on the basis of editorials he did on Aug. 1st 6th and 8th of 1962 when the Edmonton Police Department imposed a ban on reissue of motor vehicle accident information to the news media.

The ban came about through a misinterpretation of an amendment to the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act. The amendment stated that police could not release any information on accidents to insurance companies, solicitors, a person or persons. The Police interpreted this to mean the news media and imposed the ban.

Hogle believed otherwise and CFRN reporter Fred Carlo was asked to check with Highways Minister Gordon Taylor and officials of the Attorney General's department. They confirmed that the amendment did not apply to the news media and that the police had wrongly interpreted the intent of the amendment.

Hogle's award winning editorials called for an immediate halt on the ban of information to the media. It pointed out such a move could be the start of a complete embargo on all police news. The editorial said publicity, more often than not, has as much effect as a fine on those involved in motor vehicle accidents.

Edmonton City Police lifted the ban within hours of the editorial being heard on CFRN Radio and Television.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM JOHN MADDISON

The Sacred Heart Church was the setting on March 5th for the wedding of Sylvia Karen Leah Bello and William John Maddison. Fr. Gaspar Cioli performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Mello Bello of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs Joseph Maddison of Summerland, B.C.

Bouquets of lilies and daffodils were the floral decoration for the Church. Wedding music was played by Mrs. M. Labonte.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor length gown of embossed brocade. The gown featured a very full hooped skirt with round neckline and lily point sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was gathered to a tiny floral headpiece and her only jewellery was diamond earrings, a gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was of

The outstanding authorities preparing papers for the Seminars are: Dr. Charles W. Hobart, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Alberta, Edmonton, to present a paper on social trends in Canada. The native Albertan holds a Ph.D. from Stanford University. His keen interest in Canadian society is reflected in his work The Canadian Prairie Provinces 1870 to 1890.

Dr. David Smith, Department of Economics and Political Science, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, is to present a paper on political and economic trends in Canada. The sociology professor was born in Swatow, China, and holds a Ph.D. in Sociology from Indiana University.

Dr. B. Y. Card, Associate Professor of Sociology of Education, University of Alberta, Edmonton, is to present a paper on social trends in Canada. The native Albertan holds a Ph.D. from Stanford University. His keen interest in education...

Conference consultant for the seminars is Dr. E. J. Taylor, Head of the Department of Psychology, Brandon College, Brandon, Manitoba.

The Alberta Seminars for Youth will provide an open forum for young people of the province between the ages of 15 and 20 to express themselves publicly on matters of deep concern to them.

Social activities during the two-day conference in both Calgary and Edmonton will feature get-acquainted hootenanies, with a banquet, entertainment and dance on the closing night.

The costs of the seminar and room and board for participants will be paid by the Alberta government with delegates paying a $10 registration fee and their own transportation.

The seminars are the first of their kind to be organized by a provincial government and are expected to start a trend in Canadian affairs.

Deadline for receiving applications is March 31, 1966. Young people interested in attending the Alberta Seminars for Youth should immediately notify Mr. C. L. Usher, Personnel Administrator, Alberta Seminars for Youth Room 223, Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

Local Fish & Game Association backs National Wildlife Week

APRIL 10th to 16th

Nature's slow processes of evolution, adaptation and speciation have bequeathed to Canadians a rich heritage of wildlife even more varied than the bounty of our landscape. Wildlife has served us well in the past — through the era of early exploration and development and through the lean years of the pioneering society. Although fewer and fewer of us depend upon wildlife for food for our livelihood, the recreation and enjoyment now provided by wildlife may be more important to the health and well being of our society than any of its past contributions.

About a million and a half hunters and perhaps double that line number of anglers along with uncounted thousands of naturalists, place very high value on this wildlife resource, whatever his interest. Ends his life enriched and made more enjoyable by contact with nature. A rich variety and abundance of wildlife is surely an integral part of our natural culture.

Even though we value wild life as a renewable natural resource to be used and enjoyed by all, we are allowing many forms of wildlife to diminish to levels of scarcity and even to the brink of extinction. We would most certainly rebel against the kinds of wanton destruction which exterminated the passenger pigeon and the plains bison, but we do not seem fully aware of the more subtle and insidious agents of destruction which now threaten many species.

Conditions favoring wildlife have traditionally been provided by the natural communities of plants which occupy the land. We have had to modify these natural communities, of course so that the land can better serve mans purposes. Excepting a few notable cases, these modifications have generally been detrimental to wildlife.

Now, however, with increased competition for the use of and with increasing mechanization of the farming, forestry, road building, subdividing and other activities which use land, we seem to be bent on eliminating wildlife habitat altogether. Drain a marsh to make a few more acres of farmland of dubious productivity, or fill it in to provide an industrial site or space for a subdivision; bulldoze or burn or cut a brushy fence row; pollute a stream for decade in baths or allow it to become silted by eroding soil; overgraze the critical winter range of elk or mountain sheep, and the wildlife of these habitats will be gone as surely as if by intentional extermination.

This year the Canadian Wildlife Federation and its member organizations are devoting their annual Wildlife Week program to create public awareness that we can retain our valuable wildlife only by preserving the habitat it requires. We members of the Edson Fish and Game Assoc. join with them in their crusade, but we admonish them to continue their efforts well beyond this special week. It is going to take time and perseverance to develop the kind of national conscience needed to ensure preservation of the habitat on which the wildlife resource depends.

Many causes contribute to losses of wildlife habitat. Needless manicuring of moss and lands, whether it be farm lands, parks or roadsides, may be attributed to an affinity for cleanliness in the light of its effect on wildlife, it might better be described as thoughtlessness.

More often, destruction of wildlife habitat has an economic incentive, though the fin may be short may be paltry and the total effect may be contrary to land and water conservation practices.

Removal of windbreaks, pollution of water and drainage of natural wet lands are examples which come to mind. We fail to realize, it seems, that land can have value to the community when it is left in a natural state to conserve soil, water and wildlife.

When Crown lands are used in a manner which fails to preserve wildlife habitat, or when government programs or subsidies contribute to destruction of wildlife habitat, we are certainly justified in raising our voices to insist that such practices be stopped. But what of wildlife habitat on privately owned land? Have we any right to suggest that the owner of private land has obligations to the community?

When land is treated as nothing more than a commodity to be wasted or conserved according to the whim of its current owner, surely the whole community, present and future has a proprietary interest. We need a community ethic about land and all of its constituent parts — the soil, the water and their natural plant and animal associations — which will serve as a public concept once.

When land is used in the best interests of the community, one of its products would surely have to be a abundance and variety of wildlife worthy of our natural character and in keeping with the standard of living we have come to expect.

District Residents come to aid of fire victims

Residents of the Forest Creek and surrounding district have proven once more the thoughtfulness that is so often displayed when some community disaster takes place.

Following the fire on Friday April 1st, that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plouffe, one half mile north of Novotney's Store, neighbours pitched in to help in whatever way they could.

Probably the most outstanding thing was the five room house that has been raised on the spot where the former house stood. This was built by local men who volunteered their help, of materials which were mostly donated by local men. A week after the fire the house had been sheeted in and the roof was shingled.

By Tuesday of this week the stores were had been put on ready for the first coat.

Among the donors who made the house possible were: The Kael Bros., Bert Meropoulis, Jack Rogers, Bill Nevesney, Harold Chapman, Dick Heshaidt, Stan Gilbert, Bill Svedberg, Harry Howlett, Leo Rolls, Jim Rush, Leon Berglund and Edsel Townsend. Most of these men donated building materials.

Those who were unable to give materials provided the labor force that erected a new house seemingly overnight. Those included Ilmarel Raw, Art Dunston, Merwin Raw, Ralph Seeley, Jim Lytell, John Anderson, Harold Hodgson, Ed Brendell, Bill Campbell, Ken and Percy Young and or course Albert Plouffe. There are sure to have been more than these, and apologies are extended for names omitted.

Besides the men who worked on the house there is Mrs. Howard Raw who cooked dinners and lunches for the build ers many days. There are the many who have donated clothing, cooking utensils, bedding, and household articles.

A benefit dance will be held this Friday, April 15th, in the Carrot Creek Hall. Hoyo again local musicians will give their help in providing the music. All proceeds will go to the Plouffe family.

A shower will be held in the Rainbow Hall in Peers on Monday, April 18. Those who attend are asked to take some article that will help to establish the Plouffes in their new home.

The family were overwhelmed at the good things that had come their way Comparative newcomers on the district, having arrived five or six years ago from north Edmonton, there is no doubt that they will now definitely feel that they have a part in the community such as possibly no one else has.

Mrs Plouffe and five of the six children went to Edmonton after the fire to stay with relatives. She is expected back anytime and will be taking up life on the farm again in their new home

OORP conducts Cancer canvass

The OORP will once again be conducting the annual spring canvass for funds for the Canadian Cancer Society

The canvass will be underway by the middle of April Members of the OORP take part in the house to house canvass, giving of their time to help make the drive for funds a success. Householders are asked to be ready when the canvasser calls All donations, whether large or small, will be gratefully received

It may not be realized how much these funds, collected annually all across Canada, are doing to aid in cancer research

A public is also used for cancer treatment.

Many local cancer patients have received treatment and checkups which were made possible through the annual canvass

Baseball club dance April 23

In spite of the setback experienced in the weather the past weekend, anyone who likes baseball can sense a feeling in the air that makes them want to get out knocking a ball around

Members of the Mahaska Ball Club are no exception, but they also realize that an important factor in any up and coming ball team is the funds needed to cover the expenses of the team

With this in mind the Mahaska Club is sponsoring a dance in Pulham Community Hall on Saturday, April 23 The Western Hobos will be providing the dancers with music Lunch will be provided.

Don't miss it The fellows will appreciate your help and you'll have the time of your life.

'our MP Dr. Hugh Horner reports

Parliament has been sitting since the 18th of January. Before there was an election last year, the first thing that had to be considered were last year's estimates This took up the first two months of the session

The Spencer and Monninger MEPs took up another two weeks Whatever you may think from the newspaper reports, three are important services involved in these two which affect each of us and is dually and are therefore important to Parliament.

Sometimes the press forgets that Parliament's main job is to protect what we have and do lesser job is to change its rules from time to time, but only after a full examination. It is not parliament's job to rush through a lot of new bills better shelter. The fact is that there is a major legislation on the order paper (although there may be some in the press) at the present time, and such things as Medicare, Canada Assistance Act, the Development Fund are only imaginations of the Government as they have not been before Parliament.

Locally we have had a great deal of difficulty with PFAA due to a change of interpretation of the Act by senior officials. We have challenged this and expect to appear before the PFA Board of Review during the Easter recess in an attempt to change their interpretation. This has been particularly bad in all of wet areas, and my colleagues Ged Baldwin, Peace River; Harry Moore, Wetaskiwin; Jack Ellis, Athabasca and myself are working jointly on this matter in an attempt to bring justice to our areas.

There is a great need in our area for forage banks and I am making specific suggestions along this line to local communities to see if we can get some started with ARDA Assistance.

There has been a lot of protest with regard to the Canada Pension Plan. There is no doubt that this has been a major cause in the rising costs and will be a major headache to our farmers. However, I would advise patience here and I believe that things will be worked out so that it will be advantageous to our farmers.

Mr. Sharp's first budget has been brought down and is a stand pat one with little increase. Higher excise tax es and direct government interference in labor does not recommend me to my mind as fiscal measures. I would have rather seen more encouragement to labor mobility, more subsidies in making our money premium more as a check on inflation rather than the worn out methods of high interest and higher interest rates.

We will finally settle the Capital Punishment question as I feel it would be a mistake at a time when major crime is on the increase to abolish capital punishment completely. I feel that the humanitarian use of the present law with capital and non-capital murder and the juries having the right to recommend mercy as the best approach.

THE JASAN ENSEMBLE will appear in Hinton on April 18th bringing to a close the Overture Concerts 1965-66 season. Jan Rubes, with a company of 6 artists, will present an evening of music and song from opera and concert stage. Arthur Polson, violinist, will conduct the accompaniment and form part of the program. A one-act opera, composed by the Hungarian-born pianist, will be staged in costume and sung in English. Announcements concerning the 1966-67 membership drive will be made by the incoming president, Mrs. D. L. Crossley. The Canadian Opera Company's production of "Don Pasquale" by Donizetti is to be the feature attraction for the coming season. Those wishing to attend the final recaption of the season will be able to get tickets at Carmichael's Jewellery.

Kinette Fashion Show is a Prelude to Spring

The Kinette Hair Fashion Show held in the Jubilee School auditorium on Tuesday, April 5th was well attended and the comments made over lunch and coffee after the show were favourable.

The stage setting was very effective with a lone budding apple tree, picket fence and flowers depicting the theme "Prelude to Spring" most appropriate.

The evening opened with the models appearing in the latest in sportswear, afternoon wear and evening. Arlo Gettig described and commented on the individual outfits.

The second part of the show was taken over by Wanda and Liz Tobars of the Glamour Beauty Salon who converted the hair styles of two models into a mass of rollers into delightful day-time hair dos Then with the addition of a few pins and "teasing" these hair dos were then transformed into stunning evening styles.

Meanwhile a third model displayed all her own rollers and without too much effort produced a charming bouffant hair style.

Once again the fashion models were rolled upon to continue with their display of afternoon and evening apparel also.

The evening was brought to a close with a few well chosen words by Kinette President Anne Korbet and the door prize drawn. Refreshments were then served in the rotunda.

The Kinette Club would like to thank models, Conny Bettger, Vicky Hansen, Becky Wanpel, Connie Switzer, Betty Lou Caston, Connie Erickson, Lois Rosen, Mary Frygren, Simone Tapoti, Lesa Nicholas, Carol Solman, Sandra Chilton and Maria Levchenko, also II & ti Sleeve Ltd., Two and Jerry's Shoe Store, Grant's Men's Wear & Shoes, Hinet's Beauty Salon, Glamour Beauty Salon, Bayrroft Beauty Salon, Ben's Barber Shop, Lee Fashions, Marshall Wells and Mill's Furniture, for their contributions in making the show a success.

Thanks are also extended to all who supported this project.

Mrs. Alice Williams was a lucky winner of $50 on the Shell take off contest at Wil's Shell Service last week and chief mechanic Jim Taylor claims he will carry the luggage for anyone who wins the lucky flight that is also available.

THAT CHERUBIC SMILE on the face of Larry Onyskiw, at right, is caused by the fact that following last Thursday's National League Hockey playoff he was found to be the winner of the Optimist hockey pool, a neat $100.

National NDP leader to speak here this Friday

Local residents are reminded of the public meeting this Friday, April 15 when Mr. Tommy Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party will speak in the High School auditorium. The meeting will get underway at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Douglas has had a long and varied political career, which began when the CCF, forerunner of the NDP, was first organized away back in the middle of the 1930's. For almost nine years he represented the Federal Constituency of Weyburn and during that time came to be known as a major assistant to the CCF leader M. J. Coldwell.

In June of 1944 he lost his party to a landslide victory, provincially, in Saskatchewan He repented this victory through returns to power in the 1948, '52 and '56 elections, resigning his provincial position to become leader of the

"There's some consolation . . . running comes just once a day!"

NDP upon the retirement of Mr. M. J. Coldwell.

Mr. Douglas is a gifted speaker whose spirited delivery and humorous anecdotes are found most entertaining by his own party members as well as others.

50% road ban in effect

A fifty per cent road ban is now in effect in the Local Improvement Districts 77, 78, 79, 80, 90 and 169. This includes all roads in the area with exception of Highway 16.

Bans are 50 per cent allowing loads of 22,000 pounds on three roads. Farm tractors, pickups, etc. are not effected by the ban.

There is also a ban on Highway 47, the Coal Branch road The ban allows a maximum gross of 33,000 pounds

District roads are in fairly good shape for this time of year.

The road bans are made necessary each spring when the frost comes out of the road. This causes the roads to become spongy and in a weakened condition so that they can not stand up to heavy loads, and a ban is placed on them until they harden up again.

Generally it is the middle of June before the roads are completely hardened up and in normal condition

Around Town

BY BILL OWEN

Many times the Edson merchants have stressed shopping at home and last week we had the pleasure of seeing why A young married couple needed some furniture and being money conscious checked prices very carefully in Edmonton and then returned to Edson to deal. We are pleased to learn the prices in Edson are better as the young couple saved almost $300 on their furniture needs.

Mr and Mrs. Mike Lastyuka, the new owners of the Yellowhead Motel and Restaurant, are extending the hand of friendship to Edsonites and invited everyone to drop in and get acquainted.

You may have to see it to believe it but last Saturday, Pete the Barber in the Edson Motor Hotel Barbershop had an assistant to just sweep the floor. Peter said he was surprised from a big hotel in Calgary, manager or something on holiday during Easter Pete said his name was Big John Sellinger.

The traffic flow into Centre Service once again seems to be back in normal again as Herman Fendrich has re-opened his doors. Centre Service is one of the older established service stations in Edson and conveniently located on the corner of main street and 4th Avenue The service station was formerly operated by Weldon Taday who has moved to Nanton, B.C.

Changes in Centennial grants noted

Several changes have been announced in the financial arrangements for projects already approved for the province of Alberta under the Federal-Provincial Centennial Grants program.

The total cost of the addition to the arena in the Town of Edson is being increased from $25,000 to $30,125 and increase reflects the participation of Improvement Districts Nos. 78 and 95 in the Edson area.

The project of a $12,000 park in the Town of Hinton is being changed to show that Improvement District No 95 is now allocated its grant to the Hinton project. The share of the Town of Hinton is accordingly being decreased from $6,000 to $4,500.

The county of Vermilion River has increased its share of the cost for the curling rinks approved for Dewberry and for Marwayne, in each case by $734 in Federal Grants and a same amount as provincial contribution. This means that the share of the two villages will be decreased in each case by $1,442.

Blood donor clinic coming

The local chapter of the Alberta Assoc ar Registered Nurses is this year organizing the Red Cross B'ood Donor Clinic The clinic is scheduled for Tuesday, April 26 from 2 to 4.30 and 7 to 9p.m

The clinic will be held in the Legion Hall

Members of all clubs in town have been asked to have a part in operating a successful campaign One of the service clubs in town has offered a challenge that they will have a bigger percentage of members donate than the other two clubs

It has been rather alarming that the number of donors has dropped over the past three years from 285 in 1963 to 251 in 1964 and only 222 in 1965 It is hoped that this coming clinic will see an upsurge in the number of donors

LEGISLATURE HEDGES ON DEFICIT

The betting now is that the MLAs will be able to pick up their cheques and go home on April 14th or 15th. Last week gave them lots to think about during the Easter break.

The major story was undoubtedly provided by the government's study committee on public expenditures and revenue in a 306 page report that was two and one half years in the making, the committee took a long (and not entirely optimistic) look at Alberta's fiscal future.

It is suggested that taxes and fees on fuel oil, gasoline and car licenses be raised after any year in which there is a significant budget deficit. Consideration of a sales tax was recommended if such additional revenue is not enough to cover half of the proposed deficit in any year.

Outside the house Provincial Treasurer A. Aalborg noted that the 66 million dollar deficit predicted for this fiscal year could be termed "significant." The implication is that the tab for license, fees and taxes will go up next year unless oil and gas again provide unexpected revenues.

The committee left no doubt that it felt Albertans can pay more for public services — and it suggested increased participation in many of these, including the foundation program for education.

And it gave the government a pat on the back for an oil and gas policy that has encouraged development of the industry and provided the lion's share of government revenue for nearly two decades.

Premier Manning also outlined a plan for Alberta to drop all estate taxes.He said it would probably involve some kind of deal with Ottawa which now receives 25 percent of all the money collected from estates. By abandoning the tax Mr. Manning hopes to persuade people with money to invest to come to Alberta. Other taxes and overall volume of growth would more than offset the $4, 00 000 annual estate tax loss.

The committee studying electoral boundaries came up with a redistribution scheme that will give Calgary and Edmonton each one more seat. However it doesn't shuffle any other ridings so that the overall will be to increase the number of members to 65 which it formerly was.

Included in the recommendations was one that provided for Indians on reserves to be added to voter lists in several ridings. Of the 21 000 Indians on reserves in Alberta 9 000 who are over 18 years of age will be eligible to vote.

The house also voted to ask Ottawa for increases in old age pensions and to adjust them in future changes in the cost of living.

The move — and the debate that preceded it — brought charges and counter charges of election bait.

Lib Bill Dickie proposed an amendment making the province for legislation to give every Alberta resident over 65 a pension of $100 a month immediately. It was soundly defeated after Welfare Minister Halmarat said. "We are already taking care of our old people to a greater extent than any other province through social allowances and homes. Anyone who needs more than the present $75 a month pension gets it."

And the Vereglin Stockyard bankruptcy popped up once again — for what should be the last time in the legislature.

Agriculture Minister Strom said farmers who suffered financial reverses two years ago in the case will receive 80 percent of their losses in a lump sum as compensation — as soon as all the dealer's other assets are settled.

The debate on the Peace River farm situation popped up once again — briefly but heatedly — during discussion of the agricultural bill. It seemed much the same as before.

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Wednesday, April 20, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 16

NATIONAL NDP LEADER TOMMY DOUGLAS, right, was on hand Friday evening for the nomination of Provincial NDP Leader Neil Reimer to contest the Edson Constituency seat for the second time.

Reimer N D P nominee for Edson Constituency

The national leader of the New Democratic Party in Canada, Mr. Tommy Douglas, drew a crowd for the nomination meeting of Neil Reimer held in the Edson High School Auditorium last Friday evening.

As the meeting was in the nature of both a public meeting to hear Mr. Douglas and a party convention to nominate Mr. Reimer, the nomination was quickly rushed through by chairman Stanley Fritter of Hinton. Who incidentally seemed to be confused by the right name for Edson Constituency.

There was no doubt about who was to be nominated and Mr. M. D. Meade put Mr. Reimer's name into nomination for the second time in little more than a year. It will be recalled that the NDP ran second to Liberal Bill Switzer in the by-election held last year.

Mr. Reimer in his speech of acceptance reiterated many points brought out in his campaign during the by-election but gave credit for his good showing to the party workers involved.

He told the large audience that he had been given no choice as to whether he would run again in the Edson Constituency. A group, he said, had locked him in a hotel room in Edmonton until he had agreed to stand in this constituency.

He had 63 constituencies to choose from, but because of the hard work put forth the last time in Edson Constituency he felt that he should contest the next Provincial election here.

Mr Reimer said that the day is here to get rid of the Social Credit government. The NDP hopes to have candidates in all 65 constituencies and although the newspapers say that his talk is optimistic they may win enough seats to topple the government.

Mr. Reimer stated that when people who traditionally stay home come out to vote NDP. There is no need to convert anybody. The government can be upset by the people who refused to vote. Mr. Manning has, according to Mr. Reimer, a studied approach to apathy.

All signs point to an elect ion this year Mr. Reimer thought "We're not going to let Mr Manning win by default — what we need is medicare — not Manning-care," he quipped. Everyone should share the cost, he added

Mr Reimer has promised to emphasize many things. On the matter of a Youth Ministry Mr Reimer stated that the government is trying to institutionalize the alienation of youth to society They are propagandizing youth for Social Credit at the expense of the public

Propriety and integrity of government must be given attention The Treasury Branch es should be made an open book Mr Reimer produced a document which he said will be before the courts on the world is drifting without leadership There is a lack of national purpose.

Canada, stated Mr. Douglas, has entered the scientific revolution The Industrial Revolution brought a great rise in living standards We have now entered a second revolution based on the use of electronics and computers. Man is being replaced as a minder

1966 Red Cross quota met for Edson District

Edson and district contributed $7785.62 during the recent Red Cross Canvass, reports campaign chairman G V Bolduc.

When the Civil Service Association contributions are received the total will be in the neighborhood of $8200 Which is better than the quota for the district.

Mr Bolton wishes to express the committee's appreciation to all who worked, and contributed, to put the canvass over the top.

N D P Leader draws crowd at Edson meeting

A good crowd of citizens took advantage of being able to hear and see a national political leader in the flesh at the meeting held Friday evening in the Edson High School Auditorium.

Mr. Tommy Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, and former premier of Saskatchewan proved to be a crowd pleaser.

His presence was to get the campaign for election in Edson Constituency on behalf of Alberta's NDP leader. Neil Reimer, off to an auspicious start.

Mayor W. B. Brunelle welcomed Mr. Douglas to Edson, stating that it is always a pleasant chore to welcome out standing politicans to the community Mr Brunelle expressed the opinion that with the end state of affairs in Ottawa today, Mr Douglas may well be the next prime minister and presented him with a gift of pottery from the Edson Craft Centre.

On the platform with the guest of honor were Grant Hadley, secretary of the party from Edmonton for P Cohoe of Edson Mrs. Jenson, secretary of the Edson Constituency, of Hinton Mayor Brunelle, Mrs Reimer, Mr Doug Le Mr Reimer Messrs M D Meade C H Christie and J Dyner of Edson, and Mr Ted Chudyk of Edmonton With S Fritter of the Pulp and Sulphite Workers Union of Hinton as chairman

Mr C H Christie of Edson, introduced Mr Douglas. He told how Mr. Douglas, in his youth had been a good boxer, and was now showing his great ability to throw verbal punches as an MP in Ottawa In 1935 Mr Douglas was elected MP from Weyburn.

Following this he entered Provincial politics as the leader of the CCF party in Saskatchewan. In 1944 he became Premier of Saskatchewan and held that position until he again entered Federal Politics as the head of the Federal CCF party which has since become the New Democratic Party.

Mr Douglas began his address with a thank you to Mr Brunelle for the presentation of pottery locally produced.

Mr. Douglas was at his best in relating several anecdotes which had the audience laughing and enjoying themselves.

Becoming serious he had to say about Neil Reimer that he would supply a real need on the Provincial scene in that he has the courage to fight for the people of the province and his influence would raise the political tone of the whole province

Coming around to speak of Ottawa Mr Douglas described as a city of Sin, Sex and Security and mentioned the name of a fictitious new book called "Bedtime Tories" Jokingly he said that if you wanted to have your wife kiss you on TV you have only to be mentioned in one of Gerda's stories

Again becoming serious he said that the scandals are no laughing matter Parliament is not a very edifying place to be and members of parliament are making fools of themselves For eight weeks they debated a flag while important welfare questions and other major legislation went untouched Parliament is dealing with things that don't matter.

In this session, said Mr. Douglas, Parliament has not tackled one major piece of legislation. There is a long list of important matters to be considered he said: the bomb out, railway legislation, manpower, young Canadians and medicare, to name a few.

"Yet after three months" he told the meeting, "not a word in one of these pieces of legislation had appeared on the order paper." In the main the (the Liberals) can't make up their minds he said

The tragedy of Canada according to Mr Douglas is that it lacks leadership, it is like a great ship floundering in the sea with no chart, no compass and nobody at the wheel The country with more potential than any other country in the

ALBERTA LEGISLATORS ATTACK CAR INSURANCE

BY JOHN WARREN

Every session produces a certain amount of surprises and this one has been no exception. But, like a well-written suspense drama, the house kept the best to the last. For parts, the documents fall like bombshells

It was a stinging indictment of the insurance industry and got the support of the government and legislation on most counts. The most startling recommendation is that the government lay charges against the Canadian Underwriters Association for the violation of the Combines Act.

The report charged that the association was effectively eliminating competition by the use of its so called green book This sets out premium rates for insurance, supposedly based on thorough statistical information The committee says the statistics and insurance book keeping were both applied at a subsequent high cost to Alberta's drivers

Will all party committee also suggested establishment of a provincial government commission to examine closely the workings of the auto insurance industry in the coming year

It urged compulsory safety features on car design, and government inspection and standards for auto body repair shops with the obvious implications that the public is frequently getting bilked in many areas of the car business

The errant motorist was also criticized In an effort to reduce accidents the committee called for a automatic five year suspension for drivers with two major convictions The members suggested that a third conviction should bring jail sentences and life time suspension of driving privilegm.

The whole thing provided a great deal of food for thought, and for action

The insurance report wasn't the only news item revealed in the dying hours of the session

Legislature hat would make drastic changes in the administration of the Edmonton and Calgary universities was scrapped until someone found it contained a section dealing with use of animals for experiments Dogs left unclaimed at the local pound will be made available to university research chiefs

All this of course, raised a storm of protest on the grounds of cruelty Efforts were produced to show that 1,200 dogs and 300 cats wind up at the U of A vivisection each year The public outcry is bound to be far louder and longer than that in the legislature

The legislature also gave approval to acts permitting commercial sport on Sunday after hours and allowing daylight saving if it gets majority support in a province wide plebiscite

The Sunday sport legislation would allow people in charge admission for games, concerts and recreational facilities between 1.30 p.m and 6 p.m. Horse and dog racing, boxing, wrestling and similar contests will not be allowed

One of the most intriguing moves of the entire session

"April showers bring May flowers!"

Obviously convinced that the election are still getting a raw deal on representation in the house, Mr Fleming suggested a novel way of giving them a louder voice He asked the government to study the possibility of giving each member a vote for each 4,000 voters in his riding By mere coincidence Mr. Fleming would have been one of three members who would get six votes each under the scheme

The session had some good fights, a number of rather silly encounters, and, somehow it got through a total of 140 new pieces of legislation (mostly dealt with at week's end

YOUR CHANCE TO SAVE A LIFE APRIL 26th

Next Tuesday, April 26th, can be a red letter day for hundreds of Edson and district residents if they wish. It can be the day they help to save someone's life. It could be the day they save their own or a member of their families life.

April 26th is the day the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic comes to town.

This may not seem important to many, but have you ever had a relation or friend injured in an accident of some sort, and needing blood before or after an operation, in childbirth, etc.

In the past number of years blood donors at Edson clinics have dropped from 285 in 1955 to 222 in 1965. These 63 donations could have meant the difference between life or death for some person or persons.

Let's have the biggest turnout of blood donors ever experienced in Edson when the Red Cross Clinic comes to town next Tuesday, April 26th. And by the way. . . Usually the clinic staff is busiest for the 7 to 9 p.m clinic. It would be appreciated if as many as possible (non-working mothers, students, etc.) could make it to the afternoon clinic so that everyone who attends in the evening can be accommodated.

WELL . . . WHAT IS IT?

Is a mushroom a fruit or a vegetable?

That's the earthy problem to be settled by judicial hearings before the tariff board.

The board publicly announced that "some doubt exists" as to whether a fresh mushroom is in fact a fresh fruit or a vegetable.

The board is studying customs duties on machinery imported for weighing and packaging fresh fruits and vegetables. The problem now is to decide whether mushrooms can be regarded as included among fresh fruits and vegetables, or whether the tariff item should make specific mention of mushrooms.

Interested parties have been invited to submit written briefs on the subject.

Our brief is brief. It's neither fruit nor vegetable. It's a mushroom.

READ ALL ABOUT IT

Education is a waste of time unless there is enough to read, J. B. McGeachy says in The Financial Post.

Commenting on National Library Week (March 28 - April 2), McGeachy says it is ludicrous to build expensive schools and put in swimming pools, gymnasiums and concert halls, but put in only the pitiful libraries to be found in many Canadian nurseries of the mind. Do children go to school to swim? McGeachy asks.

The trouble with the public libraries is that spending on them gathers no votes. The only remedy is to rouse public interest and, if possible, enthusiasm. That McGeachy says, is the purpose of the annual hoopla about libraries

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Have you ever wondered about Canada's Centennial Symbol? Well, Canada's confederation is portrayed by an arrangement of eleven equilateral triangles, ten of the triangles representing the provinces and the eleventh represents the Great Canadian North

These triangles form a stylized Maple Leaf, a motif that makes the symbol distinctively Canadian. To complete the design, the dates 1867-1867 appear on either side of the stem to indicate the occasion.

TO WHOM IT MIGHT CONCERN

Congratulations:

To the person who took the plywood shelter from the isolated corner south of Peers Junction.

You should be very proud of your accomplishment — depriving a little girl of her only shelter from the weather after her long walk to the school bus.

Nice of you to leave the floor. I'm sure it will help when she waits in the rain or must change to her school outfit each morning or begins to contemplate your necessity great indeed to warrant such a theft.

Happy conscience to you and use it in good health.

Who's Dead? God or Man

BY PASTOR SHOWALTER

For those who have no personal experience with God — God is dead.

In the arena of debate, the question regarding God's existance and His involvement in the affairs of man has been hot and cum. It is hard to make any progress in either direction.

Probably the most convincing evidence to remain after all the "noise" has died away has been the sinful aspects of the song writer thus: "You ask me how I know he lives? He lives within my heart." It is pretty difficult to talk a person out of something he knows from experience.

Those who insist that God is dead may also be nearer the truth than they know. Jesus explained it, "God is not the God of the dead, but the living." Matthew 22:32

CLERGYMEN STILL CLUCK, PROTEST INSTEAD OF TEACHING CHRISTIANITY

By the Orillia Packet and Times

An editorial from an Ontario newspaper of moderately conservative views brought in by a Reader

Everyone knows what the church is against — sex, drinking, Sunday sports, gambling, in a word, pleasure, but does anyone know what it is for. In a society whose every precept is modelled by Christian principle and whose standards are based on the Christian ethic the present status of the church, it's unique is cause for grave concern. For regardless of statistics of membership, or the figures on church construction, the church today runs less as a force in contemporary life than ever before in its history.

It is patronized by a majority of Canadians as a quasi social useful social convenience for the celebration of deaths and marriages, not a useful discipline for the young. Because of it is regarded as naive and unrealistic an outdated anachronism from another era, like spats and the derby hat. The reason, of course is that clergymen, by constant preaching about bigger laws and fiddling by half and other social trivia, have identified their church with all that is timid and restrictive and archaic; in a word, square.

A whole new world has come of age, a society in which the cocktail party, the Sunday sports' spectacle, the bikini bathing suit are accepted and respectable institutions, yet clergymen of every persuasion still rise in protest and lift at the windmills of an age long past. In God's name, what business is the church in? What is a church, dedicated to the dissemination of the most revolutionary concept ever expounded to man, doing messing around with the licensing laws on Sunday baseball or the sinful aspects of population without conception? There is a case to be made against tight pants or pool playing or the Irish Sweepstakes, but what have these ever-changing social phenomena to do with the teaching of Christ?

For Christ's sake, literally, the church must abandon its self-assumed role as arbiter and censor of shifting social customs, the meaningless manifestations of a restless society, to all the elderly spinsters of both sexes who stand by ready to fill the breach. Forget the petty, the meddling, the trivial, the negative, the archaic petitioning but possess for the voice of the church today; let it instead bend all its energies and its unequalled organization to bring Christ's message of love to a desperate world. Let the church abandon its hopeless rearguard defence of trivial and the established against the inevitable encroachment of change; let it instead lead the attack on selfishness and materialism which are snuffing out the spirit of genius of man.

Let it teach man the meaning of life, not better him about his manner of living, for he who understands the one, has no difficulty understanding the other. For the Christian church is not the collection of portcullis and blunderbuss which its public utterances might signify; rather it is the repository of the most dynamic philosophy mankind has ever known, a philosophy which has already altered the destiny of this world and may yet mould that of others still unrealized. Christ's teaching of the universal brotherhood of man and of love as the ultimate virtue is the only solution to the problem of human survival in the nuclear age, and only a reunified church can promulgate that message.

Yet for all its claims to divine inspiration, the Christian church is very much a creation of fallible man, and its concerns tend to reflect too much of his shallow social prejudice. The trouble with the church today is that nobody can see Christ for the Christians.

SOME POLITICIANS UNDERSTAND HOW USEFUL PROFITS ARE

It is a little encouraging to note, from a recent news report, that one Canadian politician understands what profits are all about, and the role they play in Canada's economy. Responding to a criticism of the profit level of one of Canada's large private corporations, the sitting member in the Ontario Legislature for Waterloo North said that we should be proud of Canada's successful companies rather than reviled, and went on to cite the vast number of people employed and the staggering amount of taxes paid by the company.

Profits, the last line on the balance sheet, are the only measure of a company's success in the efficient production of goods or services. They are the basis for expansion, innovation, employment and progress. Also, in the words of the politician, profits "are the main basis of our governmental financial structure", correctly implying that without them governments would be hard-pressed to find the money to maintain the myriad services they perform. Without corporate profits there would be few good highways, few good schools and hospitals, little or no help for the truly needy. These things all come from taxes on profits and incomes.

It would be well to reflect on those facts before being overly critical of a profitable business operation, or before arbitrarily subjecting profits to increased tax burdens which could destroy the will to succeed. The Canadian Chamber of Commerce points out that it is only profitable enterprises that can provide higher wages, lower prices and more employment.

In its Second Annual Review, the Economic Council of Canada has strongly emphasized the role of education in the future economic development of the country, education not only of our future labor force, but re-education of much of our present labor and management force. Educational matters and to a large extent labor affairs, are under provincial jurisdiction and this has naturally led to widely differing standards in both areas between provinces. This is most noticeable in the education field.

It is very encouraging to learn that a nationwide conference on the role of education in Canada's development is scheduled to be held next September. The conference will bring together the education ministers of ten provinces, their top officials, federal government representatives and a number of educational authorities. Since the conference will deal particularly with manpower needs in relation to the economy, representatives from industry and labor will also be prominent. In announcing the conference, the Ontario Education Minister echoed the words of the Chairman of the Canadian Chamber's Executive Council in a recent address. He said that closer revelations are needed between educators and the economic life of the community so that the changing needs of business and industry can be met.

Whether the conference will result in the formation of a permanent inter-provincial education group is not known, it exhibits the kind of co-operation necessary to achieve a Rainbow national goal.

Nearly 1,000 communities in Canada have a Chamber of Commerce or a Board of Trade. It is a tribute to our democratic system that we Canadians have the freedom to form such voluntary organizations in each of our villages, towns and cities. How highly we accept our freedoms! It is a tribute to the nation that over 130,000 Canadians in every area of the country devote time, leadership, effort and money to conduct organized efforts designed to make our communities better places in which to live, work and play.

A Chamber of Commerce member is, above all, a good citizen. He is a good neighbor. As a member of the community he is considerate of the feelings and needs of others. He sees most some of his time and puts forth some effort to help his neighbors to make their community a better place. He takes an active part, with his neighbors, to make the government of the community work better. As a corporate citizen he assures that his company is involved in community activity.

During Chamber of Commerce Week April 17 23, 1966, the national spotlight will be on the Chamber of Commerce movement across Canada. Standing for good citizenship, good business and good government, your Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade merits your support.

THE EDSON-GRANDE PRAIRIE TRAIL has once again been brought back into the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Bollack, who back in the year of 1912 crossed the trail together on their honeymoon. Since the Kinsmen Club of Edson have spearheaded a trip by horseback over the same trail commencing on May 22, Mr. and Mrs. Bollack have been the centre of many question sessions of their experiences. Mr. Bollack relates their main food supply was flour for bannock, raisins, bacon, and butter. When asked what kind of fridge they used to keep the butter in, he explained by burying the butter in the bag of flour it would remain fresh and sweet. The board growing adventure of the trip are making the trip are also getting many enquiries from the radio, TV and daily newspaper media.

Edson 4-H Beef Club make district field tour

Money or profit is not the main interest of the young members of the 4-H Club, pointed out Mr. Morison, District Agriculturist who was in charge of the first field trip for the club held last Friday.

When the group was interviewed on their trip the question was asked, what profit will you make when the cows are sold after being paired prior to the Edson Rodeo in July.

This was maybe an unfair question as it is very difficult to assess the value these young people will gain in education through the care of their animals.

The group under the guidance of Mr. Morison and George Cooper included their President, Kerry Bazarchi, Secretary, Bonnie Cooper, Treasurer, Sharon Sparks, Vice President, Russell Campbell, Sanders Campbell Murray Sparks, Barry Claridge, Dean Heinz, Ken and Glenna Sorrin, Ray Letendre and Terry Black.

Their calves are presently one year old of good Hereford stock that the members have purchased through the assistance of the bank. They weigh about 650 to 700 pounds and should gain about 200 more pounds by Achievement Day.

These animals are judged in three classes and by sale day will be top quality beef and expected to attract considerable interest.

Other field trips are planned for the near future as it adds to the excitement and fellowship of belonging to the 4-H movement.

Community interest is also taught through this program as these young members are already planning to assist with the Edson Rodeo through the entry of a float in the big parade held each year.

Mr Morison and Mr Cooper explained how each day a certain amount of time had to be spent caring for these animals but stressed strongly the importance of school studies that had to be carried out as well.

The group meetings are held the first Friday of each month, at a different club members home with the next one scheduled for the Murray Sparks home

Niton Players present a three-act mystery

Just about everyone around Niton is being put to work in one way or another to help the cast get ready for the play, "The Skeleton Walks."

There are always last minute things like painting the flats, making some props and seeing about costumes, that everybody in the community can join in on.

The play is a three act mystery comedy that is really full of suspense. Elaine Blair inherits a lonely old house situated out a small island. Elaine and some of her friends go to look the house over and find a mysterious physician in possession of it along with his sinister house keeper and her deaf mute son.

Things really begin to happen when Elaine and her friends are forced to spend the night in the house. Strange noises are heard. A skeleton walks through the dim shadow of the house and Elaine suddenly disappears. At the end there is quite a surprise which will astonish the audience.

If you want an evening of entertainment with a lot of thrills thrown in be sure to attend. Everbody had better get there early because the play begins at 8 sharp on Saturday, April 23th.

A PRAYER

God give us men. A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands:
Men whose the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and private thinking;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking
For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions and their little deeds
Mingle in self-strife, lo, Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land and waiting Justice sleeps.

Bill Switzer moves for provincial parks authority

Edson Constituency MLA Bill Switzer moved in the Alberta Legislature a thoughtful policy statement on National Parks Policy during the March 31st session. The motion was seconded by Independent Frank Gainer MLA for Banff-Cochrane. We publish Mr. Switzer's remarks in full. The Government dismissed the motion from the opposition MLA with practically no comment.

"Whereas there is increasing need and demand for much expanded and well developed outdoor recreational facilities in Alberta

"And whereas the development of national parks and other recreational facilities in Alberta should be subject to careful and long term planning to best meet present and future needs.

"And whereas it is in the interest of the people of Alberta that the Province seek development policies with the Government of Canada for the fullest long term advantage for all concerned.

"Be it resolved that this assembly favours the establishment of a Provincial Public Authority, in co-operation with the Government of Canada, in the responsibility of studying, planning and programming an Alberta Policy for the purpose of co-ordinating Federal and Provincial policies for the maximum orderly development of all the National and Provincial Parks in the Province of Alberta

"And further let it be resolved that the said authority be comprised of members appointed by the Governor General in Council and by the Lt Governor in Council

"And further be it resolved that this assembly requests the Lt. Governor in Council to make such representations as are necessary to implement the foregoing."

In moving this motion we are seeking to devise in an acceptable manner to this house, ways and means to resolve the dilemmas in which the Hon. Minister of Industry and Development finds himself confronted with in regard to National Parks in Alberta. He referred to it as an "Alberta Problem".

I could hardly believe my ears when our Minister of Tourism blasted off in space in his criticism of Federal policies. That there is a basis for a critical examination of National Parks Policy is quite true, and I intend to discuss this more fully today.

However, for a responsible Minister of the crown to state that this policy is unfair to the citizens of Alberta and a serious detriment to the Tourist Industry is an unholy distortion of the facts which I intend to illustrate clearly to the Hon Members of this Assembly

BILL SWITZER

The only proper conclusion we can draw from this statement is that we in Alberta, should view our National Parks from a purely narrow provincial basis to further our own interests

Surely, Mr. Speaker our image as a great tourist province, in the eyes of the tourist industry across Canada and the United States has been seriously damaged.

I am concerned and most particularly my constituents are concerned about any "back lash" around as a result of such irresponsible public statements.

That our people are experiencing real difficulties, particularly over leaseholds can not be denied — but I do believe instead of adding fuel to an already explosive situation, we must, as responsible people contribute something constructive to the situation in regard to the National Parks Policy.

Now then Mr. Speaker, I would like to review the facts and some of the dilemmas referred to the other day in this house. I am not sure whether I should follow the speech as transcribed or this presentation prepared by an excellent firm of Public Relations who have used advertising agency techniques to make a plausible stand on a weak case, and I might point out the Minister has told me he considers it the brief in the name of the Government, their similarity cannot be dismissed

However I would like a number of points which should be appreciated in assessing the various statements made in the brief and in the Minister's speech, for the purpose of this discussion I will confine my remarks to the statements made in this house

He asked that the Honourable member for Banff and myself to note that we had a "variety as Alberta problem because Alberta has ten times as much area in National Parks as any other Province and no Province depends on its national parks for attracting tourists and for the recreation of its citizens as does Alberta" End of quote.

Such a statement overlooks several important facts

(1) The National Parks which now exist in Alberta were established with the full agreement of the Province, and we beyond any doubt agree that these areas should be operated as National Parks by the Federal Government The responsibility for their administration clearly belongs to the Federal Government

(2) Secondly the true park picture can only be appreciated if both National and Provincial Parks are considered since most Provinces less well endowed with National Parks, have had to make up for this lack by the establishment of Provincial Parks

The proper criticism here is not that Alberta has too much area reserved for National Parks but that the other Provinces do not have enough

(3) The third important fact ignored is that we have in this province equally exciting areas and recreation facilities providing for the tourist industry Nearly every Chamber of Commerce finds itself pressuring its own area and not the head. Mr Speaker, in the Hinton Area where the new resources railroad is under construction and I could go on to mention scores of others, throughout Alberta

(4) Further to get the record straight, the Hon Minister stated — "that no new building leases have been given out for the last ten years" (end of quote) This assertion is completely erroneous In Jasper National Park since August of last year 34 building lots have been approved of which 23 applications have been made, nor do the people in Jasper servicing the industry drive 35 miles a day into the Town and I know of no instance in Jasper where wait resters and service station attendants were sleeping under trees due to lack of accomodation

It is misleading to say the least, when public statements of this nature are released (5) I readily admit, and in deed emphasize, that our National Parks are extremely important to us, and particularly to our tourist industry at large The fact that they have become so in due to the very large expenditures of federal funds on highway, roads, trails and other visitor facilities which have been for the specific purpose of making these areas accessible for public use

It is perhaps not fully appreciated here in Alberta that over $100,000,000 has been spent in National Parks in the last ten years in Alberta by the Federal Government in the name of the people of Canada who have, and will continue to have a vested interest in our National Parks.

However it is fair to say that the Province of Alberta benefits most from these very large expenditures of federal funds and there is no doubt that the indirect benefits to the Province from the continuously increasing number of visitors attracted to our National Parks

WESTERN CANADIAN PIONEER MUSEUM

1911 Franklin

History of pioneer transportation captured in this unique collection

An enterprising father and son team, Tod and Stan Reynolds, have created one of the museums in our province. Here are authentic stage coaches and old time vehicles, such as the open buggies that provided prairie transportation at the days when "horse power" meant just that. Four hundred steam and internal combustion engines, stationary and traction models in broadly varying design, are permanently housed here. You'll see pioneer cars dating way back to 1899 including the 1908 Cadillac and Olds 1 cylinder runabouts, 1908 Baker and 1911 Hupp Yeats electric cars, 1911 Franklin air cooled, 1916 V twelve cylinder National, Cord front wheel drive and the Brooks steam car There's even a Gypsy Moth biplane, a horse drawn hearse, and a 1912 aerial ladder fire truck. The Western Canadian Pioneer Museum at Wetaskiwin is more than a historical storehouse It represents a tremendous outlay of interest, time and effort by two imaginative Albertans, on creating a permanent tribute to the pioneer history of our Alberta.

Next time you're travelling highway No. 2, stop and visit the Western Canadian Pioneer Museum at Wetaskiwin. It's open every day from May 1 to October 1.

Proud of our Alberta Heritage

tional Parks amount to many times the direct federal expenditures. We, in Alberta have also done our share to make this a reality and I think it should be recognized by the people of Canada, and by the Department of Northern Affairs. We have provided first class highways to both Banff and Jasper and our tourist industry does provide a high standard of facilities for our visitors.

(6) Now then to compare our National Parks in Alberta to Switzerland is rather absurd and the fancy vivid maps shown in this house served only to highlight as I said earlier, how a peripheral public relations firm can present with the use of expert techniques a plausible case without regard to a proper assessment of the facts. In presenting the number of visitors to Switzerland of over five million, when they have a population of just over five million, is to ignore the fact that Switzerland with the famous Alpine line is a centre of 600 million in Europe with a population greater than that of all North America, I do not think, Mr. Speaker I need elaborate on this point any further.

(7) Now then Mr. Speaker to insinuate that National Park Policy is restricting the public use of our parks to the extent that each year there are increasing number of visitors being attracted to our parks through Federal, Provincial and local efforts, and we fully expect this trend to continue as the need for recreation and enjoyment in our society of today presents ever increasing demands.

Then Mr. Speaker now that we have the centre of focus let us turn to the Alberta problem as vividly conjectured by the government and let us examine how mighty serious the "great dilemma" in National Parks in Alberta.

National Parks Policy was laid down in September 1964 by the Minister of Northern Affairs, heretofore parks administration followed unwritten rules and various applications of policies by different administrations.

This statement came as a result of the Glasco Royal Commission which recommended that a complete review of National Parks Policy be undertaken and I quote, "that operational patterns be developed which may best harmonize the twin objectives of meeting the recreational needs of the people and preserving the natural beauty and character of the environment." (end of quote)

I particularly draw the attention of this house to the words recreational needs of the people and preserving the natural beauty, and I want the Minister to take note and remember that it was from this basis that the new policy was evolved, and when he meets his counterpart on the next occasion either here in Alberta or Ottawa, that he reminds those people in Northern Affairs that these instructions should have been followed in enunciating the new National Parks Policy

It is my opinion that this policy as written down while desirable in many aspects and provides guidelines for the administration to follow it has in its application in so far as Jasper is concerned failed miserably to contend with the fact, facilities presently established in the park were for the supposed purpose of catering to visitors and that these facilities and leaseholds came to their present status through policies laid down over the years.

I agree with the Minister that the new policy follows an extremely narrow concept of National Park Development as laid down by section 4 of the Act relating to their purpose — which clearly states that they shall be "dedicated to the people of Canada for their benefit, education and enjoyment, and such parks shall be maintained and made use of so as to leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations."

Northern Affairs in its interpretation would turn back the clock and completely eliminate those people and many of these pioneered some of the good things which make our parks such wonderful attractions Even the Government of Canada through its crown corporation the CNR clearly recognizes modern improvement and expanded development as essential to the growing demands of recreation in the mind of the wonders of the modern motor car.

I share with the Minister a concern in how the new policy application affects our people especially in regard to leaseholders both in residential and commercial sectors and it appears to me that a department of the Government of Canada is seeking to vest in itself to the powers to control the rights and privileges that should quite properly belong to the people of Canada, which, includes Albertans and our citizens living in Jasper and Banff.

For anyone to suggest that we here in Alberta, or those of our citizens in National Parks are asking for special privileges versus the rights of all Canadians is absolute nonsense However a recent editorial in the Globe and Mail charges this very thing. if anything the complete opposite is true. Our people are willing to provide those needed facilities and recreational pursuits so that many more thousands of Canadians and foreign visitors can truly appreciate the great beauty of those outstanding parks.

I am being very critical of the new National Parks Policy chiefly in its application and interpretation by Northern Affairs

(1) when residents of long standing and at the invitation of Park authorities, as by their occupation in connection with the CNR find it necessary to band together and form an Association in order to protect their tenure against confiscation by the Government, it is difficult to believe we live in a free country

(2) On the other hand as a result these policies we find businessmen and we would say successful ones, who have been willing and are now prepared to help and assist in a rational, orderly development of parks s he now find themselves in a position of real concern — more again this narrow application of National Parks Policy in inhibiting the natural growth which Canadians should rightfully expect.

The Department has no flexibility — leasehold decisions are made in Ottawa and are presented in months — new ideas for improvements are thrust out of hand or allowed to die Proper rational development and maintaining of existing facilities are strongly discouraged

What is needed here in Jasper and in Banff is a "Parks Leasehold Development Board" located in these two main towns, they should be staffed by professional people who know how to administer urban development and they should be given board authority to effect proper, acceptable development within the principles of our Nation Parks Local decisions should be made in Jasper and Banff without the remote reference to Ottawa.

I am not suggesting for a moment that the balance of Park Administration be eliminated or their responsibilities be taken away They have done an excellent job over the years in preserving the nature al beauty of our parks.

Nor do I have any quarrel with Northern Affairs with their Visitor Service Centres to complement true appreciation of wilderness areas — this will be slow in coming but the potential is enormous and will add much to our National Parks.

However in proposing this resolution I am hopeful that we might convince the Government of Canada to take a positive point of view in reasonable, rational development and control of our two large mountains, which were in fact created by Parks Policy

We are aware that new legislation is going to be introduced in Ottawa and the Prime Minister has stated that we will be given a full opportunity to make our views known before any final decision is made.

My objective in this resolution is to provide a means wherein the Province of Alberta may become an advisor not only for the benefit of all Canadians, but for the people of Alberta, who are genuinely, and vitally interested in our National Parks.

In explaining why I believe this House can support this resolution I wish to draw to your attention the recital — recreation is becoming increasingly important and thousands of your citizens are beginning to recognize the real values it affords to their families and communities With this I am sure none of us would quarrel.

However it appears to me that what we need in Alberta is a Public Authority such as we are suggesting in this resolution to co-ordinate Provincial and National policies part icularly where Provincial Parks may be adjacent

Wherever we have provided areas to large numbers of visitors to our parks we must be prepared to accept the responsability and indeed encourage the proper development policies which will provide for their needs and at the same time preserve the wilderness concept "

It may be difficult to set up such an authority but I believe it is imperative that we do so Let us bear in mind that we as Alberta have a common objective together with our fellow citizens of Canada to provide for Recreational needs and Preserving for all time the natural beauty of our Parks.

Mr Speaker I ask the support of this House to this resolution — knowing there may be some legal technicalities to overcome but I wish to assure you the intent of the resolution is to provide a solution to the difficulties with which we as legislators find ourselves confronted in Alberta

Commodores bring home first place prize money

By "Sagebrush" Soltys

The Edson Commodores returned top prize money of $300.00 at Jasper's Invitational Hockey Tournament held on April 8, 9 and 10 by defeating the favored Stettler Imperials 4-2 in the tournament's final game. Stettler took home $150.00 for their second place finish

Five teams were entered in the successful three day tourney besides the above finalists, teams from Jasper, Leduc and Edmonton were represented.

COMMODORES UPSET COMBINES

Action got underway on Friday, April 8th when the hometown favorites Jasper Combines met the Edson Commodores. The Combines led 1-0 at the end of the first period and increased their lead to 2-0 when the second period ended. At the nine minute mark of the final period, the Commodores got untracked and poured in four straight goals to take a commanding 4-2 lead. Jasper added another goal later in the period to close the margin to 4-3 and pulled their goalie in favor of an extra attacker in the final minute of play. The move backfired as Edson's Mick Marcetta scored into the empty net to put the game away and make the final score 5-3.

Commodore scorers were Marcetta with a brace while Howard White, Len Stadnyk and Gary Chekaita added singletons. Chekaita played with the Vermilion Tigers of the Eastern Hockey League and was that current's scoring champion during regular season play

Jasper goals were scored by Dave Bernhardson, Glenn Burk and G. Conley. Both Edson and Jasper picked up several seasoned players for the tourney in view of the calibre of hockey teams entered. The

COMMODORES LEAD ALL THE WAY

The final game between the Stettler Imperials and Edson was played Sunday evening before the best crowd of the tournament and the Commodores lead 3-0 at the end of the first period with Len Stadnyk and Gary Chekaita beating Imperial goalie Gerry Hansford on picture goals. Stettler closed the gap to 2-1 by the end of the middle period with a goal by Bob Rawlusyk at the seventeen minute mark. The Imperials tied the encounter at 4:38 of the final period when S. Perkinson scored but tallies by Rod Letain, his second of the game and Jim O'Donnell ended the scoring making the final score 4-2 for the Commodores.

Edson net minder Gary Oberg played an outstanding game assisted both Jasper and Stettler and disputed only a temporary injury in the final game, returned to action to spark the Commodores to their win

Many people say "I'm not able to donate", without really knowing whether they can or not. Your blood is always tested to see if you can donate The age limits are 18 to 65 years.

Reasons for NOT donating blood are: Infectious Jaundice at any time in your life. Active hay fever or asthma at the present time. Pneumonia, within six months of delivery. Centennial program to get big push

Centennial projects are like a fever once they start rolling, pointed out Vic Chapman, Centennial Officer from Edmonton at a meeting held in the town office last Thursday

Acting as a forerunner to organize a centennial workshop to be held in the Legion Hall on Monday, May 2 commencing at 7:27 p.m., Mr. Chapman outlined the program underway by the federal government and various towns in Alberta.

In speaking of the workshop he emphasized the importance of not misunderstanding the word 'workshop' so as to frighten people away but dealt with the wonderful response in other centres and expressed visions of two or three hundred persons turning out with their centennial ideas on May 2nd

Plans were discussed for the Centennial Train which leaves the west coast in January and tours all the major cities in Canada This train will depart the history of Canada from the Ice Age through to the Atomic Age

It will pass through Edson but only have a five minute stop unless Edson has a centennial project to make it stop here longer — like pressing the tracks.

Also scheduled for Edson will be a very large display at Hughes planned for a two day stop-over

The canoe race from Rocky Mountain House to Montreal a 100 day trip with celebrations along the way appears to be one of the many headliners for Canada's 100th birthday

Mr. Chapman's big concern was the meeting planned for Edson on May 2 that will take on a gross roots approach with ideas, financing and work outlined and followed through by citizens of the community.

As it was pointed out centennial projects may come in all shapes and sizes, ranging in a variety of ways with one fine example of Mr Al Lalielle who is building an aircraft with plans for the first flight in 1967.

One other citizen's project is to drink Canada Dry or was it to drink only Canada Dry.

Anyhow Edson needs your support along with your ideas so remember the meeting starts at 7:27 p.m on the 2nd of May at the Legion Hall

Present were Mayor Ernelle and Councillors M E Collin, Mr R K Mahon (chairman of the Centennial Committee), and Messrs A. W Leonard, N Chesna, C John son, S Jackson, John Switzer R Linden, N Aspedal, W J Owen, P Serdiuk, D Lengler and R V Gregg

Fish & Game Assoc. to sponsor boat races

With the co-operation of all organizations and individuals of the community I feel sure the July 1st weekend can be another big tourist attraction weekend for Edson, stated Don Popoff, President of the Edson Fish and Game Assoc

The association has been approached to sponsor the boat races that were so popular two years ago. The Alberta Paddlers Association have suggested the date of July 3rd so as not to conflict with the eight other boat racing events being held through Alberta

Entries are expected from all over Alberta and plans have begun to tie in other appropriate activities through the assistance of other groups of the town

The finishing point for the races would be at the McLeod River Bridge seven miles east of Edson

A meeting is planned for five o'clock Friday afternoon with representatives of as many organizations as possible and will be held at the bowling alley.

Mr Popoff, who will act as chairman has been busy contacting all the groups for their opinions and ideas, as he feels it should be a great weekend for Edson, just like the old days.

day this paper is directed.

It is the application for liquidation of Alta West Forest Products and instead of its being a private company there are some 150 shareholders listed In addition the papers show some 30,750 shares being held by the Treasury Branch after Mr. Manning had publicly stated that the Treasury Branch was in no way involved with the Company

According to Mr. Reimer the loose was given to Alta-West for nothing. MacMillan and Bloedel have paid $1,600,000.00 for these leases. Why didn't the government withdraw the leases when Alta-West did not proceed as agreed?

Mr Reimer believed that the opposition in the legislature should ask the question and then added that maybe Mr Switzer is right, the answer is to make wine in the basement and drink enough of it to forget all the things that might embarrass the government

Mr Reimer referred to the present opposition as a "Tupper tive Opposition" and said that there is a deal on between the federal Liberals and the Provincial Liberals He quoted Mr. Diefen, the Liberal from Calgary as saying that Mr Manning could resolve the present confusion in Ottawa and proposed a Federal Social Credit Liberal coalition

During the next several months you will hear considerable from the NDP in this constituency We don't want to nationalize everything, he said We're not married to any particular economic system he added but we do have an obligation to our children for the future

Mr Reimer promised a hard hitting campaign and asked for the hard work of every supporter in the forthcoming campaign.

Youngsters should be taught bicycle safety

During the next few weeks, many youngsters in Alberta will be riding bicycles

The Alberta Safety Council urges parents to make certain that their children are able to handle their bikes with skill and that they know and observe bicycle regulations before permitting them to ride them.

In Alberta, bicycles are considered vehicles and traffic regulations are directed to cyclists as well as to motorists. Normal traffic control signs, signals, and regulations must be observed In addition, any special laws covering bicycles should be obeyed

The bike rider should use hand and arm signals to warn others of any intention to stop or turn.

He should never attempt to squeeze between two lanes of traffic, whether the cars are in motion or are halted at a stop signal

Riding more than two a kernel in a street or road should never be done Riding should be saved for a yard or field

Bicycles should be walked across busy streets, in cross walks or at intersections

If it is used at night, the bike should be equipped with a proper headlight and rear reflector

At school as at home the bicycle should be kept upright in a rack or with a kickstand in a designated place, so that no one will trip over it

The above mentioned tips are taught to members of the Alberta Safety Council Pedal Pushers Clubs Is your child enrolled in one of these safety training courses

I was walking along the sea shore when I saw an old man fishing off the pier. As I watched he caught a bass and another, and Messrs A. W Leonard, N Chesna, C John son, S Jackson, John Switzer R Linden, N Aspedal, W J Owen, P Serdiuk, D Lengler and R V Gregg

Around Town

By BILL OWEN

The spring again. Friday I saw my first locust blossoms. The slinky ivers were jirling and jomboling in the wabe and needless to say the mome raths outgrabe. Yes the world is starting to grow again. The stubble in the fields will soon turn brown, which is an ob vious lead for. Have you seen the heads around town grow ing stubble. Trust the Kins men to come up with a pro motion like reliving the Ed son Grande Prairie trek. Six fearless and bearded Edson stalwarts will brave the wilds as did the early settlers on their way to G.P. The trek will start about May 23 and arrive in G.P. in time for the Kinsmen convention early in June. The luxurious growth these Kinsmen are cultivating will go on to even greater fame I predict. Next comes the Klondike Days and then Edson's own relics, and then the grandest Kinsmen promo tion of them all Santa Claus.

The interest in regard to the trip along the Edson Grande Prairie Trail is grow ing by leaps and bounds but Don Popoff urged Tumble weed Popoff to drop off be fore he kicks off.

The humor, good spirit and thought of the publicity it will mean to Edson as well the honor it will bestow on the pioneers of our area has al ready brightened the conver sation along the Main Drag to the extent that Greta Hon singer is stale news. I won der what other items will show up as the spring ad vances and the snow melts.

Armand Lord of the Edson Motor Company has 24 rodeos to give away and is looking for takers. All that one has to do is to purchase a car that costs more than the radio, well anyway he can explain it bet ter than I can so give him a call.

The friends of 'Our Willie Smith' will be pleased to know the Minister of Telephones, the Honorable Mr Reirson has seen it acceptable to in stall a telephone for Bill. I was warned not to publish the number just yet as Bill wants to use it a few times himself first.

Times are changing. It used to be that when you went to sit people you sat around not talking but watching TV. Now you just consume rem nants from the White Rose and Shell Service Stations.

Art Polzin of P & P Tire Ltd has been making a few kids happy as he has been put ting their bikes back on the road again with new tires and tubes. Apparently this is one job that bars many fathers, but Art claims he enjoys meet ing the kids as Dad usually comes along later for tire ser vice as well.

During the Easter holidays, Mr Harold Wortman, Princi pal of the A H Dakin School represented the Optimist Club as chaperone of the twelve Op Teen members who attended the Alberta Teen Conference at Olds. Mr. Wortman men tioned 19 various clubs that were represented from Alberta with the Teen Queen from Cold Lake winning top honors in the queen contest.

At the regular Optimist meeting he complimented the young people from Edson on their conduct while at the convention.

The young horse owners in the district may be pleased to know plans are being made to tie in a number of gymkha na events with the local races scheduled for July 3rd.

Farmers who do not have power and who are contemplat ting having it installed must make application before April 30th, to the Secretary of the Edson Pulhan Rural Electri fication Association.

Secretary is Mrs. Irene Mell ersh and her address is Box 750, Edson.

Western music fans will re member the many hit songs recorded by Hollywood star Jimmy Wakely who will be coming to Edson on Wednes day, May 4th in the Edson High School Auditorium.

The western revue group will be sponsored by the Ed son Optimist Club with ad vance tickets available from any member of the club.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank the Brownies, Guides, their Lead ers and everyone else who helped make the Opti Mrs Easter basket sale a success. Proceeds from this sale go towards a Scholarship for a Grade 12 pupil in the Edson High School.

Yours truly,
Anne Ivanewski

of machines. The only people necessary in many automated factories are the few require ed to service computers which control the machines.

A factory in the United States turns out one thousand million light bulbs a year and requires only 25 people to op erate it. It is possible to com pletely manufacture a car without anybody touching it. A V 8 engine can be complete ly manufactured in 14 6 min utes and is never touched by a man.

We have, said Mr. Douglas, nothing to be afraid of if this new technology is di rected and guided to the meeting of human needs and the service of human beings. Modern govt. haven't yet e volved to the scientific re volution.

The means are at hand to raise living standards for every person far beyond the fondest dreams going hours to improve the quality of life. Man does not live by bread alone and needs more than a chicken in the pot and two cars in the garage.

The Scientific Revolution will give man the time needed to develop the human soul. The Renaissance of the human spirit is at hand.

Mr Douglas then dealt with the underdeveloped areas of the world. Paraphrasing Ab raham Lincoln who said that a nation would not long sur vive half slave and half free, Mr Douglas said that the world will not long survive half full and half hungry.

The per capita incomes of the have and have not na tions are becoming further separated. One half of the world has a per capita in come of less than $100 per year.

In December of 1964 we were told that for continued prosperity we must create one and one half million jobs in the next five years. In De cember of 1965 we were told that if we were going to in crease production and hence provide the necessary jobs the important factor was the pro vision of technological know how, the provision of skilled hands and trained minds.

Mr Douglas quoted figures in comparison with the United States to show that we are not providing the trained people we will require. The United States has been bold enough to set enough of the national income aside for education. The real assets of a country are the skill and knowledge of the people. The NDP advo cates completely free educa tion. There are no advances in the scientific era without skilled hands and trained minds.

Mr Douglas then took issue with the recent federal budget which will be debated when the House resumes sitting. The proper cure in the present si tuation would not be to de crease the money supply but to increase the goods available. There are 341,000 unemployed and many of these because fac tories are obsolete and out of date. Canada is operating at 87% of its potential capacity and Mr Douglas sees no good reason why it should not be at 100%.

Income tax increases take money from the little pe ople to repaid in 18 months with 5% interest. This puts Canada in the position of having one law for the rich and one for the poor.

According to Mr. Sharp the cost of living will go up 3½% At the same time he has said that to create the jobs that are needed the cost of living increase must be kept below 2% per year In the last 12 months the cost of living rose 3% and in the next 12 it will rise another 3.5%.

Price rises, said Mr Doug las are 60% administered and have nothing to do with rises in supply and demand. He gave several examples to prove his point. In some cases in creases in prices are justified but where unconscionable pro fiteers are involved they should be instructed to roll prices back.

To make such a suggestion in Canada is, according to Mr. Douglas, like spitting in church.

At the same time President Kennedy ordered a roll back in the price of steel. President Johnson has ordered roll backs in the prices of copper, alu minum, tobacco and news print. The recent roll back of newsprint prices in the U.S.A. means Canadians are paying $3.00 a ton more than their U.S. counterparts.

Mr Douglas sympathized with the unprotected house wife who must pay the price as marked. He suggests the setting up of a Department of Consumer Affairs to keep the nations housewafers informed and hence more effective in setting prices.

Mr Douglas was thanked by Ted Tomich on behalf of the group. Buckets were passed for a collection to further the aims of the NDP and then everybody went their separate ways having, apparently, thoroughly enjoyed the even ing.

Wildwood girl honored by Humane Society

Friday was a big day for Wildwood, a more especially for little Doris Pollard of Wildwood, although she probably didn't quite realize it at the time

Friday, was the day Lieutenant-Governor Grant MacEwan presented Doris with a Royal Canadian Humane Society certificate for heroism. The presentation was made at a special assembly at the school when all 300 students and many parents gathered to witness the event.

Although it is 16 months since Dorrie Pollard then only 4½ years old, saved the life of three younger children when their home caught fire, events have been quietly taking place that led to the presentation on Friday

Fire Commissioner Austin Bridges had forwarded details of the fire and the part that Doris had played in rescuing her younger brothers and sister, to the Royal Canadian Humane Society headquarters Directors of the Society felt the brave little girl merited recognition by them and the certificate was prepared

Her Worship Mayor Hilda Williamson acted as chairman of the assembly, telling the students and parents gathered that we are "honoring this little lady who so well forgot herself in thinking of others" She introduced Fire Commissioner Austin Bridges who spoke briefly about the danger of fire as had been illustrated by the incident which resulted in this assembly

He told how on December 22, 1964 Doris, then only 4½ years old, but a capable and dependable little girl, was doing the dishes while her mother was outside doing some chores. She heard a cry and hurrying into another room found fire all along the wall.

Not thinking of herself she hurried her two small brothers outdoors and with some difficulty lifted the baby out of the crib, wrapped it in a blanket and took it outdoors before running to the barn to tell her mother.

The fire burned the Pollard home to the ground without them being able to save cloth ing or household goods.

Mr Bridges in turn introduced Lieutenant-Governor MacEwan who won the hearts of all his audience He started out by telling them it was a joy to stand there and talk to them because they made him feel as much at home Possibly it was the other way around and they enjoyed having him because he put them so much at ease

He thanked Mr Bridges for bringing this presentation to his attention for many reasons, but mostly for the privilege he had of honoring this wonderful little lady who had told him her name was "Dorrie".

He enjoyed coming to this part of the country, he said, where trees are green and people live close to the land

He told the assembly that he admires the courage and resourcefulness of the pioneers who settled this country, who knew what was important to build a good life

He cautioned the boys and girls to be on their guard against prosperity In seeking the shallow values of prosperity we can lose sight of the things that are really important, he said

He told the students that he liked pioneers who could help when help was needed and he hoped we would not lose the virtues that helped these pioneers to build a great country He urged the students to "be yourself, stand up for things, and live your own life, don't fit yourself in to a mould"

Looking at them he said he could see a cross section of Canada, made up of many ethnic groups with a sprinkling of descendants from Canada's native people ... a cross section of young people who help to build a strong country.

He then squatted down in front of Dorrie who still sat on her chair and presented her with the certificate which she accepted gravely, but with out shyness.

Mr. MacEwan was thanked by Mr. Wm. Hewin, Principal of the Wildwood School.

After the presentation Mr MacEwan was called upon to sign autographs for many students Then after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard the Lieutenant-Governor and Mr Bridges proceeded to the Community Hall. Here a small plot had been prepared where Mr. MacEwan planted

Council strikes mill rate for year at 65

The mill rate on property was struck at 65 mills by the Edson Council at their final budget meeting on Monday evening. This year's rate is up four mills from last year's 61. The business tax rate remains at 17 mills.

A total of $581,597 is budgetted for with a projected deficit of $23,515. A deficit was budgetted for in 1965 but the Town wound up with a surplus of $19,251 on a total expenditure of $449,370.

Several items in last year's budget were not spent and must be included in this year's expenditures. Chief item in the category is the $10,000 water system exploration will cost this year

Winter works are expected to cost $8000 against $3000 last year; swimming pool costs will be up another $2000; $5 [illegible] for the operation of the new arena; capital expenditures of $8000, including a new truck; roads in regulation Area 'C' in the northwest part of the town are estimated at $6700 to name a few

There is an overall increase in wages and salaries, street lighting and public works

$9300 is expected to be spent on preparing school sites. The foundation program levy for education is $118,500 against $113,356 last year. The unapproved supplementary requisition for school purposes is $56,842 compared to $29,852 in 1965

What does it mean to the average home owner with a $3000 assessment? It will cost him $13 more less the $50 home owner occupant's grant from the Provincial Government In other words the average Edson home owner will save about $36 compared to last year

Divisional Board reverses itself on Hinton pullout

Edson's Trustee A W Leonard was the only vote against a resolution that saw Edson School Divisional Board reverse itself on the request for withdrawal from the Division by the Town of Hinton

The resolution passed at the regular meeting of the Board last Wednesday reversed a motion the previous month that the Board would not oppose the separation as long as the Division as a whole was not adversely affected.

The resolution passed four to one gave unqualified approval to the withdrawal Voting for the resolution were Hinton Trustee H Karasiuk, Niton Trustee J. H Lawton, Wildwood Trustee D Hesdon and Evansburg Trustee A L. Pausak

Feature of the meeting was a delegation from Hinton consisting of Mesdames Tanis Nelson and Stan Hart and Messrs D Ryford, A L. Clark, P Murphy, Mayor Bradwell and Pulp Mill Manager H Collingwood.

The Hinton delegation contended that the Board's first resolution had not been communicated to the Minister of Education as Hinton had gotten short shrift from the Minister. Board Chairman G. Montana stated that the contents of the motion had been conveyed to the Minister.

Trustee Karasiuk questioned what facts the Town of Edson could have in opposing Hinton's withdrawal. Chairman Montana told the delegation that he was not responsible for any opinion formed by the Minister from the interview Mr Karasiuk maintained that the Minister concurred with Hinton's request but needed the recommendation from the Board before acting

During the course of the discussion Trustee Lawton expressed the view that he could see no disadvantage to the educational standard of the rest of the Division in Hinton's withdrawal

Trustee Leonard maintained that Mr. Lawton's opinion was not based on documentation. Mr Leonard said it was up to the Department of Education not the Board to make the decision

Trustee Karasiuk [illegible] out that the Division had four [illegible] was politically [illegible] suggested there was no reply and the Division should be beaten up

Chairman Montana stated he was still not sure that the decision could have an [illegible] but no adverse affect on the rest of the Division. Minutes comments were discussed with the Hinton request for modeling their [illegible] appropriate times

Mr. Lawton commented that it was not a matter

WHEN HIS WIFE purchased a ticket for him on the Opti-Mrs. Club linen and cedar chest raffle, Mr. G. S. Bengsten promptly put it away and forgot about it. He was pleasantly surprised to find that when the draw was made he was the holder of winning ticket number 22. Mrs. G. Koshby Kroetch explained how they have been approach- ed by various news media, namely TV, radio and news- papers to assist them with the promotion that will spread the name of Edson from one coast to the other.

The group introduced their prospective guide, Big Chief Wandering River. Although not familiar with the area Wandering River claimed he had no fear of becoming lost. He explained his theory of get- ting to the point of destina- tion by simply following the circles you are traveling in and you are bound to come out alright. The trip may last a few months over the propos- ed 12 days but Wandering Ri- ver's summer holidays were just starting. Some concern was evident of the guides abil- ity when he couldn't find his way out of the banquet room

Other business before the Chamber was the National Trade Fair being held in Ed- monton in the near future and the request of support of la Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Boyden Mahon, Chair man of the Centennial Com mittee reminded all members and guests of the Centennial meeting to be held in the Le gion Hall on May 2 commenc ing at 7.27 sharp.

He pointed out this meeting concerned the whole area and urged Mr Harry Lawless of Niton to pass along a cordial invitation to anyone in his di trict to attend.

Mr Jack Hook presented the members of the Toastmistress Club with certificates as ap- preciation of the first time the Edson Chamber of Com merce had had the pleasure of listening to such fine en tertainment at their meetings.

Nature's Scrapbook

With warmer weather ap- proaching those who like and camp out should take note of the following:

Bare facts about bears

There are MANY means of dwelling pleasantly in the woods with bears. However, the camper should remember respect bears and respect their right to thrive in their native haunts.

Feed them nothing, nor tempt them to approach with fake offerings, such as an out- stretched hand.

Treat litter and garbage as if it were poison. Get rid of it promptly and properly. Keep food well en-cased and, if possible sealed. Never, or at least rarely, cook in a tent.

Identify yourself by sound and motion. Give the bear a chance to escape or pass be- hind. Remain up wind.

Be extra cautious about en- counters in Autumn and in berry patches.

And lest these warnings ser ve to exaggerate fear — re las. One man's chance of get ting mauled by a bear is very slim. Cars and city streets are by far the greater hazards.

What or who is a CUPE

When one hears the expres- sion, CUPE, many thoughts may enter your mind but the phrase is becoming more pro- minent throughout Canada each day.

CUPE is the abbreviation for Canadian Union of Public Employees with such an organ ization becoming very preval ent in the Edson District.

At a gathering held last Fri day evening in Edson there total membership turned out to join in group discussion with representatives of Hinton from the International Workwork ers Union, Pulp and Sulphite Union and members of the Ed son Carpenter's Union.

Shop Stewardship classes were the main topic of the meeting with a school plan ned for June 6 in Hinton.

Provincial Sam Fryter of the Canadian Labor Council for the Edson, Hinton and Jasper areas spoke to the gathering on the formation of the coun cil and its strides forward.

EDITORIAL PAGE

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

"What are you? NDP now? You sure gave them plenty of publicity last week!"

This editor has been asked this in one variation or another since the National Leader of the NDP visited Edson. No we haven't gone NDP. We're still a plodding member of the weekly press. The visit of a leader of national stature and former premier of a province in addition to the nomination of a leader of a provincial party (Mr. Reimer) on one night, and in Edson, certainly is news of local importance.

Our instincts as a newspaperman made us feel that every utterance of these political leaders while in our community were important. Quite a number of citizens who were not of the NDP persuasion came out to have a look at a man who is making an increasingly good try at becoming prime minister of Canada.

Mr. Douglas is a crowd charmer from away back. We're used to charmers with religious background charming us in Alberta, and little Tommy ranks among the best. It is only when you don't see his smile, or hear his mesmerizing voice, that you get a chance to analyze what he is saying in cold print. This was and still is our job — to get his statements, and those of any other politician, in black and white.

In our humble opinion Mr Douglas doesn't fill the bill as prime ministerial material. But then this has been said of some of the men who have become prime ministers of our country.

For instance we wondered about the crowd wildly clapping the more 5 per cent reduction in income tax for those with families and making $4,800 Mr Douglas is a labor leader, perhaps he didn't realize that quite a number in his audience don't make $4,000 a year Everyone is worried about inflation, but Mr. Douglas' answer didn't seem to solve the problem to our mind either.

Mr Douglas didn't bring up Viet Nam at our meeting, but he's been making some pretty one-sided suggestions on this war that Canada is not in for once Surely the Commies can't always be right and the Yankies wrong. Our boys in uniform might be sweating it out in that far-away jungle if it weren't for the American boys who are there now Backed, we might add, by Aussies and New Zealanders

Being small businessmen, we publishers don't relish too much in a party that lumps us with the big monopolies that control the destinies of our country. Being little guys we are in favor of pensions and medicare, but having to charge our customers more to pay for them makes us more cautious than a party based on organized labor. Oops, there are farmers in the party too. But from what we hear they don't like digging up the pension money either.

PROVINCIAL LEADER AND LOCAL CANDIDATE

Provincial Leader Neil Reimer who was nominated the same night Mr Douglas was here will, we predict, cut quite a swath in trying to gain the Edson Constituency seat He nearly made it in the by-election and a shift in a few votes could change the picture

Mr Reimer is certainly head and shoulders above the rank and file of his party — and therefore is definitely a leader. If he takes up residence in the constituency as is suggested, he will become an even more formidable threat to his political opponents.

Our Liberal Member, Bill Switzer, showed up well during the current session. Here we are in this Social Credit province with a Liberal member and everything seems to be going along pretty much as usual.

Can the Social Creditors gain back the confidence of the voters? Can the Conservatives switch any of that huge federal vote their way?

Or will the contest be between the top runners last time? Watch this paper if an election is called.

Mr. Lawton said that if all the people employed by the taxpayers were taken from Edson it would be a ghost town, and claimed that concentration was a continuation of this plot. He said that it would not be detrimental to the rest of the Division if Hinton goes or does not go. He expressed the opinion that the people in his area, himself included, could care less

Mr Lawton went on to say that it is up to the people of Hinton to get the advantages outlined by Mr. Collings They find this out in the rural areas and it is to their advantage to keep their little rural high schools he said.

He added he would tell the Board when his area was ready for consolidation and would back it if the Board tries to force it anywhere.

The Secretary was instructed to forward the resolution to the Minister of Education sending copies to individual trustees.

Mr Eyford, chairman of the Hinton committee thanked the Board for the discussion Trustee Kerguish and Mayor Bradwell recommended that the Board should explain the committee's attitude to the Minister as the Board did not warrant the publicity it had received.

Mr Eyford pointed out that the Hinton Committee was a long way from separation and will do everything to do things as fairly as possible.

SOME OF THE COSTUMES that showed up at the Edson Opti-Mrs birthday party last Saturday. Fred and Anne Iwanchuwki were dressed in their native costumes, brought from the old country by Ann's mother; Dennis Kitaguchi of Hinton came as a rickshaw man complete with rickety rickshaw and moustache that kept falling off whenever he laughed.

A GROUP OF Hinton Optimist Club members drove down to Edson last Saturday night to help the Edson Opti-Mrs celebrate their 9th birthday. It was a dress-up affair with a choice of Klondike or Nationality theme. Louis Lirette must have been a Parisienne painter; Gail, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Tats Kitaguchi visiting from Lethbridge, was a cute Western type; Tats and Aki Kitaguchi were their national Japanese costumes.

an elm tree. There was quite a crowd on hand for the planting ceremony.

The ladies of Wildwood had provided a delicious lunch which was served in the hall.

In taking his departure Mr. MacEwan again endeared himself to all when he went the round of young and old, shaking hands and speaking to everyone. Finally he invaded the kitchen to tell the hall down ladies working there how much he had enjoyed the lunch and exchange pleasantries with them.

And as they were off to Edmonton and other duties, leaving behind a feeling of warmth for the honor that had been bestowed on a small girl and for the warmth and new friendships of the men who has been chosen as the Queen's representative to the people of Alberta.

Some coaches needed for Pee Wee League

Once again the Edson Optimist Club will be organizing the Pee Wee baseball with Mr. Harold Workman acting as the Managing Supervisor for the league.

For several years now there has been four sponsors. They include Griffiths Motors, Mohan Electric, Civil Service Association and the Knights of Columbus.

As the town has progressed and the number of young ball players has increased it is necessary to scout for new sponsors and coaches, managers and umpires.

For more information or if you wish to register please contact Mr. Workman at his home or at the A. H. Dakin School.

According to surveys made at the schools it has been noticed that the children taking part in these sporting activities have also improved in their studies and conduct.

Make a point to get out and help with this league. You may gain as much satisfaction as the players themselves

"This one sounds sincere . . . I'll take a dozen."

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED to the Peers Community and if it is as ambitious a group as their members in Edson then the Peers Lions Club will certainly be a credit to the district. At present there are 20 signed up members and it is expected there will be a few more by Charter Night, which has been set for June 3rd. In the foreground above are some of the executive members including: Fred Perrin, treasurer; Les Rail, president; Chris Hoolman, 2 year director; Bruce Bennett, secretary. In the background are members of the Edson club: Will Gosling, Fred Parenteau and Murray Grier.

BOY SCOUTS OF CANADA
YELLOWHEAD DISTRICT

The District Commissioner's Comments

The District Council met last week in Jasper on March 19th was disappointing as far as attendance was concerned. Scouting, like most other worthy projects, comes out second best when competing with curling.

Even though representation was small, someone did show up from each area in the District, with Valemount having the best turnout. Reports from across the District show that Scouting is active. The five star program in Cubbing is being worked in very well. We do not hear very much about the Venturer Program with the Scouts, however, we are not worried as this will fit into the plan in due time.

We were pleased to have Denny May, Field Executive from Edmonton, present at the meeting.

Doug Taggart has been active with the training program in Edson and is prepared to come to other areas upon request. We did hear that the two groups in Hinton are going to get together and set up a training program, or suggest dates to Doug so that he may conduct training sessions in Hinton.

On Saturday, March 26th, Field executive, Denny May [illegible] Commissioner Harry Champion conducted a training session in Valemount.

They were assisted by Pearl Thomson of Jasper. While this course was not as well attended as had been anticipated those present were very enthusiastic, which made up for the lack in number.

The training sessions got underway at ten o'clock in the morning in the Valemount School and except for brief stops for lunch and supper, served in the school; went right through to nine o'clock in the evening. The Valemount Group Committee is to be commended for their enthusiasm and are sincerely thanked for their participation and for providing food for all.

The Scout Camporee to be held near Edson on the May 24th weekend is the next major event in the District. It is hoped plans are now being made in each area of the District to have a strong force of Scouts in attendance. No doubt, our District Scout Master, will be contacting all Scouters in the very near future in this regard.

We can but all troops in on a little secret. District Council has chosen some very nice trophies for the various events. This year the trophies will be presented at the close of the Camporee and it will be up to each Group Committee to have the engraving on the trophy completed.

Good Scouting!

Auxiliary to sponsor Mental Health Week

The regular meeting of the St. John's Hospital Auxiliary was held April 5th with very good attendance.

Mrs. Bacon was welcomed as a new member, wasting no time she volunteered to help with the "Blood Donor Clinic" to be held Tuesday, April 26, along with other willing members namely Mrs Ethel Engelder, Mrs. Agnes Osborne and Mrs. Tiny Gamette our interested president.

This year the Auxiliary will be sponsoring Mental Health Week, May 1 to 7th inclusive. Invitations are being sent out to the "Make Believe Tea" taking place Friday, May 6th, with Mrs. J. Grant MacEwan wife of the Lt. Governor, as Provincial Hostess. This is a new way of making our contributions a little more interesting.

Canada has a total of 19,000 mental patients to care for. It has been found that Canadians spend less per day per mental patient than we spend on person inmates.

Only with an all out joint effort can the frightening and crippling menace of the quiet disorder of our time be mitigated and it is hoped finally recovered.

You bring light into dark places when you give to the Canadian Mental Health Assoc. Let us conquer mental illness next. If we work together we can do it.

Tentative plans were made for the preparations of Florence Nightingale Tag Day to be held Saturday, May 14th. Mrs. Rita Breiter, guest for the evening, offered to make tags which is quite an undertaking and is greatly appreciated. Co-operation such as this is an encouragement to our Auxiliary.

The big moment for the annual raffle come next. This was won by Mr Grant Bolton, 1st prize, Mr Mark Albert, 2nd and last but not least Mr. Dave Kurylo with third. Mr. Albert generously made a donation of his winnings to the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Rita Breiter, the guest for the evening, took the girls on an enjoyable trip to Mexico (with slides taken on a previous trip to that delightful country).

After our long stretch of cold weather this proved a very good way to get rid of the blues, this was approached by all.

The monthly raffle was won by Mrs. Bessie Goldstick, our retired president.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Hoffman, to bring a very entertaining evening to a close.

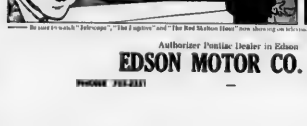
A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Pontiac Laurentian Four-Door Sedan

A lot of our advertising appears in people's driveways.

Pontiac's beauty sells a lot of Pontiacs. Consider the arrogance of its split grille. The long, lean sculpted body. That rumble-looking, distinctively-Pontiac stance. But we have a clever device for selling even more Pontiacs. We call it our Pontiac dealer. He's the man with all the answers. He can show you, for instance, exactly why it is that we're putting more of our Success Cars in people's driveways than ever before. He's a man you should make it a special point to meet. He can tell you about Pontiac's lavish interiors with their host of standard equipment luxury and safety features. He'll even demonstrate Pontiac's new brand of performance if you're feeling adventurous. But more important than anything else, he can give you an excellent deal on the Pontiac of your choice. And let you do some advertising for us.



Be sure to watch "Jokesmith", "The Fugitive" and "The Red Skelton Hour" now showing on television. Check local listings for time and channel.

THIS LOVELY RUBY RED AMARYLLIS was the pride and joy of the Ray Wooppel family at Easter. The first of four buds opened on Easter Sunday and were soon followed by three more to make the plant something of an oddity. Although amaryllis are known to have as many as six blossoms on one stem they are quite rare with most having only one or two. Sarah Wooppel steadies the head-heavy plant.

Girl Guide News

The First Edson Guide Company had their meeting on Wednesday night in the JHS.

The Guides who wanted to give out phamplets Saturday morning about the blood donor clinic were shown their districts. After that the records were rounded up.

The Guides then played ping pong among other things.

Miss Beulle read off the names of the Guides rewarded sheets and asked if anyone knew of the Guides who had quit were on the other Company or still with us.

The meeting was then closed with Taps.

Robb Highlights

Mr and Mrs F. Inglin and daughter Denise motored to Pine Point, NWT, for Easter to visit their son Marvin and family. Mrs. Inglin tells us it was a very interesting and educational trip.

Mr and Mrs. J. Halvorsen and family who spent Easter at Kitimat, B.C., also had a grand time.

Mr and Mrs. K. Taylor and family were in in Edmonton on business during the Easter vacation.

Deepest sympathy to Mrs P. Brendle is extended by all Mrs. Brendle's father passed away.

Father Boyd Dowden held an Easter Service at the home of Mr and Mrs. Gruschel on April 17th.

Several are asking about a school meeting as we have not had one since October 1965. No one has been elected to take Mr Aldrich's place since he left in August and there are several things parents would like settled before school begins again in September.

Congratulations to L. Williamson and Sophia Romanuk who to be married April 30th. Three Congrat's are from many here.

Culverts down town were recently opened but not here on the hill. Guess they aren't supposed to plug up.

Again we have no representative since Mr. Beatty passed away.

Mr and Mrs E. Carde, Mrs. Alice Buehner and Brenda were recent Hinton visitors.

Good luck to Mr. and Mrs. N. Charleston and family who have moved to BC.

A cougar was shot recently at the J Syverson home where it attacked the dogs in the afternoon. It was not shot on any trap line and hauled in believe me.

Mr Wayne Pambrun was visiting relatives in Robb recently.

Mrs Charles Pambrun was a recent visitor from Fort St John, B.C.

Mr and Mrs O'Malley and daughter are in Edmonton on business.

Several people have been and are on the sick list with this nasty flu.

Mr P Ludwig, John Hohensee, Calvin Zawerucha and Joe Hohensee are home from Wagner's Camp near Enilda.

Miss Dianne Zawerucha spent her Easter vacation in and around Entwistle.

Mrs Lang is cooking at Entwistle.

THREE STALWART KINSMEN TERS who presented the trials and tribulations that are expected along the trail from Edson to Grande Prairie at last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting. Missing from the picture is their astute Indian guide Wandering River and his never-get-lost theory. Wandering River explained by making his circles larger and larger you are bound to get to your destination. When asked how he developed this theory, he said he watched his record player lots and if needle starts in centre, it never gets lost and gets to final place, sooner or later. Wandering River's theory may be good but it didn't help him to find his way out of the banquet room.

NWBL suspends operation for one year as interest lags

BY A. E. LAGORE FOR WBL

At a meeting in the Coronation Hotel in Edson, on Sunday, April 20th representatives from the Jasper Panthers Edson Hinules and Mac has Braves were present Due to Drayton Valley and Hinton not having representatives present at the meeting and Mac Kay doubts as to being able to field a team, it was decided to suspend League operations for this year season

Jasper and Edson will have teams this year and hope to play some exhibition series as well as tournament ball The League President, M Bazaala of Jasper, expressed deep regret in that the league had operated for nine years and suddenly due to lack of interest had been forced to fold

It is hoped that there will be enough interest next year in the various towns in the area to demand a league The NWBL would like to thank the many fans for their support in the past and hope that in 1967 there will be baseball again in the Northwest

The writer hopes that the youngsters in the area will continue to play baseball because every senior league must depend on youth for the new faces to replace the old

The old faces must also remember that youngsters need guidance and coaching and this is where their years of experience can be passed on to keep baseball active in the Northwest

Success Story

Ten year old Carol Field knows the value of a Leader want ad Carol has some pet bantam chickens which multiplied to a sizeable little flock last summer The little hens have been laying every day for quite a few months but the few roosters in the flock were only good for early morning alarm clocks and for strutting in vain male glory

It looked as if the roosters were destined for the stew pot until as they were, when someone suggested she try and sell them by an ad in the Leader There are lots of ways for a ten year old girl to spend money so she agreed With in a week she had sold the four pairs she had available and was richer by almost ten dollars

To top it all two of the pairs had been bought for birthday presents and Carol was happy remembering how happy she had been when she received her first pair for a present a few years ago

Meeting postponed

Due to the centennial work shop scheduled for Monday May 2nd the regular meeting of the Legion Ladies Auxiliary has been postponed for one week to Monday, May 9th

All members are urged to attend this important centennial meeting on May 2nd It starts at 7 23 p.m. sharp

Advice to students... stay in school to graduate

At this time of year we as the National Employment Service meet many young people who are considering leaving school before graduating In the majority of these cases the story runs something like this

These young people are on verge of a few feelings who have jingling pockets, a car, a wardrobe of 'really neat' clothes and apparent financial independence

They wonder if it wouldn't be the greatest' to be able to quit worrying about their allowance about the available fly of Dad's car about the cost of tickets for Saturday And since all the fellows who enjoy that status have had to leave school before graduating, they think they could do the same Imagine' Besides all that money and all those good times they could forget about development essays theorems supplementary reading memory work, map points vocabularies, translations and homework And there wouldn't be any of those days when three different teachers have scheduled a class test for the same afternoon

The National Employment Service encourages these students to think over and consider their decision with the following points in mind

First by dropping out of school before graduation they close the door to later years of employment Most jobs of today's jobs require graduation or training by said time, employment for certain jobs continues to expand while the jobs requiring little training are becoming fewer and fewer

Second, their earning capacity is limited for life Both on training their attempts to increase their earnings are futile because they have no formal education to offer their employer Eventually they find themselves in dead end employment

Finally but not least important is that of the leave school they could be headed for a lifetime of insecurity A few additional years of schooling now may avert 30 or 40 years of insecurity and personal dissatisfaction

Local blood donors increase over last year

Although the number of people who turned out in Monday's Red Cross blood clinic were not doubled or tripled, Mrs. Nigel Aspelet, chairman of the local organizing committee was pleased to note the add d interest this year She already looking forward to making next years clinic the most successful ever held in Edson

There were 33 more actual donors this year than last A total of 246, including many first donors, turned up at the clinic Thirteen were rejected for one reason or another

The flu bug going around kept many people from donating and it was felt that the inclement weather also kept many country people away who would ordinarily have been in attendance

Possibly one reason for the increased interest this year was the fact that a great many more groups and organizations were involved in one way or another with the clinic Rivet the Cubs, Scouts, Girl Guides and Brownies helped by canvassing the town last Saturday As one eight year old Cub told his mother he was not "getting blood donors".

One donor, understandably had his pair of rubber overshoes taken by mistake from the great number that were waiting in the lobby for their owners. It would be appreciated if the person who has them would leave them at The Leader office With the weather as it is they are likely to be needed for a few week's yet.

UCW ask for clothing to send to Korea

The United Church Women will have a busy day on May 6th when they pack and ship boxes of clothing earmarked for Korea This has become an annual activity, one that is much appreciated by destitute natives of Korea

Anyone with good used clothing who would like to help out is asked to leave them in the church basement, or phone 723-3617 or 723-3145 and arrange for pick-up The clothing must be at the church by the evening of May 5th so that the ladies can get a good start on the packing

Specially asked for to be sent to Korea are discarded nylon stockings It doesn't matter what shape they are in. The stockings are ravelled, dyed and made up into many articles by Korean widows. It may seem an odd thing to ship overseas, but they are the only means of livelihood for these women and are painstakingly made up into beautiful articles

It is asked that to be worthwhile shipping overseas that used clothing be good for at least six months wear There is an special call for men's clothing this year

At the same time the UCW ladies are asking for good used items, clothing, shoes and other articles (not especially clothing) for their rummage sale which is scheduled for Saturday, May 7th from 9.00 a m to 4.00 p m in the church basement

Comments of the Edson-G.P. 1966 trek

The following Edson residents have been asked to comment on the forthcoming trail ride to Grande Prairie by Ed son Kinsmen.

Mayor W B Brunelle — It's a wonderful promotion for the town and I admire the courage of the fellows but I don't envy them one bitter.

Mr H A Bastnor — Plus our familiar to the route — I think the Athabasca River may be the only hazard and with the capable outfitters that they have, I expect they shall have no difficulty in reaching Grande Prairie, but I could not estimate the length of time it will take.

C of C President Jack Hinch — I believe this is one of the best publicity efforts ever staged in Edson and it really pleases me to see the fine support offered by Mr Rive and Mr Hoehn of CFRN radio and TV

Town Manager R C Gregg — A number of years ago I carried my initials on a tree across the Athabasca River on the other side somewhere along the Grande Prairie Trail, if they bring back a picture of them, then I will know they made it

Mr C W Campbell Foreman of Dewinton Settlement Construction — If they cross the Athabasca at the right place there will be no difficulty as our company has walked cats through the wa ters without too much trouble

Randall Murray, Druggist and outfitter — Now I know why Chuck Campbell bought all those skin diving outfits

Miss Martin Edson's author ity on horses — By gosh, that'll be a good swim, maybe I should teach those guys how to swim as well as ride Well we'll work on the Indian hard ened exercises first.

Bill Smith Stock Contractor — They won't have no trouble, if Bill Owen and myself can ride across the Brazeau River, they'll make it

Wandering River, Indian Chief Guide — My plumbob compass very accurate, point straight down, opposite direct ion straight up

TALK ABOUT A QUIRK OF FATE — When the last number of the Kinsmen Chinese raffle for first prize of a 1966 Ford car was drawn last Friday night the winner was found to be Messrs. Jan and Steve Derkson of Derkson Foreign Cars, the Volkswagen dealers in Edson! The Derksons were not in attendance at the Kinsmen raffle dance, but soon came down to the Legion Hall to receive the key to their new car from Jim Griffiths of Griffiths Motors, and the congratulations of attendants at the dance. Project implications of Hinton withdrawal

According to figures prepared by Edson Town Council the implications of allowing Hinton to withdraw from the Edson School Division will be severe financially

A conservative estimate is that the taxing authorities of Evansburg, Wildwood and Edson will be faced with a better than 50 per cent increase in the supplementary requisition.

This means that Edson will have to pay an extra thirty thousand dollars and that Evansburg and Wildwood will have to find an extra three thousand dollars from their taxes to pay into school costs if the Hinton withdrawal is approved by the Department of Education On top of this it would appear that the supplementary requisition would double in 1967

Officials and Town Council members were amazed to put it mildly, that the Trustees from Evansburg Wildwood in concert with the Trustee from Edson could not see the far reaching financial burden that would descend on taxpayers with the School Board practically recommending that the Education Minister allow the withdrawal

Readers will recall that the School Board originally said they had no objection to Hinton leaving the Division if there were no detrimental financial considerations Then at the Board's last meeting the Edson School Trustee was voted down on a resolution saying that the Board would go along with the withdrawal without qualification

Here are the indicated results of the withdrawal of the Town of Hinton from the Edson School Division as it would influence the Supplementary Requisition picture in 1966 as prepared by Edson

Beaver season extended

Of interest to local trappers is the announcement from the Fish and Game Branch that the season on beaver has been extended from April 30 until the 10th of May

The season was extended because the cold weather had kept beaver dams frozen longer than usual and the animals had not been out as early as usual

Outstanding film showing this Saturday

On November 1964 the attention of the entire world was drawn to the name of Paul Carson, who on the last weeks of his life became a twentieth century symbol of courage and dedication

That Paul Carson's death had a tragic dimension is an unacceptable fact Having endured many weeks of unspeakable torment, and having lived under the threat of death much of that time, he was only moments away from safety when a bullet ended his life on a Stanleyville street, even as Belgian paratroopers, engaged in a giant rescue operation fell from the sky overhead

This inspiring story of God's love meeting the spiritual and medical need of the people of the Congo through Dr Paul Carson has now been made into a 53 minute 16mm color film which, without question, is one of the great missionary films of our time

This outstanding film will be shown in the Jubilee Junior High School this Saturday, at 8 p m It is brought to Edson by the Christian Reformed Church as a free public service

Dr. Horner receives word on vocational grant share

The Minister of Citizenship and Immigration has passed the information to Jasper-Edson Member of Parliament Dr. Hugh Horner that approval of the federal contribution under the Technical and Vocational Assistance Program has been given for the vocational high school in Edson

The total cost of the project is $450,000 This capital cost will be shared equally by the Federal Government and Government of Alberta

Federal MP advocates forage bank program

It is essential that a Forage Bank Program be instituted in the park lands of the West Fitzhurst undue delay says Dr Hugh Horner, MP for Jasper Edson in a release this week.

A program as required to give more stability in our beef industry and is to provide a cash crop in grass and clover pro ducing areas. Such a pro gram could include baled feed, pelletized feed and even silage if it should be instituted at the local level with help from ARDA in the capital cost of land and buildings. Dr. Horner feels. It will require fin ancing and working capital which could be supplied by financing institutions of the province.

The buying of the actual for age could be similar to the wheat Board with a basic price at the time of delivery with a pool and final payment lat er. Once established and op erating they would be self supporting.

The need for such a Forage Bank is obvious. Well stored hay pellets and silage is al ways marketable and would be available to other areas at time of drought flood or other crop loss.

In much of the Park Land Area the land should be kept in grass and clover. The pro duction of the land in grass and clover could be tripled with proper cultivation and fertilization and the investme of a rich return.

Estimated costs and oper ating expenses for a forage bank

Capital Costs:

Land — 50 acres - $2,500.00
Covered storage - 30'x80' (to hold 100 tons - 1,000 ea tyes note posts at 12') ±20 $20 000.00

Total capacity 2000 tons
Gravel and grading between Hill ..... $1,000.00 for a total of

Operating Costs:

Buying hay base price $15 00 ton Commission to buyer $1 00 ton Plowing fireguards, grading, etc per year - $500.

Insurance per year $250.00

Selling commission and costs $1 00 ton Sale price ..... or spoilage etc $20 000 fo $25 00 ton

THE PRESS

The April edition of the Imperial Oil Review has an excellent article written by the President of the Canadian Press

We are taking the liberty of quoting some of what he had to say.

"The job of the press, simply stated, is to be a useful nuisance, as Mencken said, 'to comfort the afflicted, and afflict the comfortable.' Popularity is none of its business. One of the most frequently heard complaints following the recent demise of the Vancouver Times was that it tried to please everybody and ended up pleasing nobody."

In his valedictory speech in 1964, Lord Beaverbrook noted that no industry in the world is as heavily criticised as the newspaper business. And, he added, the loudest critics have a very simple code: Don't ever print anything about me that I wouldn't want people to read

The character of a paper will include all the things we admire in attractive friends — integrity, intelligence, a sense of humor, good taste, but most of all it will include courage Nothing can fail more swiftly, as William Allen White once remarked, than a cowardly paper — unless it is a paper that mistakes noise for courage

The honest editor goes to the parapets every day. And nothing pleases him more than to have an irate reader take his hide off in the letters-to-the-editor column

You don't always, of course, get the reaction aroused by that editor of a country weekly, who, to fill up space ran the Ten Commandments one day, without any editorial comment. The next day he got a letter from one of his oldest subscribers, saying "Cancel my subscription You're getting too damned personal "

But if it is the job of the editorial page to jar the civic conscience, to stimulate discussion and defend the right of unorthodox opinion, it is equally the job of the news columns to be completely objective, dispassionate and non-partisan in their reports. Any person who has something to say should be entitled to a fair report of his remarks. This includes opinions which the editor may abhor, and blatant propaganda which is recognized as such but printed because it emanates from supposedly responsible officials

"Why do you give the mayor so much space," irate citizens demanded in one Canadian town. "You know he's a nut."

"Of course he is," replied the editor, "and if we quote him often enough, the voters will find out." They found out, and duly retired him

A labor leader, speaking at a conference on the press in Canada, argued that its greatest flaw was that it was too prosperous and therefore "too complacent " It cannot be denied that this is a basehalf, today's hero is tomorrow's goat and he is only as good as his last edition

But labor leaders also continually charge that the press slants the news. A cursory survey of labor papers in Canada today reveals that they are the worst offenders in the country in this respect If they look an honest, dispassionate look at their publications they would realize that this in one of the main causes of their low circulation

The job of every paper involves a running battle with authority, to seek out what others would hide, to report what others would suppress The man who voiced that deathless maxim "You can't fight City Hall" was never a reporter

A Vale

BY SHARON VAN VOLKENBURGH

I have been to a vale
Where the grass is green as green
And the water's icy crispness
Is as clear as clear can be
Where the sparkling drops of dew
Twinkle on the lacy ferns
And I hear celestial voices
Gently calling to me

And I walked on a bit
Till I came to a tree
Standing high, and majestic
And of giants, a king
And beneath it the flowers
All so delicate sweet
And above it the birds
Oh, so clearly would sing

Then I came to a path
Like a winding silver ribbon,
And I followed it along
To a babbling little stream
And I crossed it, but then
I left all the rest behind
And I never have gone back,
But it haunts me like a dream

WHY BAN THE BOOM?

From the Edmonton Sun

While debate continues on the effectiveness of Finance Minister Sharp's provisions for dampening the economic boom, the question: "Does the boom need to be slowed?" remains unanswered.

Naturally a situation where inflation continues to spiral prices cannot be tolerated. To apply deflationary pressures to the extent that the economic bubble bursts is equally dangerous. Basically, however, it appears that Mr Sharp was pondering how hard to step on the brake when he should really have been concentrating on the steering wheel

That Canadian industry was not yet operating to full capacity was admitted by Trade Minister Winters in the preamble to his "guidelines" when he spoke of the need for Canadian owned companies and U.S. subsidiaries alike to "strive for maximum realization of their potential and for full participation in the life of the Canadian community" If the economy is operating at capacity why are we involved in a war on poverty? Why is ARDA swamped with requests for rehabilitation projects? Why do we still have more than 200,000 unemployed people?

The number of ridiculous paradoxes in our economy shows clearly that it is redundant rather than reduced speed which is required. The construction industry is forced to slow down because of manpower shortages but the civil service grows by leaps and bounds to meet the needs of the new welfare state mes-sees

We are urged to buy Canada back from the United States, but the provisions of the Bank Act make it necessary for industry to turn to the U.S. for the kind of rich capital it needs. Canadians invest in the national debt because the return is higher and more secure than investing in resource development. Exports are necessary to improve our balance of payments situation, but high money policies and taxation combine to put the producer in a noncompetitive position The need today is not to slow down production — rather it is to step up and facilitate the distribution of what we can produce

An economist commented recently, "We are learning to live with prosperity, but we don't know as much about managing it as we do about getting there"

Our need in Canada is not to hold back, but to move ahead The distribution of goods and services is a field in which we are just beginning to tap our potential. Simply we put ourselves on the hook for being good businessmen as we rationalize our trade deficits and slave down our production. The disposing of surplus is a narrow and old fashioned way of assessing our tremendous production potential. What about the many other countries which do not have enough to eat? What about the vast and continuing world markets for both primary and secondary products? The time has come to institute policies which go beyond the mere sale of surplus commodities and pioneer in the field of world wide distribution of goods from wherever they are produced to wherever they are needed World trade and a new basis for international settlements are the greatest challenges of our generation

When all Canadians are gainfully employed, adequately housed and properly fed, when trading policies are developed which channel all our surplus goods and technical knowledge into the needy markets of the developing world, then we may talk about putting on the economic brakes In the meantime, there are too many things which need doing

FOLLY IN GOVERNMENT

From the Edmonton Journal

The Social Credit government has bewilderly and unwisely shelved for a year Mr William Sefferr's eminently reasonable proposal that Albertans be permitted to make wine legally in their homes, for home consumption

That the government felt compelled to proceed so timidly on Mr Switzer's proposal is a confession that a small group of blinkered and narrow minded government backbenchers still exert undue influence over policy making on liquor control

Home wine making is an honorable and skill requiring pastime that has been pursued by millions of people in Europe for centuries — and a pastime now practised legally in British Columbia, Quebec and Ontario.

Under the present law, no Albertan may make in his own home, even just for his family's consumption, any alcohol stronger than two and one half per cent - a strength it is chemically impossible for an amateur not to exceed

Legalization of wine-making would be a further step in the direction of humanizing social drinking in Alberta and putting the private lives of most of us beyond the reach of those who want to order the morals of other people according to their own perjudices

No doubt it will come, in time, for that government has made it plain that it wants to accommodate itself to the modern era

But that the reform should be held up yet another year is indeed disappointing and frustrating — and utterly unnecessary

TO-DAY'S AND YESTERDAY'S KNOWLEDGE

Poverty, racial integration, cancer, atom smashers, are some of the more prominent items on today's list of human problems. The solutions to each of these are being sought through enlightened social policies affecting masses of people The questions are how do we mobilize knowledge? How do we institute new social policies? Isn't it fair to say then, that our age is distinctive in its concern for social questions, of a new magnitude. Is the sociologist to become the professional who must lead us to solutions?

We are still in the age of the psychologist and psychiatrist Man has been seeking answers to his problems with the help of the professionals who can see no better than we see ourselves. In spite of this new knowledge, however, man hasn't found solutions to all his problems

In earlier times, solutions to problems have been sought through the special knowledge of the preacher and the priest These professions, however, have lost status in the excitement about new knowledge of the social and psychological nature of man.

Wave after wave of new knowledge is the pattern of man's history Each new form of knowledge is soon replaced, or at least supplemented, by the next Is this reason for despair? Do we need to feel that the problems will always keep ahead of the solutions? Perhaps some feel this way because they allow themselves to be captivated by every new knowledge As new waves of knowledge sweep over us, our job is to keep our heads above water, understand what is happening and relate to what has happened before This means that the answers to our problems is not just social, or emotional, or physical or spiritual. The answers are found in combinations of human experience and knowledge. The task of education is to gain new knowledge and relate it to that which earlier generations have learned.

GAS AND LIQUOR

For a long time we've been told that gas and alcoholic beverages just don't go together. The automobile insurance companies are thoroughly agreed upon this. Mr Gordon Taylor, Alberta's Minister of High ways is determined to get the idea across that you either drive without drinking or drink without driving but you can't mix the two

A new bill recently enacted in the provincial legislature will make it either necessary for a driver to provide a specimen of his breath when asked to do so by a law enforcement of the laws prohibiting the drinking driver from operating his vehicle

The attempt to mix these two liquids in or through the one individual is contributing to higher rates of damage and fatalities in automobile accidents and this in turn is sharply reflected in increased premiums for auto insurance Everybody pays in every way when anyone attempts to use gas and liquor at the same time

Spring must be coming if the lawnmowers lining the sidewalk in front of the various dealers in town is any indication The dealers, at least, must be optimistic about it getting warm enough for grass to grow one of these days.

—One little local lad was overheard bragging to a friend that he had received a total of six dollars for his birthday as well as presents. Oh, to be a kid in this day and age.

—The Workingmen's Clothing Store on the corner of 4th and Main is almost a thing of the past as a crew of men have been busily sawing it in two, raising it and getting tandem wheels under it preparatory to moving it out of town It buildings could talk it would probably have some interesting things to say about people and events that have passed by over the 50 years it has stood on the corner

—Home to Edson for the wedding of Eddie Owen last Saturday, and greeting old friends along the Main Stem, were Mike Kwashnuk, Wayne Harding and Ted Warton The fellows all get home periodically from their jobs in Edmonton and Jasper, but usual by not all at once. Oh, Alda Gambles attended too

—With three weddings in town last Saturday the Main Drag seemed busier than usual, even for a Saturday It seemed that everywhere one looked there was either a decorated car or gay young people rushing some place or another

—Percy Hunter saying he was going to take up residence at Parkland Lodge this week Percy has been a patient in the Colonel Mewburn Hospital in Edmonton for the past month.

—A sidewalk filled with kindergarden kiddies on their way down town to visit Mid Town Bakery The return trip was filled with happy chatter as they talked about what they had seen.

A FEW OF THE 248 local residents who turned out to the recent Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic, are processed for blood type, checked to see if they are able to donate and passed on to the waiting line-up. The thirteen who were rejected are also to be commended for realizing the importance of giving their blood and at least trying to donate. Actual dinners numbered 235.

Local families move to new homes

Edson has lost some residents recently and the Christian Reformed Church has lost three members from their congregation in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vander Kwaad and family Mr and Mrs. Hank Vanderveen and family and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vanveen and family.

Mr Vander Kwaad left a few weeks ago for Sarnia, Ontario, where he has found employment as a bookkeeper for an automobile dealer. Prior to his departure he was honoured by members of the Christian Reformed Church congregation. During his stay in Edson he was Elder of the church and a staunch church worker at all times.

Following their auction sale last Saturday Mrs Vander Kwaad and Barbara were leaving this week to join Mr Vander Kwaad in Sarnia.

Mr and Mrs. Hank Vanderveen and their four children left for Calgary on the week end to make their home.

Bill and Mrs. Louis Vanveen and family have gone to Vernon, B.C., to make their home. Mr Vanveen has been employed on the Maris farm at Wolf Creek.

Having spent the winter months in B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Brian Lowry and family returned home just in time for our latest snow storm.

With profound regret we admit our vocabulary does not include printable adjectives to describe current weather conditions. Lousy, miserable, terrible, will never do justice to this unspeakable onslaught. As the man said we have no choice, like it or lump it.

Many rural residents were without power from 9 a.m. Monday till 9 a.m. Tuesday, so are anxiously awaiting installation of rural telephones in their particular location.

Deepest sympathy to Mr and Mrs. Bob Radcliffe on the loss of their baby. Mr Radcliffe is in a city hospital recuperating from a car accident. His wife was treated in the Edson Hospital for injuries sustained in the same mishap, but was released several days later.

Mr and Mrs. Herb Heintz Jr drove to Edmonton Monday to take Paddy back to school. The young fellow spent an extra week at home after Easter holidays, due to a bout with the flu.

One local youngster tells us his holidays were a complete flop. First he lost the flu, he managed to overpower enough to go on a beer bottle drive hunt only to find some man had been there first. Our friend says grown men throw those bottles in the ditch on purpose it is only fair to allow kids to pick them up, like they allow us to go with empty cans in the back yard. Come to think about it the kid has a point that bears consideration.

The weather has executed an about face since we started this column, but judging from previous experience it could well change again before publication date, so I will just let it ride.

We don't give Confusious credit for the following "words of wisdom," but the adage struck us as comical and original and possible true "Grattle poverty is no disgrace but it is a very disagreeable companion." Actually we don't agree whole heartedly because if one delves deeply enough actual poverty is a disgrace and somebody goofed somewhere along the line.

When you need help, the first person to count on is you.

Not So Heavy

PASTOR SHOWALTER

Every person carries a burden of some sort whether it be where to get the next meal or how to get along with an unruly husband.

Of course, God should be our first thought as the source for help. He however has decreed that one's fellow men are enabled to assist. That is, if they are spiritual.

It is not always best to run this solely to God with one's problems. Due to human error we may not be reaching God's power, as for instance, our prayers may be beside the point. The troubled individual may not be in a good position to assess his own need, so that his fellow friend becomes invaluable in diagnosis.

Besides this, there is a strength and courage present where there is confidence between individuals seeking each other's welfare. The fair of helpfulness will be found as relating between the 'helped' and the 'helper' in the benefit of both. The source of blessing is from God, of course but his children become disposers of it to each other.

Why carry your burden alone? Do you have no one party for others? Try obeying the command, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ." Galatians 6:2.

The French must have had hair haired types long ago they have an ancient proverb "Long hair, little sense."

Niton Drama Group play a huge success

The three act mystery comedy "The Skeleton Walks" put on by the Niton Centennial Society on Saturday night was a great success.

The players themselves handled their parts with exception of one and B...oy played by David Currie turned out to be a lively fellow.

It was a play that required a lot of sound effects and strange lighting. This also went off without a hitch. The door squeaked when it was supposed too and the dog barked, etc. The eerie light ing made the skeleton's walk a thing to behold and made the dying bat appear to be a monster.

The audience seemed to enjoy the many laughs the play afforded them and also the spine tingling moments that occured in the second and third acts.

Everyone in the cast is entitled at the prospect of taking the play to Evansburg School Auditorium on Saturday April 30th and then going over to Sangudo's Ukrainian Hall on Saturday May 7th.

A lacy train as well as the back waistline. The dress featured a scoop neckline and lily point sleeves. Her veil was gathered to a dainty crescent headpiece. Red roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Her bride and her attendants were presented down the aisle by little Miss Trudy Owen, cute in a white dress with huge yellow sash and yellow band in her hair.

Bridal attendants were Miss Mable Sylvester and Mrs. Sharon Wicks of Slave Lake. They were dressed alike in a floor length gown of yellow chiffon, fashioned on Empire lines with a floor length panel falling from the low bodice back. Headpieces of yellow chiffon and white elbow length gloves completed their ensemble. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

Jubilee students planning Spring dance May 6th

Jubilee students experienced a rare treat on Monday after noon as Vic Chapman and Bud Sallaum invited them to Canada's Centennial Birthday Party in 1967.

The Jubilee student's Council is busily planning for their Spring Dance which will be held this Friday May 6th. This is a closed dance in that only Jubilee students and their supervising teachers and parents will be admitted to hear music by 'The Tables' a pop n'or band from Edmonton. The dance runs from 8 p.m. to midnight, and students should be home shortly thereafter.

Van students are now playing the first rounds of table tennis tournament which will eventually decide the singles and doubles champions for our school. Town competitors will soon begin their part of the journey.

The Glee Club is working hard under the direction of Mr Lauterbach practising for a Niddies on Camera Show which will be devoted exclusively to our Jubilee Singers and their many talents.

Report cards are now out and many students realize the amount of work which they must do in order to pass their grade.

Lets not let all the spring time activities interfere with our education.

BRIAN ANDREWS

It is always interesting to learn of the successes of former Edson sons and daughters. Brian Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Andrews, former chief at the Pumping Station west of Edson, was recently promoted to the rank of Captain in the Canadian Army Dental Corps. Brian took the last years of his elementary and high school in Edson He is presently practicing dentistry with the RCAF at Uplands Ottawa.

Centennial Shop brings out interested crowd

Our 50th Anniversary in Edson was a great success and I am sure the people of Edson and District will never again tally to make Canada's 100th birthday another great event, according to Mayor W. R. Hunsche at the Centennial Committee held in the Legion Hall last Monday evening.

Chairman R. K. Mahon opened the meeting by introducing M.L.A. Bill Switzer. Mayor Hunsche members of the Town Council committee members R. C. Greg, Peter Serdiuk and Sid Jackson.

The meeting was then turned over to Provincial Centennial representatives, Vic Chapman and Bud Sallaup.

A film was shown on the many gala events to be carried out by the province of Prince Edward Island during that province's centennial celebration with the hopes of gaining some of the ideas for the balance of Canada in the birthday year of 1967.

Mr Chapman spoke on many many events to be carried out by the Federal and Provincial governments by stressing the importance of getting each and every town, village and hamlet into the act.

He explained the efforts that have already gone into the 100 day canoe race from Rocky Mountain House to Montreal.

Also a base trader caravan that will be in Edson on June 28 1967 that will depict the growth of Canada since the time are until the present moment are.

Mr Sallaum outlined the plans that are suggested for communities to follow stressing the importance of hertiage both here and sports events.

After a brief intermission, while the Legion Ladies Auxiliary served coffee and dough nuts the large gathering was divided into groups around the tables to discuss ideas that could be carried out in Edson and district.

Many suggestions were put forth from town beautification

According to the ads in the Leader this week The GP trek seems to be creating job opportunities as the notice calls for 25 men with hi-lo ex perience to sections of the library to be set aside for historical facts about Edson.

A group of teachers thought the elementary schools should concentrate on studies concerning Canadian events in their social studies.

It was pointed out to make all these birthday parties a success the first important consideration should be given to the support of the Edson Band which presently needs the co-operation of the whole community.

The present centennial committee have set aside a date in the near future to have an organizational meeting and get the ball rolling. Mr. Mahon mentioned the date will be advertised and everyone notified.

The bearded travellers or trekkers who are heading to GP have been getting in their hardening exercises at the ranches of Allen Martin and Gordon Mitchell. Interest is growing and good humour is reaching a peak. The boys are assured of crossing the Athabasca and this being the case there is no turning back. Hopes are that Jubilee Joe a qualified mortician does not have to turn his hand to the old profession.

PROVINCIAL CENTENNIAL OFFICERS, Vic Chapman, right, and Bud Sallaum, left present Mrs. Clair Bampton of The Leader with a Centennial flag which we will proudly display on our front counter as a reminder of next year's birthday for our nation. The Centennial representatives had addressed a large audience on the Legion Hall the previous evening on how to plan for the big event.

Sangudo milk producer wins Health Unit Award

The annual meeting of the Milk Producers Association, made up of farmers who supply milk to the NAOP dairy at Evansburg, was held at Evansburg on April 20th. Approximately 80 per cent of the members attended.

The financial statement was read and approved and other business carried out during the rather short meeting. Apparently the members attending were satisfied with business conducted over the past year as discussion was very brief.

Possibly the highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the Edson Health Unit annual award for the most improved dairy farm in the area supplying the Evansburg Dairy. For the second year which is also the second year of existence the award went to a farmer from Sangudo Cherhill area.

Winner this year was Mr and Mrs Jim Kwasko of Sangudo. Last years winner was Mr H Bruker of Cherhill. The presentation was made by Guy Bousquet Evansburg representative of the Edson Health Unit.

The milk shippers have now all converted to the bulk tank method of delivery. This is a great improvement insofar as quality of the raw milk is concerned and when the installation of equipment has been completed proves to be a time saver for the producer.

THE EDSON GUIDE COMPANY had a most interesting visitor at a recent meeting when Mrs. Claude Lee described life among the Navajo Indians. Mrs. Lee also had a most interesting display of Navajo articles, the lovely pieces of hand beaten silver and turquoise jewellery attracting the most attention from the girls. A number of mothers also attended the meeting. Guide Captain Frances Mahon here asks Mrs. Lee about a perfectly made felt picture

WIND-UP OF FARM MANAGEMENT COURSE

The Hansberg Farm Management Course concluded an informative study season with a group luncheon on Wednesday, April 20th. Those attending have expressed pleasure and benefit from the sessions. The course, conducted by Mr H J Fletcher, District Agricultural at Strathcona, has demonstrated the need and value of keeping full and complete records of all operations on the farm.

It would appear that this program of study could be profitably expanded to other centres throughout the area. Why not plan to develop analysis as part of your farming. The start of a new season seems like a good time to apply your past experience and record keeping to this year's operations.

How about planning to use all your available land to obtain the most production possible. Explore all the alternatives you think may fit into your farm operations. Decide which enterprises may offer the greatest success. Think in terms of each season, then evolve a plan. Perhaps live stock raising may offer greater money making potential than grain growing for you.

It appears that grass and legume production should be maintained at a high level in this area. Suitable crop rotations are a must for successful farmers and more particularly on grey wooded soils.

Livestock profitable in Alberta

Alberta farmers received more money from livestock sales in 1965 than from grain and Wheat Board payments, according to a recent report from the Statistical Branch.

While totals for livestock were up receipts from grains were down due largely to the adverse growing season in many areas. The inclement weather did not affect livestock production in a like degree. This report behooves us, as farmers, to take the best possible care of our live stock.

Are you making as much money from your livestock as you would like? Now is a good time for you to take a good look at the situation. This is a difficult time of the year for your cattle and sheep.

You think you have done well in bringing them through quite a severe winter. The grass will soon be starting to grow and the animals are restless and are seeking out any tender blades of grass that may be possible. Such may be fairly but not enough. This may be a good time to try and provide extra energy in the form of ground or rolled grain.

If stiffen trouble shows up all calves and lambing time be certain that your animals are well fortified with vitamin A. This should also be true of your fattening animals in the feedlots. The newly born do not have any vitamin "A" in their bodies and must depend entirely on getting it from the nursing milk. Some of these very young may sicken in a short time and the problem might very well be vitamin A deficiency.

Roughages which have been stored for a considerable time may be very low in carotene even though they still have a good green color. It may prove advantageous for you to provide vitamins or carotene concentrated amounts.

Natural livestock increase is measured by the number of weaned "calf spring" from your breed animals. It has been said that the net profit from 6% breed cows in your herd is lost when one cow fails to raise her calf. So it's little wonder that the good stock man needs to be alert and attentive at this time as well as throughout the year.

Always supply sufficient mineral, bone-meal, and salt "free choice" to supply the necessary phosphorus and calcium as necessary in our developing farm animals. Do not attempt to keep more animals than you can adequately care for.

Always strive to provide highest yields of palatable and nutritious forage. Your endeavours may be assisted by using suitable varieties of forage crops, legumes, and brassicas for either hay or pasture on your particular farm. Try to provide a fairly uniform supply of feed throughout the entire year. Much of this may be best accomplished by adding the following to your program:

1 Adding commercial fertilizers to pasture and hay land at recommended rates after proper soil testing.

2 Practice "rotational" grazing.

3 Reduce and eliminate weed infestation by using suitable herbicides at recommended rates and/or cultural methods.

4 Harvesting forages at the most advantageous stage and in the best possible condition.

Please feel free to visit the Agricultural offices in Evansburg and Edson for further information and possibilities on agricultural matters.

A.R.R. IS OFFICIALLY ON IT'S WAY

HINTON CUBS, SCOUTS AND GUIDES form the background for the distinguished members of the Provincial Government and Canadian National Railway officials who participated in the Alberta Resources Railway connecting to the main line. Hinton Chamber of Commerce President Frank Resch is at the microphone (centre) in his capacity as master of ceremonies for the great day on Monday.

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Wednesday, May 11, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 19

An historical occasion large turnout agrees

A page in the History of Canada was written on Monday, May 9th It was written loud and clear at two separate functions, one held in Hinton Alberta, and the other some 15 miles west at Solomon Creek

This was the day the construction of the Alberta Railway to Resources was commenced.

The ceremony at Hinton took the form of a large banquet at the Athabasca Valley Hotel Hosted by the Hinton and District Chamber of Commerce the banquet featured the Honorable Russel Patrick, Minister of Industries and Development as guest speaker

The Honorable Mr Patrick marked this great occasion by describing to the large number of people from Hinton, Edson Edmonton, Jasper and Grande Prairie how a project such as the Alberta Railway to Resources is born. Mr Patrick spoke in both humorous and serious vein.

On the serious side he explained why a government will put up the money for another agency to develop somethine the government wishes to see done In this case the Alberta Government wanted to see a railway to the resource rich area of Northern Alberta

THE HONORABLE RUSSEL PATRICK stands with the chrome plated bolt with which he symbolically joined the new Resources Railway to the main line of the CNR at Solomon on Monday afternoon. Working railroaders involved in the bolting ceremony were Danny MacIlroy, crane operator, Marcel Berras and Billy Lebeuna. A Hinton Scout was right in there too.

Hinton out? Edson out too!

Almost the complete Council with Secretary Manager R C Gregg met with the Minister of Education last Thursday in Edmonton Pointing out the implications of allowing Hinton to withdraw from the Edson School Division along the lines reported in last week's Leader and the Minister was left with some food for thought

In effect the Edson delegation told the Hon R McKinnon that "The day Hinton is allowed out of the division, you will have an application from the Town of Edson for withdrawal as well

Mayor W H Buncle who directly asked the Minister as to whether or not Hinton would be allowed to withdraw received an evasive answer during the interview

The provincial departmental authorities were left with no doubt that Edson Town taxpayers would take a dim view of again being saddled with the lower assessed areas in the division

Councillor P W Wells pointedly reminded the Department official that when the division had been formed much against the sentiments of Edson taxpayers 20 years ago certain safeguards had been promised

CAPITAL REPORT

THREE SPEECHES DON'T KILL LEGISLATION

BY JOHN WARREN

Rather a peculiar wind up to a long and fruitful session of the legislature.

The "experts" were fooled by fluoridation and a couple of controversial changes in the City Act which forced a final day of sittings last week, despite earlier opinions that the whole thing would wind up before the weekend.

It might have gone on even longer if the die hard anti-fluoridationists had been given their way. Mrs. Cornelia Wood of Stony Plain gave three speeches on the subject and appeared quite willing to give more.

However, the issue was finally dealt with rather quickly on Monday, either because the premier and other MLA's had had enough of it or because Health Minister Dr. Ross introduced an amendment that partly appeased opponents of fluoridation.

Everyone expected a fight on the bill which would reduce the majority required for a fluoridation plebiscite to 51 per cent from the 66 and two thirds per cent which it has been for years. Dr. Ross' amendment at the last minute would provide for free distribution of fluoride on a doctor's or dentist's prescription.

With a few exceptions the medical people are eager to provide such prescriptions, so it seems that everyone who wants fluorides will be able to get them without putting the chemical in the community water supply.

Opponents of the community fluoridation admit that some members were lured away from the debate by the belief that, if fluorides are available free to those who want them, not many will vote in favor of fluoridation in local plebiscites. Others say the fuss is the door will simply arouse more interest and make votes on the issue almost certain to pass.

The entire session lasted an rather long 61 days. However, it was worth it. Some of the debates were rather foolish and short sighted, but then some always are. A few matters might have been dealt with more determinedly, but a few might be every year.

But on subjects like Sunday sport, daylight saving, car insurance, and civil rights, the legislature was remarkably quick and forthright.

For the statisticians — the legislature dealt with 145 bills, passed 125 from the government side; 18 private members bills; and withdrew two private bills and three others, including the City Act changes that were objected to so strenuously.

Redistribution to give the two largest cities, Calgary and Edmonton — another seat each, was accomplished raising the total in the house to 65 for the next election.

Just when it will be is anyone's guess but Mr Manning admitted at a past session news conference that he would see no reason why an election should not be held in 1967.

He said elections are disruptive of any time, and it probably doesn't matter whether they occur during the Centennial activities or not.

Mr. Manning himself termed the new Universities Act, the revised Child Welfare Act and provision of a $30 tax discount for home-owners as one of the most significant pieces of legislation passed during the session.

He said three acts reached a "far reaching aggregate" of Albertans who would benefit from them.

The Universities Act provides for autonomous universities at Edmonton and Calgary, similar status for any future universities, and makes certain changes in university administration.

The revised Child Welfare Act removes many of the religious restrictions that had hindered the adoption of some children; and the municipal tax discount to taxpayers living in their own homes are expected to amount to 16 million dollars this year.

Mr. Manning said that the Alberta Humane Rights Act, passed during the session, was "no cure at all for discrimination" but he said it would set up machinery to deal with complaints about discrimination.

He added that the government intends to make a thorough study of its numerous boards and tribunals. Maybe next session will be even as good as this one

Camp leader volunteers needed at Surprise Lake

At the time of writing summer seems to be in the air and no doubt in many homes thoughts turn to the forthcoming summer holidays. For many years now numerous children of this area have enjoyed a summer camp at Surprise Lake.

A work camp has been lined up for the long May weekend, when a number of young people from Edmonton and Edson will go to open up this camp for the summer.

However, so far, prospects for summer camping look very bleak. Camping dates are set and registration forms should be on the way soon, but there is insufficient staff to run any of the camps. The following are the positions needed to be filled: cabin councillors, directors, assistant directors, swimming instructors, craft instructors, camp mothers, nurses, junior staff, business manager, a cook.

The position of cook is one for the whole summer and is a salaried one. Most of the staff are volunteers. In order to work in Surprise Lake experience or training are not essential. The main qualifications are a love of child ren, camping and, willingness to learn.

A training camp for leaders will be held in the first weekend of July and instructional literature is sent out ahead of time to every volunteer. Mothers with children are welcome and can bring their children along. Special personnel will look after the children while the mothers help with camp duties. Men are badly needed to lead boys cabins and to act as business managers.

Two years ago a fully booked camp had to be cancelled for the lack of volunteers to lead it. Let us hope that this sad event will not be repeated this year.

Please! Everybody and especially parents of have-been would-be campers, seriously think over this situation and decide to provide a healthful, inspiring, fortified holiday for some youngsters.

Anyone interested should contact: Rev McPherson United Church Edson or Mrs. F. Mahon 3-3028, Miss Collis Groceries or Mrs. Martin 3-2420 They will gladly supply further information.

They did not want to own or operate a railway. Months of discussion and negotiations with the CNR had culminated in an agreement whereby the Province financed the railway and the CNR will own and operate it.

Mr. Patrick mentioned that the Financial Post is calling Alberta the poor sister of the decade. Harking back to the 30's he told the audience that a large part of Alberta's trouble at that time had been that she was an agricultural province. With the diversified economy that is being developed now the fear of repetition of that sorry time no longer exists.

All of Canada is going ahead and improving. The Prairie Provinces are developing rapidly. Alberta rejoices in seeing the potash and oil developments in Saskatchewan. A well balanced economy demands a lot more people and a lot more diversification. An economic entity in Western Canada is necessary.

In order to get development there is a strong pressure to use artificial stimuli. This type of development has been rejected in Alberta in the belief that it is not solid and substantial and will not last. Industry that is not developed with crutches has an even more serious problem when the crutches are removed.

Industry should go where the area is best suited to it. Government gifts and subsidies are not fair to those in industry with which the new industry will be competing.

To promote industry a province must be able to offer a stable investment climate and must steadily expand the economic base of the province.

Alberta has not taken over public utilities and for this reason is highly regarded by those countries whose investors have been adversely affected by such take overs.

In the matter of oil, gas and mineral regulations Alberta is a model for the world. Notably, South Dakota has adopted Alberta's type of legislation and delegations from other parts of the world, for example Western Australia, have been studying Alberta's legislation.

Dwelling briefly on taxes, Mr. Patrick noted that so far we are free of any Provincial Sales Tax. Were we to apply the national average sales tax to Alberta our citizens would have to shell out an addition 76 million dollars a year.

The entire property tax including industry brings in 140 million dollars a year. The School tax on property raises 78 million dollars including supplemental requisitions while the Hospital tax raises 9 million dollars. If we had the taxes that the people of Saskatchewan have over and above those we presently pay we would have to pay an extra 100 million dollars a year.

The better part of the money spent by the government is raised as the result of a stable investment climate. Looking to the future Mr. Patrick pointed to the abolition of succession duties as a means to attract industry by maintaining a stable investment climate.

To expand the economic base research started long ago on the oil sands. Next year this will pay off with the commercial recovery of oil from the sand.

Coal, which has declined in value, is now being used in a number of ways as a result of research. Alberta has at least one half of Canada's reserves of coal. Through research it is being converted to electricity, converted to fillers and is sustained nitrogen yield fertilizers.

By a new process developed in the laboratory low grade iron ore can be converted to pure iron. Large scale application of this laboratory model is now being tried.

With the advent of steel facilities Alberta is on the brink of developing secondary industry. Commercial research is continually expanding the economic base of Alberta.

Productivity per person must increase in this highly competitive world.

In concluding, Mr. Patrick said that the Alberta Railway to Resources will serve its purpose in allowing industry to reach those resources required to continue the expansion of Alberta's economic base.

Mr. Patrick was thanked by Mr. Harry Collings of North Western Pulp and Power who used the opportunity to put before Mr. Patrick Hinton's continued determination to control her own destiny in the field of education.

Other speakers at the banquet were Dr. Retkowski, on behalf of the Jasper Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Retkowski referred briefly to a conversation he had with Mr. Gratham, Vice President of the CNR, in charge of the Mountain Region. Mr. Graham had stated the possibility of the divisional point being removed from Jasper to the Hinton area.

Mr. Wm. Switzer, M.L.A. spoke briefly at the introduction of Mr. Patrick pointing out that this was an earlier day which would mean much more to the people of Alberta.

His worship Mayor Bradwell of Hinton spoke on the removal of the Railway on Hinton and welcomed visiting guests on behalf of the town.

Seated at the head table were the Hon. R. Patrick, The Hon. H. A. Bate, the Hon. H. E. E. Strom, Hon. I. McLaughlin, E. S. Hunstis, J. Dodds, R. C. Harvey, F. Brock, H. Collinge, O. Bradwell, B. Switzer, G. Repka, R. Mellain, Mr. Gratham, J. Hooke, Dr. Retkowski and Mr. Clem Collins.

Seated at the special head table were R. G. Steele, H. Ryan, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Collings, Mrs. Repka, Mrs. Hooke, Mrs. Resek, Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. Collins, V. Cox and two representatives of Mannix Construction.

CBC TV and radio stations CFCA and CHED and the Edmonton Journal were on hand recording this memorable event.

Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Frank Resek, President of the Hinton District Chamber of Commerce.

Grass fires unnecessary

There have been a rash of fire calls during the past week all but one of them for grass fires. The lone exception was a fire in a vehicle at Edson Motors.

The fire calls are usually necessitated when household debris burning the dead grass off their property, were careless and let the fires escape under fences or next to sheds where there was danger that they would get out of hand.

Most of these fire calls could have been avoided if the persons who set the fires had taken a few precautions. It is wise to have a charged garden hose handy as well as a shovel and an adult watching until the fire is out.

Considering the cost of taking the fire truck and equipment out for the first most of these grass fires are a very unnecessary expense to the tax payer of Edson.

Hospital - Auxiliary partnership theme of interesting address

BY MRS. A. LORD

Sister Knechtel addressed the May 3rd meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary on a subject that proved inspiring to the 22 ladies present.

Auxiliary — As a Partner ship! This all began 200 years ago in Paris, France. St. Vincent de Paul needed help with his good works towards the sick and poor, then the first our Auxiliaries but we are still here to lend a hand.

We owe hearts a on three area (1) VOLUNTARY SERVICE. It is evena determination of all ers erned to give the best ice ervation, knowledge, loyalty and support to all projects decided upon by the members.

(2) FUND RAISING Even with all the co-operation hospitals get from the government, special equipments are always needed Interesting rooms to make things more cheerful for the patients, comforts to the sick, gives something to look forward to during the course of ones illness Nurseries and scholarships are a great encouragement to an inspiring young nurse to be or for general nurses who would to take post graduate work.

(3) PUBLIC RELATIONS members act as a liaison between the hospital and the public at large. They could help to straighten out misunderstandings or to make criticism constructive, all to the good of everyone. Hospital and auxiliary should communicate with each other, to make sure each knows what the other is doing, this could be accomplished by representatives attending each others meetings, act as hostesses on special occasions, take part in disaster planning. These are only a few means of keeping the partner ship in the public up.

Sister Knechtel compared the partnership to an Army. We in the hospital are in the front lines doing the fighting — you in the Auxiliary in the rear must bring up the ammunition. The key to all this is the mutual understanding of our respective roles.

Sister brought her very interesting talk to a close with this sentence from an essay: "Our time, the products of our talents, and footwork, are unstintingly given, because we, the women of the community, realize the importance of a hospital in the vicinity. We will support it."

Sister Knechtel was asked to recite the prayer which was done very fervently Mrs. Gornetzie extended a special welcome to Mrs Baily, who is back amongst us for the summer after spending the winter at the coast.

Florence Nightingale Tea Day will be held Saturday, May 14th The purpose of this is to accumulate funds for bursaries and scholarships made available to girls going to nursing schools. For further information get in touch with Mrs. Gornetzie.

A newsletter called "Alberta's Volunteer's Voice" was read to the members which proved very informative and full of good advice, such as, "To handle yourself use your head", to handle others, use your heart" This can apply to each and everyone of us The next few lines can apply to any organization in town

Someone has said that most hospitals in every Association is made up of four kinds of busters There are the wishbusters, who spread all of their time wishing someone else would do the work.

Then there are the jawbusters, who do all the talking but very little else Next come the knockbusters, who knock everything that everybody tries to do And finally there are the backbusters who get under the load and do all the

The District Commissioners Report

It is hoped that some of the older Scouts in the district will be interested in attending the Venturers Conference at Camp Woods, Sylvan Lake the weekend of May 13, 14 and 15th. This conference is for the older boys, conducted by older boys. Adults interested in the Venturer program should plan to attend, the same place, same time, but in a different building. This should prove a most interesting meeting. The deadline for placing applications is May 7, to Mr. Chapin, RR 2, Thorsby, Alberta.

The Survival Camp for boys 15 years and older will be held at the Airforce Survival Camp, Jarvis Lake, July 4th to 8th. The same course for Scouters July 10th to 23rd. Applications should be placed with Provincial Headquarters by May 7th.

The training sessions are still in progress in Edson Groups in other areas are reminded to request these training sessions providing enough adults are interested.

It is indeed a pleasure to be present at the 2nd Hinton Part meeting Wednesday, April 27th to install Art Dunn as Cubmaster. Frank Brown will be invested as Assistant Cubmaster in the very near future. Norman Livingston has taken over the 2nd Hinton Scout Group and is progressing well.

We do hope that all Scouts are planning outside activities for the boys now that the days are getting longer, week-end outings and summer camps should be planned for now, so all will be ready when the time comes to go camping

All Group Committees and Cubmasters should bear in mind the necessity and value of keeping the Cub Packs small — not over 36 boys in the general rule, definitely not over 36, it is far better to have the same opportunity to progress and participate as they do in smaller Packs — and better than some.

The boys must be kept busy to be interested.

We haven't heard any news from Valemount or Jasper, as surmise all is well.

Plans for the Camporee on the May 24th weekend are well underway. The campsite has been chosen on the Erith River The program will be mailed to all groups — let's make this a real bumdinger of a Camporee

The annual meeting of the Alberta McKenzie Council of Boy Scouts was held in Calgary on April 18th. The District Commissioner attended and presumed the report for the Yellowhead Council. Judging from the reports submitted, the Yellowhead District is doing well as most districts are — and better than some.

Thoughts about soils and rotation

The Grey Wooded Soil Zone is a forest area composed of mixed deciduous and evergreen trees where sedge and smoking bogs are common occurrences in this region the normal annual precipitation will vary from 20 to 23 inches About one quarter of this annual moisture falls as snow and the rest as rain

Generally cooler average temperatures, lower evaporation and shorter growing seasons are experienced here than in many areas, for we are close to the mountains. The soils in this zone have low fertility, and a loose, easily eroded surface subject to crusting. The sub soil is tough and compact Hence there is a definite need to do everything possible to hasten up crop maturity.

Forage crops are essential to the productivity of Grey Wood ed Soils. A number of legumes including red clover, alsike and sweet clovers and alfalfa may be grown alone or in combination with various grasses, such as brome Timothy, Reed Canary Grass and some of the wheat grasses

Nearly all parts of the region receive an abundance of rainfall throughout the growing season, therefore it does not seem too necessary to sow fertilizer except for the control of weeds that cannot be controlled economically by other means

Three to four years of legume or legume — grass and two to three years of grass constitutes a good rotation for most of these soils. A short rotation of grain, under seeded by a legume to be plowed under as a green manure, may be used to more quickly improve soil that has not previously been sown to legumes After several months of such a short rotation, a longer and more permanent rotation could advantagously be established.

Now is a good time to plan and secure seed to establish a suitable rotation on your farm Thosh in terms of grass and legumes to aid in soil structure, increase fertility and fibre and provide feed for your livestock

All this will do much with proper use of suitable fertilizers to expand your livestock and grain enterprises If you desire more information on rotations for your farm, please feel free to enquire at the Agricultural Offices in Evansburg and Edson.

Thoughts on fertilizer use

The use of commercial fertilizers are steadily and rapidly by on the increase. Many farmers are not too familiar with the different components of the different kinds. Many know by name, the four essential elements required by growing plants, that are frequently lacking in the soil

NITROGEN — Gives plants their dark green color and produces rapid growth It increases the yields of leaf, fruit and seed and increases protein content of grain and forage crops Crops lacking in nitrogen have a sickly, yellowish green color and are stunted in growth

PHOSPHORUS — Stimulates early root formation and gives plants a vigorous and rapid start It also stimulates blossoming and seed formation and hastens maturity A lack of phosphorus may be detected by purplish colored leaves and stems, also poor, thin stand roots or stooling and poor root development.

POTASSIUM — Gives plants vigor and disease resistance It increases the strength of stalk to help reduce lodging This element is fairly prevalent in wide areas of the Province Any lack will be shown by testing.

SULPHUR This element has been found deficient in many areas of the Grey Wooded Soil Zone Sulphur increases root growth and helps maintain dark green color. A lack of this element will cause light green color, short slender, stalks and a stunted growth generally.

The purpose of the Alberta Soil Testing Service is to help farmers make soil management decisions by providing chemical soil tests and interpretations. Alberta soils vary greatly in their ability to supply plant nutrients and to support plant growth

Recommendations depend upon farming representative samples of their field soils and supplying accurate and complete information about their samples, and soil sample kits may be had at the Agricultural Offices in Evansburg or Edson

PRECAUTIONS

(1) Do not allow livestock to lick spilled fertilizer of any kind, or chew the empty bags (2) Destroy all empty fertilizer containers

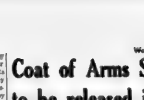
Coat of Arms Stamp to be released in June

A Coat of Arms stamp, 14th in the series of definitive stamps, will be released on the 15th of June 1966, the eve of Canada's 99th birthday, Postmaster General Jean Pierre Cote announced today.



The stamp, a logical evolution from the floral emblem series, is issued by the Canadian Post Office as a symbolic tribute to the Canadian geographic entity, Mr. Cote stated

It has as its design a blue reproduction of the Coat of Arms to be the right of which on bright red, is the eleven point Maple Leaf of the National Flag

Canada's official Coat of Arms dates from a proclamation by His Majesty, King George V on the 21st of November, 1921 It shows the Royal Arms of England, first land and Ireland and those of France above three Maple leaves which are similar to those incorporated in "Armor ial Ensigns" granted Quebec and Ontario in 1868 by Her Majesty Queen Victoria. The Coat of Arms includes the British Lion holding the Union Jack and the Univern holding the French Fleur de Lis At the base appears the Canadian motto "A Mari usque ad mare" or "From Sea to Sea"

In his announcement the Postmaster General also indicated that the total issue of 34 million stamps will be printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa, whose staff created and engraved the design by the steel line in taglio process.

"Work done well, will never need to be done over."

"Oh, no?". How about washing dishes, raking leaves, cutting grass, scraping snow and pulling weeds?"

Banff conference on human resources development

The University of Alberta extension will present a special public conference in May dealing with human resources development and community development problems in Alberta it was announced today by university president Dr Walter Johns. Dates of the conference are May 23 to 28 at Banff and it is to be sponsored by the public affairs section of the Department of Extension.

The conference will bring together personnel from public and private sectors of recreation, welfare, education, business, municipal administration, urban planning and agriculture. These will be drawn from both rural and urban segments all across the Province of Alberta.

The community development emphasis if the newly initiated "war on poverty" has multiple thrust upon voluntary organizations and public and private welfare service agencies new responsibilities for initiative and leadership. Recent legislation on health, Indian Affairs, representative services, rural development and urban planning all express a new faith in the inner initiatives of individual community action. This kind of social climate requires an informed community leadership as a basis to responsible action at the local level.

It is expected that the Banff conference will provide an opportunity for the many private and government agencies to achieve a clearer definition of their particular role in the community relative to their traditions and relative to the new anti-poverty and community development legislation now coming forward from the Federal and Provincial Governments.

It Must Die!

BY PASTOR ENGWALTER

Death seems so final, except in plants! seeds.

The seeds we put into the ground will swell with moisture and disappear into nothingness. Alas, how quickly they become "unfit for human consumption" in the effort to provide our nourishment when buried in the earth.

The most foolish gardener knows it is necessary for the seed to die if it is to give rise to a plant, which in turn, will increase the seed many times over at harvest time.

Some "wise" people do not realize that they must die in order to live. They are all for themselves and their self originated ideas. They are like a seed which refuses to enter the ground in an effort to save itself. Therefore, at best they will never become more than what they are at present ... which is no great compliment.

Seeds and people must die to live.

Jesus said, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. He who loves his life loses it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life" John 12:24 RSV

There are 106 national Red Cross, Red Crescent and Red Lion and Sun Societies in the international Red Cross movement.

Every 37 seconds, a patient in a Canadian hospital receives a free blood transfusion.

ning committee also hopes to draw a representative group from across the province Persons interested in attending should write to the University Department of Extension in Edmonton.

The conference is being carefully planned to assess in advance the feelings of Albertans about their own community problems. An advance survey questionnaire will be mailed to 1500 community leaders throughout the province and the replies will form the basis for much of the conference program.

The committee is planning for local or regional meetings throughout the province after the conference in order to help delegates stimulate similar discussions in their own home town.

NWP&P will have display at Edmonton Trade Fair

Visitors to the 1966 trade fair next week will be met outside the door to the Sportex by an array of heavy equipment, some of it familiar, some of it not so familiar. Canada's largest paved outdoor exhibit area, running along the front of the Sportex, is divided into aisles and brightly illuminated, providing ideal facilities for the exhibit of outsize machinery and equipment.

Among the not-so-familiar items on display here will be an industrial heater of such immense capacity, it could heat all of City Hall from the front door, were that building's heating system to fail. Used primarily in the construction industry for winter works, this giant-sure heater is featured in the Air Heaters Canada Ltd. exhibit.

Atco Industries Ltd. joins the outside exhibitors this year with a display of its transportable office buildings.

Inside the main building, 70,000 square feet of display area, will provide the fairgoer with a look at the world's wares. Industrial equipment, technical services, business communications and construction needs will be displayed and demonstrated.

Nor will the home-owner be forgotten. Swimming pool equipment and patio lighting will entice the visitor to the Bruce Robinson Electric exhibit area. A glassblowing demonstration by Alexander Glass Manufacturing will interest collectors of ornamental glassware and overseas governments will show household goods by their manufacturing industries.

The 6th annual week-long Northwest Canadian Trade Fair will be opened officially Monday, May 2, by Sir Henry Lethbridge, British High Commissioner to Canada, and will again feature special Chamber of Commerce and purchasing agent tours of interest to Hostesses will be the North Western Pulp and Power display at the Fair.

JERRY BULMAN AND GRANT CHAPMAN, (above) both of Edson, are greenbroke the Edson-Grande Prairie Trekkers in their forthcoming ride that starts May 21st. Jerry and Grant are maintaining and supervising the Edson-Grande Prairie Trek Headquarters situated on the north-east outskirts of town. Numerous horses are being gathered here in an effort to tenderize the seven Kinsmen riders preparing for the trip and Jerry and Grant are already receiving their share of chuckles from those seven wonders. Both of these men have had considerable horse experience and will also be making the trip as far as the Athabasca River. They then will trail the horses back to Edson as the seven Kinsmen trekkers cross the Athabasca by boat here other horses will be awaiting them.

Local men assisting Edson - Grand Prairie trek

The local help in assisting the Edson Kinsmen Club in their forthcoming Edson G.P. Trek has been nothing short of fantastic during the past weeks.

Walter "Slim" Martin has donated hours of his time in preparing the seven Kinsmen riders for their trip and it is hoped that he will be able to accompany the riders as far as the Athabasca River Crossing.

As the Kinsmen riders will be meeting their outfitters and horses on the north side of the Athabasca crossing on Sun day evening, May 22nd, they need approximately ten horses for the first 80 miles from Edson to the Athabasca River crossing. They will be leaving Saturday morning, May 21 Slim Martin has, in addition to the above preparation, donated two of his horses.

Local stockman Bill Smith is arranging for three horses and also spend a great deal of time and effort on this trek. Two horses have been received from Don Batts and Charlie Sparks, both of Edson whom still leaves the initial expedition three shy.

Gordon Mitchell and son have also made horses availa ble after supper and on week ends for riding practise and their efforts are appreciated.

Good humored Herb gets gears

Herb Pondrick, the new con genial operator of Centre Service has been getting the gears about the ad he placed in the Leader last week.

Normally Herb will wash the outside of a car for $1.25 But his special for the week stated a wash job for $2.00 along with an oil change grease job and a filter, his opening special.

What was meant was two cents ! !

The horses will be well looked after and fed properly. The headquarters will also enable the seven Kinsmen riders to familiarize themselves with the horses they will be riding as well as spending a few hours getting their hind ends run dilioned.

Should anyone have horses available they are asked to get in touch with Mel Sellys at Pattinson Insurance Agencies Ltd (Phone 3 2302 Af ter hours the number is 3 3334) A horse trailer is available to transport any horses into the headquarters and distance is not a factor.

C of C change date to assist trek

Co-operation to make Edson a better place to live and do business is what we need in the community, says C of C President Jack Hook.

His example of this cooperation has been shown by setting back the date of the regular meeting to May 25 so as not to conflict with the send off banquet for the Edson Grande Prairie Trekkers being held in the Legion Hall on Wednesday, May 18.

Medic-Alert Foundation saves Canadian lives

The life saving work undertaken by the Canadian Medic Alert Foundation has been endorsed by the Life Underwriters Association of Edmonton

The campaign is designed to make the public aware that a suitable medallion should be worn as an alerting device by every person who has some medical problem, drug allergy or disability so that medical personnel, law officers, and others can recognize the particular problem in an emergency.

There are more than 200 such conditions which are not readily apparent and which can result in serious injury or death if not known in time of emergency. It is estimated that one person in five is in this category.

The Life underwriters who, on a national basis, serve a host 10 million .ie insurance policyowners in Canada will seek to encourage those who have an unapparent medical problem to become members of the Canadian Medic-Alert Foundation.

Members of the Medic-Alert are given a bracelet or necklace made of stainless steel or silver which contains a warning message engraved on the back naming the specific problem of the wearer such as "diabetes," "allergic to penicillin," "wearing contact lenses," "neck breather" etc. On the front side appears in red, the words "Medic-Alert" together with the universally recognized medical insignia used by the medical profession.

Medic Alert Foundation also maintains a central file and accepts calls for information on a member from anywhere in the world on a 24 hour basis Each medallion has a serial number engraved on the reverse side and also the telephone number of the central file

All members of the Life Underwriters Association of Edmonton are acquainting themselves with the program and how citizens may register.

Mr. Don Eyford, CLU a member of the Life Underwriters Association of Edmonton, will be pleased to provide information concerning the Canadian Medic Alert Foundation in the Hinton area. ap

Graduation exercises Thursday and Friday

Annual Graduation Exercises for the Edson High School are being held on Thursday and Friday of this week. The format will follow the pattern which teachers and pupils have approved in previous years.

On Thursday evening at 6.30 p.m., graduands, their parents, their teachers and a small group of prestige guests will enjoy a banquet in the Legion Hall. Apart from a few toasts and responses, there will be no after-dinner speeches at the banquet.

Following a short recess all those who attend the banquet will assemble in the High School Auditorium at 8.30 p.m. for the graduation exercises. All high school pupils and the general public are invited to attend these exercises which will last until 10 p.m. Parents and friends will then have an opportunity to meet and congratulate the graduands.

This year's graduating class of 63 members is approximately the same size as last year's record number.

On Friday evening beginning at ten o'clock the annual Graduation Prom will be held in the Auditorium with Mr Cleary's Orchestra supplying the music. This is a "formal" occasion, so that people of all generations should truly enjoy themselves. Those wishing to participate in the Grand March should be present not later than 10:30 p.m.

Invitations can still be procured by speaking to any high school pupil.

Three day Sportarama launched for Edson

Fourteen clubs and organizations of Edson have united to head up three big days for Edson on July 1, 2 and 3

The committee headed by Fish & Game President Dan Pupoff held their third meeting Monday afternoon and set up committees to act on a variety of fun for young and old.

For a time a suitable name seemed hard to find that would be suitable for all the activities planned but Al Mergaert, representing the Lions Club suggested the name of Sportarama which immediately caught the favor of the group.

The various committees were set up with Mrs. Fran ers Mahon, Jon Scott and Mrs Nadia Kwachniuk appointed to act as the finance department Chairmen for other committees were picked with power to act.

Matt Maschur, representing the CSA volunteered their services to handle the three big dances planned.

Beat races chairman will be Amie LaLande, Bob Irwin of the Elks Lodge will handle the Snap Box Derby, Ray Davidson of the Pony Club will handle the grandstand, Daisy Pompelt of the Royal Purple will coordinate the concessions.

Mr Al Mergaert will be making the enquiries on the rules for the three days.

The baseball tournament will be handled by Oriole president Ron McIntyre who has had considerable experience over the years.

Bill Owen was appointed chairman of the publicity.

Ed Edwards of the Legion will act as Chairman for the various bingo games to be held with plans for a mammoth bingo.

Assistance was also offered from the Boy Scouts but it was pointed out that due to Scouting policy they would not be able to wear their uniforms for such a function.

Chairman Don Pupoff expressed his appreciation for the turnout and the interest shown by the organizations.

Fourteen organizations were represented including the Civil Service Association Fish and Game Association, Canadian Legion, Lions Club, Optimist Club, Elks Lodge, Royal Purple, Legion Ladies, Chamber of Commerce, 4-H, Boy Scouts, Lady Lions, Cirqules Ball Club, and the Optimist Mrs.

The next meeting will be held in the Commodore Hotel Banquet Room at 8 pm this Friday, May 20.

"Brushman" Tom Brown

JOHNNY HACKETT, a well known area resident, has offered his assistance in guiding the Edson-Grande Prairie Trekkers and accompanying Kinsmen over the partially hidden Trail to the Athabasca River Crossing. Johnny will also assist in trailing the horses back to Edson after this first phase of the trek has been completed.

C of C meets Wed., May 25

The dinner meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Edson Motor Hotel Banquet Room at 6.30 p.m. on Wednesday, May [illegible].

The regular meeting to be held on the 18th of May was postponed so as not to conflict with the send off ban quet for the Edson Grande Prairie Trekkers.

President Jack Hook has completed arrangements for an interesting guest speaker and encourages all members to attend as the activities of the Edson Chamber of Commerce are varied and numerous and need your support.

240 miles on horseback

When several Kinsmen met and discussed the possibility of travelling from Edson to Grande Prairie via horseback some two and a half months ago, little did they realize the impact such a trip would have on the Town of Edson and the surrounding district.

Now, with the trip only a few days away, enthusiasm is mounting to a high pitch and one must agree that the original idea has blossomed into a project of great magnitude.

As a result of the co-operation of the people of Edson and outlying areas, the Edson to Grande Prairie Trek unfolds this coming Saturday, May 21. It will unveil the heritage of the old Edson-Grande Prairie Trail and will also serve as a Kinsmen contribution to the Edson Centennial Project.

The Edson-Grande Prairie Trail became famous about 1920 when the government first opened the great Valley of the Peace to homesteaders. Pioneers travelled from all parts of the United States, Europe and Canada to take part in the great land grab.

The seven Kinsmen pictured above making the 240 mile journey will attempt to follow the original trail as much as possible to Grande Prairie. Upon arrival, they will participate in the District Four Kinsmen convention, which is being held on June 2, 3 and 4.

To arrive in Grande Prairie on June 2, the thirteen day trek is being made in two phases. Because the mighty Athabasca River, which is located approximately 57 miles north of Edson, serves as a barrier, the first phase will be made on horses loaned to the trekkers by local people.

They will be guided by Johnny Hackett a long time resident of the area who has travelled this trail many times since its beginning. Five others making the 240 mile journey will accompany the trekkers as far as the Athabasca River. They are Grant Chapman, Jerry Bulman, Ray Binette, Gary Mahon and Dan Switzer.

Upon arrival at the Athabasca River, the seven trekkers will cross the river by boat, while the other five accompanying Kinsmen and Johnny Hackett will trail the horses back to Edson. The boat

Parade set for Saturday morning

It is hoped that Edson and district residents will turn out in large numbers for the send-off parade for the Edson to Grande Prairie Trekkers Saturday, May 21 at 10:00 a.m.

Important dignitaries will be in attendance for the ceremonies which will take place by the CNR station at 10:00 a.m. sharp.

Besides the Trekkers, several bands will participate in the parade, which will proceed after the ceremonies, from the CNR station up Main Street to the Grande Prairie Trail. Other features are also included in the procession.

Interested persons with horses are welcome to join the procession, but must be assembled at the CNR station at 9:00 a.m. All interested parties are asked to co-operate in assembling at this hour as the Trekkers have a schedule to keep
